ZOLLICKOFFER'S

ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL

A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF

INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM,
SCIATICA AND

Of all the diseases incident to the human family, there is none, perhaps, which occasions so much intense suffering and physical disability, and none that appears to elicit so little commiseration and sympathy as RHEUMATISM in its various modifications. Medical writers, and the faculty in general, have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of compounds of one kind or other which have been presented to the public as curatives.

Rheumatism, as well as Gout (which latter is but a more aggravated form of what is commonly understood as Rheumatism), would seem to result from a peculiar diathesis or inflammatory condition of the system, originating in a diseased state of the blood. It usually affects the larger joints, as the ankle, knee, elbow, shoulder, &c., and manifests itself in Neuralgic pains, Sciatica, Lumbago, and other forms of this character.

Sometimes, through negligence, or the inadequacy of the remedies applied, it assumes a decided inflammatory feature, and then often becomes a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle, and exposing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.

The almost exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as rubefacients, stimulating embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, bleeding, cupping, and leeching, have in most cases proved ineffectual, merely transmuting the disease from one part of the system to another. The ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL, on the contrary, is altogether an internal remedy, and is intended to strike at the root of the disease. It is a new and original preparation, in which the proprietor, and his professional friends, recommend it as perfectly safe, as well as efficient, being wholly free from any deleterious substance whatever.

It is not pretended, however, that this Cordial will cure every reputed case of Rheumatism that may be presented, although the results have hitherto been such as would justify such a claim, if used by it in making the trial; and where even the most remote benefit is discoverable, it may then be fairly inferred that a cure will be effected, providing the directions be steadily and perseveringly adhered to, both as to the time of taking it, and the quantity taken.

It is a singular fact, that advanced age appears to be equally as susceptible to the benefits derivable from its use as youth, or those in the meridian of life. We have a number of instances of persons ranging from sixty to upwards of eighty, who, having been many years the subjects of Rheumatism, in one or other of its varied forms, have by using a few bottles been completely restored—their whole system invigorated, and, as a matter of course, their general health greatly improved. We have rarely known a return of the disease after it has been subdued by the use of this Cordial, even though the patient may have been exposed to the vicissitudes of wet weather; when, however, there have been any slight indications of "the old complaint," a few doses have produced the most happy effect.

The subscriber can furnish a long array of names of the most prominent and influential citizens, who can testify to the inestimable efficacy of this invaluable compound, and who are willing that their names should be placed before the public, in order to inform those who are afflicted with RHEUMATISM in its various phases, that there is a soverign remedy in "ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL." Prepared only by THEODORE DILKS, Chemist,

N. E. cor. Fine and Sixth sts., Philadelphia.

J. F. SHORES, Jr., No. 1 Congress Block.

Has just received PHOTOGRAPH ALBUMS at 37, 50, 62, and 75 cts. each—very neat and pretty.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Mo., 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ASA MORGRIDGE.

As a Family Physic.

From Dr. E. W. Cutterright, New Orleans.

Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their operation qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

DEAR DR. AYER: I cannot answer you what complaint. I have cured with your Pills more than any other remedy. I place great dependence on an effectual cathartic in my daily contest with disease, and believing as I do that your Pills stand on the best we have, I of course value them highly.

TITUSVILLE, Pa., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach which they cleanse at once.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. FREBLER,
Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders—Liver Complaints.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

Not only are your Pills admirable adapted to their purpose as aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I have used. I cheerfully express that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
Washington, D. C., 7th Feb., 1856.

DR.: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their prompt lasting action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease to obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Diarrhea, Relax, Worms.

From Dr. J. G. Gunn, of Chicago.

Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I add them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses for bilious dysentery and diarrhoea. Their sugar-coating makes them acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children.

Dyspepsia, Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in sickness. To regulate the system and purify the blood, they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends.

Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, Wyoming Co., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Constipation, Costiveness, Suppression, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Dropsy, Paralysis, Piles, etc.

From Dr. J. P. Vanpin, Montreal, Canada.

You much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as effectual as I have, they should rejoice at the publication by you for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the prolific origin of others that are worse. I believe our women to originate in the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease.

From Mrs. E. Stuart, Physician and Midwife, Boston.

I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent purgative to clear the stomach from bile when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawker, of the Methodist Episc. Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, Savannah, Ga., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, Baton Rouge, La., 5 Mo., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured, by your Pills, of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease I had suffered 10 years.

VINCENT SLIDELL.

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the decided compulsion that frequently follows its administration. These Pills contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

☞ 25 cents per Box, or 5 Boxes for $1.

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven with in the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or by the removal of a simple plate; in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a th roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. The permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking over.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting-oven are lined with tin, and the jackets are provided for the back and hot plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves;

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

1861. MAGEE'S PATENT COOKING STOVE. 1861.

THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE AGE!

This beautiful COOK STOVE is now offered to the public with entire confidence in its being the BEST OPERATING, MOST DURABLE and ECONOMICAL Stove ever invented, requiring one-third less Fuel than any other Stove in the market, to do the same amount of cooking; and the fire may be kept in it the entire season, without going out. The public are invited to call and examine this Stove, which is all that is necessary to convince any person that it has no superior, and cannot be beat. And we predict for it that popularity and immense sale which has attended the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE since its introduction into this market.

"Every Stove is warranted to give ENTIRE SATISFACTION in every particular."

MAGEE'S

PATENT COOKING STOVE

For Wood or Coal,

Operating on the same principle as the celebrated

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

Jones & Bolles, No. 61 MARKET ST., Portsmouth.

The Best COOK STOVE in the Market,

after all said, is

STEWART'S

NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT, SUMMER AND WINTER

COOKING STOVES,

For Wood or Coal,

IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the

STEWART COOK STOVE,

Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward movable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within, or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove, from the time the article is set in until it be removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR, (of copper, with a tin casing,) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire box; and the fumes, the meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

But we cannot, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of THE STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new-fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE,

Now in use, which has been widely tested

FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and NOT found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1861. is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use,
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.

SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints

Excellent Wine for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wine in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is endeared for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1861.

A GRAND SPECTACLE.

THE MAGNITUDE AND SUBLIMITY OF THE WAR.—The persuasive power of speech and sophistry of the pen must yield in the extremity of nations to a higher umpire. The sword, man's oldest appeal, has found in this war its original dignity, and the master men that lost in debate, and were first at the council, have come at last to decide the issue with arms.

State Rights and Federal Rights have contended a long while upon the stump and in the Senate; for in the eloquence of the framers of the Constitution our present trouble began. After eighty years of agitation, their final adjustment must be left to generals rather than orators or writers.

We now present the attitude of continuous armies extending across the continent between the seas and the prairies—three hundred thousand men on either side—to fight out these rival issues. And apart from its terrible consequences, and the immediate sin in which it was begotten, this war is a noble and sublime spectacle. It demonstrates the heroism of both sections. It has resolved a race of civilians into a race of soldiers.

It is a struggle of ideas that do not flinch from deeds, and of principles that will not be yielded but with life. It is a demonstration of practical independence worth more than the eulogies of a century. Three armies have been voluntarily gathered, and they are greater than any that tyranny ever brought into the field. States that, united, maintained a standing army smaller than the present garrison of Paris, have separately enlisted forces greater than the entire armies of most of the nations of Europe.

The whole country is bristling with bayonets. When the echoes of Sumter had reached New England, her children were on the march, and before the sound of hostilities had broken upon Europe, troops from twelve states had rallied on the border line. In any cause but this, we would have hailed the spirit of the South. If bold, bad men, can thus stir up the people of a section, what could we not expect of the whole country, contending for a common right!

The Northerner, quick in a bargain but slow at a blow; the Southron, indolent but when impelled by passion, will exhibit their several individualities. It has commenced with a few slight successes in favor of the hot blood and fierce courage of the South.

It will end in the greatest victories of modern times, achieved by the sagacity and indomitable perseverance of the North.—Philadelphia Press.

☞ The condition of affairs in New Orleans is said to be deplorable. The ruin of the place, in a business point of view, is almost complete. The levee, formerly so busy with the traffic of the Mississippi, is now an extended scene of desolation.—Many of the stores have been closed, and there is an utter prostration of every branch of trade. Texas beef is the only meat for sale, and that is scarce, poor and dear; butter is sold at from eighty to eighty-five cents per pound; white potatoes fourteen dollars per barrel, and sweet potatoes about the same. A free market for the poor was established some time ago, the supplies being furnished by voluntary contributions from the farmers, but there was a prospect that it would soon be closed for want of means. There is undoubtedly a strong Union element in the population, which only awaits a proper opportunity to exhibit itself.

EXTINGUISHING FIRE IN AN OIL WELL.—The oil wells of Pennsylvania sometimes take fire, when a conflagration of a remarkable character ensues, which it is very difficult to stop. One caught fire last week by the gas, which accompanied the flow of oil, igniting from the engine house, when a spectator standing near procured a barrel, which he cut in two, and one-half of which he filled with incombustible matter. Then, wrapping himself closely in wet blankets, he rushed up to the blazing well, and setting the half-barrel over the pipe, he succeeded in driving the plug into the tube through which the oil flowed, and thereby extinguished the flames. For this timely service the owner of the well paid him four hundred barrels of oil.

A gentleman who arrived at Washington from Richmond brings two hundred letters from the Federal prisoners in Virginia.—All franked by Mr. Ely.

Some benevolent christian philosophers suppose that there is no evil without its counterbalancing or rather overpowering good: as Paul says where sin abounded grace did much more abound.

Mr. Ely, though he cannot be pleased with captivity for himself, has yet been very useful in various ways to his fellow prisoners, and is said to be the merriest man among them.

As prisoners must needs be taken, we regard it a good providence that Mr. Ely was one of them at Bull Run.

—— The Ellsworth Guards, of Seabrook, are to go into camp at Keene, the first of next month, and soon after will be attached to Berdan's regiment of sharp shooters. Nearly all of the men are skilled in the use of the rifle.

—— Geo. Ticknor, Esq., of Marlow, has presented Col. Cooverse, of the 5th Regiment, a copy of Colton's American Atlas, for the use of himself and the Regiment.

NEWPORT NEWS, Nov. 18, '61.)
On board steamer Lockwood,
Capt. Graves, Master.)

The last letter I wrote you was on Friday Nov. 15. I was then on the eve of starting on an expedition to Cherry Stone Creek, about thirty miles distant, across the Bay, from Hampton Roads, on the eastern shore of Virginia. I will write you a part of the log that I kept.

Started away from the flag ship at 11 o'clock, for Cherry Stone Creek; at half-past two, dropped anchor abreast of the lighthouse, in five fathoms of water, lighthouse bearing east by north, the windmill north-east, half east. Saw a large steamer and a schooner on our port bow, bound down the Bay. At 12 o'clock the wind blew quite hard, and by 3 o'clock it blew a gale from the north west, the boat laboring hard in the trough of the sea, also shipping considerable water. At half-past three, the starboard wheel chain started, which threw us at once at the mercy of the waves. At the same time, a heavy sea broke over us, which carried away the forward part of the head, and nearly swept off several of the crew, the water extinguishing most of the fires under the boilers, which were moved from their bed about four inches, nearly disconnecting the expansion joint through which the steam passes. The water in the cabins have feet deep; commenced bailing with buckets, the pumps also going. Slipped our cable, which was no easy job, I assure you, the men lying flat on the decks to ease off the lashing, the sea at the time making a complete breach over her. Started for Hampton Roads, arrived there at 9 o'clock, all safe and sound, excepting we all took a little cold, being wet through to the skin. Had it not been for the energy of Capt. Graves and the officers, a part of us would have met a watery grave, or been made prisoners by the rebels, there being a rebel battery on the shore under our lee, and the country around a hot bed of secession.

The same night started for Newport News, and are now here on picket duty, looking out for the rebel gun-boats from Richmond and Norfolk.

Sunday afternoon I went ashore to see the dress parade; it passed off very finely. If you wish to see camp life just come to Newport News. The entrenchments are very strong, and are constructed on the most scientific principles.

To-day Capt. Smith of the frigate Congress, the senior officer of the fleet stationed here, with several military officers, came aboard, tried the range of our two rifled guns,—some of our shells taking effect on the rebel shore, which is about four miles across. The officers were highly pleased with the performance.

Contrabands are in their element here; we have a few with us. Some of them are quite intelligent, but the most of them are lazy and indolent.

White women are few and far between; as one of the green soldiers remarked to me, "it makes a feller's eyes rain to behold one of those creatures"—and so it is,—if a woman passes she will receive the stare and gaze of a thousand men who are so eager to see a white woman.

Should like to be at home to enjoy a good New England Thanksgiving, but shall have to be contented with hard beef,seasoned with sweet thoughts of home. W.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION FOR SPORTSMEN.—In a journal entitled Feuille de Tout le Mond an explanation is given of a fact which has puzzled sporting men—namely, why the left barrel of a gun bursts so much more frequently than the right—The explanation is this:—

"The sportsman, on going out, loads both barrels, and on seeing a bird rise, fires naturally the right one; he re-loads that barrel, and when he again sees a bird or hare, he fires it again; and so he does perhaps twenty times in succession. But each firing gives a shock to the charge in the left hand barrel, and at last the succession of shocks separates the wadding from the powder and shot; the consequence is that a vacuum ensues between them, and when the second barrel is fired, it frequently bursts. To prevent this danger, the recommendation is made that whenever the right-hand barrel is loaded, the charge in the left hand one should also be rammed down.

A SCARLET LETTER.—A correspondent calls our attention to the conspicuous part the letter B is playing in our national troubles. Big Bethel, Bull Run, Ball's Bluff, the two Beauforts, Bolivar, Brunswick, Belmont, seem to justify the idea of its frequency in topography. While he alleges "that the Blair family on the Union side are as influential in the making and unmaking of Generals and the management of the war generally, as are the Secretary of War Benjamin and Gens. Beauregard and Bragg, on the side of the enemy."—Had our curious correspondent pushed his case further, by reminding us how all our troubles began with these abominable B's, Buchanan and Breckinridge, it would have been more complete.—N. Y. Times.

—— Michael E. A. Galvin, of the Third Regiment, N. H. V., picked up at Beaufort an officer's sword, originally costly, having in raised figures upon the belt-piece "1776," and in all things showing a revolutionary look. The handle terminates in an eagle's head, and the guard has upon it an eagle and shield.

Recollections of Old Acquaintance.

BY UNCLE TOBY.

MY OLD SCHOOLMASTERS.—Fifty-five years ago, the writer of these lines took his leave of "Aunt Betsey's School," with its A B abs, and its hum-drum note of "baker, brier and brazier," and was transplanted into a man's school, where were no petticoated urchins, but veritable boys, clad in jacket and trousers, and some of them even great boys wearing bob-tailed coats.—The school house, also, was different from that left behind. It was no longer a kitchen in an old house, where some little boys sat on the under dresser, and where half-a-dozen laughing girls sat in the fire-place during the summer months, without bumping their heads or soiling their clothes.—Nor were there, as at Aunt Betsey's, any extemporaneous benches, made of a board resting on two old mortars.*

But it was a regular school-house, built for a school and nothing else, with a bell on the top and a wood-house at the bottom, and the school-room furnished with long benches and writing tables of plank, framed and nailed to the floor. On these seats, in a large, dingy room, were an hundred boys, and over all presided, not the old school ma'am, but a school master, tall, straight and stiff, dressed in a suit of black,—coat, vest, pantaloons, silk stockings and shoes,—everything black but the bosom and neck-cloth, which were of spotless white. Dignified, distant and austere, stood the Rev. Mr.——Birch, we will call him, a young clergyman. He governed, and he taught, how well or wisely we will not say now, but the reader may understand by and by. For the present, suffice it to say, he and his great school impressed his new scholar with awe—almost breathless—as the boys, rising all at once to bow to the visitor who led him, darkened the low windows and astonished the new comer by numbers and discipline. But when they were re-seated, and when an older scholar, by order, made place for him at his side, that feeling gave way to another more comfortable, placing the new scholar in a fair field, with many competitors indeed, but yet where the victory of one need not be the defeat of another,—where all might gain, and yet no one lose. It was soon plain that great boys were not always great scholars; and the little boy felt among equals in letters, though most of them looked over his head when he had his hat on. The school master, too, became less terrible, when he was found to be satisfied with good lessons and good conduct, and severe only when one or the other was infringed. But he remained awful, especially in offering his long prayer at nine in the morning and five in the afternoon.

All on a sudden one day the master informed the scholars that there would be no school for a day or two, and that the next Monday the school would begin with a new teacher. With a few remarks, and his usual prayer, he left us. Our feelings were those of respect for him, but not of love, and such children, of course, felt little regret.

On Monday the new teacher came, accompanied by that august body, the school committee, who, as they ushered him into the room, told us by their chairman, who was a clergyman, that he was Deacon Clark, that he was a good teacher and a good man, and that he hoped we should be obedient boys and behave well. Our new teacher was a strong contrast to the former, being a middle-aged man, of middle height, round and full-favored, with hair light rather than dark, and generally wearing light colored clothing, as drab, gray and buff, knee-buckles and breeches, white stockings, and sometimes high-topped boots, but more commonly shoes. Sometimes he wore the loose calico gown of the student of that day. And the man himself was as unlike the other as his clothes. His broad-brimmed beaver shaded a benevolent face, and that face was the index of his heart. There was no hypocrisy in him, and no quackery in his teaching. He opened his morning school with a short prayer, and as the custom was, taught us Watts's First Catechism once a week. These were forms, but with him not mere forms; nor were they to us. He was in earnest, and we saw and felt it. He was not a highly gifted man, but he made his moral teaching plain, and tho' we might not comprehend goodness as an abstract idea, we understood very soon that he was a good man. Not that he did not punish; the rod was used, and sometimes used hard. But no scholar was punished unjustly, as far as his understanding of a case went, and no plea disregarded; indeed many a boy remarked, "I don't care so much about being fetched, but he talks so that it makes a fellow feel bad." He did not begin by telling us he should punish or should not; but merely remarked that he expected good order, and that we could not learn much without it.

* Lest the reader should fancy these mortars to be the death-dealing iron machines called by that name, out of which bombs are thrown, it may be well to inform him that they were made of the wood called lignum vitæ, were used for pounding pepper, salt and spices, and by much and long pounding, or more probably, perhaps, by an unlucky blow from an angry pounder, had each one a good sized hole beat through the bottom. On these a smooth narrow board was laid, and when pushed back against the wooden wall, it was a comfortable, though humble seat; but when pulled out a few inches in front, its overturn caused some accidents more comic than tragic, sometimes rolling children and mortars about the floor in a promiscuous heap.

To be concluded.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Wool, at Fortress Monroe, in answer to an application for a furlough, replied that "he would not give an officer or a private leave of absence for the next three weeks, as the campaign then would be over."

The Baltic, from Port Royal, arrived at New York, Thursday. Purser Allen bro't $19,000 in Treasury notes, which he is to forward to the friends of the 4th N. H. Regiment.

A Washington dispatch says:—It has been officially ascertained that the government have now in the field, in camp, and process of formation 600,000 volunteers, and the enlistments for the regular service are more numerous than heretofore.

The Boston Journal's Washington dispatch says there is no truth in the reports about Lord Lyons in connection with the Mason and Slidell affair. He has expressed no opinion upon the subject; and the report that the Spanish Minister had said he would have demanded his passports had Mason and Slidell been taken from a Spanish vessel, is untrue.

The steamship Constitution arrived at Portland, Thursday night. The 12th Maine regiment broke up their camp at 3 o'clock Friday morning, preparatory to embarking.

The government has no evidence of any rebel privateer afloat except the Sumter, and she seems to be endeavoring to elude capture.

Our troops at Romney expect to march soon on Winchester, which is reported to be strongly intrenched.

Com. Dupont has sent the Navy Department the original South Carolina ordinance of secession, beautifully engrossed upon parchment, and a large number of other important documents.

Paymaster Pangborn has disbursed nearly $300,000 to Gen. Sherman's troops, two-thirds of which was sent home to their families.

A few years since, Gen. McClellan offered his hand in marriage to Miss Ellen Marcy, a beautiful and accomplished lady, a daughter of Colonel Marcy of the U. S. Army, and well known in this city, where she resided with her mother during the absence of Col. Marcy in the far West upon severe duty. Col. Marcy objected to the union, on the sole ground that he could not consent to the marriage of his daughter to any gentleman belonging to the army. McClellan at once resigned his commission, and accepted the place of Chief Engineer upon the Illinois Central Railroad, at a salary of $8,000 a year, and three years since he was married to Miss Marcy.—Hartford Times.

Special Notices.

MOTHERS, OR YOU THAT HAVE THE CARE OF CHILDREN, know the difficulty of getting them to take medicine, and it is almost as painful to the parent to administer the doses, as to see the child suffer by disease, and you will hail with joy any discovery that will alleviate this difficulty, and at the same time be a more efficient agent to restore health. DOCTOR GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES do this. Being as they are, simple medicated sugar pills, they can be administered to a child even when asleep without disturbing it, and the action of the medicine will in all cases be satisfactory. Children troubled with worms, colic, diarrhea, or teething babies, have a remedy here that is perfectly harmless and at the same time can be given without trouble, and are good in their results.

American Women.

America is justly proud of its beautiful women: but how many die annually, or prematurely lose their health and youth for want of a remedy suitable to their peculiar ailments. That remedy is found in SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS. We know hundreds of cases where they have been used with the greatest success.—In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Low ness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed,—moderating excesses and removing obstructions, whether from cold or any other cause. Suffer no more anxiety or low spirits, but try them. For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 Pills, by return mail. my28daw3m

Local.

☞ The new steamer Sebago, now being built at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, will be launched within a week or two. Orders have been received at the Yard to finish the two new side-wheel steamers, by the 18th of February.

☞ Rev. Frederick Frothingham, of Portland, will preach at the Unitarian Church to-morrow.

☞ Gov. Berry was in town on Thursday. He visited Fort Constitution at New Castle, and was received with salute from as "big guns" as are yet mounted there.

Hon. John P. Hale, on Friday, visited the Navy Yard.

☞ We learn that Mr. Charles F. Brown ("Artemas Ward" the inimitable) is expected to lecture in Portsmouth, some time early in December proximo.

Also that Rev. J. C. Fletcher of Newburyport, is designing to favor our people with one or more of his celebrated lectures on "Brazil," &c., some time next month.

We are glad we are not to be quite starved out, of such literary entertainments.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The receipts of the New Hampshire Missionary Society, since the commencement of the year are about $300 less than they were for the same time last year, and though $1200 have been borrowed, the treasury is now nearly exhausted. It will soon become difficult to pay needy missionaries promptly, unless there shall be a more liberal rememberance of their wants on the part of the churches.

—— By a vote of the Grand Lodge, last June, a charter for a travelling Lodge of Masons, was granted to the 2nd New Hampshire Regiment. The Master is Capt. Snow, of the Coos Company, formerly Grand Lecturer of the State. The Lodge is to be called "Star Spangled Banner Lodge." The commissioned officers of the 5th N. H. Regiment petitioned the Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of N. H., A. P. Hughes, for a charter which he has granted. The lodge is to be called the Hughes Lodge, in honor of the Grand Master. Under this charter it is empowered to act in any part of the United States.

—— Gustav Von Gerber was assaulted with a slung shot, in Washington, Nov. 15th. He and Robert Rother, Q.M. Serg't of the Cameron Rifles, (Gerber's regiment) went from camp to Washington on business. They visited a Lager Beer Saloon, and afterwards went out with a large number of other visitors, and were to take a carriage to go to their hotel. Rother stepped in first, and immediately heard a found as of a heavy blow, and looking out saw Gerber lying on the ground, senseless. He died on the 19th. Mr. Gerber endeavored to recruit a company of Germans in Manchester last summer, who should go under his command, but he was not entirely successful, and went to Newport News in July, where he obtained a commission as Lieutenant Colonel of a Regiment. He is a Prussian by birth; graduated at a military school there, and acted as Lieutenant in the Prussian service until 22 years of age, and was afterwards engaged for three years in the war with Denmark. He also was in the English service during the war in the Crimea, and was with the army before Sebastopol. After the war he came to America, and directly to Manchester.

—— The Keene Sentinel copied two or three weeks ago, a paragraph from a St. Louis paper, stating that Capt. Rufus Phillips, of the rebel army, had disbanded his company and gone to New Hampshire.—It now learns, from good authority, that Capt. Phillips was wounded and taken prisoner at one of the recent battles in Missouri, and that his brother, Judson Phillips, also in the rebel army, was killed.

Though it is very common to reproach old bachelors with their celibacy, and to pity old maids as if "single blessedness" were a misfortune,—yet many married people have seen fit to offer apologies for having entered into what some profane wag has called the "holy bands of padlock." One man says he married to get a house keeper; another, to get rid of bad company. Many women declare that they get married for the sake of a home; few acknowledge that their motive was to get a husband. Goethe averred that he got married in order to be "respectable." John Wilkes said he took a wife "to please his friends." Wycherly, who espoused his housemaid, said he did it "to spite his relations." A widow, who married a second husband, said she wanted somebody to condole with her for the loss of her first. Another, because she thought a wedding would "amuse the children." Another, to get rid of incessant importunity from a crowd of suitors. Old maids who get married invariably assure their friends that they thought they could be "more useful" as wives than as spinsters. Nevertheless, Quilp gives it as his opinion that nine-tenths of all persons who marry, whether widows or widowers, virgins or bachelors, do so for the sake of—getting married.—Post.

☞ Messrs. J. J. Dyer & Co., of Boston, have sent us Harper's Magazine for December,—already noticed. For sale in this city by Mr. D. R. Ambrose.

FORT MCCLARY, Nov. 22.

Messrs Editors:—Permit me to occupy a small space in your columns. We soldiers, who are deprived of some of the comforts of home, were agreeably surprised on going to our dining room Thanksgiving day. By the generosity of Lieut. Edwards we were bountifully supplied with many good things of this life, and sat down to an old fashioned turkey dinner. May his shadow never be less! We enjoyed it to our hearts' content; and the day closed with "long life to our worthy Lieutenant, and God save the Union." Yours,

OLD GUARD.

☞ It is related that a young lieutenant, who could bravely meet our Southern foes without quivering, was completely abashed and put to flight in a railroad car at Salem, last week, while travelling on a brief furlough. He was holding sweet converse with the girl he had not left behind him, when suddenly the train plunged into the total darkness of the tunnel. As the cars gradually emerged into daylight again, the passengers saw two heads suddenly diverge from suspicious propinquity, and assume an erect position. A cruel wag, seated directly behind the twain, raised his hand to his lips and gave it two loud smacks, which reverberated through the car, calling general attention to the locality. The lady carried off her part well, and laughed, as if to say the joke was a good one; but the youthful soldier, his face suffused by blushes, sprang from his seat and rushed frantically to the door.

CHRONICLE BLACK LIST.

We are making up a very interesting list of old bills due us; and shall, early in 1861, advertise them for sale to the highest bidder. We "believe in advertising," and not wishing to retain any unsettled accounts on our books for more than one year, will dispose of them at a reduction—after giving each delinquent fair notice to pay up, or "show cause, if any they have, why" said claims should not be adjusted forthwith.

Portsmouth, Nov. 23, 1861.

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL

INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO.

Of all the diseases incident to the human family, there is none, perhaps, which occasions so much intense suffering and physical disability, and none that appears to elicit so little commiseration and sympathy as RHEUMATISM in its various modifications. Medical writers, and the faculty in general, have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of compounds of one kind or other which have been presented to the public as curatives.

Rheumatism, as well as Gout (which latter is but a more aggravated form of what is commonly understood as Rheumatism), would seem to result from a peculiar diathesis or inflammatory condition of the system, originating in a diseased state of the blood. It usually affects the larger joints, as the ankle, knee, elbow, shoulders, &c., and manifests itself in Neuralgic pains, Sciatica, Lumbago, and other forms of this character.

Sometimes, through negligence, or the inadequacy of the remedies applied, it assumes a decided inflammatory feature, and then often becomes a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle, and exposing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus rendering it difficult to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.

The almost exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as fomentations, stimulating embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, bleeding, cupping, and leeching, have in most cases proved ineffectual, merely transmuting the disease from one part of the system to another. The ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL, on the contrary, is altogether an external remedy, and is intended to strike at the root of the disease. It is a new and original preparation, invented by the subscriber, and he therefore recommend it as perfectly safe, as well as efficient, being wholly free from any deleterious substance whatever.

It is not pretended, however, that this Cordial will cure every reputed case of Rheumatism that may be presented, although the results have hitherto been such as would justify every one afflicted by it in making the trial; and where even the most remote benefit is discoverable, it may then be fairly inferred that a cure will be effected, providing the directions be steadily and persevering-ly adhered to, both as to the time of taking it, and the quantity used.

It is a singular fact, that advanced age appears to be equally as susceptible to the benefits derivable from its use as youth, or the meridian of life. We have a number of instances of persons ranging from sixty to upwards of eighty, who have long been many years the subjects of Rheumatism, in one or other of its varied forms, have by using a few bottles been completely restored—their whole system invigorated, and, as a matter of course, their general health greatly improved. We have rarely known a return of the disease either if it has been subdued by the use of this Cordial, even though the patient may have been exposed to the vicissitudes of wet weather; when, however, there have been any slight indications of "the old complaint," a few doses have produced the most happy effect.

The subscriber can furnish a long array of names of the most prominent and influential citizens, who can testify to the inestimable efficacy of this invaluable compound, and who are willing that their names should be placed before the public, in order to inform those who are afflicted with RHEUMATISM in its various phases, that there is a sovrign remedy in "ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL." Prepared only by THEODORE DILKS, Chemist,

N. E. cor. Pine and Sixth sts., Philadelphia.

This article has been used in this city and vicinity during the past year, by many persons; and with results that fully justify the above recommendation of the manufacturer. A fresh supply just received by

Are you sick, feeble, and depressed? Are your vital orders, with your system disordered, and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some fit of sickness is creeping upon you and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Ayer's Pills, the choicest cut the disordered humors—purify the blood, and set the human machine in order, strengthened in health again. They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and checks its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering, and disease. While in this condition, oppressed by the derangements, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the languid feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is also true to many of the deep-seated and dangerous disorders. The same purgative effect expels them. Caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly, and many of them surely, cured by the same means. None who know the virtues of these Pills will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure.

Statements from leading physicians in some of the principal cities, and from other well known public persons.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1858.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been for years grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ASA MORGRIDGE.

As a Family Physic.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, New Orleans.

Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They do full, but very certain and effectual work. Their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

DEAR REND. AYER: I cannot answer you what complaint I have cured with your Pills better than to say all but one, ever treated with a purgative medicine. I place great dependence on an effectual cathartic in my daily contest with disease, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly.

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER, Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach which they cleanse at once.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. FREELE,
Clerk of Steamer Clarion

Bilious Disorders—Liver Complaints.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

Not only are your Pills well adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual in curing of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
Washington, D. C., 7th Feb., 1858.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, cases speedily they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Relax, Worms.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating renders them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children.

Dyspepsia, Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among others I am called to visit in sickness. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood, they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V HIMES.

WARSAW, Wyoming Co., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Constipation, Costiveness, Suppression, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Dropsy, Paralysis, Fits, etc.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.

Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. Hitherto of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they probably can not be proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the precursor of others that are worse. I believe constipation to originate in the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease.

From Mrs. E. Sweet, Physician and Midwife, Boston.

I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promotives of the natural order, when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very efficacious to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkins, of the Methodist Episc. Church

PULASKI HOUSE, Savannah, Ga., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on severe racking neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, Baton Rouge, La., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured, by your Pills, of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had set me adrift for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skillful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. This preparation is mercury or mineral substance whatever. ☜

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.
MADE BY
THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,
Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the force of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and the jackets are provided for the back and both sides of plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this store, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves,.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

Reference is made to Messrs. J. Trundy, J. M Mathes, N. K. Walker, C. C. Jackson, C H. Meadum, James F. Shores, Geo. Whitehouse, Joseph E. Cate, Nathaniel Dennett, John Harrett, Phineas Nichols, Jas. 1861. MAGEE'S PATENT COOKING STOVE. 1861.

THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE AGE!

PATENT COOKING STOVE
For Wood or Coal,

Operating on the same principle as the celebrated

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

Jones & Bolles,

This beautiful COOK STOVE is now offered to the public with entire confidence in its being the BEST OPERATING, MOST DURABLE and ECONOMICAL Stove ever invented, requiring one-third less Fuel than any other Stove in the market, to do the same amount of cooking; and the fire may be kept in it the entire season, without going out. The public are invited to call and examine this Stove, which is all that is necessary to convince any person that it has no superior, and cannot be beat. And we predict for it that popularity and immense sale which has attended the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE since its introduction into this market.

"Every Stove is warranted to give ENTIRE SATISFACTION in every particular."

No. 61 MARKET ST., Portsmouth.

The Best COOK STOVE
in the Market,
after all said,
is
STEWART'S
NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,
SUMMER AND WINTER
COOKING STOVES,
For Wood or Coal,
IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the
STEWART COOK STOVE,
Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the removed movable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within, or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove, from the time the article is set in until it be removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR, (of copper, with a tin casing,) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Added, by the use of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire box; and the fumes, the meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

But we cannot, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of THE STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new-fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE,

Now in use, which has been widely tested
FOR TWENTY YEARS,
and NOT found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1861, is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

IT HAS NEVER BEEN EXCELLED, yet, as a Family Stove. For further particulars, and to see the best Stove in the market, please call on

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE,
PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use,
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.
SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Physicians and Patentees as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, Invalids, Infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparts a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

WE REFER TO

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1861.

FORT WALKER, Hilton Head, S. C., Nov. 10, 1861.

Messrs. Editors:—I send you a few letters, picked up in the quarters of the Adjutant, 9th Regt. S. C. V. One shows the proposed character of the work on this point: but instead of 15, there were 26 guns mounted—some very fine rifled-cannon of Southern make. Two were dismounted by our fire, the carriages being knocked to flinders.

The Assistant Surgeon of the post was dug out yesterday. He had gone into a rifle pit, to get out of the way probably.—A shell, penetrating the earth, interfered with his head and, bursting, completely covered him with earth.

Two brass field pieces and 80 horses were brought in yesterday by our foraging parties. The former were found in the woods, abandoned, near the ferry. Our gunboats have been up to Beaufort. They found the place deserted by the whites, and the contrabands engaged in plundering the stores.

For a mile inland from Fort Walker, the ground is strewn with fragments of shell.—On the night we landed, one unexploded was found, and a fellow endeavoring to touch it off with a match: such stupidity deserved success!

The houses on the island are all deserted, except by the negroes, who have received us with great joy. Squads of men are foraging in every direction and hourly coming in, laden down to the guards with chickens, turkeys, pigs, sheep, and other trifles.

We have heard thus far nothing more from the enemy—I don't think he has stopped running yet. One of our seamen killed was John P. Clark, of Portsmouth.

G. F. T.

[The following is the rebel letter particularly referred to by our correspondent. The proposed "dich" was occupied by those for whom it was not intended.]

CHARLESTON, June 28, 1861.

Maj. J. H. Trapin, C. S. N., Major:—I send you enclosed a very rough sketch of the general armament of the proposed work for Hilton Head, in order to indicate the number and character of the armament. Viz.:—six 10-in. Columbiads; five 8-in. Howitzers; four 42-pounders, Total, 15 guns.

The work I propose surrounding with a ditch and glacis, with caponniers pierced for musketry, enfilading the several faces of the work, but not obstructing the field of fire of the guns "en barbette." The magazine I propose placing in the bastions flanking the curtains.

If the plan meets your views, I will at once prepare the necessary working drawing, of which I will submit a copy.

I have the honor to be, Maj., very respectfully your obedient servant,

FRANCIS D. LEE, Maj. S. C. Eng.

Another letter contains a note for $259. We might be induced to part with it at a premium.

A third, written in pencil, is dated "Sunday morn, Nov. 3, 1861," and addressed "Dear Father." The writer "had not heard of his clothes yet," and seems somewhat alarmed thereat, as it was "quite cool."—He continues:—

"I have got Fort Walker and the military, for a few days at least: am Asst. Engineer down here, and Chief Engineer for the present at Braddock's Point—within 15 miles of Warsaw, where the fleet attacked the other day: have to construct something of a battery as soon as possible, and mount large guns. The boat is carrying me there now—within sight of Fort Pulaski. Abou 500 Georgians arrived at Hilton Head this morning—look out for stirring accounts soon. Won't we astonish them? Our guns shoot beautifully. We can strike the size of man easily at 3-4 of a mile and it don't look large. Do be careful to keep this secret—by all means."

Another (from Chick Springs, Nov. 2) is an anxious letter from a wife to her husband, entreating him to "come for us and bring us home." She speaks of taking 50 bushels of corn in part payment of a debt "at 75 per bushel." "—says the Brandy is ready, and wants to know whether you want 10 or 20 gals., and the whiskey will be ready the week after next: he is making it now. I wish you would come up on receipt of this and let me go home. You must get a month's furlough if you can.—Oh, how I want to see you do see how salt is selling at Charleston they say it is selling at $4.50 per sack in Columbia, that it comes direct from Virginia. We want some salt peter one or two lbs. I suppose will do and one lb. of tea see about the molasses per barrel."

There is one other, and as it is a "gem of its kind" we give it, as we have the others, verbatim, though necessity compels us to edit his i's';

Summerville Octo 12

Mr I Stoll Dear Friend I am sorry that I have not Riten to you before now. I hope that you will not think any thing of it—I Rite these fu lines hoping to find you well as it leave mee and all of my family at present. I am truly sory to hear that you are in prisin But I understand that your punishment is not much. Feny Send her Respeck to you and often sez She wish to See you and She sez She will Kiss you When you Return. [Our readers will notice that he, evidently thinking this a good joke, commences almost every word with a capital letter.] I am Sory to say that oyer friend W. B. Davis is ded. I glad to say that our yan company are well-uneformed and Redy for a A fight when they Call Apon us we air 60 Men Strong I have no furcer nuse at present I still remain," &c.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The fatal assault on Col. Van Gerber, of Manchester, by a rowdy at Washington, was committed, because he, and two others, remonstrated with half a dozen men who were insulting some ladies in a Concert Hall. The gentlemen took the ladies under their protection, and were escorting them to their homes. They were followed by the scoundrels, abusing them roundly for their interference. Van Gerber's party however desiring to avoid a quarrel, hailed a hack, and the two young ladies were placed in it. Several of the rowdies came up and pulled both of the ladies out, whilst another raised a slung shot, and struck Mr. Gerber, whose back was towards them, a violent blow on the back of the head, causing him to fall headlong over the step of the hack. The ruffians then took to their heels and ran. Active efforts are being made to ferret out the perpetrators of this outrage, who, it is said, can easily be identified.

—— The friends of Lieut. Col. Lull, in Nashua, have subscribed $200 to purchase a horse, to be presented to him. His friends in Milford have raised a sufficient sum to purchase horse trappings, sword, sash and belt.

—— The citizens of Keene, and other towns in Cheshire county intend to give the soldiers of the Sixth Regiment, encamped in Keene, a Thanksgiving dinner,—or to "make some agreeable additions to their regular fare in the way of roasted turkeys, chickens, plum puddings, pies, &c."

—— C. S. Dearborn, Co. E. 2d New Hampshire Volunteers, died recently in hospital at Washington.

—— Mr. Carr B. Haynes, of Concord, has received intelligence of the death of his son, Wells Haynes, which occurred in the soldiers' prison at Richmond, Oct. 8.—He was wounded at the battle of Bull Run, where he was serving as a private in the Goodwin Rifles, of Concord.

THE REBELLION.

A post office is to be established at Port Royal. About 15,000 letters reached New York by the last arrival from Hilton Head.

Gen. Halleck, on assuming command of the Western Department, issued orders that hereafter no fugitive slaves are to be permitted to enter the lines, and that all such persons now within them shall be excluded, as many of them act as spies for the enemy. It is reported that the town of Warsaw, Mo., has been burned by the rebels, to prevent the Union troops using it for winter quarters. Accounts from the rebel Price place him in Barry county, making preparations to advance on Springfield.

The New York Evening Post says English letters state that the British government refuses to grant clearances from English ports to vessels having on board arms for the United States.

The government has secured a large mail intended for the rebel commissioners, Mason and Slidell. It contains files of Southern papers, letters, dispatches, drafts, bills of exchange, &c.

The New Orleans Crescent, in reference to the Munchausen reports of rebel journals, in regard to the number of vessels that have run the blockade, says: "It is misleading foreign governments to make assertions of this character, when not a vessel has entered the port of New Orleans by the river for over five months."

The N. Y. Herald's dispatch says that rumors are prevalent, and it is said on good authority, that the general admission among the foreign diplomatic corps is that Capt. Wilkes is perfectly justifiable, according to the international law, in arresting Mason and Slidell from the deck of a British vessel, and that England should be the last power to object to it, inasmuch as no other nation has done more to establish the principle upon which Capt. Wilkes acted.

Flag-officer Foote will soon have the Mississippi flotille in readiness to proceed on its way.

The Times' Washington dispatch says it is probable that an attack will soon be made upon the federal lines by the rebels. The quarrel between the rebel leaders is believed to have ended in the triumph of Beauregard, who represents an offensive war party. It is understood that he actually resigned, but was induced to withdraw his resignation, Jeff Davis adopting his policy.

Formidable preparations are making at Fortress Monroe for active operations, the theatre of which is undisclosed. The ferry boats in Hampton Roads are being heavily armed.—Several regiments arrived there on Thursday from Baltimore and Annapolis. Gen. Butler was there on Friday.

1800 rebels in Northampton county, Va., have laid down their arms and dispersed.

☞ The steamer Constitution sailed from Portland at two o'clock Saturday morning. She had on board the 26th Massachusetts Regiment, Col. Jones, 1040 men: the 9th Connecticut Regiment, Col. Cahill, over 900 men; and the 4th Massachusetts Battery of Light Artillery, Capt. Manning,—in all about 2200. She was anchored in the stream. Twice Col. Shepley's Regiment were embarked in steamers and carried to the Constitution, but the latter was full.—After sail fying himself the men would not have the accommodations to which they were entitled, Col. Shepley addressed his command, saying that although the quarters provided for himself and his officers were ample and sufficient, there was no reasonable accommodation for his troops, and consequently he would not consent to allow the regiment to go on board.

☞ NAVAL.—Commander Ellison, of the U. S. steamer R. R. Cuyler, takes command of the U. S. steam-sloop Richmond, in place of Capt. Pope, who returns North; Lieut. Maury, of the frigate Potomac, is ordered to the Vincennes, vice Commander Handy, who also returns North; Lieutenant Commanding Winslow, of the Water Witch, to the Cuyler.

Sloop-of war Dale, Com. Yard, arrived at Port Royal, Nov. 17th, from Fernandina, Fla.

☞ P. T. Barnum, Esq., of New York, will address the Sons of Temperance in Portland, on the 3d of December, the anniversary of the Sons of Temperance in that city. It is understood also, that Col. Neal Dow, of the 13th Maine Regiment, will take occasion to make a farewell address to the Order and his friends generally.

GAZETTE AND CHRONICLE.

Among the many obituary and complimentary notices, with which our brethren of the press greeted the recent combination of the titles above, we publish the following, as possessing interest to many readers.

From the Nashua Telegraph.

DEATH OF OLD NEWSPAPERS.—We have to confess to a feeling of regret when we read that the old New Hampshire Gazette, published at Portsmouth, the oldest newspaper in the country, had ceased to be. * * * It has been one of those fortunate papers whose dish has been generally right side up when it rained political porridge, and has always been the receptacle of official patronage. Relying too much on that, it did not cultivate or develope the strength to live without it, and when it was withdrawn it could not survive. The publishers of the Chronicle have its good will, and its subscribers are to be furnished with that live paper—which we venture to suggest, in these times, many of them will not regret. We always feel bad to see the old intellectual land marks disappear. * *

Probably a little research would show that the age of newspapers is regulated by a law as fixed as that which regulates the age of man. Some die in early infancy.—* * * Others live a little longer; make a good deal of bustle while they live; promise to do great things, and without seeming to fulfil the destiny which their aspiring progenitors had marked out for them, "die and make no sign." Others again live to get a name, and an influence, and for some cause sicken and die, or are swallowed up by some more successful rival.—And others again live to a good old age, and die as men die, and when they seem to have done their work. * * *

There is something suggestive in the dying out of the old democratic papers. * *

From the Dover Enquirer.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE,—As a distinct newspaper, and as the organ of any portion of the democracy, has ceased to exist. Its name has been transferred to the publisher of the Rockingham Chronicle, which paper will hereafter be known as the "New Hampshire Gazette and Rockingham Chronicle." The name of the patriarch of American newspapers therefore will live, if its spirit dies. The Chronicle has been a lively and well conducted newspaper, independent in all things, and the very antipodes of the Gazette in most things, and we presume will so continue under its new name.

The old Gazette will be missed. It has been a sturdy champion of democracy; more democratic, in fact, than the democratic party. Its columns have been filled with the lucubrations of Woodbury, Greenleaf, Claggett, Laighton, Treadwell, and other eminent disciples of the creed—men who, if they did not invent modern democracy, made many new discoveries (which could hardly be called improvements) in reference to the article—all of which having failed of popular acceptance, have been "buried with the fathers," and like them forgotten. The Gazette has now followed. Had it been true to liberty and the Union, as it was in its earlier days, instead of truckling to and apologizing for traitors, in their efforts to destroy the Union, it would not have been left to perish.

From the Lebanon Free Press.

NEWSPAPORIAL.—The New Hampshire Gazette, which has been published at Portsmouth more than one hundred and five years, has been discontinued, and its name and subscription list transferred to the Portsmouth Chronicle. We regret the necessity which compelled the suspension of the Gazette, for we have a great reverence for anything aged. It was of the Democratic school, and has been "Hard" and "Soft" by turns. It has fed largely upon Government "pap." The Democrats of Rockingham county are thus left without an organ. The Chronicle (for it will be the same spicy little Chronicle still, changed only in name,) is independent in all things, and one of the best papers in the State. We are glad to welcome it to our exchange list.

Not at all new.—British neutrality.

☞ We see it stated that Mrs. H. Brown, the author of that admirable hymn commencing, "I love to steal awhile away," died on the 10th of October, at Henry, Ill., aged 78 years and 5 months. She has left an enduring memorial in that single hymn.

☞ Gen. Sherman has changed the name of Fort Walker, on Hilton Head, to "Fort Welles," and that of Fort Beauregard, on Bay Point, to "Fort Seward."

Forty-five counties of North Carolina were represented at a Union Convention, held at Hatteras, which repudiated secession and declared their adherence to the Union. They nominated M. N. Taylor for Provisional Governor.

Reports from Missouri speak of the moving of the opposing forces, and indicate battle between Gen. Lane and the rebel Harris.

A flag of truce from Norfolk, at Fortress Monroe, brings many women and children refugees, but no news.

Vanity Fair says the three ages of a Senator are mile-age, post-age, and patronage. It might have added as a fourth, verbi-age.

Special Notices.

MOTHERS, OR YOU THAT HAVE THE CARE OF CHILDREN, know the difficulty of getting them to take medicine, and it is almost as painful to the parent to administer the dose, as to see the child suffer by disease, and you will hail with joy any discovery that will alleviate this difficulty, and at the same time be a more efficient agent to restore health. DOCTOR GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES do this. Being in they are, simple medicated sugar pills, they can be administered to a child even while asleep without disturbing it, and the action of the medicines will in all cases be satisfactory. Children troubled with worms, colic, diarrhea, or teething babies, have a remedy here that is perfectly harmless and at the same time can be given without trouble, and are good in their results.

American Women.

America is justly proud of its beautiful women: but how many die annually, or prematurely lose their health and youth for want of a remedy suitable to their peculiar ailments. That remedy is found in SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS. We know hundreds of cases where they have been used with the greatest success.—In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed,—moderating excesses and removing obstructions, whether from cold or any other cause. Suffer no more anxiety or low spirits, but try them. For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 Pills, by return mail. my28daw3m

Local.

THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS for Rockingham, were in session in this city, the past week, engaged in hearing applications to lay out new roads. The first hearing was upon the petition of Samuel H. Tarlton and others, of Newington, for a new highway leading from the farm of the late Judge Pickering, through the land of Reuben L. Lane, to the road leading by Abednego Robinson's farm—the proposed road being partly in Newington and partly in Portsmouth. The petition was resisted by the heirs of Judge Pickering and by the town of Newington; and several witnesses were examined. The petitioners were represented by Mr. Hackett. Mr. Rollins, City Solicitor, appeared for Portsmouth, and Messrs. C. H. Bell and A. H. Hoyt for Newington and other opponents. Mr. Darius Frink, one of the Commissioners, being interested as a resident of Newington, Hon. Wm. C. Patten of Kingston was appointed to act in his place in the hearing.

On Friday and Saturday, a hearing was had upon the betition of sundry citizens of the eastern part of Rye, for an extension of a road leading to Wallace's Sands in Rye. The proposed road, which is quite short, was resisted by the Selectmen of Rye, the town having voted not to build the road. A large number of witnesses were examined, and a liberal number of the citizens of Rye were in attendance.—Hackett for petitioners; Hatch for Rye. The decisions in the above cases are not yet made public.

☞ To-morrow is City Election day in Portsmouth. We are glad Mayor Simes has consented to be re-elected. The Democratic candidate is not yet nominated.—Our city has generally been exceedingly fortunate in the selection of City officers, especially Mayors—but we think we never had and need not ask for, a better City government than that in office during the present bear. We don't care what party claims the officers, so long as they do the best for the people. The Mayor and Aldermen always have infinitely more to do than is generally known; and this year, there has been considerable extra business, growing out of various public improvements to which we have from time to time alluded, the volunteer service, &c. But we believe that all their duties have been faithfully performed—and that the verdict of their townsmen to-morrow, will be a generally re-election.

We should have chosen Union (no-party or all-party) nominations—but if this can't be, we are always in favor of retaining faithful and competent public (as private) officials in the places, the duties of which they have learned.

☞ A "Kittery" correspondent of the Boston Journal recently tried very hard to move our Navy Yard from Portsmouth to Kittery—but he lacked the "lever which moves the world," and so couldn't do it.—He tells some tales of cargoes and officers miscarrying, on account of the confusion between the two localities, (said confusion being caused entirely by such talk as his)—but it must be a "marine," and a horse-marine at that, who would, when bound to the Yard, come directly by it, to our wharves—Did the "Kittery Navy Yard" folks ever hear of the port of Kittery? If not how can a vessel clear for it? A correspondent writes us, that the jurisdiction of New Hampshire extends to high water mark on the Maine side of the Piscataqua. But, at any rate, the old name of Portsmouth Navy Yard is good enough, and it only makes confusion to attempt to change it, without benefitting anybody, that we can see.

Also, now we are about it—we would like to ask that "Kittery" scribbler, if a gentleman, when he has a social party, is not to be allowed to make out his own list of invitations?

CORRECTION.—It was stated in the Journal, that Mayor Simes presented a revolver to Capt. Sides as a personal gift.—Mr. Simes requests us to say that he presented it as the gift of the Aldermen, and not as his own.

☞ The "Ellsworth Guards," Capt. Titcomb, of Seabrook, numbering about forty men, passed through this city on Friday last, on their way to Camp Brooks, Sixth Regiment, at Keene

☞ Mr. Thomas P. Jones, of Augusta, Me., has been appointed Master's Mate, U. S. N., and ordered to the sloop-of-war Portsmouth, now at this station.

☞ Hon. Horton D. Walker, of this city, has for a week or two past been seriously ill of typhoid fever, in New York. His numerous friends will be glad to learn that he is deemed to be convalescent.

☞ The alarm of fire on Saturday afternoon, was occasioned by the burning of a chimney in a house on Russell street.

A young man was knocked down and run over by one of the engines, but his injuries were not serious.

☞ A detachment of Marines for the U. S. sloop-of-war Portsmouth, were sent to this city from Charlestown Navy Yard, on Friday afternoon last.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, Nov. 22.—Judge Odell presiding.—John Leonard, for being drunk, was fined $3.00 and costs, $3.86.

Willard Walker, for the same offence, received a similar fine.

John Donovan was charged with an aggravated assault on John Mooney, by throwing glass tumblers at the head of said Mooney, severely cutting and bruising him. He was bound over to the April term in the sum of $200.

Mooney has also commenced a civil suit against Donovan, for $500 damages.

SATURDAY, Nov. 23.—John Mooney, arraigned for an assault on John Donovan, was discharged, it being shown that Mooney committed no assault.

Edmund C. Bean, of Newington, charged with committing an assault on Oliver G.W. Brown, by biting off part of his ear, was bound over in the sum of $300.

Oliver G. W. Brown, of Newington, was arraigned for an assault on Edmund Bean. Case continued until Tuesday.

☞ The rails on the Concord and Portsmouth Railroad, between Suncook and Candia, will be removed this week, to be laid on the new line via Manchester. The Concord Statesman says, during the interim of communication, the passenger traffic will be obliged to content itself with the stage which plies between Manchester and Candia.

☞ Commander Henry K. Thatcher, for the last two years the executive officer at Charlestown, Mass., has been ordered to the command of the U. S. sloop-of-war Constellation, now nearly ready for sea at the Portsmouth Navy Yard.

CHRONICLE BLACK LIST.

We are making up a very interesting list of old bills due us; and shall, early in 1862, advertise them for sale to the highest bidder. We "believe in advertising;" and not wishing to retain any unsettled accounts on our books for more than one year, will dispose of them at a reduction—after giving each delinquent fair notice to pay up, or "show cause, if any they have, why" said claims should not be adjusted forthwith.

Portsmouth, Nov. 28, 1861.

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambucl Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL

A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF
INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM,
SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO.

Of all the diseases incident to the human family, there is none, perhaps, which occasions so much intense suffering and physical disability, and none that appears to elicit so little commiseration and sympathy as RHEUMATISM in its various modifications. Medical writers, and the faculty in general, have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of compounds of one kind or other which have been presented to the public as curatives.

Rheumatism, as well as Gout (which latter is but a more aggravated form of what is commonly understood as Rheumatism), would seem to result from a peculiar diathesis or inflammatory condition of the system, originating in a diseased state of the blood. It usually affects the larger joints, as the ankle, knee, elbow, shoulders, &c., and manifests itself in Neuralgic pains, Sciatica, Lumbago, and other forms of this character.

Sometimes, through negligence, or the inadequacy of the remedies applied, it assumes a decided inflammatory feature, and then often becomes a constitutional affection, permeating every tissue, and exposing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.

The almost exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as fomentations, stimulating embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, bleeding, cupping, and leeching, have in most cases proved ineffectual, merely transferring the disease from one part of the system to another. The ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL, on the contrary, is altogether an internal remedy, and is intended to strike at the root of the disease. It is a new and original preparation, invented by the subscriber, and he can therefore recommend it as perfectly safe, as well as efficient, being wholly free from any deleterious substance whatever

It is not pretended, however, that this Cordial will cure every reputed case of Rheumatism that may be presented, although the proportion of failures to been such as would justify every one afflicted by it in making the trial; and where even the most remote benefit is discovered, it may then be fairly inferred that a cure will be effected, providing the directions be steadily and persevering-ly adhered to, both as to the time of taking it, and the quantity used.

It is a singular fact, that advanced age appears to be equally as susceptible to the benefits derivable from its use as youth, or those in the meridian of life. We have a number of instances of persons ranging from sixty to upwards of eighty, who, having been many years the subjects of Rheumatism, in one or other of its varied forms, have by using a few bottles been completely restored—their whole system invigorated, and, as a matter of course, their general health greatly improved. We have rarely known a return of the disease after it has been subdued by the use of this Cordial, even though the patient may have been exposed to the vicissitudes of wet weather; when, however, there have been any slight indications of "the old complaint," a few doses have produced the most happy effect.

The subscriber can furnish a long array of names of the most prominent and influential citizens, who can testify to the inestimable efficacy of this invaluable compound, and who are willing that their names should be placed before the public, in order to inform those who are afflicted with RHEUMATISM in its various phases, that there is a sovereign remedy in "ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL." Prepared only by THEODORE DILKS, Chemist,

N. E. cor. Fine and Sixth sts., Philadelphia.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS.

Are you sick, feeble, and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system deranged, and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some fit of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humors—purify the blood, and let the functions move on unobstructed in health again. Ayer's Pills stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and obstructs its natural functions. These, if not relieved, must upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering, and disease. While in this condition, oppressed by the derangements, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is also true in many of the deep-seated and dangerous distempers. The same purgative effect expels them. Caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly, and many of them surely, cured by the same means. None who know the virtues of these Pills will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure.

Statements from leading physicians in some of the principal cities, and from other well known public persons.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1855.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After one child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ASA MORGRIDGE.

As a Family Physic.

From Dr. R. W. Cartwright, New Orleans.

Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

DEAR SIR AYER: I cannot answer you what complaint I have cured with your Pills better than to say all that is ever heard with a purgative medicine. I place great dependence on an effectual cathartic in my daily contest with disease, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach which they cleanse at once.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE,
Chief of Police Office.

Bilious Disorders—Liver Complaints.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the liver very marked and decided. They have by me proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative pill in which we may place the confidence of the profession and the people.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
Washington, D. C., 7th Feb., 1855.

DR.: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and can unhesitatingly say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for the disease of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that I did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Relax, Worms.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I add them to esteem as one of the most valuable I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children.

Dyspepsia, Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Hunt, Pastor of Adams Street, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood, they are the very best medicine I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V HIMES.

WARSAW, Wyoming Co., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountain of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Constipation, Costiveness, Suppression, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Dropsy, Paralysis, Fits, etc.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.

Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have followed them as extensively as I have, they should join me in proclaiming for the benefit of the public, those who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the propagator of others that are worse. I believe our country to origin in the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease.

From Mrs. E. Stuart, Physician and Midwife, Boston.

I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promotives of the natural more less when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients.

From the Rev. Dr. Hamilton, of the Methodist Episc. Church

PULASKI HOUSE, Savannah, Ga., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on extreme rolling neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, Baton Rouge, La., 5 Jan. 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured, by your Pills, of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that has afflicted me for years.

VINCENT SLIDELL.

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skillful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the deadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These Pills are free from mercury or mineral substance whatever.

☞ 25 cents per Box, or 5 Boxes for $1.

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

No. 46 Market Street, Portsmouth.

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven without the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking: giving an oven nearly 31t. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and ... jackets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves,

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

1861. MAGEE'S PATENT COOKING STOVE. 1861.

THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE AGE!

PATENT COOKING STOVE

For Wood or Coal,

Operating on the same principle as the celebrated

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

This beautiful COOK STOVE is now offered to the public with entire confidence in its being the BEST OPERATING, MOST DURABLE and ECONOMICAL Stove ever invented, requiring one-third less Fuel than any other Stove in the market, to do the same amount of cooking; and the fire may be kept in it the entire season, without going out. The public are invited to call and examine this Stove, which is all that is necessary to convince any person that it has no superior, and cannot be beat. And we predict for it that popularity and immense sale which has attended the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE since its introduction into this market.

"Every Stove is warranted to give ENTIRE SATISFACTION in every particular."

Jones & Bolles, No. 61 MARKET ST., Portsmouth.

The Best COOK STOVE in the Market, is

STEWART'S

NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT, SUMMER AND WINTER

COOKING STOVES,

For Wood or Coal,

IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the

STEWART COOK STOVE,

Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and clear, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward movable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within, or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove, from the time the article is set in until it be removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR, (of copper, with a tin casing,) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire box; and the fumes, the meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

But we cannot, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of THE STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new-fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE,

Now in use, which has been widely tested

FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and not found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1861, is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

IT HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED, yet, as a Family Stove. For further particulars, and to see the best Stove in the market, please call on

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquor and Wine for medical and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE,
PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use,
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.
SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

WE REFER TO
a few well known gentlemen and physicians, who have tried the Wine:
Gen. W. Scott, U.S.A. Dr. Ward, Newark.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1861.

MASON AND SLIDELL.—After a long and stormy passage from New York, which port she left on Monday night last, the steam sloop-of-war San Jacinto, having on board those famous prisoners of war, Messrs Mason and Slidell, arrived at Boston on Sunday. The Post states that upon the arrival of the prisoners at Fort Warren, Col. Dimick, who was attending service, at once proceeded to his quarters, where they were in waiting. The interview was somewhat formal, but the veteran Colonel was kind and courteous, though firm and dignified. They were assigned their apartments, which are as good as the Fort affords, and in about half an hour were occupying them. Their arrival, as may well be supposed, produced a sensation at the Fort, alike among the prisoners and the garrison. Slidell appears much dejected. He does not bear his fortunes with as brave a front as was expected. On the contrary, Mason is prodigal of airiness, and displays a dare-devil, don't-care-ativeness that is somewhat characteristic of the man.

The N. Y. Herald's Washington dispatch says that the Government has decided that Mason and Slidell shall be treated in all respects, as to close confinement and fare, like criminals guilty of the highest crimes against the law, until full assurance is received that Col. Corcoran and the other officers now in the hands of the rebels, shall receive the treatment due to their rank and position as prisoners of war taken on the field of battle, according to the usages of all civilized nations.

The same despatch says the Government has also come to the determination to hang every prisoner duly convicted of piracy on the high seas, whether he hails from the North or the South, or from any foreign nation, and that they will hold the prisoners now in captivity, including Slidell Mason, and Faulkner, responsible for any barbarity which may be practiced upon the prisoners of war confined in Southern prisons.

☞ An eye witness and actor in the fight at McCoy's mills, Western Virginia, says that the reason why we lost no men there, was, that the rebels had no artillery, and all of our men within reach of their musketry were kept carefully under cover by their commanding officers, whose caution and skill cannot be too highly commended.

The same writer says:—

Floyd was blind drunk the night he came through Fayette C. H., and I think has been in a state of chronic intoxication for some time; he certainly is much better adapted for pilfering than for fighting, having not the least stomach for anything in the shape of danger.

☞ The N. Y. Post says Capt. D. D. Porter, U. S. N., is in that city, getting together the materials for another expedition to the Southern coast. The captain comes of a family who are noted for the most desperate bravery. One of the most gallant and remarkable actions in all naval history was the fight of Commodore David Porter, of the Essex, carrying thirty-two guns, with the British ships Phœbe, carrying forty-six guns, and the Cherub, twenty eight, in 1814, in Valparaiso harbor, where he was attacked, in violation of the neutrality of the port.

☞ The steamship Etna, at New York from Liverpool, brings European intelligence to the 14th inst., four days later.—Most of the London journals comment favorably upon Mr. Adams' speech at the Lord Mayor's banquet; the Times is ill-natured, and mingles sarcasm with its compliments. Three ships had sailed from England, with troops for the Mexican expedition. Pedro V., King of Portugal, died on the 12th inst., at the age of 24.

☞ The James Mill in Newburyport, has for several years been one of the most successful of our cotton factories. In the last year and a half it has declared three dividends—5 per cent, 10, and 8; making 23 per cent in 18 months. It has done better than that, for it has added considerable to its reserved funds.

☞ A rare specimen of Blue Sodaite, Yellow Cancrinite, and Zercon, in Granite, has been found in Litchfield, Maine. The granite boulder, from which the specimens were taken, is nearly round, and ten feet in diameter. No specimens of the kind have ever before been found in the State, and it is supposed the boulder was brought, perhaps from the Arctic regions, by an iceberg.

☞ Mr. John Jacob Astor, of New York, has joined the staff of Major-General McClellan, with the commission of Lieutenant-Colonel. Mr. Astor is the representative of thirty millions of property, with an income of two millions per annum.

The San Francisco papers give glowing accounts of the new coal discoveries in the Washoe region in California. The width of the vein now working is from three to seven feet.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

——Concord having suffered from several disastrous fires within the past few years, a special meeting of the City Council was held last week, for the purpose of considering the subject of procuring steam fire engines, and of increasing the supply of water in the city, for fire purposes. A petition recommending such action, signed by most of the prominent citizens, was laid before the Boards, and the matter was referred to a committee. Manchester has three steamers. There are only three hand engines available for immediate service in the compact part of Concord.

—— The proprietors of the Belknap Mills, Laconia, have a contract for army mittens, and will employ two hundred women to run machines.

—— The Manchester Mirror states that "the Candia Branch is rapidly advancing to completion. The track at the Manchester end is being laid. The Branch from Hooksett to Suncook is all ironed, except over the bridge, the completion of which is put back by the recent accident to it. In a few weeks the long-talked of Candia Branch will be in running order, and opened with proper 'pomp and circumstance.'"

—— Mr. Edmund Griffin, of Concord, who was arrested and imprisoned some three months ago at Haverhill, for the murder of William H. Niles, has been discharged, as it proved to be clearly a case of self-defence. He was attacked, it will be recollected, by Mr. Niles and his son, while picking berries, and in defending himself stabbed the boy with a knife.

—— Mr. W. H. Crawford of Manchester, who went with the naval expedition as a teamster, returned on the Atlantic, quite sick with a climatic complaint, something like jaundice, contracted at Port Royal, and which prevailed to a considerable extent among our men. Two teamsters, also from Manchester, named Roby and Thompson, were on the Union transport, which went ashore on the coast of North Carolina, those on board being taken prisoners by the rebels. Charles Kelly, Quartermaster's Sergt. of the N. H. 4th, was also on the Union, having in charge the horses and wagons of that regiment. He is of course a prisoner.

—— The State Teachers' Association of New Hampshire held its annual meeting on Tuesday and Wednesday last. Lectures were given by Mr. Northrop, Agent of the Mass. Board of Education, on "Motive Power," and by Prof. C. A. Aikon of Dartmouth College, on "Scholarship and Patriotism." Spirited discussions on "School Gymnastics," "Importance of Teachers' Institutes," "Best methods of teaching the English Language," filled up the remaining time of the meeting. An experienced, successful and highly esteemed teacher of Concord, Paltiah Brown, Esq., died suddenly during the session. This event cast a gloom over the meeting, and called forth appropriate resolutions and addresses commemorating his worth.

—— On Saturday, Nov. 16th, as Mr. Senter, of Hollis, was passing in a wagon near the railroad wood shed below Danforth's Corner, he was met by two men in a chaise. One of them struck Mr. Senter a blow on the head, inflicting a severe wound, which rendered him nearly insensible. The other then snatched his watch and both fled. The ruffians were pursued to Nashua, and there arrested.

☞ A friend of children, and a lover of comfort, has deposited in our counting room, a miniature bed, bedstead and bedding,—by which is shown the model of a simple contrivance for keeping bed clothes from going adrift in a cold night, leaving the sleepers in the cold.

It is simply to have two loops on each side of a narrow sheet, blanket or quilt, which loops shall pass under the side of the bedstead, and be fastened to two common wooden knobs, such as are used for drawers.

This narrow quilt must be no wider than the bed, and should go over the blankets, and under the outer counterpane.

With this contrivance it is almost impossible for children to roll out of bed, or for them or others to lose the clothes while asleep.

AN INQUIRY.—We desire to be informed, by any of our brethren of the press who know,—whether V. B. Palmer, the pioneer Advertising Agent, is to be set down with the large tribe of bogus "agents," who are neither a benefit to printers or advertisers, nor much to themselves. He left New York with a small balance of our account against him, for which we could never get a settlement; and a year and a half ago we were foolish enough to open another account with him at Philadelphia—for which we have in vain tried to get satisfaction. We regret exceedingly to feel obliged to refer to this matter thus publicly; but inasmuch as Mr. Palmer's name has been inserted in our columns as our Agent in Philadelphia, we deem it but just to ourselves and the press generally, as well as to our patrons in that city, to do so.

SLOOP OF WAR LEVANT.—The Heirs of Officers and Seamen are referred to the advertisement in another column.

THE REBELLION.

The New York Herald publishes a letter from Mr. G. Train, dated London, Nov. 9th, stating that the night before, the Gladiator, one of the old Lisbon screw steamers, took aboard a full cargo of arms and munitions of war, and was to clear next day for Teneriffe and Nassau. The estimated value of the cargo is $300,000; it comprises everything necessary for the equipment of 25,000 men. Mr. Train also states that the secessionists are in treaty for the Punjaub and Assaye, two East India men-of-war, of 1800 tons and 800 horse-power each.

Capt. Confort of the French army, who served fourteen years in Algeria, has been, at the request of Gen. McClellan, authorized to raise a regiment of "Franc Tireurs." Their services are to be special, and under the immediate command of the Commander-in-chief.

The Richmond papers of Wednesday contain dispatches from the Confederate army, stating that small pox, typhoid fever and black vomit are prevailing with fearful mortality among the rebel troops near Bowling Green, Ky.

Floyd's army has retreated four miles from Gauley.

A few weeks ago the Secretary of War authorized Gen. Wool to ascertain whether clothing and other articles necessary to the comfort of U. S. citizens, now prisoners of war, could be sent to them. The rebel authorities have consented.

The damages to the railroads in East Tennessee, by the recent Union incendiarism, is estimated at $50,000.

Dispatches to Gen. Dix from Eastern Virginia announce the capture of three rebel officers, a Captain and two Lieutenants; also seven pieces of cannon, all new and in good order. All traces of disloyalty seem to have disappeared from that section.

The Tribune's Washington dispatch says the reports of the Secretaries approach completion. The great interest which the war will give to that of the War Secretary will be heightened by Mr. Cameron's distinct avowal of his policy of placing arms in the hands of slaves willing to use them for the cause of the Union. It is said that Mr. Chase will fully develop the theory that the slaves in the rebel States should be employed under wages to raise cotton, sugar, rice and tobacco for government account.

The Herald's dispatch says six persons were arrested in Maryland by the expedition which went down the lower Potomac a few days ago, who belonged to a secret organization for the purpose of conveying men and arms to the rebels in Virginia. A rebel spy, recently from Richmond, with a large number of letters and papers, was also taken. This capture has developed the source from which the rebels have been obtaining Northern papers and valuable information.

The Richmond papers state that a long chain of massive rafts has been stretched across Charleston harbor from Fort Sumter to Sullivan's Island.

The rebel steamer Nashville was at Bermuda on the 3d, taking in coal, and was to sail for England on the 4th.

The rebel Legislature of Missouri, at Neosho, after obtaining a quorum by appointing proxies, elected John B. Clark, formerly a member of the U. S. Congress, and R. S. Y. Peyton, Senators to the rebel Congress. It also appointed members to the House.

Adj. Scott, U. S. 6th Inf., a son of Rev. Dr. Scott of San Francisco, was arrested at New York on Monday, on the arrival of the North Star, another passenger charging him with being a secessionist. Col. Buchanan alleges that Scott is loyal, and has applied for his release.

☞ The steamer Lewiston, of the regular line between Portland and Boston, and which left the former port on Saturday morning, was obliged to put into our harbor on account of the storm, and did not arrive at Boston till Sunday afternoon.

☞ Major Thomas S. English and Captain Abraham N. Bravoort, of the Marine corps, have been retired by their own request. They have been in the service more than 40 years, the former having entered it in 1817, and the latter in 1820.

☞ The Boston Post states that "a negro, in New York State, has been doled one cent for marrying a white woman;" and suggests that the woman will find a good many scents."

If you wait for others to advance your interests in this world, you will have to wait so long that your interests will not be worth advancing at all.

THE PATENT
FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will cost twice its own price within three months, by economizing Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottles; it is a handsomer article than the common hair brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

American Women.

America is justly proud of its beautiful women; but how many die annually, or prematurely lose their health and youth for want of a remedy suitable to their peculiar wants. That remedy is found in SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS. We know hundreds of cases where they have been used with the greatest success.—In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed,—moderating excesses and removing obstructions, whether from cold or any other cause. Suffer no more anxiety or low spirits, but try them. For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the Agent.
One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 Pills, by return mail. my23dawâm
Sold by W. R. PRESTON and all druggists.

Local.

☞ City Election to day. Wm. Simes (Republican) and John R. Reding (Democrat) are the nominees for Mayor. Both have well filled the office before. The rest of the respective tickets we will give tomorrow—when we can probably tell who is elected.

For the Chronicle.

ELECTION.—We hear that Hon. Wm. Simes and Hon. J. R. Reding, are the nominees for Mayor. Well, if either are elected, Portsmouth will again have a good Mayor, and as there can be but little fault found with either of the candidates, it will give the citizens an opportunity to express their opinions by their votes. B.

PARTY ACTION.

Messrs. Editors:—We sometimes hear it said, that parties are of no consequence;—and at others we are desired not to know any party at all, but go for the country!—All very well, in one use of the terms, but not in some others. Does the reader know, that with the exception of Gov. Sprague, in Rhode Island, the governors of all the free northern States were chosen by the Republican party? and that Gov. Sprague was elected by a Union ticket carried largely by the same party?

These Republican governors, when the rebellion broke out, were all found willing to obey the President's call for 75,000 men; and they have obeyed his calls for more, till he has raised a large army!

It may be said that men of all parties have responded to the call. Yes, they have and they deserve the thanks of all the people for it. But does any man suppose that if half the governors had been peace democrats, they would have been as prompt?—Would there not have been some scruples, objections, and delays? Q.

THE HUTCHINSONS.—Since the first appearance of the original Hutchinson Family here, just about twenty years ago, and their concerts in Franklin Hall, and the Cameneum—they have obtained and retained the public's favor, to a degree never attained by any other club. And this in the face of all sorts of criticism, and despite their radical songs and opinions, which created no little opposition, and which of course excluded them from a large section of the country. The concerts last week, by John's family, were very much like, and almost as good as, the originals—including as they did, the best performer of the first troupe—and drew out very large audiences. One thing is especially noticeable in all their entertainments—the earnestness and heartiness of the performers—who evidently sing nothing but what they believe, and enjoy their concerts as much as does any hearer. Brignoli and others might take a lesson in good manners from the Hutchinsons—they never shut a book in the face of an audience, or turn on their heels before their song is finished, like a young cockerel driven off by some stronger rival, and obliged to cut short his crowing.

Who wouldn't relish hearing the old Family?—we say "old," but time has dealt kindly with John, and but for his beautiful children, we should hardly believe a score of years have passed since his songs first charmed us. Asa and John live at Lynn—Abby, near New York—Judson has "gone before" to the better land. Besides their most delightfully wild and picturesque residences at High Rock, Lynn, the brothers own a large, beautiful and thriving township of 1500 acres in Minnesota, which they call "Hutchinson."

Their concerts last week were as full of fun, sentiment and pathos as ever—the words as clearly spoken as only the Hutchinsons always spoke them—and their usual amount of sims not forgotten.

The Hutchinsons are certainly an American, free soil institution—and bound to flourish, in these times, especially, when everybody is getting to be "free-soil." We would wish them success—but they have won it. We will therefore only say, we are glad of it—for "the people" would not so generally and so long award them applause, did they not merit it.

The first time the Hutchinsons sang here, they gave, "Clear the track for Emancipation"—at an anti-slavery meeting; and they have kept on singing the same old song, until now almost the whole people are ready to join them in the chorus: "'Twill be the blessing of this nation."

A REAL KINDNESS.—A benevolent gentleman of this city, noticed, while in our Post Office a few days since, several letters "held for postage," which should be paid in advance—and at once "sent them on their way,"—to rejoice many interested ones—by paying what the writers had neglected to, through ignorance or thoughtlessness. The amount was not great, but must have yielded a large percentage of satisfaction to the kind heart which prompted the deed.

☞ We are indebted to Mr. Preston for one of the neat and convenient Fountain Hair Brushes, which he advertises this morning. Everybody knows that at his store may always be found one of the most admirable assortments of articles in his line of business, which can be obtained anywhere—especially toilet and fancy articles.

☞ Our first real snow storm of the season visited us on Monday, and all day long the large white flakes dropped silently down, covering the earth and its graves of flowers, with its spotless mantle. A venturesome sleigh now and then was seen on the street, while the boys shouted and revelled, and gathered up the damp materials in large balls, as the "first snow" has been gathered up ever since the first boy had an opportunity to push his "rolling ball of snow" before him.

☞ The rebel Congress, in session at Richmond, has passed a bill to remove the capital of the Southern Confederacy to Nashville, Tenn. It will at once assemble at Nashville.

☞ The Evening Gazette says Rev. Mr. Foote, of Salem, has accepted a call as minister of King's Chapel, Boston.

☞ An emerald has been found in the mines of Muco, South Africa, weighing two pounds and a half—the largest in the world.

THE NEW-HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE and Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, published Thursday, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room. Price 3 cents. Only $1 per year, in advance.

TERMS.—Subscribers to our Weekly paper will please always remember, that the terms are $1 50 per year—and not "$1 only," except when paid actually in advance—which does not mean at the end of a year or two.

BILLS.—When one man sends a bill to another, it is presumed to be a hint that the sender wants his own money which the debtor has, as soon as convenient.

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambucci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF

INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO.

Of all the diseases incident to the human family, there is none, perhaps, which occasions so much intense suffering and physical disability, and none that appears to elicit so little commiseration and sympathy as RHEUMATISM in its various modifications. Medical writers, and the faculty in general, have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of compounds of one kind or other which have been presented to the public as curatives.

Rheumatism, as well as Gout (which latter is but a more aggravated form of what is commonly understood as Rheumatism), would seem to result from a peculiar diathesis or inflammatory condition of the system, originating in a diseased state of the blood. It usually affects the larger joints, as the ankle, knee, elbow, shoulder, &c., and manifests itself in Neuralgic pains, Sciatica, Lumbago, and other forms of this character.

Sometimes, through negligence, or the inadequacy of the remedies applied, it assumes a decided inflammatory feature, and then often becomes a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle, and exposing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; rendering to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.

The almost exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as liniments, stimulating embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, bleeding, cupping, and leeching, have in most cases proved ineffectual, merely transmuting the disease from one part of the system to another. The ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL, in the opinion of the proprietor, is a curative remedy, and is intended to strike at the root of the disease. It is a new and original preparation, invented by the subscriber, and he therefore confidently recommend it as perfectly safe, as well as efficient, being wholly free from any deleterious substance whatever.

It is not pretended, however, that this Cordial will cure every reputed case of Rheumatism that has been pronounced incurable, although heretofore such as would justify every one afflicted by it in making the trial; and where even the most remote benefit is discoverable, it may then be fairly inferred that a cure will be effected, providing the directions be steadily and persevering-ly adhered to, both as to the time of taking it, and the quantity used.

It is a singular fact, that advanced age appears to be equally as susceptible to the benefits derivable from its use as youth, or those in the meridian of life. We have a number of instances of persons ranging from sixty to upwards of eighty, who, having been many years the subjects of Rheumatism, in one or other of its varied forms, have by using few bottles been completely restored—their whole system invigorated, and, as a matter of course, their general health greatly improved. We have rarely known a return of the disease after it has been subdued by the use of this Cordial, even though the patient may have been exposed to the vicissitudes of wet weather; when, however, there have been any slight indications of "the old complaint," a few doses have generally sufficed to prevent the most happy effect.

The subscriber can furnish a long array of names of the most prominent and influential citizens, who can testify to the inestimable efficacy of this invaluable compound, and who are willing that their names should be placed before the public, in order to inform those who are afflicted with RHEUMATISM in its various phases, that there is a sovereign remedy in "ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL." Prepared only by THEODORE DILKS, Chemist,

N. E. cor. Pine and Sixth sts., Philadelphia.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS.

Are you sick, feeble, and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system deranged, and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some fit of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and if disease cast the Shamrock humors—purify the blood, and let the fluids move on unobstructed in health again. They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and clogs its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering, and disease. While in this condition, oppressed by the derangements, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is also true in many of the desperate and dangerous distempers. The same purgative effect expels them. Cleansed by similar cleansings and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly, and many of them surely, cured by these means. None who know the virtues of these Pills will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure.

Statements from leading physicians in some of the principal cities, and from other well known public persons.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured in my family dozens of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ABA MORGRIDGE.

As a Family Physic.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, New Orleans.

Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the liver, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

DEAR SIR, AYER: I cannot answer you what complaint I have cured with your Pills rather than to say all that is ever true with a purgative medicine. I place great dependence on an effectual cathartic in my daily contest with diseases, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly.

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach which they cleanse at once.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE,
Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders—Liver Complaints.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effect upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I cannot help repeat that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the public.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
Washington, D. C., Feb. 1, 1855.

DR.: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have found in most of the cases of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Relax, Worms.

From Dr. J. S. Owen, of Chicago.

Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I could them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have used in bowel complaints. Their effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when combined with disease of the liver, dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children.

Dyspepsia, Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in sickness. They regulate the organs of digestion, purify the blood, they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends.

Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, Wyoming Co., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Constipation, Costiveness, Suppression, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Dropsy, Paralysis, Fits, etc.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.

Much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of constipation. If others of our fraternity have found them as serious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the progenitor of others that are worse. I believe our humors to originate in the liver, but your Pills effect that organ and cure the disease.

From Mrs. E. Sharpe, Physician and Midwife, Boston.

I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promotives of the natural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very efficient to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients.

Rev. Dr. Hawkes, of the Methodist Episc. Church

PULASKI HOUSE, Savannah, Ga., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding, I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, Baton Rouge, La., 5 Dec. 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured, by your Pills, of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that has afflicted me for years.

Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skillful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

PRICE, 25 cents per Box, or 5 Boxes for $1.

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.
MADE BY
THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,
Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and thoroughly heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and . . jackets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be perfect in its operation.

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves,.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

☞ We have also a very beautiful new pattern COOK STOVE, called the Modal Range;

Of which very many are being sold. It works well and comes cheap, and is well suited for a small family.

1861. MAGEE'S PATENT COOKING STOVE. 1861.

THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE AGE!

PATENT COOKING STOVE
For Wood or Coal,

Operating on the same principle as the celebrated

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

This beautiful COOK STOVE is now offered to the public with entire confidence in its being the BEST OPERATING, MOST DURABLE and ECONOMICAL Stove ever invented, requiring one-third less Fuel than any other Stove in the market, to do the same amount of cooking; and the fire may be kept in it the entire season, without going out. The public are invited to call and examine this Stove, which is all that is necessary to convince any person that it has no superior, and cannot be beat. And we predict for it that popularity and immense sale which has attended the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE since its introduction into this market.

"Every Stove is warranted to give ENTIRE SATISFACTION in every particular."

Jones & Bolles, No. 61 MARKET ST., Portsmouth.

The Best COOK STOVE in the Market, after all said, is

STEWART'S

NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT, SUMMER AND WINTER

COOKING STOVES,
For Wood or Coal,
IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the
STEWART COOK STOVE,
Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and burn, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward movable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within, or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove, from the time the article is set in until it be removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR, (of copper, with a tin casing,) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c

4. Also, by the aid of the Top Oven, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire box; and the fumes, the meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

But we cannot, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of THE STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new-fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE,

Now in use, which has been widely tested
FOR TWENTY YEARS,
and NOT found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1861, is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED, yet, as a Family Stove. For further particulars, and to see the best Stove in the market, please call on

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Morning Chronicle.

HORRORS OF THE FRENCH RETREAT FROM MOSCOW.—The naked masses of dead and dying men; the mangled carcasses of ten thousand horses, which had, in some cases, been cut for food before life had ceased, the cravings of famine at other points forming groups of cannibals; the air enveloped in flames and smoke; the prayers of hundreds of naked wretches, flying from the peasantry, whose shouts of vengeance echoed incessantly through the woods; the wrecks of cannon, powder wagons, military stores of all descriptions, and every ordinary as well as extraordinary ill of war, combined with the asperity of the climate, formed such a scene as probably was never witnessed to such an extent in the history of the world before.

At Wiasma, fifty French, by a savage order, were brained alive. In another village fifty men were buried alive; but these terrible acts of atrocity were minor features—they ended in death with comparatively little protracted suffering. Here, death, so much invited, so solicited as a friend, came with dilatory steps; but still he came without intervals of torturing pause. I will cite three or four of the most painful incidents that I witnessed.

1. A number of naked men, whose backs had been frozen while they warmed up the front of their bodies, sat round the burning embers of a hut. Sensible at last to the chill of the air, they had succeeded in turning themselves, when the fire caught the congealed flesh, and a hard burnt crust covered the whole of their backs. The wretches were still living as I passed.

2. Sixty dying, naked men, whose necks were laid upon a felled tree, while Russian men and women, with large faggot sticks, singing in chorus and hopping round, with repeated blows struck out their brains in succession.

3. A group of wounded men, at the ashes of another cottage, sitting and lying over the body of a comrade which they had roasted, and the flesh of which they had begun to eat.

4. A French woman, naked to her chemise, with black, long, dishevelled hair, sitting on the snow where she had remained the whole day, and in that situation she had been delivered of a child, which had afterwards been stolen from her. This was the extreme of mental anguish and bodily suffering.

☞ I could cite a variety of other sad and sorry calamities but the very recollection is loathsome. As a man and an Englishman, I did all in my power to mitigate their griefs.—Sir Robert Wilson's Memoirs.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1861.

For the Chronicle.

THE WAR—ITS RESULTS—EMANCIPATION.—That we have underrated the military force and resources of the rebel States, is generally conceded. They had at first the advantage, inasmuch as the Southern rulers had long been making preparations for the event before the free States anticipated it, and plundered the public treasury and seized much of the public property.—But now it is stated that we have about five hundred thousand in the tented field—an army, as was supposed six months since, sufficient to march triumphantly through the slave States. As reinforcements from the East, North and West, are constantly marching to the seat of war, it can hardly be doubted that the rebel armies will soon retreat from their present positions. The annals of time show no instance of so numerous an army of volunteers, actuated by a patriotic spirit more than by liberal wages. As our troops are not only rapidly increasing, but are daily becoming better disciplined, we may expect, notwithstanding some past disasters, that as they advance into the rebel States, victories will attend their movements. But as we have the command of most of the naval force, it may safely be predicted that the rebel States on the seaboard may be involved in greater distress by its powerful action than by the land forces.—The principal cities can be captured, and an end put to their commerce with foreign nations. And while our navy is on the rapid increase, it is not in the power of the rebel States to build up a navy of any considerable force. They have not money, the sinews of war, nor mechanics to do it.—What will be the result, is an inquiry often made. Our national destinies are in the hands of the Supreme Ruler of nations.—This war is forced upon us. At its commencement we acted on the defensive—in the defense of the rich heritage bequeathed to us, and as our cause is just, we may believe that the God of battles will be with us, and that victory will crown the efforts of more than twenty millions in the loyal States resolved to uphold the Government. Slavery—its extension—perpetuity—aggrandizement, is the the cause of this war. For that the Rulers of the South waged war against the free States, and there can be no peace until that cause shall be removed. The reason is evident. While slavery remains, there must be the same conflict between free and slave institutions, that there was when the war began—indeed, for at least a quarter of a century before. And now the loyal States have the alternative—to surrender up their free institutions, or else crush out the rebellion. They must conquer, or be conquered. Every intelligent person, upon calm reflection, must come to this conclusion.

War, in its vigorous prosecution, supersedes, while it lasts, the rule of law. Its object is to use the most effectual means to subdue the enemy. Now the rebel States have forfeited all claims to constitutional protection. They have forfeited their characters as States, and Congress will have the right, should our arms be victorious, to declare that their domain shall be holden as territories of the United States, and the property of the rebels may be confiscated, as were the estates of traitors and refugees in the Revolutionary war. Even the lives of the rebels, as traitors against the government, are liable to be taken. Under this dreadful state of things, which every good man, ab imo pectore, deplores; when the rebels resort to the most barbarous cruelty and worse than Indian stratagems, and even calling the Indians to their aid, the North will be justified in removing the cause of the war, thereby in the future to prevent its recurrence. Some of our public journals have stated that unless the rebels lay down their arms within six months, Congress should convert their States into territories of the United States and proclaim freedom to the slaves. The idea is worthy of consideration. But we take the position that the most effectual blow should be speedily given to crush the rebellion and restore peace—that Congress, as soon as convened, should pass an act emancipating the four millions of slaves. The slaves would then, so far as in their power, fight on our side. Thousands would escape from their masters, and should be protected within our lines. Without such a measure, they would be compelled to operate in different ways against us. As many as their masters could confide in would be armed. Nothing could strike greater terror into the slave-holders than such act of emancipation. Nothing could more speedily put an end to the war. The slaves have become so intelligent, as much so as a large portion of the white population, that the rulers could in vain for many weeks conceal from them such an act of emancipation. And such an act could be justified politically, and upon every moral principle. And it would be an immense benefit to the mass of the Southern population. It would be the payment of the wages of labor, and then the white man as well as the colored would be employed. The payment of wages would be a stimulus to free labor, and thereby the Southern products would be increased at least two fold. It would be idle now to raise nice legal or cons tutional questions, where the national government and the Constitution are threatened with subversion. Besides, we hold that the laws of God, as revealed, are obligatory, and should set aside all State ordinances repugnant to them.

NORTH.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Fremont is to visit Washington, and it is thought that his course will be the subject of a court of inquiry. Claims against the government, in Missouri, have been proved to the amount of over $6,000,000.

Capt. Wilkes received a grand ovation from the people, in Faneuil Hall, Boston, on Monday afternoon. A dinner in his honor was to be given at the Revere House Tuesday evening.

The Government of Italy has adopted the stringent rule of France in regard to piratical vessels engaged in depredating upon American commerce.

The statement that it has been officially announced that the Government has now 600,000 volunteers in the field and in camp, is now denied; our forces now in the field have been generally greatly over estimated.

The Richmond Examiner of the 20th inst., publishes in full Gen. Sherman's proclamation to the people of South Carolina. Good.

Gen. Blenker, commanding a division in Virginia, has tendered his resignation.

Three transport steamers sailed from New York on Monday, for Fortress Monroe, where they will receive about 1100 troops and go to Port Royal. They will also take a full cargo of provisions and ammunition.

If dispatches from Missouri can be relied upon, the campaign in that State is not yet ended. The rebel army under Price, is now reported to have recrossed the Osage, and to be in full march northward towards the Missouri.

Passengers by the Old Point boat at Baltimore, say the Norfolk Day-Book has a dispatch from Richmond that an engagement was going on at Pensacola; that the Niagara and Colorado engaged Fort McRae, and that their fire was briskly replied to; that the vessels were damaged and had to haul off, and that Fort Pickens was firing on the Navy Yard and barracks. The report, coming through rebel channels, must be received with due allowance.

Later dispatches state that it was thought at Old Point that our forces had gained a decisive victory at Pensacola. The rebel statement is that Fort Pickens opened fire on Bragg's forces, Saturday, and the fight was in progress Sunday evening. The rebels claim to have made a breach in the walls of the Fort. The Navy Yard was set on fire three times by hot shot from the fort, but the rebels succeeded in extinguishing the flames. The village of Warrington, however, was totally destroyed.

Privateer Beauregard, of Charleston, with 27 men and one large pivot gun, was captured by gunboat W. G. Anderson of Boston, now lying at Key West.

The Charleston Mercury publishes a dispatch from New Orleans, 20th inst., that extensive excitement prevails there relative to the threatened attack on Columbus, Ky. Com. Hollins had gone there with his fleet, and had telegraphed for the steam ram Manassas. A floating battery with twenty guns was going up that night.

☞ The gunboats, seven in number, building at Carondelet and Mound City, Ill., are now nearly completed; so are the 28 mortar floats being constructed at the Upper Ferry, and the propellers being built at the foot of Carr street. All these are parts of the Mississippi Navy to be placed under the command of Flag Officer Foote. The gunboats are to carry fifteen guns each—five on each side, three at the bow and two at the stern. The side guns will be Columbiads, the others rifled guns. The mortar floats are built of pine logs, three ply thick, and will carry one or two mortars each, to be used for throwing shells only. The whole fleet will carry an armament of probably not less than 200 guns, and will be a fleet of truly formidable character.

FREAKS OF AN IMPRISONED REBEL.—Thomas, the "French lady," who has been confined for several months at Fort McHenry, has become insane. His hallucination often manifests itself in sticking matches into cracks in the floor, tables, and chairs, arranged in the form of regiments, battalions, and companies, which he styles the opposing armies. He does the fighting with a long stick, and closes with igniting the matches, which represents to him the burning of Washington by shells from the rebel guns.

☞ A letter from Port Royal contains the following items:—

"Col. Dunham, in command of the rebel battery at Bay Point, was killed by the first shot of this campaign. Gen. Drayton, who commanded at Hilton Head, was wounded during the fight, and died during the retreat."

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

——One of the 7th Regt. tents, at Manchester, took fire from the stove, a night or two since, and would have been destroyed but for the prompt action of one of the soldiers, who quickly removed the foundation of the tent pole, letting the canvas down and smothering the fire. He also carried the stove out in his arms.

—— A few of the friends of the Manchester Light Battery, the Mirror states, have sent them three large boxes, packed close and full, of the real fixings for Thanksgiving; 35 turkeys, 40 chickens, ducks, chicken pies, any quantity of mince and other pies, tongues, pickles, nuts, cakes, jellies and other delicacies.—The eatables were cooked, ready for the table, and enough for 150 men for a whole week of Thanksgiving. The American asserts that one man, unused to weep as Cæsar, shed tears on learning of the move, but too late to participate in it.

—— At Chelmsford, Mass., on Thanksgiving day, nine daughters of the late Amaziah Shattuck of Milford, N. H., held a social family gathering. They were from 42 to 60 years old, and in weight varied from 104 to 210 pounds. All had been married; six husbands were present, two absent, and one dead. These nine constituted the entire family.

—— The Columbian mills, at New Ipswich and Mason Village, have all stopped, having worked up their entire stock of cotton.

GAS EXPLOSION.—A very serious gas explosion occurred between 11 and 12 o'clock Sunday night, at the residence of Col. Ezra Lincoln, in Boston. Finding that the gas was leaking in the lower part of the house, Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln went down with a light to ascertain the cause. They had no sooner got down stairs than the gas ignited. The explosion was terrific, the noise being as loud as the discharge of a cannon, and the house was badly damaged. Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln were struck by brick and pieces of mortar, and the latter was seriously injured. Mr. Lincoln was stunned by the concussion, and sustained very serious injuries. Two children and a servant girl, who were in the house at the time, escaped injury. The force of the explosion was so great as to drive out the heavy stone steps at the front door, which were situated directly over the gas metre. The house was set on fire, but the flames were quickly put out.

FORMING A BEE LINE.—The town of Conneaut, Ohio, was the scene of a terrible contest a short time since. About three o'clock one warm Sunday afternoon, the house of a gentleman was suddenly filled with bees. He owned seventy swarms, about equally divided on the east and west side of his house. The family were compelled to flee; but the gentleman, after getting well protected, endeavored to ascertain the occasion of the commotion.

The seventy swarms appeared to be all out, and those on one side of the house were arrayed in battle against those on the other side. They filled the air, covering a space of more than one acre of ground, and fought desperately for some three hours—not for "spoils," but for conquest. A little after six o'clock quiet was restored, and the living bees returned to their hives, leaving the slain almost literally covering the ground; since which but few have appeared around the hives, and those apparently stationed as sentinels to watch the enemy. Two young swarms were entirely destroyed. Neither party was victorious, and they ceased only on the approach of night, and from utter prostration.

SUICIDE.—A man named Allen Gifford, by occupation a teamster, committed suicide in New Bedford at an early hour Thursday morning by cutting his throat. His wife had died very suddenly the evening before, and his grief at this, added to a previous depression of spirits caused by the stagnation of business, is supposed to have been the cause of his committing the act. He was a man of respectable connections, and has always borne a good reputation.

☞ In the south of France, a harvest of two and a half millions of pounds weight of flower leaves is gathered every year, and sold for about a quarter of a million pounds sterling. It consists of 100,000 pounds of leaves of the orange blossom, 500,000 pounds of rose leaves, 100,000 pounds of jasmine blooms, 60,000 pounds of violets, 65,000 pounds of acacia buds, 30,000 pounds of tube roses, and 5000 pounds of jonquil flowers.

☞ The "Havelocks," a new company of Flying Artillery, forming in the State of New York, have secured as their commander the Rev. A. A. Von Puttkammer, pastor of the German Baptist church of Albany, a gentleman of most thorough military education and for years connected with the Prussian army.

☞ Hiram Hapgood, 14 years old, and two sons of Josiah Rand, respectively 12 and 14 old, were drowned at Harvard, Mass., on Thursday. They were skating upon a mill pond, but fell through the ice.

☞ Col. Julian Allen, Paymaster of the U. S. steamer Baltic, is now in this city, where he will remain a few days. He has brought with him a large sum to be paid to families of the Fourth N. H. Regiment.—He has in care one letter directed as follows, which we hope in some way may reach the person for whom it is designed.

"Mrs. Sarah Nudd, care David Cutter, Esq. From John H. Nudd."

THE PATENT

FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order; is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economizing Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottles; it is a handsomer article than the common hair brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used—a drop or a dozen; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a journey or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

American Women.

America is justly proud of its beautiful women; but how many die annually, or prematurely lose their health and youth for want of a remedy suitable to their peculiar ailments. That remedy is found in SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS. We know hundreds of cases where they have been used with the greatest success.—In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Low ness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed,—moderating excesses and removing obstructions, whether from cold or any other cause. Suffer no more anxiety or low spirits, but try them. For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 Pills, by return mail. my22dawdm

SONG OF OUR GALLANT MARINES

ON THE EVE OF BATTLE,

At Port Royal, S. C., Nov. 7th, 1861

See! see! the flag-ship moving on!
Awake! awake! ye brave!
Quick! man the guns! and nerve your souls,
For glory or the grave!
Our gallant leader forward goes:
He calls us to the strife!
With him we'll triumph o'er our foes,
Or nobly yield up life!
We fear not death, if, by that seal,
We freedom give to men!
Imperilled oft by deadly foes,
And now they're fierce again!
Then on, ye brave! defend the flag,
That floats o'er yonder ship!
Strike down the wretch that would it harm,
Let all your war-dogs slip!

Quick! man the guns! join in the fight!
The flag-ship beats the foe!
Now pour your shot, both cold and hot,
As round and round we go! *
Three circuits made, the forts' last gun
Proclaims their sure defeat!
They fly! they fly! bereft of all!
Our enemy we've beat!
Now let us cheer the brave Dupont!
The hero in the fight!
Cheer one and all, who've bravely put
The freeman's foe to flight!
Hurrah! hurrah! now let us cry,
For freemen, brave and true!
Dupont and Drayton, one and all;—
The flag! red, white, and blue.

Up rose the shout; the heavens rang;
O'er all the fleet 'twas given!
We praise brave men; but most of all,
We praise the God of Heaven!

ALIQUIS.

* The fleet made three circuits.

ZOLLICKOFFER'S

ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL

A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF

INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO.

Of all the diseases incident to the human family, there is none, perhaps, which occasions so much intense suffering, so much physical disability, and none that appears to elicit so little commiseration and sympathy as RHEUMATISM in its various modifications. Medical writers, and the faculty in general, have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of compounds of one kind or other which have been presented to the public as curatives.

Rheumatism, as well as Gout (which latter is but a more aggravated form of what is commonly understood as Rheumatism), would seem to result from a peculiar diathesis or inflammatory condition of the system, originating in a diseased state of the blood. It usually affects the larger joints, as the ankle, knee, elbow, shoulder, &c., and manifests itself in Neuralgic pains, Sciatica, Lumbago, and other forms of this character.

Sometimes, through negligence, or the inadequacy of the remedies applied, it assumes a decidedly inflammatory feature, and then often becomes a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle, and exposing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.

Instead of exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as Counter-irritants, stimulating embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, bleeding, cupping, and leeching, have in most cases proved ineffectual, permanently mutiating the disease from one part of the system to another. The ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL, on the contrary, is altogether an internal remedy, and is intended to strike at the root of the disease. It is a new and original preparation, invented by the subscriber, and he would therefore recommend it as perfectly safe, as well as efficient, being wholly free from any deleterious substances whatever

It is not pretended, however, that this Cordial will cure every reputed case of Rheumatism that may be presented, although the results have hitherto been such as would justify such a boast, if it be in making the trial; and where even the most inveterate form of the disease is encountered, it may then be fairly inferred that a cure will be effected, provided the directions be steadily and perseveringly adhered to, both as to the time of taking it, and the quantity used.

It is a singular fact, that advanced age appears to be equally as susceptible to the benefits derivable from its use as youth, or those in the meridian of life. We have a number of instances of persons ranging from sixty to upwards of eighty, who, having been many years the subjects of Rheumatism, in one or other of its varied forms, have by using a few bottles been completely restored—their whole system invigorated, and as a matter of course, their general health greatly improved. We have rarely known a return of the disease after it has been subdued by the use of this Cordial, even though the patient may have been exposed to the vicissitudes of wet weather; when, however, there have been any slight indications of "the old complaint," a few doses have proved the most happy effect.

The subscriber can furnish a long array of names of the most prominent and influential citizens, who can testify to the inestimable efficacy of this invaluable compound, and who are willing that their names should be placed before the public, in order to inform those who are afflicted with RHEUMATISM in its various phases, that there is a sovereign remedy in ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI RHEUMATIC CORDIAL." Prepared only by THEODORE DILKS, Chemist,

N. E. cor. Fine and Sixth sts., Philadelphia.

AYER'S
CATHARTIC
PILLS.

Are you sick, feeble, and languishing? Are you out of order, with your system deranged, and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some active remedy is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humors—purify the blood, and let the fresh move on unobstructed in health again. They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and clogs its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering, and disease. While in this condition, oppressed by the derangements, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true in this case is this trivial and common complaint, is also true in many of the desperated and dangerous distempers. The same purgative effect expels them. Cured by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly, and many of them surely, cured by the same means. None who know the virtues of these Pills, will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure.

Statements from leading physicians in some of the principal cities, and from other well known public persons.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little girl of a dreadful scrofulous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ASA MORGRIDGE.

As a Family Physic.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, New Orleans.

Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

DEAR SIR, AYER: I cannot answer you what complaints I have cured with your Pills better than to say send them on ever treat with a purgative medicine. I place great dependence on an effectual cathartic in my daily contest with disease, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body ever had by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach which they cleanse at once.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE,
Clerk of Steamer Clarion

Bilious Disorders—Liver Complaints.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find in them the active agents upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any other medicine I have used. I sincerely believe that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
Washington, D. C., 7th Feb., 1857.

DR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Relax, Worms.

From Dr. J. C. Green, of Chicago.

Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses, for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children.

Dyspepsia, Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called in visit to dispense. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood, they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends.

J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, Wyoming Co., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Constipation, Costiveness, Suppression, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Dropsy, Paralysis, Fits, etc.

From Dr. J. P. Tessier, Montreal, Canada.

Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the many who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the progenitor of others that are worse. I believe no disease to originate in the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease.

From Rev. E. Smart, Physician and Midwife, Boston.

I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, an excellent promotive of the natural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients.

From the Rev. Dr. Hoskins, of the Methodist Episc. Church

PULASKI HOUSE, Savannah, Ga., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my back and occasioned me excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, Baton Rouge, La., 4 Dec. 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured, by your Pills, of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that has afflicted me for years.

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skillful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful cases sometimes that frequently follow its administration. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

PRICE, 25 cents per Box, or 5 Boxes for $1.

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

No. 46 Market Street, Portsmouth.

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

The secret—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz.:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking over.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and ... jackets are provided for the back and top ... plates. A hot closet and tank can be added ... if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

1861. MAGEE'S PATENT COOKING STOVE. 1861.

THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE AGE!

This beautiful COOK STOVE is now offered to the public with entire confidence in its being the BEST OPERATING, MOST DURABLE and ECONOMICAL Stove ever invented, requiring one-third less Fuel than any other Stove in the market, to do the same amount of cooking; and the fire may be kept in it the entire season, without going out. The public are invited to call and examine this Stove, which is all that is necessary to convince any person that it has no superior, and cannot be beat. And we predict for it that popularity and immense sale which has attended the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE since its introduction into this market.

"Every Stove is warranted to give ENTIRE SATISFACTION in every particular."

MAGEE'S

PATENT COOKING STOVE!

For Wood or Coal,

Operating on the same principle as the celebrated

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

Jones & Bolles, No. 61 MARKET ST., Portsmouth.

The Best COOK STOVE in the Market.

after all said,
is

STEWART'S

NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,
SUMMER AND WINTER

COOKING STOVES,

For Wood or Coal,
IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the

STEWART COOK STOVE,

Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward movable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within, or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove, from the time the article is set in until it be removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR, (of copper, with a tin casing,) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire box; and the fumes, the meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

But we cannot, and need not, enumerate in detail the excellencies of THE STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new-fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE,

Now in use, which has been widely tested

FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and NOT FOR THE PAST YEAR, and proved to be the Stewart Stove. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1861, is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Brush Scythe.

HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED, yet, as a Family Stove. For further particulars, and to see the best Stove in the market, please call on

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no traveling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

☞ The Brooklyn Times is responsible for the following:

"Capt. Wilkes of the San Jacinto, is now about 56 years of age. Consequently, as Jack Bunsby would say, he was once younger than he is now. Though he is not often given to the melting mood, the blind god once succeeded in sending one of his shafts clear through his rough sou'wester. The bow from which the shaft was sped, hung in the eyes of a fair girl, and straightway the jolly tar fell head over ears in love. He prosecuted his suit with vigor. The girl was 'a lass who loved a sailor'—and so smiled upon him, and consented to become his wife. But the young sailor had a rival in the son of a respectable tallow chandler, called Sidell, and young Slidell feeling considerably cut up by being cut out, refused to accept the mitten. Not having spunk enough to throw down the glove to his sailor rival, he contented himself with 'poisoning' the mind of the 'stern parient' of the fair one, until the father refused his consent and insisted upon her giving her hand to young Slidell. After many protestations and the customary amount of tears and hysterics, she became Mrs. John Slidell. The bold Charlie Wilkes did not peak and pine, or let melancholy feed on his weather beaten cheek, but went to sea and smothered his grief in attending to duty and sustaining the honor of his nation's flag, never seeing his 'lady lass' again nor meeting his successful rivale until he saw him standing a prisoner on board his ship, a traitor to his country and a rebel against the flag the honest tar had spent his life in defending.

☞ A large number of organ-grinders were prevented from leaving New York for California because they had not secured passports. The Marshal assured them of his excessive anxiety to help them to any place outside the city, and his regret at being compelled to detain them.

☞ The London News of November 7 says that from the mouth of the Foyle to the broad estuary of the Shannon the failure of the potato crop is said to be more general and complete than in any year since 1846.

ELDER KNAPP.—Speaking of this famous revival preacher, the Independent says, "We are credibly informed that "Elder Knapp" has given up his ministerial work, and is now engaged in cattle-selling at the West."

☞ Several workmen, seceders from the Waltham watch factory, contemplate starting a new establishment for the manufacture of watches.

☞ Ten regiments, including two cavalry, are under marching orders for Washington this week from the State of New York.

AYER'S
PILLS.

Are you sick, feeble, and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system deranged, and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some dose of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humors—purify the blood, and let the healthy stream on unobstructed is health again. They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and clamments its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering, and disease. While in this condition, oppressed by the derangements, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyancy and feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is also true in many of the desponded and dangerous disorders, the same purgative effect expels them. Caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly, and many of them speedily cured by the same means. None who know the virtues of these Pills will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure.

Statements from leading physicians in some of the principal cities, and from other well known public persons.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

Dr. Ayer: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long and severely afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and its her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ASA MOBERIDGE.

As a Family Physic.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, New Orleans.

Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain, and have shown in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

Dear Sir, Ayer: I cannot answer you what complaints I have cured with your Pills better than to say all that so ever treat with a purgative medicine. I prescribe your Pills in my practice, and find them to be the most efficacious and decisive of all cathartics. Cases of obstinate constipation, liver complaint, and dyspepsia, yield to them when all other remedies fail. Sick headache, and other cases too numerous to mention, are cured by them. Indeed, I have added to my materia medica a most valuable agent in your Pills, and I cannot do without them.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE,
Clerk of Steamer Chariot.

Bilious Disorders—Liver Complaints.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

Not only are your Pills well adapted to their purpose as an purgative, but I find their beneficial effects upon the liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual in curing the chief of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely believe that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
Washington, D. C. 7th Feb., 1857.

I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we possess. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of the liver. Indeed, I have added to my bench a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician to the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Relax, Worms.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating renders them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children.

Dyspepsia, Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston

Dr. Ayer: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in Boston. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood, they are the very best remedy I have ever found. They are cordially recommended by me to my friends. Yours, J. V HIMES.

WEBBER, Wyoming Co., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1857.

Dear Sir: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent medicine to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Constipation, Costiveness, Suppression, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Dropsy, Paralysis, Fits, etc.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.

Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they should of course be proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the prolific or of others that are worse. I believe constipation originates in the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease.

From Rev. E. Shurtleff, Physician and Midwife, Boston.

I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent preventives of the subsequent sufferings when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very efficient to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are as much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkins, of the Methodist Episc. Church

PULASKI HOUSE, Savannah, Ga., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not respond to your inquiries. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were wonderful. By persevering in the use of them, I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, Baton Rouge, La., 5 Feb. 1855.

Dr. AYER: I have been entirely cured, by your Pills, of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease which has afflicted me for years.

VINCENT SLIDELL.

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the frequent cases of death that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

100 doses, 25 cents per Box, or 5 Boxes for $1.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass.

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.
MADE BY
THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,
Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the times of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the back and both sides. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves, as

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE STOVE for farmers, mechanics or merchants; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

1861. MAGEE'S PATENT COOKING STOVE. 1861.

THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE AGE!

MAGEE'S
PATENT COOKING STOVE!
For Wood or Coal,

Operating on the same principle as the celebrated

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

This beautiful COOK STOVE is now offered to the public with entire confidence in its being the BEST OPERATING, MORE DURABLE and ECONOMICAL Stove ever invented, requiring one-third less Fuel than any other Stove in the market, to do the same amount of cooking; and the fire may be kept in it the entire season, without going out. The public are invited to call and examine this Stove, which is all that is necessary to convince any person that it has no superior, and cannot be beat. And we predict for it that popularity and immense sale which has attended the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE since its introduction into this market.

"Every Stove is warranted to give ENTIRE SATISFACTION in every particular."

Jones & Bolles, No. 61 MARKET ST., Portsmouth.

The Best COOK STOVE
in the Market,
after all said,
is
STEWART'S
NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,
SUMMER AND WINTER
COOKING STOVES,
For Wood or Coal,
IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the
STEWART COOK STOVE,
Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward movable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within, or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove, from the time the article is set in until it be removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR, (of copper, with a tin casing,) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no additional fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire box; and the fumes, the meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

But we cannot, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of THE STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new-fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE,

Now in use, which has been widely tested FOR TWENTY YEARS, and NOT found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years, but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1861. is as superior to that of 1841, as the Moving Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED, yet, as a Family Stove. For further particulars, and to see the best Stove in the market, please call on STOVES.

THE MAGEE PARLOR
VENTILATING AND GAS-CONSUMING
STOVE.

We deem it unnecessary to enlarge upon the good qualities of this Stove, believing it to be too well known to need any recommendation from us, further than to say that it has been greatly improved in its appearance and thoroughness of operation, being made round or oval, and a very ingeniously constructed and ventilated OVEN attached.

We have on hand many other kinds of COOK STOVES, which are well known in this vicinity, among which are

THE GOOD SAMARITAN,
BOSTON AND MAINE,
TRIUMPH, CLIPPER,

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

☞ The Brooklyn Times is responsible for the following:

"Capt. Wilkes of the San Jacinto, is now about 56 years of age. Consequently, as Jack Bunsby would say, he was once younger than he is now. Though he is not often given to the melting mood, the blind god once succeeded in sending one of his shafts clear through his rough sou'wester. The bow from which the shaft was sped, hung in the eyes of a fair girl, and straightway the jolly tar fell head over ears in love. He prosecuted his suit with vigor. The girl was 'a lass who loved a sailor'—and so smiled upon him, and consented to become his wife. But the young sailor had a rival in the son of a respectable tallow chandler, called Sidell, and young Sidell feeling considerably cut up by being cut out, refused to accept the mitten. Not having spunk enough to throw down the glove to his sailor rival, he contented himself with 'poisoning' the mind of the 'stern parient' of the fair one, until the father refused his consent and insisted upon her giving her hand to young Sidell. After many protestations and the customary amount of tears and hysterics, she became Mrs. John Sidell. The bold Charlie Wilkes did not peak and pine, or let melancholy feed on his weather beaten cheek, but went to sea and smothered his grief in attending to duty and sustaining the honor of his nation's flag, never seeing his 'lady lass' again nor meeting his successful rival, until he saw him standing a prisoner on board his ship, a traitor to his country and a rebel against the flag the honest tar had spent his life in defending.

☞ A large number of organ-grinders were prevented from leaving New York for California because they had not secured passports. The Marshal assured them of his excessive anxiety to help them to any place outside the city, and his regret at being compelled to detain them.

☞ The London News of November 7 says that from the mouth of the Foyle to the broad estuary of the Shannon the failure of the potato crop is said to be more general and complete than in any year since 1846.

ELDER KNAPP.—Speaking of this famous revival preacher, the Independent says, "We are credibly informed that "Elder Knapp," has given up his ministerial work, and is now engaged in cattle-selling at the West."

☞ Several workmen, seceders from the Waltham watch factory, contemplate starting a new establishment for the manufacture of watches.

☞ Ten regiments, including two cavalry, are under marching orders for Washington this week from the State of New York.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1861.

THANKSGIVING.

Our annual Thanksgiving presents subjects of reflection, connected with this time honored festival. Gratitude is one of the best feelings of the human heart. No depth of worldly adversity can forbid its exercise. Pious Job, stripped of his possessions, his children dead, himself afflicted with disease, could exclaim: "The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord." The language of the devout Habakkuk is sublime: "Although the fig tree shall not blossom, neither shall fruit be in the vines: the labor of the olive shall fail, and the fields shall yield no meat; the flock shall be cut off from the fold, and there shall be no herd in the stalls; yet I will rejoice in the Lord, I will joy in the God of my salvation."

There be some good people, who in the darkness that enshrouds our land, the evils already endured, and others apprehended, have so far yielded to feelings of despondency as almost to question whether they can heartily join in the usual thanksgiving festivities. We hope few are so far gone as was despairing Jonah when his favorite gourd was withered, and he said he did well to be angry.

We have food, raiment, home, with the necessities and wants of life in general supplied, and we enjoy the means of grace. When we come to our condition as a nation, we may not after all find cause for discouragement. War, civil war, is a great evil; but God will overrule it for good. Its origin is in slavery, a plant which our heavenly Father never planted, but which is to be rooted up. Its tap root is being loosened just now.

Because selfish men are using almost superhuman efforts to overthrow our noble government, break up the nation, and establish despotism on its ruins, are we going to distrust God, and sink into despair? Rather may we rejoice that, as it was the lot of our fathers, through vast tribulation, to found the nation, it is ours to maintain it against every adversary. Even here then is fresh cause for thanksgiving.

The day we trust will be generally and faithfully observed throughout the State.

JEFF DAVIS ON SLAVERY.—Near the close of his late Message, the President of the rebel confederacy holds the following language:

While the war which is waged to take from us the right of self government can never attain that end, it remains to be seen how far it may work a revolution in the industrial system of the world, which may carry suffering to other lands as well as to our own.

Liberty is always won where there exists the unconquerable will to be free, and we have reason to know the strength that is given by a concious sense, not only of the magnitude, but of the righteousness of our cause.

What Davis says, about self government and his righteous cause, is a lie so palpable, that to be hated needs but to be seen.—The rebels made the war because the northern democratic party would not suffer the slaveocracy to ride them to death!

But Davis' assertion about the industrial system, that is slavery, is worthy of attention, because it comes from the Viceroy of King Cotton's empire, which he shows to be in a tottering condition. He don't know how far the war may work a revolution in the industrial system of the world!

No, indeed, says Uncle Toby: thank God! neither he nor any other of his leading fellow rebels had any true idea of the probable consequences of their rash action, when they cut off the limb of the tree on which they sat.

They had ruled the country by the slave power as a lever: they cut the lever in two: and the handle lifted very easily:—but the country stood! He pretends to be afraid somebody will suffer in other lands: no doubt they will! and he meant they should, hoping by this means to get help from England to perpetuate and consolidate a slave empire. By the suffering of white laborers in Lancashire he hoped to rivet eternal bonds on the black laborer of Carolina.

The true ground of his fear is, however, that in this war the slave power may come down with a crash, burying King Cotton in its ruins,—and that free labor, free men and free soil may be inaugurated in its stead. And he says "Liberty is always won, where there exists the unconquerable will to be free."

This, from the would-be ruler of a would-be slave empire, might have passed for sublime impudence last year;—but as matters stand now, it begins to look like a ridiculous effort to conceal disappointment and chagrin.

☞ Thos. Bragg of North Carolina has been appointed rebel Attorney General, in place of Benjamin, who is made Secretary of War.

☞ THERE are 27,000 people in New York city who live in cellars six feet or more under ground.

THE REBELLION.

A large portion of the Union prisoners at Richmond are to be sent to Tuscaloosa, Ala., and Salisbury, N. C.

It is said to be the intention of the Government to put all the coast defences of the Northern States into complete working order, immediately. The Governors of the States are authorized to carry out the work.

It is rumored that all of Gen. Fremont's officers are to be paid; and that Caleb Cushing is to be made a Major General of volunteers.

Caleb G. Smith, of Philadelphia, is to open a new means of communication down the Potomac, by placing a line of steamboats between Washington and Budd's Ferry, the headquarters of Gen. Hooker's division.

Rumors were prevalent in Louisville Tuesday afternoon, but generally discredited that John C. Breckinridge, with a large force, was advancing from Green River in the direction of Owensboro or Henderson.

The N. Y. Herald's dispatch from Fortress Monroe says, a flag of truce from Norfolk brought news that the fire on the rebels from Fort Pickens was wild; and that the rebels made a breach in the Fort when the firing was stopped. Gen. Bragg was jubilant and sent congratulatory dispatches all over the South. The rebels also state that at Beaufort three companies of Gen. Sherman's command had an engagement with the rebels, and were compelled to retreat, with the loss of eight men. Beaufort was being entrenched by our forces.

A Key West letter states that the privateer Beauregard made no resistance. She was commanded by Capt. Gilbert Hay, and was captured on the 12th, 100 miles from Abaco. Most of her ammunition, &c. was thrown overboard. She had met no vessels, and not even fired a gun since leaving Charleston.

The captain of the British war steamer Barraconta, at Barbadoes, reported, Oct. 27, three degrees south of the Bermudas, boarded privateer Sumter. The captain informed the British officer, who went on board, that he had sent a challenge to the gunboat Crusader to come out and fight him but the latter declined. He did not hear of her making any captures.

Gen. Blenker has not resigned.

The Constitution, with Gen. Butler's troops, arrived at Hampton Roads, Nov. 26.

A scouting party from the right wing of the army of the Potomac, went out on Tuesday, and fell into a rebel ambuscade; a dozen of our men dropped and were necessarily left on the ground. Lieut. Ford and 45 men, all of Col. Averell's cavalry, are missing.

REBEL GOVERNMENT MOVING.—The rebels have been prophesying that the U. S. Congress would be obliged to meet in Philadelphia instead of Washington. It appears now, that the rebel Congress is to be moved from Richmond to Nashville.

On this removal, the Boston Courier remarks:—

"The project of shifting the secession capital to Nashville, from Richmond, tells a significant tale. It shows, what we have before seen, that exhausted and indignant Virginia is anxious to be freed of a devouring army and an oppressive authority; and that likely soon to be in our hands, and the hope to command interior communication towards the South, has been judged the necessary policy. Virginia, abandoned, must soon retrace her erring steps; but Tennessee seems to us a rather unstable seat of empire for the seceders—at least for any considerable period.

It looks as if the Southern army-worm, having eaten up every thing in Virginia, is now to eat up Tennessee.

☞ The 37th Congress of the United States will commence its First Regular Session, next Monday, December 2, at the Capitol, in Washington City. As the Speaker of the House was chosen at the Special Session or War Congress,—it is probable that Congress will proceed at once to business. The President's Message will be looked for with great interest, and the action of Congress will be scrutinized narrowly, and we dare say criticized sharply, whatever they do. Financial and political, military and naval matters will come up for action; and many important questions must be met and answered. Rebellion, slavery, foreign relations, the judiciary, confiscation, piracy and bankruptcy will all have to be considered.

☞ The Richmond papers are crying out against the despotism to which old Virginia is subjected by the rebel army. They complain that the farmers are so grievously oppressed by the impressment of their teams and negroes, that the cultivation of the sacred soil is terribly neglected; that the wheat crop in many counties has diminished one-third. They say that the insolence of the government agents is insufferable, and that if this system continues, it will bring the rebel government into such detestation that the agents of the Quartermaster's Department will receive at the hands of the people no better treatment than the "emissaries of Lincoln."

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Mirror says "Mr. True Garland now runs a six horse stage between Manchester and Candia, to make good the connection, giving a look of old stage times. Twenty-two passengers come over Monday evening."

—— The Manchester High School Lyceum is making arrangments for a course of lectures the ensuing winter, the proceeds to be applied for the benefit of the Manchester soldiers.

—— The Seventh Regiment, at Manchester, have received their Enfield rifles, and the indications are that they will soon be on the march.

—— Charles Huntly, a porter at the Eagle Hotel, Concord, on Monday afternoon was dispatched with a letter to the post office. The letter was thick, and Charles, when he got out of sight, quickly tore off one end, intending, doubtless, to "make a raise," that he might be enabled to obey the Governor and keep Thanksgiving. But he was so much chagrined at finding that the letter contained nothing but samples, that he immediately hastened away to Manchester, where he was arrested on Tuesday morning, in bed at the City Hotel.

—— Daniel Felch, of Seabrook, while engaged in fishing off Hampton river on Monday last, was lost from his boat. His body was recovered on Tuesday. He was about 35 years of age and leaves a wife.

For the Chronicle.

COERCION.—Messrs. Editors,—I see no objection at all, to coercing such a rebel State as South Carolina into some kind of decent behavior. We are under no sort of Constitutional obligation to her, any way, for she has cut loose the cords so far as she had the power. Now, we have the naval power to lay open most of the ports on her sea-coast, where there are over 100,000 slaves;—and I see no difficulty, moral, legal or military, in the way of employing such contrabands as can work to our advantage on shore, or of letting as many as can, run themselves off to Hayti, Jamaica, or elsewhere, without our interference.

I see no reason why the sailors among them should not be shipped, in proper numbers, on board our armed vessels, or on board trading ships.

And as fast as we get hold of territory there, let it be treated as territory, and governed as such, first by military, and then, by civil governors. Confiscate the lands of rebels, and sell them to the soldiers at auction. Introduce 20,000 or 40,000 armed Yankees there as actual settlers and voters in the territory, carve out their bounty land there, and see what a State would grow.

A REPUBLICAN OF 1812.

☞ The St. Paul's Catholic church, corner of Tenth and Christian streets, Philadelphia, was destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon. The entire inner portion of the edifice was burned, only the bare walls remaining. The loss is estimated at $20,000, exclusive of the new organ, which was valued at $3000. The disaster falls heavily on the Catholic community in the southern section of the city. The amount of the insurance has not been ascertained.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquiror says that Jeff. Davis's Massage is understood by the federal Government to be the unfurling of the black flag, and that the rebels will shoot any prisoners they may take in South Carolina, thus making it a war of extermination; and that Davis, seeing his cause is lost, seeks to drag down the whole South with him.

☞ The New Hampshire Annual Register for 1862, is just published by G. Parker Lyon, Concord, and for sale by J. H. Foster in this city.

The Register contains all the usual tables,—has the list of officers in the first four regiments of N. H. Volunteers,—is neatly printed,—and for the first time is bound in a substantial manner, with stiff covers.

☞ Rev. H. H. Hartwell, pastor of the Brodhead Methodist Church in this city, has been compelled, by reason of ill health, to dissolve his connection with that society, and his family have already left the city.—Mr. Hartwell will supply the pulpit next Sunday.

Hon. R. G. Walker has addressed a letter to the editor of the National Republican, in favor of Congress immediately making an appropriation for the relief of Ireland in view of the impending famine.

☞ Edward P. Hall, of North Groton, a member of the Fourth N. H. V., writes from Hilton Head, Nov. 15th, that they had just received news that Fort Pulaski, Georgia, had been captured after an action of four days.

☞ Our Thanksgiving market was abundantly supplied on Wednesday, with poultry of very good quality. Turkies were sold for 12 1-2 cts. and 10 cts. per lb.; and Chickens for the same, in great numbers.

☞ Sleighing is said to be very good, north of us; and very fair sleighing is enjoyed only three or four miles inland from this city.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES.—Rev. Mr. Greenwood of Malden, Mass., will preach this morning at the Universalist Church;

Rev. Mr. Waterhouse, at the Hanover Street Chapel;

Rev. Mr. Humphrys, at the State Street Methodist Episcopal Church;

Rev. Joshua R. Peirce at the Episcopal Church;

Rev. Horatio G. Stebbins, of Portland, at the Unitarian Church;

Rev. Mr. Allen, of South Berwick, at the North Church;

Rev. Mr. Eddy, at the Middle street (Baptist) Church.

☞ Happening into our neighbor Davis Photograph Rooms, a day or two since, we were surprised at the beautiful display of Pictures of all sorts—quite an extensive gallery of portraits, from the smallest card duplicates, up to the colored Hallotype of almost life-size. This last is a new and very fine style of picture—combining the richness of the ambrotype with the decision of the photograph. Mr. Davis seemed to be all the time in his operating room; but in his spacious and elegant reception room was continually a throng of visitors and patrons. Two young ladies are occupied almost constantly in coloring pictures by hand. Citizens and strangers will find a call here interesting—and Thanksgiving affords a grand opportunity to get a picture.

Messrs. Editors:—This seems to be a proper time to inform those persons who seldom or never shovel off the snow from their sidewalks, that it should be done.—The first snow has come, and many persons having neglected to remove it, it has become a decided nuisance. Such persons should be waited upon by the proper authorities. The beginning of the snow season is the proper time to commence operations, for if the first snow is allowed to remain, it is much harder to remove that which falls subsequently. We hope to see this matter attedeed to. SNOW SHOVEL.

INCENDIARISM.—The usual Saturday night fire occurred in Medford, Mass., at 11 o'clock, and made a brilliant appearance. The Saturday night previous, five attempts were made, without doing much damage. Last Saturday night the incendiaries must have revelled in their success.—A large and elegantly-furnished mansion, lately known as Mystic Hall Seminary, was entirely consumed, with all its contents. The house was unoccupied, the owner being absent in Europe. Loss $15,000.

THE RAT-HOLE SQUADRON. Capt. Marwick of brig Castilian, at Boston, states that on the 21st inst., in lat. 38 53, lon. 72 40, he saw twelve sail of old whalers, the roughest looking craft afloat, bound South with a fair wind and going in fine style. He spoke one of them, and was informed they were the "Rat-hole squadron, bound South with sealed orders."

The Charleston, S. C., papers are snarling at their Chief. They put the whole blame of Manassas upon Jefferson Davis, accuse him of military incapacity for not pursuing the Federal troops after Bull Run and taking Washington. They prove to their own satisfaction that Davis had taken the actual command of the troops, that Beauregard's plans were disregarded, and that he (Beau) is an abused individual.—The Richmond papers strive to defend Davis, and altogether it is a very pretty quarrel.—Boston Post.

Thirteen rifled cannon for the government,—including a 100-pounder, carrying five miles, and to be sent to Fortress Monroe,—have arrived at New York from Liverpool. The Fulton brought nearly 30,000 stand of arms for the government.

☞ We learn that the County Commissioners have ordered the road referred to a few days since, through the farms of Mr. Reuben L. Lane and others, to be laid out.

TO PHYSICIANS AND LADIES.—The cure of prolapsus uteri and kindred diseases, by motorpathic treatment, has now become an established fact, verified by the restoration of several thousand cases in hospital and riding practice. It gives vitality and force to the functional powers, and controls obstinate organic weaknesses with ease and certainty. It acts in harmony with the natural functions; causes no pain or inconvenience; and the cure is so reliable as scarcely to admit the possibility of a failure. No appliances of the day are resorted to.—Those brought on beds even are soon enabled to walk, and sterility itself yields to its vitalizing effects unless combined with some incurable malady.

It would be but reasonable to suppose that treatment which proves so life-giving in one set of organs, if judiciously modified to the needs of other chronic diseases, could be but powerfully efficacious. Such it has proved to be, in the cure of premonitory consumption, and of various stubborn complaints which had lingered without help for years. Marked success has also been had in bronchitis, in restoring broken-down constitutions, and in arousing torpid, nervous and debilitated systems to strength and activity. Physicians are cordially invited to call at the Round Hill Water-Cure in Northampton, Mass., and test this practice and witness its results. A circular, sent gratis, is particularly commended to their notice.

Terms reduced—see advertisement.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION,

BY GOVERNOR BERRY.

In accordance with a most worthy custom, it becomes my duty to set apart a day of Public Thanksgiving and Praise to Almighty God, the Ruler of men and of nations. In conformity to this custom, honored by time and sanctioned by religion, we cherish the memories of our noble ancestors, and offer to Him upon whom we are dependent for all good, a grateful tribute of praise. Notwithstanding the cloud of war hangs sullenly in our sky, and the clangor of arms echoes along our hillsides and through our valleys, and many of our brave sons have gone forth to meet danger and death in defence of equal rights, and of the Union, the Constitution and the laws, we still have reason to feel grateful to our God for manifold blessings. Our fields have yielded bountifully. Our domestic industry has been protected. Labor, in all its departments, has been amply requited.—Health has prevailed. Justice has been impartially dispensed. Religion and education have shed abroad their benign influences. The loyalty of the people to their country, in this hour of peril, has been nobly manifested to the rejoicing of every patriotic heart and every friend of a free and Republican Government.

I therefore, by advice of Council, do appoint THURSDAY, the 28th day of November next, to be observed as a day of Thanksgiving, Prayer and Praise to Him who is the author of all good, and on whom we as individuals, and as a State and nation, are dependent for every blessing. I do earnestly invite the people of this State to suspend on that day their usual secular avocations, and to assemble in their accustomed places of worship, and heartily and devoutly render thanks to the Giver of all Good, for the multiplied favors He has graciously shown us; to acknowledge our dependence upon Him; to invoke His continued favor and blessing upon our Nation, our State, our Communities, our Families and ourselves.

Concord, N. H., Oct. 22, 1861.

A dispatch from Halifax, Nov. 27, says, "the steamer Himalaya brings a report that the Trent had reached England, and that a frigate, with dispatches to the United States, had been dispatched." The story is probably false.

THE PATENT

FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economizing Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottles; it is a handsomer article than the common hair-brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

ZOLLICKOFFER'S

ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL

A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF

INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO.

Of all the diseases incident to the human family, there is none, perhaps, which occasions so much intense suffering and physical disability, and none that appears to elicit so little commiseration and sympathy as RHEUMATISM in its various modifications. Medical writers, and the faculty in general, have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of compounds of one kind or other which have been presented to the public as curatives.

Rheumatism, as well as Gout (which latter is but a more aggravated form of what is commonly understood as Rheumatism), would seem to result from a peculiar diathesis or inflammatory condition of the system, originating in a diseased state of the blood. It usually affects the larger joints, as the ankle, knee, elbow, shoulders, &c., and manifests itself in Neuralgic pains, Sciatica, Lumbago, and other forms of this character.

Sometimes, through negligence, or the inadequacy of the remedies applied, it assumes a decided inflammatory feature, and then often becomes a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle, and exposing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.

The almost exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as fomentations, stimulating embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, bleeding, cupping, and leeching, have in most cases proved ineffectual, merely transmuting the disease from one part of the system to another. The ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL, on the contrary, is altogether an internal remedy, and is intended to strike at the root of the disease. It is a new and original preparation, invented by the subscriber, and he can therefore recommend it as perfectly safe, as well as efficient, being wholly free from any deleterious substance whatever

It is not pretended, however, that this Cordial will cure every reputed case of Rheumatism that may be presented, although the results have hitherto been such as would justify every one afflicted by it in making the trial; and where even the most acute benefit is discovered, it may then be fairly inferred that a cure will be effected, providing the directions be steadily and perseveringly adhered to, both as to the time of taking it, and the quantity used.

It is a singular fact, that advanced age appears to be equally as susceptible to the benefits derivable from its use as youth, or those in the meridian of life. We have a number of instances of persons ranging from sixty to upwards of eighty, who, having been many years the subjects of Rheumatism, in one or other of its varied forms, have by using a few bottles been completely restored—their whole system invigorated, and, as a matter of course, their general health greatly improved. We have rarely known a return of the disease after it has been subdued by the use of this Cordial, even though the patient may have been exposed to the vicissitudes of wet weather; when, however, there have been any slight indications of "the old complaint," a few doses have produced the most happy effect.

The subscriber can furnish a long array of names of the most prominent and influential citizens, who can testify to the inestimable efficacy of this invaluable compound, and who are willing that their names should be placed before the public, in order to inform those who are afflicted with RHEUMATISM in its various phases, that there is a sovereign remedy in "ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL." Prepared only by THEODORE DILKS, Chemist,

N. E. cor. Pine and Sixth sts., Philadelphia.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS.

Are you sick, feeble, and complaining? Are you out of order, with your stomach disordered, and your bowels uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some fit of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humors, purify the blood, and let the fluids move on unobstructed in health again. They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the effete matter which makes disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and obstructs its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering, and disease. While in this condition, opposed by the derangements, take Ayer's Pills, and see how speedily they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is also true in many of the deep-seated and dangerous distempers. The same purgative effect expels them. Caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly, and many of them surely, cured by the same means. None who know the virtues of these Pills, will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure.

Statements from leading physicians in some of the principal cities, and from other well known public persons

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of a loathsome sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ASA MORGRIDGE.

As a Family Physic.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, New Orleans.

Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we have known. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

DEAR DR. AYER: I cannot answer you what complaint I have cured with your Pills better than to say all that is curable with a purgative medicine. I place great dependence on an effectual cathartic in my daily contest with disease, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. FREELE,
Clerk of Steamer Clarion

Bilious Disorders—Liver Complaints.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as a purgent, but I find their beneficial effects upon the system very marked indeed. Many patients have expressed their surprise at the cure of bilious complaints by any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at last a purgative pill which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, Washington, D. C., 7th Feb., 1856.

DR: I have used your Pills in my practice and family ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their vigorous action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease in which they did not really do good. Yours truly, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Diarrhea, Relax, Worms.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I could wish to express to you the great confidence I have in them. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses for dyspepsia and complaints of that character, and when they are acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children.

Dyspepsia, Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. A. V. Dunn, Editor Advent Herald, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in sickness. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood, they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, Wyoming Co., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1854.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountain of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Constipation, Costiveness, Suppression, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Dropsy, Paralysis, Fits, etc.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.

You much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming from the heads of the multitudes to whom I have recommended, which, although bad enough in itself, is the promoter of others that are worse. I believe on thought to originate in the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease.

From Rev. E. Everett, Physician and Minister, Boston.

I find one or two large doses of your Pills taken at the proper time, are excellent promotives of the natural action of the bowels, wholly or partially suppressed, and also very efficacious to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkes, of the Methodist Episc. Church

PLANTER HOTEL, Savannah, Ga., Jan. 8, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be unmindful of the great relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in a complete paralysis. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Maclennan, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, Baton Rouge, La., 9 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that has afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. They do not contain no Mercury or mineral substance whatever.

☞ One, 25 cents per Box, or 5 Boxes for $1.

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the back and hot in plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

1861. MAGEE'S PATENT COOKING STOVE 1861.

THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE AGE!

PATENT COOKING STOVE

For Wood or Coal,

Operating on the same principle as the celebrated

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

This beautiful COOK STOVE is now offered to the public with entire confidence in its being the BEST OPERATING, MOST DURABLE and ECONOMICAL Stove ever invented, requiring one-third less Fuel than any other Stove in the market, to do the same amount of cooking; and the fire may be kept in it the entire season, without going out. The public are invited to call and examine this Stove, which is all that is necessary to convince any person that it has no superior, and cannot be beat. And we predict for it that popularity and immense sale which has attended the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE since its introduction into this market.

"Every Stove is warranted to give ENTIRE SATISFACTION in every particular."

Jones & Bolles, No. 61 MARKET ST., Portsmouth.

The Best COOK STOVE in the Market, after all said, is

STEWART'S

NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT, SUMMER AND WINTER

COOKING STOVES,

For Wood or Coal,

IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the

STEWART COOK STOVE,

Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward movable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within, or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven to fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove, from the time the article is set in until it be removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR, (of copper, with a tin casing,) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire box; and the fumes, the meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

But we cannot, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of THE STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new-fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE,

Now in use, which has been widely tested

FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and NOT found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1861, is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED, yet, as a Family Stove. For further particulars, and to see the best Stove in the market, please call on

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

PLAIN TALK FROM A KENTUCKY PAPER.—The Frankfort (Ky.) Commonwealth says:—

"The rebels have two full regiments of negroes in Louisiana. They have three or four regiments of Indians in the field, armed with tomahawks and scalping knives, in addition to the regular weapons of warfare. They have a battalion of Nashville State prison convicts in the field, (the Bull Pups,) commanded by a beast that served ten years in our penitentiary, (Red Bill.)

What do these professed Union men, who are so shocked about the contingency hinted at by John Cochrane, say to these facts? They approve them, of course.—The Confederates can do nothing wrong.—If they violate the Constitution, the rules of decency, and the laws of civilized warfare, it is all right, because they have no Constitution, no decency, and no civilization. But the Government must adhere strictly to the Constitution, and throw its protecting arm around the traitors who are trying to destroy it.

"Out upon such hypocritical cant, say we. A straight-out, open, and avowed rebel is infinitely above such Union men."

A PLEASANT INCIDENT.—A few days since on a train between Springfield and Boston were several wounded soldiers from the battle at Ball's Bluff. Most of them were gentlemanly and well behaved, but two of them had, in some way, been supplied with a bottle of whiskey, the contents of which made them so rude that their conduct was evidently painful to their companions. A little girl about eight years old went up to the soldiers and extending her hand, said, "I am proud of you; I want to shake hands with you." And having shaken hands with each one, she said, "I cannot bear to see you drink that whiskey; it makes you act as if you were not soldiers." Touched by the kindness and tender remonstrance, they immediately threw away the whiskey, and were perfectly orderly during the journey.

☞ An electric spark of induction, produced by Rumkorff's great machine at Paris, has pierced through a plate of crown-glass nearly two inches thick, and another 1 1-4 inch thick. These plates were recently laid before the Academy of Sciences by M. Faye, who stated that one inch thick plates had never before been pierced by the spark of induction. The holes were fine, and of a somewhat spiral form. There was no trace of fusion, or of metallic deposit.

"Nearly sixty of our ministers in Missouri," says the Methodist, "have been driven from the work assigned them by the Bishop. A few of them have been appointed chaplains in the army, but about fifty of them—as noble and self-sacrificing men, and as heroic patriots as there are in the land—who are able and willing to work, are now penniless, and in a suffering condition."

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1861.

THE REBELLION.

A Richmond dispatch reports 3000 Unionists in the mountains of East Tennessee, under parson Brownlow and Major Gilham, who are doing more mischief than the Yankees in Kentucky.

The Dispatch proposes to abandon Norfolk in the event of an attack, and begs reinforcements of Richmond, City Point, and Yorktown.

Gen. Burnside's expedition, which is fitting out for an attack upon the Southern coast, has already assumed formidable proportions. Ten regiments have so far been assigned to it, of which eight are now at Annapolis. The troops have not yet been brigaded, and of the Brigadier Generals, only one has, up to this time, been appointed—Gen. John G. Foster, of Nashua N. H. Capt. Howard, late of the U. S. revenue marine, accompanies the expedition, with a naval brigade, and Com. S. F. Hazard, U. S. N., is attached to the staff of Gen. Burnside, as naval officer and director.—It is probable that the force will be considerably augmented before the expedition is ready to sail.

An arrival at New York from Port Royal brings intelligence of the occupation of Tybee Island by the troops of the Union. The Island is at the mouth of Savannah river, and a battery at this point would command the main channel. Another expedition, consisting of two brigades under Gen. Viele, would soon sail from Port Royal for the Southern coast. Six steamers and all the light gunboats were to be employed on the expedition. Gen. Sherman had built entrenchments across the whole Island Sore throat prevailed among our troops.—Large quantities of cotton were found in storehouses. Beaufort was still unoccupied by our troops, but two gunboats were anchored off the town.

Schooner J. N. Genin, at New York from Ship Island, near New Orleans, reports the fortifications there finished, guns mounted, and 150 men detailed from the blockading fleet to work them.

A New York Herald's sensation dispatch says, the President and Cabinet were startled on Saturday afternoon last, by the arrival of a distinguished military officer of the U. S. Army from Fortress Monroe, with communications from rebels in the South, forwarded by British consular agents in the principal cities of the South, to Lord Lyons, who, in his official capacity, it appeared, had forwarded the rebel documents on their way to England.

It is currently stated and belived among the Washington secessionists that John C. Breckinridge and R. M. T. Hunter have already been selected by Jeff. Davis's government to go abroad as ambassadors in place of Slidell and Mason, and that they are intending to secretly cross our lines into Canada and sail from Quebec or Halifax.

—— The Claremont Eagle says Mrs. William Stone, formerly of that town, has just returned from Mobile, Ala., where she has resided with her husband for two or three years past. Left thus with only her little boy as a companion, and feeling that she ought to make an effort to reach her friends, she stealthily sold off every thing she owned for the most it would bring.—She then attempted to escape, but was pursued, captured and carried back. Her boy was taken from her and she was not allowed to see him for several days, when he was restored to her. She then proceeded more cautiously, and through the assistance of kind neighbors was enabled to leave under the guidance of a friendly negro. The more effectually to elude the vigilance of her enemies, the negro carried her in his arms into the cars, as a helpless invalid.—Her pursuers entered the very train she was upon. She pulled the glaze covering from the cap worn by her boy, and pulled down her own veil. They could see nothing in the passengers resembling the persons they were in search of, and took their departure. But a villain of a conductor on a Tennessee railroad, seeing she paid her fare in gold, took every dollar of it from her, exchanging for it Tennessee shinplasters, utterly worthless to her before she got out of the State. However, she reached Kentucky and passed once more under the protection of loyal men. As one instance of the high price of the "necessaries of life," she mentions that herself and a neighbor joined and purchased a pint of salt, for which they were charged sixty cents!

ARMY AND NAVY.—It seems to be an oversight in the Legislature not to put the men in the navy on the same footing with those in the army. Unfortunately it happens that while we are boasting of the great exploits of the navy, the families of the very men who are working out the redemption of our country from the ills of rebellion, are left to suffer in want.

☞ Garibaldi has been elected Grand Master of the Italian Freemasons.

THE THANKSGIVING of last Thursday was observed in twenty States. In Virginia, the new State, it was set apart, the first time in the history of the Commonwealth. Gov. Pierpont is the first Governor that has issued a proclamation for one.—Virginia, however, being to a great extent Episcopalian, has had the Church Thanksgiving prescribed in the Prayer Book, on the first Thursday of November.

ELECTION LAWS.—We notice by an advertisement in the Lawrence (Mass.) Journal, that all the City Officers, including School Committees and Clerk of the Police Court, are chosen by the people's ballot at one time. Also, that the Mayor and Aldermen correct the check-lists, and announce that the polls will be closed at 4 o'clock.—New Hampshire ought to have a law to close polls at a certain hour, as in Maine.

☞ The expulsion of rebellion from Accomac and Northampton counties, Va., is capital for oyster traders and oyster eaters, as this part of Virginia is the very best for its bivalves. A vessel has arrived at New York from there, since the embargo was removed.

☞ Rev. H. G. Guinness, the noted Irish revivalist, is getting a bad name in Canada. According to accounts in the Halifax Witness, he has been decidedly imprudent and reckless, and fails to get access to most of the pulpits.

BOSTON, Nov. 27th, 1861.

Dear Chronicle:—Winter has at last really laid his icy hand upon us; lightly to be sure as yet, but with enough severity to make us in earnest in our preparations for what is to follow. Our streets present unusual activity, being crowded with shoppers arrayed in the brilliant and comfortable-looking hues appropriate to the season, while our merchants are very busy securing their pile of the ready in exchange for the merchandise with which their stores are so plentifully stocked.

Business generally has taken a decided start again, and there is but very little complaint of "not enough to do." Evidently the time for the grass to grow in the streets of our goodly city is a long way "down the dark future."

Everybody congratulates everybody else that the rebel commissioners have found an abiding-place in Fort Warren, and Boston is wide awake to the merits and patriotism of Capt. Wilkes. The old hero has created a commotion here second only to that created by the Prince of Wales in his visit last year. Monday, in all the storm, thousands of ladies and gentlemen went up to Faneuil Hall to pay their respects to him, and his right arm was decidedly well shaken for full three hours without cessation. Even then only about half the applicants for his honor were successful. Last evening a banquet in his honor was provided at the Revere House by the merchants of Boston, at which about two hundred invited guests sat down. J. Wiley Edmands, Esq., presided, and speeches were made by Capt. Wilkes, Lieut. Fairfax, Gov. Andrew, Mayor Wightman, and other distinguished gentlemen.

Manager Ullman gives us a mere taste of Opera this week. "Positively for this week only" he announces. Very tantalizing that when we want at least four weeks, after hearing his troupe and knowing their merits. We are promised another and longer season in February however, and for the purpose of enabling him to get together the best material for that season, Mr. Ullman set aside Monday and Thursday evenings for his benefit, believing that with cash in hand, he cannot fail of securing what he wants. We trust his just expectations were realized, for he deserves well of Boston, our best Opera seasons having been under his management, and he having introduced to us in years past all the Stars of magnitude. Monday evening Verdi's Masquerade Ball drew a good house, was capitally put upon the stage and splendidly performed. And last evening we had two new Operas: Victor Masse's Comic Opera now all the rage in Paris, Les Noces de Jeannette, and Donizetti's Betly. In the first Miss Kellogg and Sigr. Dubriel have the field entirely to themselves, a chorus coming in only at the finale. The little lady created quite a furore by her delightful singing and vivacious acting. She is a great favorite here, and has taken a stronger hold on the hearts of Bostonians than is vouchsafed to many.—Both the principals acquitted themselves entirely to the satisfaction of the large audience, who were not behindhand in expressing it.

Betly, we were not able to hear, but understand it created quite a sensation.—To-morrow evening we are promised Lucrezia Borgia and the debut of Mme. Comte Borchard, her first appearance in America. The occasion demands, and will receive, a crowded house. Friday evening, Martha. The name of Ansbutz as conductor is saying enough for the orchestra. He never attempts anything that he doesn't do, and do well. There seems to be inspiration in every wave of his baton.

Pardon this long letter. If you like it you may hear again from BOSTON.

Recollections of Old Acquaintance.

BY UNCLE TOBY.

MY OLD SCHOOLMASTERS.—[Continued.]—On the first day of Deacon Clark's administration, he called out the reading classes, five in number, beginning with the first, requesting them to take their places and read exactly as in Mr. Birch's day;—showing herein his wise conservatism. Three classes came and went, with the plaudit, "Very well!"—but when he called for the fourth, a grand clatter and rush commenced of forty or fifty boys on the floor at once.—Two boys struggled for the head of the class; and pushing, and crowding, and scolding, ran along toward the foot of the class, or rather to the tail of the rabble, for so it was. "What's the matter?" very coolly asked the teacher. "We're the fourth class," says one. "We're the fourth class," says another; and some went on to explain that Mr. Birch had promoted the fifth class of little boys to be the fourth, because they read better than the old fourth class of large boys. This some other one denied, and the debate was waxing warm, when the teacher said—"Stop! I have a plan that will settle it all." So he arranged both the classes on the floor together, giving the large boys the head, and then made them all read the same verses, and kept them reading on till he was satisfied, and till all the school saw the little boys read better than the others, and he gave them their places accordingly. This exhibition of practical wisdom in a small thing, had an effect on the school, similar to Solomon's decision about dividing the child; — and he never had any trouble in government afterwards. His merits and demerits were often discussed during the first months, and he was as often compared or contrasted with his predecessor. At the close of one of these recess debates, it was declared by a leading scholar, and agreed to by general consent, that one of Deacon Clark's prayers was worth more than two of Mr. Birch's.

The jury of boys had weighed both the men in their balance, and they judged them truly. Enoch Moody Clark was devout, and his obedience, though based on fear as a theory in teaching, was, after all, really built on love in his practice.

His pretensions to scholarship were humble; but so far as he went, no man was more thorough. He read well, even elegantly, and could not tolerate blunderers—but with him bad reading was always corrected by example, after being shown up by imitation. His hand-writing was plain, simple and easy; and every copy set by him contained some sentiment, moral or economical. Beyond these branches, he taught only common arithmetic and geography, the latter only by reading Dwight's geography as a reading lesson, without maps or globes.

By and by came out a State law, requiring a knowledge of English grammar in every teacher; and by this edict his days of teaching were numbered. He had never learned it, did not understand it, and when he was assured he could, in a few weeks, learn enough to answer the purpose, he shook his head doubtingly, and declined the effort. Yet no man's language could be more correct than his, and very few, indeed, keep their dialect so free from vulgarisms. It seems almost incredible, at this moment, that no one knew enough then to tell him that the grammar books were a bundle of jargon, and at the same time to show him in half an hour that a noun is a name, and that the science of government among words is almost as great a humbug as the government of kings. But so it was. Smith's grammar, grammar machines and charts, were then in the same unknown future with iron roads, fiery horses and lightning telegraphs.

He was a man of the last century, lapping over into the present. A few years after passing out of his school, he "passed into the skies." A wife and one daughter only, both amiable like himself, survived him; but the daughter soon followed him, and the mother in a few years followed her "to that undiscovered country from whose bourne no traveller returns." This good man created no storms to upheave life's ocean into waves. Had he been a breeze, he would only have rippled its surface. But he was a gentle spirit, and when he moved on the face of the waters, his voice was—"Peace, be still!" He had his mission, and fulfilled it; his life was peace; his memory is fragrant yet among the generation who knew him best; and as they are themselves becoming rapidly unknown, it is a worthy office to embalm his memory by hands that have often been pressed in youth by his, less with the pressure of a teacher than of a friend.

Dea. Clark lived in, and possessed, in the right of his wife, the noble old mansion of Sheriff Packer, on Pleasant street, at the corner of Court street, on the spot where the house of Hon. Richard Jenness now stands. The old house was elevated several feet above the street, and was approached by ascending heavy stone steps, fenced in by heavier stone walls. It was one of the most commodious mansions of that day.

When this house was destroyed by the fire of 1813, Dea. Clark removed to another habitation owned by his wife, now No. 4 Islington street, where he closed his days.

His domestic relations were of the happiest description. His wife was a daughter of Moses Woodward, and was, when he married her, a widow Greenleaf.

She was a woman of exemplary manners and christian character, a worthy member of the North Church, which she honored by an exemplary life, and remembered in a bequest of her small remaining property at her decease.

The least valuable, but perhaps most curious portion of their old books, fell into the hands of the writer, by whom they are highly prized.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Municipal election in Dover took place on Tuesday last. But little interest was manifested in the result and a small vote was cast. The Republican candidates were elected, as usual, in all the wards, with the exception of an Assessor in Ward 1. The entire vote for Mayor was last 602,—Alphonso Bickford, the Republican candidate, receiving 448.

—— The wife of Levi Gray of Strafford was instantly killed by being thrown from a wagon on Monday evening last. She had been at Dover, and the Enquirer states that it is supposed that, in turning from the road to go to the house, in the blinding snow, the horse missed the path, and the ground being very sideling upset both wagon and horse. When found Mrs. Gray was beneath the wagon.

—— The Ballot states that Col. Marston has resumed the command of the Second Regiment, and is ready again to lead the gallant boys against the enemy.

—— In Laconia on Monday night last a portion of the cattle train upon the B. C. & M. Railroad was thrown off the track, a draw bar pulling out, the forward end of which struck the ground. Two cars were utterly demolished. Three oxen and three sheep were killed and a number of others hurt. The train was detained seven hours. A Mr. Hicks, watchman at the repair shop at Lake Village, while returning on the cars from the place of the accident, was damaged by striking his head against a bridge.

—— Gen. David Sumner, of Hartland, Vt., who owns considerable land in Claremont, has offered to the Selectmen of Claremont, standing timber enough to make thirty cords of good hard wood—which is on land convenient of access—to be distributed by them to the poor of the town. The gift has been thankfully accepted by the Selectmen, who will apply it according to his direction.

—— THE Republican State Committee have called a Delegate Convention for the nomination of a candidate for Governor, to be held January 1st.

HURRAH FOR CHEAP POSTAGE.—The Postmaster at New Orleans advertises that letters for any port of the United States, to go by Costa's foreign mail, will be received at that Post Office, if sent in open. The rate of postage will be $1.15 per half ounce. double and triple rate in proportion. This enormous rate must make the letter-writing Secessionists wince.

It is reported that the Nashville has run the blockade at Charleston, with a valuable cargo of war materials.

THE PATENT
FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.
In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, wherever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economising Preparations for the Hair.
THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.
To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—
It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottles; it is a handsomer article than the common hair-brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

American Women.
America is justly proud of its beautiful women; but how many die annually, or prematurely lose their health and youth for want of a remedy suitable to their peculiar ailments. That remedy is found in SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS. We know hundreds of cases where they have been used with the greatest success.—In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed,—moderating excesses and removing obstructions, whether from cold or any other cause. Suffer no more anxiety or low spirits, but try them. For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the Agent.
One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 Pills, by return mail. my28daw3m
Sold by W. R. PRESTON and all druggists.

PROF. GARDNER'S LECTURE. — We take the earliest opportunity that we have had to speak of the lecture which Prof. Gardner, the famous New England Soap Man, gave at the Temple on Wednesday evening. Our Thursday morning's paper was made up too early to allow us to speak of it in that issue, and yesterday we issued no paper. He delivered a glowing lecture to an extremely large and attentive audience, who testified in the most enthusiastic and unreserved manner, their appreciation of his happy hits and striking allusions by hearty applause. At the conclusion of the lecture many a pocket was found to be rendered more heavily laden by the cakes of the "genuine New England," with which the members of the audience had freely supplied themselves.

The Professor, by his skillful handling of his subject actually compelled his audience to pay the closest attention for an hour and a half, to a lecture abounding in pathos and humor, and won the highest encomiums from those who were so fortunate as to be among his hearers. His audience, too, was one whom any speaker might be happy to gratify, a majority of them being ladies.

☞ The new side-wheel steamer Sebago is to be launched at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, this (Saturday) morning, at 9 o'clock. She is the second of the twelve side-wheel steamers ordered, and has been coppered on the stocks.

There will then remain one other "side-wheeler" on the stocks at the Navy Yard, which will be launched in a short time.—Three others are to be built; the keel of one—a propeller—is being laid in the ship-house from which the Ossipee was recently launched. The remaining two—side-wheel steamers—are to be completed in eighty days.

The crew of the Portsmouth are expected here to day, and the ship will at once go into commission.

Lieut. Phillip C. Johnson, Jr., has been appointed Executive Officer of the Portsmouth.

POLICE COURT, Friday.—Arthur Rutledge, for throwing snow-balls, was fined $1 and costs—$4.80.

Eben. Littlefield, for being drunk was fined $1 and costs $3.69: John E. Fields, was fined $3 and costs $2.92; and Peter Anderson, was fined $3 and costs $3.86—each for the same offence.

SUNDAY SERVICES.—Rev. J. C. Fletcher, of Newburyport, is to preach at the North Church to-morrow.

Rev. J. H. Allen, of Jamaica Plain, Mass., will preach at the Unitarian Church.

☞ On Thanksgiving day, a clergyman from a neighboring town in Maine, who is well known to be moderate and conservative, preached in the North Church in this city. In the course of his sermon he made a brief quotation from one of our democratic soldiers, (General Burnside,) favoring the war against slavery:—whereupon an eminent peace democrat, late a candidate for mayor, took his hat and left the house.

☞ We learn that Sergt. A. J. Sides, of this city, has received the appointment of Captain in the 6th Regiment N. H. V., now full and in camp at Keene.

Also that the Governor and Council have decided to commission the officers for Gen. Butler's (Ninth) Regiment immediately.

THE KNICKERBOCKER, for December, is published. This is now the oldest magazine in the country, and this fact alone proves that it must have contained some real merit:—otherwise it would have died long ago.

J. R. Gilmore, publisher of the Knickerbocker, and G. P. Putnam, of New York, announce the first number of the new Continental Magazine, to be published simultaneously in New York and Boston, early in December next. The eminent ability of its Contributors, including some of the most distinguished writers and statesmen in the country, and the high reputation of its Editor, Charles Godfrey Leland, Esq., are a guarantee that the Magazine will take a high stand.

The Constitution, with the advance guard of Butler's expedition, left Hampton Roads Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock.

Letters from Port Royal state that an expedition had taken possession of the enemy's works at St. Helena Inlet, thus securing the control of all approaches from the ocean to the sea islands.

The Philadelphia Inquirer's Fortress Monroe letter states that the rebel reports say that Pensacola had been evacuated and that the Navy Yard was entirely destroyed by Fort Pickens.

The Tribune's Washington dispatch says Adj. Gen. Thomas has sent instructions to Gen. Sherman, at Port Royal, to seize all the cotton, corn, rice and crops of various sorts within his reach; to use what is necessary for subsistence to his troops, and send the cotton to New York. Gen. S. is also directed to take the services of negroes to aid in gathering crops, and in making fortifications.

The Navy Department has received dispatches from Com. Dupont, stating that the stars and stripes are flying over territory of the State of Georgia. Tybee Island, which has been taken possession of, is within easy mortar distance of Fort Pulaski. The approaches to Savannah are completely cut off. On the islands is a strong Martello tower, with a battery at its base.

THE NEW-HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE and Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, published Thursday, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room. Price 3 cents. Only $1 per year, in advance.

JOB AND CARD PRINTING of all sorts is promptly done at the Chronicle Office.

Marriage, Visiting or Business Cards Printed or ENGRAVED in the best manner.

All sorts of Cards, Papers, and other stock, furnished for Printing.

Wedding, plain, Initial, or Business ENVELOPES, on hand, furnished, or Printed to order—in any style.

CARDS AND BILL HEADINGS are indispensable to the business man, and we would remind all in want of such work, that the Chronicle Office is the place to get it done.

TO NEW SUBSCRIBERS.

To all who shall pay $4 for the Daily Chronicle, or $1 for the Weekly, for the year 1862, we will furnish the paper without charge to Jan. 1.

MARRIAGES.

In Sanford, Me., on Sunday morning, Oct. 20th, 1861, by Rev. Theodore Wells, WILLIAM EMERY, Esq., to MRS. SARAH A. GOWEN, all of Sanford. This is the fourth wife of Mr. Emery, and she a blooming widow of more than forty years, and a firm democrat. The Sanford Brass Band, together with a large number (male and female,) of the citizens of Sanford Corner, called upon the newly-married couple on Monday evening, at which time fine music was discoursed by the Band. Cakes and wine were liberally tendered by the bridegroom, who had been charmed by the Democratic Lady. After a short and agreeable interview, the Band gave three cheers for the union, and all well-pleased with their reception departed for their several homes.—Saco Democrat.

LUMBAGO.
Of all the diseases incident to the human family, there is none, perhaps, which occasions so much intense suffering and physical disability, and none that appears to elicit so little commiseration and sympathy as RHEUMATISM in its various modifications. Medical writers, and the faculty in general, have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of compounds of one kind or other which have been presented to the public as curatives.
Rheumatism, as well as Gout (which latter is but a more aggravated form of what is commonly understood as Rheumatism), would seem to result from a peculiar diathesis or inflammatory condition of the system, originating in a diseased state of the blood. It usually affects the larger joints, as the ankle, knee, elbow, shoulders, &c, and manifests itself in Neuralgic pains, Sciatica, Lumbago, and other forms of this character.
Sometimes, through negligence, or the inadequacy of the remedies applied, it assumes a decided inflammatory feature, and then often becomes a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle, and exposing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration of health.
The almost exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as fomentations, stimulating embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, bleeding, cupping, and shocking, have in most cases proved ineffectual, merely transmuting the disease from one part of the system to another. The ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL, on the contrary, is altogether an internal remedy, and is intended to strike at the root of the disease. It is a new and original preparation, invented by the subscriber, and he can therefore recommend it as perfectly safe, as well as efficient, being wholly free from any deleterious substance whatever.
It is not pretended, however, that this Cordial will cure every repulsive form of Rheumatism that may be presented, although the results hitherto been such as would justify every one afflicted by it in making the trial; and where even the most remote benefit is discoverable, it may then be fairly inferred that a cure will be effected, providing the directions be steadily and perseveringly adhered to, both as to the time of taking it, and the quantity used.
It is a singular fact, that advanced age appears to be equally as susceptible to the benefits derivable from its use as youth, or those in the meridian of life. We have a number of instances of persons ranging from sixty to upwards of eighty, who, having been many years the subjects of Rheumatism, in one or other of its varied forms, have by using a few bottles been completely restored—their whole system invigorated, and, as a matter of course, their general health greatly improved. We have rarely known a return of the disease after it has been subdued by the use of this Cordial, even though the patient may have been exposed to the vicissitudes of wet weather; when, however, there have been any slight indications of "the old complaint," a few doses have produced the most happy effect.
The subscriber can furnish a long array of names of the most prominent and influential citizens, who can testify to the inestimable efficacy of this invaluable compound, and who are willing that their names should be placed before the public, in order to inform those who are afflicted with RHEUMATISM in its various phases, that there is a sovereign remedy in "ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI RHEUMATIC CORDIAL." Prepared only by THEODORE DILKS, Chemist,
N. E. cor. Pine and Sixth sts., Philadelphia.
This article has been used in this city and vicinity during the past year, by many persons; and with results that fully justify the above recommendation of the manufacturer. A fresh supply just received by

Morning Chronicle.

A correspondent of the Siecle Paris, the government organ of France writes from Tunis, Algiers, as follows—

"Our College of philosophers at home, may, and probably do accomplish a great deal for the cause of science, but the Americans are the people to turn these discoveries to practical account. Many of the modern inventions in use here are American, and one American chemist, Dr. J. C. Ayer of Lowell, supplies much of the medicine consumed in this country. His Cherry Pectoral, Pills, Sarsaparilla and Ague Cure constitute the staple remedies here, because the fame of easy application, cure in their results, and have the confidence of the people. While the science of Medicine is carried to a higher perfection in our own country (France) than any other, it strikes a Frenchman as a little singular that an American Physician should furnish the medical skill and remedies for our Principal Province.

We are happy to inform our readers that these superior medicines, which the Emperor's principal Province is obliged to get from America, may be had by our neighbors, at the store of any apothecary.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

And for the speedy cure of the following complaints: Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tetter, and all skin Diseases.

OSWEGO, Ind., Oct. 20th, 1855.

J. C. AYER & Co. Gentlemen: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. I have inherited a Scrofulous infection. I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it would come out in Ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it would fasten and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and loathsome to my description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any thing. In fact, the disease grew worse. At length I was reduced to send to the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your reputation that any thing you made must be good. I sent to Indianapolis and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses at first, and gradually over a month, and used almost three bottles. Now and healthy skin was seen to form under the scab, which after a while fell off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has gone from my system. You can believe that I feel what I am saying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the benefactors of the age, and remain ever gratefully, Yours,

ALFRED B. TALLEY.

 St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Dropsy.

Dr. Robert M. Preble writes from Salem, N. Y., 12th Sept., 1855, that he has cured an inveterate case of Dropsy, which threatened to terminate fatally, by the persevering use of our Sarsaparilla, and adds conviction to Ridgmont Bangster by large doses of the same; says he cures the common Erysipelas by a mixture of Sarsaparilla and Iron.

Bronchocele, Goitre or Swelled Neck.

Zebulon Shaw of Prospect, Texas, writes: "Three bottles of your Sarsaparilla cured me from a Goitre—a hard tumor swelling on the neck, which I had suffered from over two years."

Leucorrhea or Whites, Ovarian Tumor, Uterine Ulcerations, Female Diseases.

Dr. J. B. S. Canning, of New York City, writes: "I most cheerfully comply with the request of your agent in saying I have found your Sarsaparilla a most excellent alterative in the treatment of Female Diseases. We employ such a remedy, but especially in Female Diseases of the Scrofulous diathesis. I have cured many severe cases of Uterine Ulceration, and Ovarian Tumors, which plainly was caused by alteration of the mirror. The ulcerations that was cured, Nothing within my knowledge equals it for these female derangements."

Edward S. Murrow, of Newbury, Ohio, writes, "A daughter suffered forty years on one of the female complaints, which had defied all the remedies we could use, but was at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physician thought nothing but extirpation could afford relief, but he advised trying the full of Sarsaparilla as the last resort before cutting, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptoms of the disease remained."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

NEW ORLEANS, 25th August, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER: Sir, I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effects I have realized with your Sarsaparilla.

I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found the effects truly wonderful in the cure of Tertiary and Mercurial Disease. One of my patients had Syphilitic ulcers in his throat, which were completely healed after using six bottles of his month. Your Sarsaparilla, steadily taken, cured him in five weeks. Another was attacked by secondary symptoms as his term, which had reduced him down to a considerable part of it, so that I believe the disorder would soon reach his brain and kill him. But it yielded to the same discipline. The ulcers healed, and he is well again, not of course without some disfigurement to his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disorder by mercury, suffered from the poison in her bones. They had become so sensitive to the weather that on a damp day she suffered excruciating pain in her joints and bones, which was cured entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I have been its friends, which your agent gave me, that this Preparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkable results with it have not surprised me.

Professionally yours, C. V. LARIMER, M. D.

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint.

INDEPENDENCE, Preston Co., Va., Oct. 1st, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER: Sir, I have been afflicted with a painful chronic Rheumatism for a long time, which baffled the skill of physicians, and which I was told was a case of Gout, for which no remedies could find, until I tried your Sarsaparilla. One bottle cured me in two weeks, and restored my general health so much that I feel like a new man. Other I was attacked. I think it a wonderful medicine. J. THRAM.

John Y. Gaddell, of St. Louis, writes: "I have been afflicted for years with an affection of the Liver, which destroyed my health. I tried everything, and every thing failed to relieve me; and I have been a broken-down man for some years from an other cause than derangement of the Liver. My beloved pastor, the Rev. Dr. Eliot, urged me to try your Sarsaparilla, because he said he knew you, and was sure that you made was worth trying. By the blessing of God it has cured me, and has restored me to health so that I can attend to my business. I feel young again. The best that can be said of you is not half good enough."

Scirrhus, Cancer Tumors, Enlargement, Ulceration, Caries and Exfoliation of the Bones.

A great variety of cases have been reported to us where cases of these formidable complaints have resulted from the use of this remedy, but our space will not admit of them. Some of them may be found in our American Almanac, which the agents below named are pleased to furnish gratis to all who call for them.

Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Melancholy, Neuralgia

Many remarkable cures of these affections have been made by the alterative power of this medicine. It strengthens the vital functions into vigorous action, and thus overcomes disorders which would be supposed beyond its reach. Such a remedy has long been required by the medicine of the people, and we are confident that this will do for them all that medicine can do.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the Relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced Stages of the Disease.

This is a remedy so universally known to surpass any other for the cure of throat and lung complaints, that it seems but a waste of time to publish the evidence of its virtues. Its unrivalled excellence for coughs and colds, and its truly wonderful power of pulmonary disease, have made it familiar to almost every household in the land, and there is hardly a neighborhood in the civilized world but some of its wonderful cures are remembered, or even families, among them, where some one has personal experience of its effects—some lingering invalid in their midst of its virtues, who, after all other means had failed, was cured by it, and restored to health and vigor. Its effects in the throat and lungs, in all cases of the dreadful fatality of these disorders, are so well known, that the efforts of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them that it has now all the virtues it did have when making the cases which have made it celebrated upon the confidence of mankind.

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

No. 46 Market Street, Portsmouth,

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires, or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and pockets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a lifetime, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be the best stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

1861. MAGEE'S PATENT COOKING STOVE. 1861.

THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE AGE!

This beautiful COOK STOVE is now offered to the public with entire confidence in its being the BEST OPERATING, MOST DURABLE and ECONOMICAL Stove ever invented, requiring one-third less Fuel than any other Stove in the market, to do the same amount of cooking; and the fire may be kept in it the entire season, without going out. The public are invited to call and examine this Stove, which is all that is necessary to convince any person that it has no superior, and cannot be beat. And we predict for it that popularity and immense sale which has attended the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE since its introduction into this market.

"Every Stove is warranted to give ENTIRE SATISFACTION in every particular."

PATENT COOKING STOVE

For Wood or Coal,

Operating on the same principle as the celebrated

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

Jones & Bolles, No. 61 MARKET ST., Portsmouth.

The Best COOK STOVE in the Market, after all said, is

STEWART'S

NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT, SUMMER AND WINTER

COOKING STOVES,

For Wood or Coal,

IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the STEWART COOK STOVE, Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward movable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within, or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove, from the time the article is set in until it be removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR, (of copper, with a tin casing,) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a cool fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Cooking is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire box; and the fumes, the meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

But we cannot, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of THE STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new-fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE,

Now in use, which has been widely tested

FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and NOT found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and tested for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1861, is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED, yet, as a Family Stove. For further particulars, and to see the best Stove in the market, please call on

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c. and can say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that we are enabled to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for Parties, and our customers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE,
PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use.
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.
SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.
As a DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs; very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.
SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wine in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm; improving the appetite, and benefiting ladies and children.
A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.
WE REFER TO a few well known gentlemen and physicians, who have tried the Wine.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.—Blackwood's Magazine, published at Edinburg, Scotland, in a recent article upon American affairs, says:

"Mrs. Beecher Stowe is a very clever woman, and has written a very clever novel. But statesmen must ask themselves how the difficulty presented by the condition of the African race would be solved by setting them free. What is to become of the liberated slaves? and how is their labor to be replaced? are questions the very first to be asked, but which we must not expect a crazy abolitionist to answer."

Very true, says Uncle Toby; crazy abolitionists and crazy cotton lords are alike incapable of answering the questions,—but sane, matter-of-fact abolitionists, like Ben Franklin, would say, let us look at the facts, and see how they stand.

What became of the 800,000 slaves in the British West Indies? Answer,—They stayed there, and they and their children are there now.

How has the labor of these 800,000 West India slaves been re-placed? Answer,—By their own free labor in part, and by other labor introduced.

Then Franklin would go on to say, "Surely we can do as well as the English did,—and I think we can do better. If 800,000 or 1,000,000 of slaves belonging to rebels, happen to be confiscated, and if the rebels' land gets confiscated also, or a part of it, the laborers will be wanted, and the laborers, black or white, will come."

The liberated contrabands at Beaufort, just now, seem to be taking care of themselves. The industrious blacks go to work for Uncle Sam, and get paid for it. The enterprising business negroes, who scorn labor, plunder the houses of white men, with no more scruple than the white men plundered them all their lifetime of just what they pleased, particularly of all their earnings, and selling and buying their persons ad libitum.

In Missouri, affairs from this distance do not seem to look well. After Fremont had chased Price out of the State, and was about to follow him into Arkansas, and thence to Memphis, he was removed from his command. The entire programme was instantly changed. The Union army was marched back to St. Louis, followed by Price, and the Union inhabitants fleeing before him in terror. Such events are beginning to operate as a powerful set back in the current of disparagement against Fremont.—Claremont Eagle.

Disaster and defeat might have occurred to Fremont, had he remained in command; but the rebels were evidently afraid of him as he pressed down towards them with his army.

Now, however, emboldened by his removal and the retreat of the army under his successor, and by the disbanding of his body guard,—the rebels pluck up coaurge again, and are laying waste the State of Missouri.

☞ When our little countrywoman Patti was in Dublin, she met with great kindness and admiration. But one night—her benefit at the theatre—after she had been pelted with bouquets—some enthusiastic person in the gallery, not having a posy convay-nient, threw a large glass bottle on the stage, and the fragments scattered dangerously about the little prima donna—though fortunately not hurting her. She opened her black eyes with astonishment, exclaiming—"How strange! Was there anything in it?" and soon after left the theatre.

☞ Gen. Fremont has just arrived in New York, and the Germans propose giving him a grand reception with music, torches, and banners. Meetings have been held in different parts of the city, at which speeches have been made endorsing the course of General Fremont. Preparations are in progress for a great public mass meeting, the time for which has not been decided upon.

☞ Jeff. Davis's message recalls to a correspondent of the Portland Advertiser an incident which is said to have happened in the war of 1812. A privateer captain being overhauled by an English cruiser, gave his men the run of the spirit room before he hauled down his colors; the effect of this was manifested in some confusion of ideas, and one of the crew, a negro, on reaching the frigate, saluted his captors with, "You (——) English loafers, what you think now? We'll make Marblehead ring when we get you in!"

☞ The Tribune's Washington correspondent says that the soldiers at Beaufort and the slaves on the island will soon be picking the ungathered cotton. The former under an order from the War Department, the latter under the impulse of wages directed to be paid them by Gen. Sherman. It is also probable that the cultivation of the Sea Islands for the next crop of cotton will be contracted for with some responsible Yankee, who will be required to employ the slaves abandoned by their masters.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

——Elipbalet Brown, of Chester, has five sons in the U. S. army.

——We learn from the Nashua Gazette that James F. Briggs, Esq., of Hillsborough, who was placed on the Democratic ticket for Councillor a few days ago, declines the nomination.

—— In Bedford, on Thanksgiving day, four sons of Mr. Daniel Atwood, who have not all met before for 32 years, assembled at the paternal mansion, and with the surviving sisters enjoyed the festive occasion as they never expect to enjoy it again. The brothers have been widely separated, and have performed important services wherever they have been located. They are Joseph Atwood of Illinois, Col. John Atwood of Albany, N. Y., Gen. David Atwood of Madison, Wisconsin, and Daniel G. Atwood, now of Bedford.

—— Arrangements were made for a wheelbarrow race for prizes, in Manchester, on Thanksgiving day. Any one could enter for the contest, and parties so doing were requested to furnish their own wheelbarrows. In addition to this pastime, there was an extensive raffle for turkies, chickens, &c.

——Hon. Frederick Smyth, of Manchester, for several years Mayor of that city, for a long time Treasurer and one of the Directors of the N. H. Agricultural Society, and who has also been an officer of the U. S. Agricultural Society, has been appointed Assistant Commissioner and Agent for the United States to the World's Fair in London next year.

—— The Manchester Republican Committee have issued a call, inviting all "who are in favor of sustaining the National Administration in a vigorous prosecution of the war, to meet at the City Hall on Saturday, Dec. 7th, to nominate a candidate for Mayor." The Republican is now the dominant party in that city.

—— The second company of N. H. Sharpshooters, Capt. Henry M. Caldwell, for Berdan's regiment, left for Washington on Saturday last. Capt. McPherson's company will leave in a few days.

—— The Republican State Committee have issued a call for a delegate convention, representing all the people of the State in favor of sustaining the National Administration in the vigorous prosecution of the war against treason and rebellion, and of maintaining at all hazards, in their original integrity, the Constitution and Union of the United States. It is to be held at the Phenix Hall, in Concord, on Wednesday, Jan. 1, 1862, at 11 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating candidates for Governor and Railroad Commissioner.

—— Lt. Col. Frank S. Fiske, of the Second New Hampshire Regiment, has been home on a brief visit. Gen. Hooker, commanding his brigade, gave him a furlough until the fifth of December, but at head quarters this leave of absence was cut short by one week.

——The four companies of cavalry raised in this State for the New England Regiment, are to encamp on the County Fair Ground, Concord. A stable, three hundred feet long, is to be erected for the accommodation of the horses, and barracks are soon to be provided for the men.

A PATRIOT MISSIONARY.—The Rev. Dr. Mason, the venerable Senior Missionary of the Baptist Board, writes thus from his field of labor in Toungoo, Burmah:

"I shall endeavor to comply with your injunction not to run you in debt, but of the other, not coming home, I am not quite so certain. My son has just gone down to Washington, I hear, with the 7th New York Regiment; and if he falls, I may come home to takes his place, as I most assuredly would do were I on the spot."

Gen. Wool does not call the fugitive slaves, who are flocking to his lines, "contrabands," or "property," but "vagrants," whom he, as representative of the Government, is called upon to feed, clothe and employ.—Exchange.

It is to be hoped that a name will soon be fixed upon for the poor negroes; in the confusion we may get to calling them men by and by.—Portland Adv.

☞ N. N. Seelye, 3d Assistant Postmaster, informs all postmasters that Treasury notes are to be received by them as equivalent in all respects to coin in the payment for stamps and stamped envelopes.

☞ Maj. Gen. Fremont, accompanied by two of his staff and by Mrs. Fremont, arrived in New York on Thursday. His demeanor was very reserved.

☞ Capt. Gordon, of the slaver Erie, has been sentenced at New York, to be hanged.

CARDS AND BILL HEADINGS are indispensable to the business man. and we would remind all in want of each work, that the Chronicle Office is the place to get it done.

THE REBELLION.

The meagre accounts thus far received of the condition of affairs at Pensacola all come through rebel channels. We can only gather from these reports the facts that the firing commenced on Tuesday, the 19th inst.; that the Navy Yard was destroyed by the fire from Fort Pickens; that Pensacola was evacuated by order of Gen. Bragg, and that on Sunday, the 24th, the latter had applied for more troops. This would not seem to indicate a very brilliant success on the part of the rebels, although they claim to have beaten off the ships which came to the assistance of Fort Pickens.

The steamer Constitution, with a portion of the troops of Gen. Butler's Division, sailed from Hampton Roads Wednesday afternoon. Their destination is unknown.

By the steamship City of Baltimore, we have European advices to the 21st ult.—The rebel privateer Nashville arrived at Southampton on the 21st ult. The story of her having run the blockade at Charleston again, must, therefore, be false. Three days previously, she fell in with and captured the ship Harvey Birch, Capt. W. H. Nelson, from Havre for New York, in ballast. The captain and crew were taken off, and the ship set on fire and burned to the water's edge. She was an A 1 ship of nearly 1500 tons register, built at Mystic, Conn., in 1854, and belonging to New York. Capt. Nelson and his crew were landed at Southampton.

Com. Dupont reports that Fort Pulaski is at the mercy of our forces the moment the latter desire to take it. Also that reliable accounts informed him that Savannah was being evacuated by the people as fast as possible. He further states that Com. Tatnall, of the rebel fleet, had given it as his opinion that the entire rebel defences of the Southern coast must be abandoned, as they could not stand the armament of our fleet.

The Tribune's Washington dispatch says that Government on Friday received intelligence that the leaders of the rebellion in Richmond and in the rebel camps across the Potomac, at least are satisfied that they are to be beaten in the issue of arms which they have made, and that the cause of secession is a hopeless one.

The loyal sentiment in Frederick, Jefferson and Berkley counties, Va., is increasing.

Gen. Banks' division is to be removed from Darnestown, to Frederick, Md., as the roads will soon become unfit for travel.

The fleet fitting out at Port Royal for another expedition were all ready Nov. 27th, and awaiting orders. No rebels had been seen at Hilton Head or Beaufort. A force of U. S. marines have been landed on Tybee Island, to repair the rebel fortifications and build new ones.

An Augusta, Ga., dispatch to Richmond, 27th, says Tatnall with his fleet had gone down to drive our forces from Tybee Island.

AN EASTERN STORY.—Once upon a time there was more true poetry written in our sister State of Maine than there has been of late years; and this statement is too true of many other states of the Union. Longfellow, Willis, and many another, whose words have elevated humanity into the regions of a purer and better life, were born in that State, and there first sung the songs that now are familiar as household words and are read and sung throughout the land.

Recently, Dr. J. DeLaskie, of Vinalhaven, has taken from the willows his long unused harp, and written a poem of five hundred lines "on Mount Katahdin." That is, he has mounted his Pegasus, has written a poem on the above subject, but did not really write on the Mount. Extracts were published in the Portland Transcript. The Kennebec Journal copies them, and its editor says:—

"Years ago, in our young days, when we first occupied the editorial chair, and there gathered around the dawning of our editorial life many of the angel poets of Maine, whose productions have since gone into books, and whose fugitive poems we occasionally meet even now in the newspapers, was one whose rich poetical idealism attracted general attention. There were, too, great accuracy of rythm and a sweetness of heart-melody, that seemed to gush spontaneously from an exhaustless spring. Often in the same number of our paper we published the poems of young DeLaski, wild, rolling, rushing, pouring like a torrent of fire, [and those of a lady, we presume.—for the editor leaves us to infer that such was the case.] The one was "Ada," the other our "Adus." They were strangers to each other, Ada living on the banks of a mountain stream in Piscataquis county, and Adus "away down east." They read each others' poems, and by some seemingly mysterious sphere of influence were drawn towards each other.—There was a sweet romance in real life, and at length the two hearts, made for each other, were married. Ada has become an angel now, and Adus strikes again the golden harp of poetry."

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction ly

FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economising Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottles; it is a handsomer article than the common hair brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

Local.

☞ We mentioned, last week, two applications for new highways, which were before the County Commissioners—one to extend the road leading to Wallis's Sands in Rye; the other through the farms of the late Hon. James Pickering, and Reuben L. Lane, in Newington and Portsmouth. Both were granted, and have been laid out by the Commissioners.

What is needed next, is a continuation of this new Newington road, to Creek street, in Portsmouth, by way of Boyd's Road, at the Woodbury mansion. This would open a large section of fine country to the greater convenience of the public, and would make one of the most picturesque and beautiful drives in the vicinity.

This road also should be extended direct to Great Bay, through the farm of Mr. S. H. Tarlton—as there is now no open highway to the salt shore in all that part of Newington; and it is only by somebody's kind condescension, that farmers who do not adjoin the water, can get a load of eel grass, or land a boat. We presume the object of the Rye road was to have readier access to the sea.

☞ The U. S. steamer Sebago was launched from Portsmouth Navy Yard, on Saturday, "on the double quick," and created considerable excitement by the impetuosity of her "run," which was short, but included the pulling up of a post or two, and the starting of several make-fasts. She was well secured, however, and the launch was one of the most beautiful and interesting ever witnessed in New Hampshire.

☞ Com. Jos. Smith, Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, paid his annual inspection visit to the Portsmouth Navy Yard on Saturday.

☞ Steamer Nantasket, from Boston, with the crew for the U. S. Ship Portsmouth, arrived at Portsmouth Navy Yard on Sunday.

POLICE COURT, Saturday.—Wm. Stevenson and Sylvester Manson, for being drunk, were each fined $3, and costs $3.86.

HAMPTON'S DRAMATIC COMPANY,—which is generally and favorably known to our theatre-going citizens,—opens the week to-night with a strong cast. Mrs. Annie Senter commences an engagement this (Monday) evening, and will be supported by the full strength of the company, which is uncommonly good for a travelling troupe. Performances every evening.

☞ Thanksgiving Day, a young gent, after dinner, said he would take a glass of Sambuci "for his stomach's-ache." He was told by his young lady vis-a-vis, that the generous wine would not relieve the organ so tenderly prescribed for by St. Paul, as it would immediately "go into his head."—However, as Dr. Hutchings recommends it, they ventured to drink each to the health of the other, while promoting their own. *

☞ The anniversary of the introduction of the order of Sons of Temperance into Portland, will be celebrated in that city at the new City Hall, on Tuesday evening, Dec. 3d. P. T. Barnum, Esq., the world-renowned, is to be the principal orator of the evening. Col. Neal Dow will make his farewell address to the friends of Temperance, and is to be presented with some valuable token of remembrance by his many friends. A quartette of glee singers and the Portland Band will also be present; at the conclusion of the exercises the hall will be cleared and the young folks are expected to "take partners for" a social dance.—Mr. Barnum will pass through Portsmouth on Tuesday morning, in the ten o'clock train for Portland.

American Women.

America is justly proud of its beautiful women; but how many die annually, or prematurely lose their health and youth for want of a remedy suitable to their peculiar ailments. That remedy is found in SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS. We know hundreds of cases where they have been used with the greatest success.—In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Low ness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed,—moderating excesses and removing obstructions, whether from cold or any other cause. Suffer no more anxiety or low spirits, but try them. For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 Pills, by return mail. my28dawâm

ZOLLICKOFFER'S

ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL

A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF

INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO.

Of all the diseases incident to the human family, there is none, perhaps, which occasions so much intense suffering and physical disability, and none that appears to elicit so little commiseration and sympathy as RHEUMATISM in its various modifications. Medical writers, and the faculty in general, have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of compounds of one kind or other which have been presented to the public as curatives.

Rheumatism, as well as Gout (which latter is but a more aggravated form of what is commonly understood as Rheumatism), would appear to result from a peculiar diathesis or inflammatory condition of the system, originating in a diseased state of the blood. It usually affects the larger joints, as the ankle, knee, elbow, shoulders, &c; and manifests itself in Neuralgic pains, Sciatica, Lumbago, and other forms of this character.

Sometimes, through negligence, or the inadequacy of the remedies applied, it assumes a decided inflammatory feature, and then often becomes a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle, and exposing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.

The almost exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as fomentations, stimulating embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, cupping, and leeching, have often become a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle, and exposing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.

The almost exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as fomentations, stimulating embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, cupping, and leeching, have often become a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle, and exposing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.

The ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL, on the contrary, is altogether an internal remedy, and is intended to strike at the root of the disease. It is a new and original preparation, invented by the subscriber, and he can therefore recommend it as perfectly safe, as well as efficient, being wholly free from any deleterious substance whatever.

It is not pretended, however, that this Cordial will cure every reputed case of Rheumatism that may be presented, although the results have hitherto been such as would justify every one afflicted by it in making the trial; and where even the most remote benefit is discoverable, it may then be fairly inferred that a cure will be effected, providing the directions be steadily and perseveringly adhered to, both as to the time of taking it, and the quantity used.

It is a singular fact, that advanced age appears to be equally as susceptible to the benefits derivable from its use as youth, or those in the meridian of life. We have a number of instances of persons ranging from sixty to upwards of eighty, who, having been many years the subjects of Rheumatism, in one or other of its varied forms, have by using a few bottles been completely restored—their whole system invigorated, and, as a matter of course, their general health greatly improved. We have rarely known a return of the disease after it has been subdued by the use of this Cordial, even though the patient may have been exposed to the vicissitudes of wet weather; when, however, there have been any slight indications of "the old complaint," a few doses have produced the most happy effect.

The subscriber can furnish a long array of names of the most prominent and influential citizens, who can testify to the inestimable efficacy of this invaluable compound, and who are willing that their names should be placed before the public, in order to inform those who are afflicted with RHEUMATISM in its various phases, that there is a sovereign remedy in "ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL." Prepared only by THEODORE DILKS, Chemist,

N. E. cor. Fine and Sixth sts., Philadelphia.

This article has been used in this city and vicinity during the past year, by many persons; and with results that fully justify the above recommendation of the manufacturer. A fresh supply just received by TOWN FARM.—On Thanksgiving day, with several others we visited the Almshouse at noon, and had an opportunity of witnessing its general appearance. In the past year an addition of 45 feet by 60 has been made to the barn, and on the west side of this addition is a dry cellar for vegetables, well protected from frost, in which a large supply of squashes, beets, turnips, carrots, etc. are arranged in separate departments. In the corn house, which has been newly fitted up, are about 500 bushels of corn on the traces and spread, and bins of rye, barley, beans, etc. well filled. Beneath it is a convenient root house. The yard on the west of the house has been much improved by grading, done by the farm labor. Mayor Simes has taken much interest in the Farm the past year, having visited it at least seven times a week on an average.

There are now in the House 92 inmates. The whole appearance of neatness and good order, in and around the house and in the inmates, reflect much credit on the Superintendent, Mr. Norton, and his worthy wife. We were shown the four tables spread for the Thanksgiving dinner. Two were in the dining room for males, and two in the female department. The tables were bountifully spread with turkeys, geese, pies, puddings, apples, bread, butter, cheese, pickles, and vegetables—nice enough for the Mayor and Aldermen of any city. We noticed in each room cards put up conspicuously, with this inscription:

We bless the memory of
HON. C. S. TOPPAN,
Mayor of Portsmouth, who in 1857 gave $300, to constitute a perpetual fund to provide annually for the inmates of the Alms-House a Thanksgiving dinner.

WINTER ENTERTAINMENTS.

We are happy to see a few good lectures announced for winter evenings. "Artemus Ward," with his wit, and Fletcher with his Brazilian and Swiss experiences, must give us much more than our money's worth of entertainment and information.

Who next? Cannot we have a lecture or lectures from Rev. Mr. Eddy of this city, upon mineralogy? His choice cabinet of minerals and precious stones testify the enthusiastic student.

We understand he has a rich and instructive lecture upon the minerals of the Bible, disclosing a view of the ancient civilizations as well as the "Footprints of the Creator." Can we afford to lose it? We hope Mr. Eddy will make it one of the "Recreations of a City Pastor" to give us the benefit of his scientific researches, which in spite of graver duties, he has pursued with a scholar's devotion and persistency. Incus.

HOWARD BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.

At the recent annual meeting, Governor Goodwin was re-elected President. The officers elected were:

Charles W. Brewster, Secretary.
John Stavers, Treasurer.
Horton D. Walker, John Bennett, John W. Fernald, Joseph D. Pillow, Benjamin Cheever, Jonathan Barker, Joseph M. Edmunds, William Bodge, James M. Carr, N. Medbury, L. D. Spalding, William Day, Directors.
Stephen H. Simes, Joseph H. Foster, Auditors.

The arrangements of the visiting committees for the season are as follows:

December—Goodwin, Day, and Medbury.
January—Bodge, Bennett and Cheever.
February—Walker, Stavers and Carr.
March—Fernald, Barker and Spalding.
April to Dec.—Pillow, Edmunds and Brewster.

We are requested to state that the "Ladies' Knitting Club" have received from the Financial Committee of the late "Union Drill Corps," $6.17, the balance remaining on hand after settling the affairs of the Corps. The money is to be devoted to the purchase of yarn for soldiers' stockings.—The Corps disbanded in September.

CITY COUNCIL.—In the board Aldermen on Monday evening, it was voted to have a gas light near Messrs. Eldredge's store on Market street. The subject of building a wall on the line between the North Burying ground and the Eastern Railroad, was laid on the table.

"JEWELS FROM THE QUARRY OF THE MIND."—Mr. Head hands us the following description of the embellishments of his New Book for the Holidays. The design in gold on the back of the work represents Fleon standing on a pedestal, at the base of which Calliope, the muse of Epic Poetry and Eloquence, is seated, having in her hand a volume and pen. She is attended by Euterpe, the muse who presides over Music, (who holds in her hand a flute) and Melpomene, the muse of Tragedy.—At the right is seated Clio, the muse of History, who holds an open scroll. At the left is seen Erato, the muse presiding over lyric Poetry; in her hand she holds a lyre. The whole group is surrounded by rays of light. This portion of the design stands on a base of square form, on the capital of which are the words "Spirit of Poetry," which refer to the tableau group above. On the front, within a medaye, is the title of the Book, "Jewels from the Quarry of the Mind," at the angles of the base and in the centre are works of art, consisting in part of a female bust, a framed landscape, a painter's pallet and brushes, a scroll and writing materials and Grecian vase. Below these in a plain panel, is the name of the author and designer of the drawings. The cover of the book is ornamented with a large wreath of gold, in which are combined many smaller wreaths which encircle the names of the authors of the writings compiled. In the centre is a bust of Shakspeare surrounded by emblems of the Drama.

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.
MADE BY
THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,
Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3½ long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz.:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and zinc jackets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves,

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE STOVE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

1861. MAGEE'S PATENT COOKING STOVE. 1861.

THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE AGE.

PATENT COOKING STOVE
For Wood or Coal,
Operating on the same principle as the celebrated
MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.
Jones & Bolles.

This beautiful COOK STOVE is now offered to the public with entire confidence in its being the MOST OPERATING, MOST DURABLE and ECONOMICAL Stove ever invented, requiring one-third less Fuel than any other Stove in the market, to do the same amount of cooking; and the fire may be kept in it the entire season, without going out. The public are invited to call and examine this Stove, which is all that is necessary to convince any person that it has no superior, and cannot be beat. And we predict for it that popularity and immense sale which has attended the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE since its introduction into this market.

"Every Stove is warranted to give ENTIRE SATISFACTION in every particular."

No. 61 MARKET ST., Portsmouth.

The Best COOK STOVE in the Market, after all said, is
STEWART'S
NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT, SUMMER AND WINTER
COOKING STOVES,
For Wood or Coal,
IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the
STEWART COOK STOVE,
Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and burn, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward movable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within, or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove, from the time the article is set in until it be removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR, (of copper, with a tin casing,) continuing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TOP COVER, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire box; and the fumes, the meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

But we cannot, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of THE STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new-fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE,

Now in use, which has been widely tested
FOR TWENTY YEARS,
and nor found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1861, is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

IT HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED, yet, as a Family Stove. For further particulars, and to see the best Stove in the market, please call on

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE, and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention; and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

ZOLLICKOFFER'S

ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL

A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF

INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO.

Of all the diseases incident to the human family, there is none, perhaps, which occasions so much intense suffering and physical disability, and none that appears to elicit so little commiseration and sympathy as RHEUMATISM in its various modifications. Medical writers, and the faculty in general, have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of compounds of one kind or other which have been presented to the public as curatives.

Rheumatism, as well as Gout (which latter is but a more aggravated form of what is commonly understood as Rheumatism), would seem to result from a peculiar diathesis or inflammatory condition of the system, originating in a diseased state of the blood. It usually affects the larger joints, as the ankle, knee, elbow, shoulders, &c., and manifests itself in Neuralgic pains, Sciatica, Lumbago, and other forms of this character.

Sometimes, through negligence, or the inadequacy of the remedies applied, it assumes a decided inflammatory feature, and then often becomes a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle, and exposing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.

The almost exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as fomentations, stimulating embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, bleeding, cupping, and leeching, have in most cases proved ineffectual in permanently curing the disease from one part of the system to another. The ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL, on the contrary, is altogether an internal remedy, and is intended to strike at the root of the disease. It is a new and original preparation, invented by the subscriber, and he can therefore recommend it as perfectly safe, as well as efficient, being wholly free from any deleterious substance whatever

It is not pretended, however, that this Cordial will cure every reputed case of Rheumatism that may be presented, although the results have hitherto been such as would justify every one afflicted by it in making the trial; and where even the most remote benefit is discoverable, it may then be fairly inferred that a cure will be effected, providing the directions be steadily and perseveringly adhered to, both as to the time of taking it, and the quantity used.

It is a singular fact, that advanced age appears to be equally as susceptible to the benefits derivable from its use as youth or those in the meridian of life. We have a number of instances of persons ranging from sixty to upwards of eighty, who, having been many years the subjects of Rheumatism, in one or other of its varied forms, have by using a few bottles been completely restored—their whole system invigorated, and, as a matter of course, their general health greatly improved. We have rarely known a return of the disease after it has been subdued by the use of this Cordial, even though the patient may have been exposed to the vicissitudes of wet weather; when, however, there have been any slight indications of "the old complaint," a few doses have produced the most happy effect.

The subscriber can furnish a long array of names of the most prominent and influential citizens, who can testify to the inestimable efficacy of this invaluable compound, and who are willing that their names should be placed before the public, in order to inform those who are afflicted with RHEUMATISM in its various phases, that there is a sovereign remedy in "ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL." Prepared only by THEODORE DILKS, Chemist,

N. E. cor. Fine and Sixth sts., Philadelphia.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE,

PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use,
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.

SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints

Excellent Wine for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in Europe and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and as excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefiting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its fresh, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

WE REFER TO

a few well-known gentlemen and physicians, who have tried the Wine.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1861.

☞ Senator Sumner delivered a speech in Salem the other day, in which he took occasion to refer to his Worcester speech, so generally disapproved by the Republican press, and said he knew at the time he delivered it that he was announcing the policy of the administration. The Newburyport Herald remarks:

"We yet believe that Mr. Sumner was mistaken; but the expedition to South Carolina may yet lead to action that we should not have dreamed of three months ago. It is very apparent, whatever the administration may desire, that slavery is not an institution to endure a long war."

The present war was made by the slavocracy for the strengthening of its own power, the riveting of chains, and the extinction of liberty as a right. For these objects it would break up the Government, dissolve the Union, and violate the Constitution;—and so far as it could, it has done these things.

Whatever, then, we Yankees may think of the Constitution, no rebel man nor rebel community can have any privilege or power whatever, to claim one of them.—Compromises and fugitive laws are all dead to them, while they are in rebellion.

When the war goes into South Carolina, it is impossible to keep it from interfering with slavery—and there are but two sides possible, viz., to fight for it or against it. To fight for it, is to fight against ourselves. To fight the enemy, is to fight against it. Our officers there will not be apt to commit the suicidal folly of wasting their lives to preserve the bone of contention,—when by letting it alone, to stand or fall as it can, we carry on the war a vast deal better.

☞ In the U. S. Circuit Court, at Boston, last week, Joseph S. Hewins, convicted of robbing the mail at Monument, was sentenced to five years' imprisonment in the Dedham Jail. Samuel P. Skinner, of New Bedford, owner of the ship Margaret Scott, and convicted of fitting out the same as a slaver, was brought up for sentence.—A motion was made and argued in arrest of judgment, but was overruled, and a sentence of $1000 fine and five years in Taunton Jail imposed. One paper says five years at hard labor in that jail.

It is to be hoped that Congress will change the punishment of rebels and traitors from death,—(as it now stands on paper.)—or rather impunity in crime, (in practice,)—to imprisonment at hard labor, in State Prisons, forts, &c. It would be a very fine thing to see Senator Mason making shoes at Charlestown for seven years; Mr. Slidell hammering granite at Concord or elsewhere, for ten or twenty years; and their Secretaries at Thomaston, manufacturing lime, three years. Better far would it be than idle imprisonment or vulgar hanging.

☞ Another demonstration in the career of pursuing false pleasure was made in the Toombs Police Court, in the case of a young man engaged as entry clerk, in one of the best houses in New York, whose prospects were represented as very promising. George R. Cowee, it appears, has been engaged as entry clerk in the house of Robbins, Royce & Hard, New York for several years. During that time large quantities of goods have been missed, including flowers, silks, velvets, satins, &c.—At last these losses became so heavy as to prompt the firm to call to their assistance the detective police. After a thorough examination of the fraud, it was resolved to arrest Cowee on suspicion. But a few hours had passed when he confessed to a series of robberies.

It was estimated that he had taken about $5000 worth of property, all of which had been pawned, and the money expended lavishly upon women, and in gambling-houses. Three years filled up the sum of this young man's experience, which time he appears to have invested in the utter ruin of his business prospects.

☞ An interesting ceremony occurred on Saturday, on board the San Jacinto at Boston, when the crew of that vessel presented Lieut. Fairfax with a handsome silver goblet. The goblet was beautifully engraved with national, military, and naval devices, one design representing the meeting of the San Jacinto and the Trent. It bore the inscription: "Presented to Lieut. Fairfax, by the crew of the San Jacinto, as a slight token of their esteem and love." The speech of presentation was made by Rev. Phineas Stowe.

☞ A foreign letter-writer thinks there can be no certainty as to France's policy, and now that the Emperor is so hard pressed at home, if his economical scheme fails to reassure the country, or if the old influences manage once more to drive out M. Fould, then all foreign nations had better at once put on their war-paint and sharpen their tomahawks, for there will be scalping to do soon.

THE REBELLION.

Washington dispatches state that the Government has received information of the capture of a Canadian steamer by a Federal revenue cutter, off the coast of Maine, with a cargo of 10,000 muskets, and a large quantity of boots, shoes and clothing for the rebels.

It is stated that the ship Harvey Birch, destroyed by the pirate Nashville, was owned by residents of Texas. The ship was valued at $60,000, and had only the simple marine clause in her policy of insurance. She is therefore a total loss to her owners. The New York Board of Underwriters advanced the war risk to five per cent. on Saturday.

Dispatches from Gen. Rosecrans state that he is still occupying his old position.—Gen. Benham is under arrest for permitting the escape of Floyd and gang.

The Richmond Dispatch of the 28th says the rebel Congress on Wednesday passed a law admitting Missouri to the Confederacy. It also says that Congress refused to make any advances on the purchase of the produce of the planters.

The Galveston Citizen reports the capture of the privateer Royal Yacht by the Federal steamer Santee. All of the crew were taken prisoners.

A dispatch from Savannah to Richmond says Com. Tatnall, with three small steamers, attacked the Federal fleet in Cockspur Roads, Nov. 26. The engagement lasted one hour, and forty or fifty shots were fired. Failing to draw the fleet under the guns of Fort Pulaski, Tatnall withdrew.

It is stated that the rebel Gen. Price has commenced his march into Kansas, intending to make that State the field of operations. He issued an order to McCulloch to follow him, which the latter disregarded, and is now moving towards Arkansas, to go into winter quarters.

A spy just returned from Richmond, says intense excitement exists throughout the entire South, by reason of our naval expeditions. The rebel troops from the threatened States declare they will go home, and large numbers have already started.—Among the Georgia, South Carolina and Louisiana troops, very great restlessness, amounting almost to mutiny, showed itself. It is said the rebels feel inclined to leave Virginia. They find it too costly to maintain an army in that State.

The N. Y. Herald has a letter dated at Curacoa, which says the U.S. steamer Iroquois arrived off that port Nov. 8, with the intention of entering, but the commander was informed by the government authorities that he could enter, but would not be allowed to stay over forty-eight hours, except in case of distress. The commander would not enter on such conditions.

The steamship Illinois has been ordered to Boston, to take on board the 12th Maine Regiment, Col. Shepley, now at Camp Chase, Lowell.

The Tribune's Washington dispatch states that the Clerk of the House has received a letter from Mr. Ely of New York, now a prisoner at Richmond, desiring his name to be put upon the list, as he should occupy his seat this session.

☞ Very scandalous rumors are rife concerning Col. Scott, nephew and secretary of the old General. It is boldly asserted that he is the traitor who has done so much mischief by revealing cabinet secrets and the plans of the Commander-in-Chief to the enemy. The failure of the scheme against the rebel camp at Munson's Hill, which was known only to Gen. Scott, Gen. McClellan and Col. Scott, is attributed to the latter. It is intimated that the suspicions against Col. Scott were so strong that his friends advised him to quit the country, and that this had something to do with the sudden resignation of Gen. Scott and his departure with his nephew and others for Europe. It is probable that these rumors have been exaggerated.

☞ The city Marshal of Philadelphia arrested a pickpocket from a carriage about to start in a funeral procession one day last week. The thief had attended funeral service at a gentleman's house, and was coolly appropriating to himself a place in one of the carriages in the funeral cortege, with a view to operating upon the pockets of the mourners at the grave, or of the persons riding with him in the vehicle.

NUISANCES.—The "Concert Saloons" on Broadway, New York, have been presented as nuisances by a Grand Jury, on the ground that the proprietors of these saloons "have resorted to the shameless policy of employing abandoned women, whom they advertise as "Pretty Waiter Girls, &c., to allure, by the combined attractions of lust and appetite."

☞ Mason C. Weld, the well known editor of the Connecticut Homestead, has merged his paper into the American Agriculturist, published by Orange Judd, New York. Mr. Weld is to give his time to the Agricultural, one of the best farming papers in the country.

☞ We go to the grave of a friend, saying, "A man is dead;" but angels throng about him, saying "A man is born."

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— In the Episcopal church in Concord, on Thanksgiving day, a collection was taken in behalf of the sick amongst the soldiers of the New Hampshire Regiments, which amounted to $69.13.

—— The Ossipee Register mentions a curious ledge in the town of Barrington.—It is in the side of a hill. The top of the ledge is a few feet above ground on one side of the hill, but on the other side is 160 feet high, overhanging a small pond. At the bottom is a cavern formed by the overhanging rock, 40 by 20 feet. A small pond, containing a variety of fish, lies at the base, the shore being within a few feet of the entrance to the cavern. This cavern is called the Stone House, and is said to be a curiosity well worthy the attention of admirers of natural wonders. The pond is called Stone House Pond.

—— A Sullivan County clergyman has sent to the office of the Concord Statesman the following:—

"Why are Mason and Slidell like the Apostle Paul? Because they are ambassadors in Bonds. Eph. 6: 20."

—— The Journal of Agriculture in a pleasant notice of the recent annual meeting of the N. H. State Teachers' Association, introduces the following "but";—

The meetings were very pleasant; and seemed to be much enjoyed by those present. But we were sadly disappointed in not seeing more of the New Hampshire teachers together. Where were they? Alas! we fear there needs some startling spirit to walk abroad among the dry bones. Even old Weare, glorying in her pedagogues, was unrepresented. Sleep on! And Manchester, city of the mighty, had not a man present to sing her silence. Nashua had a man to keep her glory bright—two of her teachers being present. Brave Nashua!—So Exeter sent her solitary servant—faithful among the forgetful. So Claremont, sent hers, too. But Newport, and Hanover, (save the eloquent voice of her young Professor), and Dover, and Portsmouth, and Great Falls, and the Academic shrines all over the State, where were they? Peace to their ashes—if their fires have gone out!"

—— S. Dana Wingate, Esq., of Exeter, has been re-appointed Register of Probate for Rockingham county, for the term of five years.

—— Mr. George R. Downing of Manchester, suddenly disappeared on Thursday noon last. He had gone out with his gun and fishing tackle, and not returning, excited the alarm of his wife. On Saturday the alarm bell was rung, and a large number of citizens, with the City Marshal, made a thorough search, and succeeded in finding the body in Stevens' Pond, in ten feet of water. He probably fell in, while trying to break a hole through the ice for fishing. He was foreman of a brass foundry, and said to be one of the best workmen in New England. He was 32 years of age and leaves a wife and three children.

☞ The Boston Courier states that "by some mistake" a candle was brought in contact with a shell, which had been received from Fort Walker by a gentlemen residing in Madison avenue, New York. The shell had been left in the yard, and, on the application of the candle, exploded, destroying the fences, and several hundred dollars' worth of glass in the windows of houses in the vicinity. Fragments of the shell were driven into the walls, but happily no one was injured.

☞ Our eminent adopted countryman, Prof. Agassiz, has received from the Royal Society of London the Copley medal, the chief scientific honor in their gift. This is a gold medal, the fruit of a bequest by Sir Godfrey Copley, a member of the Society, who died in 1709. It is awarded to Prof. Agassiz for his valuable investigations in various branches of science, especially in Palæontology, and his highly important work on fossil fishes.

☞ Lt. Selden, just arrived in Washington from the South, states that in Richmond the feeling of anger, indignation and chagrin, at the arrest of Slidell and Mason was beyond all description. They had previously been exulting in the success of the rebel envoys in reaching Cuba, and they were certain that they would reach Europe without difficulty. He states that it is the severest blow the rebel government has yet received.

☞ The Working Farmer—Professor Mapes's well-known paper—and the United States Journal, have recently been united, and the editorial staff proportionately increased. It is a very large and finely-printed monthly publication, issued in New York, at one dollar a year,—and in its new form contains such a vast variety of matter as to satisfy almost any taste.

☞ Marshal Kane, now confined at Fort Warren, has received permission to go to Baltimore on his parole for three weeks, in order to attend the funeral of his father-in-law. It is reported that the latter bequeathed him a considerable amount of property.

☞ The frigate Merrimac, iron-sheathed by the rebels at Norfolk, has proved to be almost worthless. They sheathe their ships and unsheathe their swords with the same ill-luck, observes Prentice.

THE FIRST AND THE LATEST ENGLISH DICTIONARIES.—The first English Dictionary was called the Promptorium Parvulorum, published in 1499. The author was Richard Fraunces, a preaching friar. It was a small black-letter folio, containing probably no more than two thousand words, or half the number in a primary spelling book of the present day. The latest English Dictionary is the ponderous tome of Dr. J. E. Worcester, a work of nearly two thousand compactly printed royal quarto pages, and contains in its verbal opulence one hundred and four thousand English words, and probably nearly a million of definitions. Nor have we included in this estimate the elaborate tables of proper names, a single one of which, in the latest work, contains fifteen thousand names, and their pronunciation carefully expressed.

While the memorable work of Friar Galfridus was but little more than a vocabulary, with meagre definitions,—this great repository of the language, in Orthoepy, gives the useful matter of a dozen pronouncing dictionaries; in Etymolygy, records the result of the researches of an untiring and ripe scholar for thirty years in twenty languages; and in Definitions, all literature and every science have contributed to make it the best existing Dictionary.

We are desirous of calling the attention of our readers to this work of Dr. Worcester, because we believe such a dictionary is the most useful book for every one who reads and speaks the English language, that can be procured. Especially should such a work be in every family. It is an ordinary library in amount of reading matter. It is worth more than an ordinary library. But let no one suppose, because the work is so massive, and covers so vast a field,—Belles Lettres, Science, Philosophy, Natural History and the Arts,—that it is any the less accurate and elaborate in all its details, than if it had been confined to one of these departments of learning. We find, for instance, a full vocabulary of military terms, with as careful definitions as if the work was a special word book on this subject.

We are certain there can be no more useful work among a family of children, than such a Dictionary,—the best one of our language, and the result of American scholarship and American enterprise. ITG

☞ The London Times uses as an argument in favor of secession that it will establish a purely slave oligarchy, which must prevent the future extension of slavery, and thus make the Confederate States the Brazil of North America.

LEISURE HOURS.—There is room enough in human life to crowd almost every art and science in it. If we pass no day without the company of a book—we may with ease fill libraries, or empty them of their contents. The more we do, the more we can do; the more busy we are, the more leisure we have.—Hazlitt.

☞ Great complaints are made of the Enfield rifles imported from England. The barrels are crooked, the bayonets bend, and the ramrods are like rattan.

True aiming in life is like true aiming in marksmanship. We always look at the fore-sight of a rifle through the hind-sight.

THE PATENT

FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economising Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottles; it is a handsome article than the common hair brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

ROCKINGHAM CO. AGRICL SOCY.

The annual meeting of the Rockingham County Agricultural Society was held in Portsmouth on Monday, Dec. 2d. The last year's board of officers was unanimously re-elected, with the exception of the Sec retary, deceased.

President—Jas. H. Butler, Nottingham.
Vice Presidents—Moses Mann, Greenland; Levi B. Tucker, Plaistow; Joseph Blake, Raymond; Isaiah Robinson, Fremont; B. S. Clifford, Epping.
Secretary—Charles E. Lane, Exeter.
Treasurer—J. C. Hilliard, Exeter.
Trustees—John S. Godfrey, Hampton Falls; Jacob H. Sanborn, East Kingston; Frank W. Miller, Portsmouth; Darius Frink, Newington; Jewett Conner, Exeter.
Auditors—Stephen W. Dearborn, Alvah Wood, John P. P. Kelley, Exeter.

The Society voted to hold a Fair in 1862, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Sept. 17, 18 and 19, if then deemed favorable,—in such town as shall offer the greatest inducements.

SOLDIERS' CLOTHING.—Ladies of Kittery, Dover, Exeter, Rye and Durham, are now making a large proportion of the under clothing, cut by Mr. Benj. Cheever, from the materials furnished by the Navy Yard fund; but as a few more remain at Mr. Cheever's ready for making up, it is desired that those ladies having the time and disposition to aid in this patriotic work, should call for them at an early day.

"ARTEMAS WARD" IN NEWBURYPORT. We learn that Mr. Brown, the gentleman who is known so widely by his popular writings under the signature of "Artemas Ward", lectured in Newburyport on Friday evening. The audience was a very large one, and the speaker went far beyond expectations, which were by no means of a diminutive character. No one supposed that the veritable "Artemas" was less than fifty, but every one was astonished when a modest young man of twenty five ascended the platform. He had, however, "those same old winning ways" that he has in his writings, with the additional charm of a musical voice and a fine delivery. His subject was a take off of many of the foibles of the day, in a happy, mirth provoking, and, at times, very thoughtful style. His success was of the most flattering kind.—Boston Traveller.

Artemas is to appear in Portsmouth, probably on the evening of Dec. 21st.

☞ When the Hutchinson Family were here, a week or two since, they gave a Concert at Navy Yard Village, and one also at New Castle—to the great delight of good audiences. They are now travelling in Maine, and will probably give other entertainments in Portsmouth and vicinity, on their return, which will be in a short time

☞ We understand the Committee in charge of the Navy Yard fund for soldiers, will publish the names of those ladies who have so kindly given their time and services to aid the cause in Portsmouth.

☞ A sale at auction of valuable real estate will be made at No. 2 North street, this, Tuesday, morning. For particulars see advertisement.

☞ Mrs. Senter's engagement is to be a success, judging from the opening performance, Monday eve. Good performance and large house. See cast for to-night.

THE MARINE SOCIETY, of Newburyport, held their annual meeting last Thursday evening. That day happened to be the fiftieth anniversary of the election of Capt. Wm. Nichols—the distinguished privateersman—who is their oldest member. There have been great changes since he first took his seat at their board, and of all there then he alone survives.

AN ANTI-MALTHUSIAN PREMIUM.—In order to encourage the observance of the very first command ever given to humanity, we will insert gratuitously notices of births and marriages in families of our readers; and, not to increase the calamities which accompany deaths, we will henceforth observe the same rule with respect to them.—N. Y. Pine & Palm.

☞ Captain Nathaniel Gordon, of the slaver Erie, who was convicted of piracy on the 9th ult. in the United States Circuit Court at New York, was on Saturday sentenced to be hanged on Friday, Feb. 7.

☞ A bill has already been prepared, and will soon be introduced into the Legislature of Kentucky, confiscating the slave property of Kentucky rebels; and it will undoubtedly become a law.

Propose continually to yourself new objects It is only by constantly enriching your mind that you can prevent its growing poor. Sloth benumbs, enervates it; regular work excites and strengthens it—and work is always in our power.

☞ A bushel of corn, worth 10 cents in the interior of Illinois, is worth 90 cents by the time it reaches Liverpool, the increase being the cost of freight, storage, insurance &c.

☞ Rev. Dr. Richards of Litchfield, Ct., "wishes to exchange his theological library for a law library of equal worth, he having concluded to quit the pulpit for the bar."

☞ It is worthy remark that the National flag now floats over the soil of all the rebel States excepting two—Alabama and Arkansas.

CONGRESS.—A quorum of both Houses was present on Monday. In the Senate, notice was given of a bill to confiscate the property of rebels, and to give freedom to persons in the rebel slave States.

In the House, Mr. Maynard was sworn in as member from the 2d Tennessee district. Mr. Hickman presented a certificate of the Provisional Governor of North Carolina, as to the election of Mr. Foster. The case was referred to the Committee on Elections,—as was also the case of Mr. Segur, from Accomac and Northampton counties, Va. A resolution was unanimously adopted that, "whereas Col. Corcoran has, after suffering other indignities, been confined by the rebel authorities in the cell of a convicted felon, the President be requested to similarly confine James M. Mason, now in custody at Fort Warren, until Col. C. be treated as the United States have treated all prisoners taken by them in battle."

The President will communicate his message this noon.

COUNTERFEIT.—Portland, on Monday, was flooded with $10 counterfeit bills on the Waterbury, Ct., Bank,—finely executed, and an exact imitation of the genuine bills.

"How great a matter a little fire kindleth." Who would have thought, a few years since, that the little medicated sugar pill was to play so conspicuous a part in the great drama of life? But such it is, and to it the actors of the drama are looking for a continuance of that vitality that will enable them to act.

Homeopathy has now grown to such proportions that it overshadows all other systems of medical practice, and since the introduction of DOCTOR GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES, as a family medicine, which by its simplicity of arrangement, saving of money, and curative properties, has won the hearts of all. A complete assortment of all the medicines sold by J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market Square, and corner State and Pleasant streets, Portsmouth; M. S. BURR & Co., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. O. PHILLIPS, wholesale, Portland, Me; or sent per mail, on receipt of price, 25 cts. per box, to any part of the country, by PHILIP LEE, 136 William St., nov26 1wd New York.
Manual furnished free on application.

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambucl Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction 1y

GET THE BEST!

WORCESTER'S
ILLUSTRATED
ROYAL QUARTO DICTIONARY,
The Standard.

This massive volume contains ONE THOUSAND EIGHT HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FOUR pages. It is illustrated by more than ONE THOUSAND SUPERB WOOD CUTS; FIVE THOUSAND words are accurately SYNONYMIZED; the Tables of PROPER NAMES Pronounced are very full and accurate.

☞ It is the BEST DEFINING and PRONOUNCING DICTIONARY of the English Language, and contains many thousand more words and meanings than are to be found in any other similar work.

☞ It is the standard recognized by our eminent authors. It is the standard authority for the official Records and Documents and Public Printing of the United States.

☞ Every family should possess a copy, for it is a Library of itself. It is the only American Dictionary which is a safe guide. It is the only desirable Dictionary of the language.

From HON. GEO. P. MARSH, LL. D., Author of "Lectures on the English Language."

The work of Dr. Worcester is unquestionably MUCH SUPERIOR to any other general Dictionary of the language, in EVERY ONE of these particulars, and it is therefore entitled to rank FIRST among the existing helps to a complete knowledge of English philology.

From WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT and WASHINGTON IRVING.

The new authentic etymologies, the conciseness and COMPLETENESS OF THE DEFINITIONS, the nicety with which the different shades of meaning in synonyms are distinguished, and the ORIGINALITY AND ACCURACY of the work in all its departments, give it, in my judgment, the highest claims to public favor.

I concur with the opinion of Mr Bryant.—Washington Irving.

From PROF. OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES, Boston.

It is, indeed, a MONUMENTAL WORK, and one of which our city and country may be proud as long as we have a city, a country, and a language.

From CHARLES DICKENS, England.

It is A MOST REMARKABLE WORK, of which America will be justly proud, and for which all who study the English language will long have reason to respect your name, and to be grateful to you

From the REV. W. WHEWELL, D. D., Master of Trinity College, Cambridge, England, Author of "History of the Inductive Sciences."

I have repeatedly consulted the Dictionary, since it has been in my possession, and have seen reason to think it MOST COMPLETE AND EXACT than any of its predecessors.

From REV. JOSEPH BOSWORTH, D. D., F. R. S., Professor of Anglo-Saxon in Oxford University, England.

The whole work is the most comprehensive and useful that I have yet seen. It is THE MOST COMPLETE AND PRACTICAL, THE VERY BEST, as well as the cheapest English Dictionary that I know.

I find it not only rich beyond example in its vocabulary, but carefully elaborated in all the details, and THOROUGHLY TRUSTWORTHY as a guide to the most correct and elegant usage of the language.

From GEO. B. EMERSON, LL. D. Member of Mass. Board of Education.

I wish it to be known that I consider Dr. Worcester's new Dictionary the best and the MOST UNEXCEPTIONABLE DICTIONARY of the English Language with which I am acquainted.

From HON. CHARLES SUMNER.

I know no one who has done so much as you for all departments, and given to our language a Dictionary SO COMPLETE AND MANY-SIDED. It ought to be in every library, academy and school.

The lapse of a few months will be sufficient to establish Worcester's Dictionary as the acknowledged standard of reference among the scholars of England and America.—London Literary Gaz., Feb. 11, 1861.

The New-York Tribune.
NEW VOLUME.

ON the seventh of September, 1861, THE NEW-YORK WEEKLY TRIBUNE commenced the twenty-first year of its existence; THE DAILY TRIBUNE being some months older and THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE somewhat younger. For more than twenty years, this journal has laboured in vain; conductors have felt to be the cause of Humanity, Justice and Freedom, endeavoring to meliorate the condition of the oppressed and unfortunate, to honor and encourage useful exertion in whatever sphere, and, to promote by all means the moral, intellectual and material advancement of our country. It has aimed to be right rather than popular, and to espouse and commend to day the truth that others may not be willing to accept till to-morrow. In pursuing this course, mistakes have doubtless been made and faults committed; but, having in all things incited our readers to think and judge for themselves rather than adopt blindly our own or others' conclusions, we believe we may fairly claim for this journal the credit of having qualified its readers to detect and expose even its own errors. To develop the minds of the young by the most general, thorough and practical Education, and to encourage and stimulate Productive Industry, through free grants of Public Lands to actual settlers and cultivators, as also through the protection of immature or peculiarly exposed branches from too powerful foreign competition, are among the aims to which this journal has adhered through good and evil report, and which it steadfastly commends to American patriotism and philanthropy.

As to the Civil War now devastating our country, we hold it to have originated in a Rebellion more wanton, wicked, inexcusable, than was ever before known—a Rebellion in the interest of the few against the many—a Rebellion designed to raise higher the walls of caste and tighten the chains of oppression. Having done all we could without a surrender of vital principle to avoid this War, and witnessed the forbearance, meekness and long suffering with which the Federal Government sought to avert its horrors, we hold it our clear duty, with that of every other citizen, to stand by the nation and its fairly chosen rulers, and to second with all our ability their efforts to uphold the Union, the Constitution, and the supremacy of the Laws. And though the Rebellion has become, through usurpation, deception, terrorism, and spoliation, fearfully strong, we believe the American Republic far stronger, and that the unanimous, earnest efforts of loyal hearts and hands will ensure its overthrow. But on all questions affecting the objects, the scope, and duration of this most extraordinary contest, we defer to those whom the American people have clothed with authority, holding unity of purpose and of action indispensable in so grave an emergency.

In a crisis like the present, our columns must be largely engrossed with the current history of the War for the Union, and with elucidations of its most striking incidents. We shall not, however, remit that attention to Literature, to Foreign Affairs, to Agricultural Progress, to Crops, Markets, &c. &c. which has already, we trust, won for THE TRIBUNE an honorable position among its cotemporaries. Our main object is and shall be to produce a comprehensive newspaper, from which a careful reader may glean a vivid and faithful history of the time, not merely in the domain of Action, but in that of Opinion also. As our facilities for acquiring information increase with years, we trust that an improvement in the contents of our journal is perceptible, and that, in the variety and fullness of intelligence afforded, we may still hope to "make each day a critic on the last." In this hope, we solicit a continuance of the generous measure of patronage hitherto accorded to our journal.

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.
MADE BY
THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,
Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking over.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the back and both sides. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

1861. MAGEE'S PATENT COOKING STOVE. 1861.

THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE AGE!

This beautiful COOK STOVE is now offered to the public with entire confidence in its being the BEST OPERATING, MOST DURABLE and ECONOMICAL Stove ever invented, requiring one-third less Fuel than any other Stove in the market, to do the same amount of cooking; and the fire may be kept in it the entire season, without going out. The public are invited to call and examine this Stove, which is all that is necessary to convince any person that it has no superior, and cannot be beat. And we predict for it that popularity and immense sale which has attended the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE since its introduction into this market.

"Every Stove is warranted to give ENTIRE SATISFACTION in every particular."

PATENT COOKING STOVE
For Wood or Coal,

Operating on the same principle as the celebrated

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

Jones & Bolles, No. 61 MARKET ST., Portsmouth.

The Best COOK STOVE
in the Market,
after all said,
is
STEWART'S
NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,
SUMMER AND WINTER
COOKING STOVES,
For Wood or Coal,
IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the
STEWART COOK STOVE,
Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, the fire will burn and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward movable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within, or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove, from the time the article is set in until it be removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR, (of copper, with a tin casing,) containing from 10 to 30 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire box; and the fumes, the meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

But we cannot, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of THE STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new-fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE,

Now in use, which has been widely tested
FOR TWENTY YEARS,
and NOT ONE FAILS in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1861, is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Rush Scythe.

HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED, yet, as a Family Stove. For further particulars, and to see the best Stove in the market, please call on

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

ZOLLICKOFFER'S

ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL

A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF

INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO.

Of all the diseases incident to the human family, there is none, perhaps, which occasions so much intense suffering and physical disability, and none that appears to elicit so little commiseration and sympathy as RHEUMATISM in its various modifications. Medical writers, and the faculty in general, have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of compounds of one kind or other which have been presented to the public as curatives.

Rheumatism, as well as Gout (which latter is but a more aggravated form of what is commonly understood as Rheumatism), would seem to result from a peculiar diathesis or inflammatory condition of the system, originating in a diseased state of the blood. It usually affects the larger joints, as the ankle, knee, elbow, shoulders, &c, and manifests itself in Neuralgic pains, Sciatica, Lumbago, and other forms of this character.

Sometimes, through negligence, or the inadequacy of the remedies applied, it assumes a decided inflammatory feature, and then often becomes a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle, and exposing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.

The almost exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as fomentations, stimulating embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, bleeding, cupping, and leeching, have in most cases proved ineffectual, merely transmuting the disease from one part of the system to another. The ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL, on the contrary, is also not an internal remedy, and is intended to strike at the root of the disease. It is a new and original preparation, invented by the subscriber, and he can therefore recommend it as perfectly safe, as well as efficient, being wholly free from any deleterious substance whatever.

It is not pretended, however, that this Cordial will cure every reputed case of Rheumatism that may be presented, although the results have hitherto been such as would justify every one afflicted by it in making the trial; and where even the most remote benefit is discernible, it may then be safely inferred that a cure will be effected, providing the directions be steadily and perseveringly adhered to, both as to the time of taking it, and the quantity used.

It is a singular fact, that advanced age appears to be quite as susceptible to the benefits derivable from its use as youth, or those in the meridian of life. We have a number of instances of persons ranging from sixty to upwards of eighty, who, having been many years the subjects of Rheumatism, in one or other of its varied forms, have by using a few bottles been completely restored—their whole system invigorated, and, as a matter of course, their general health greatly improved. We have rarely known a return of the disease after it has been subdued by the use of this Cordial, even though the patient may have been exposed to the vicissitudes of wet weather; when, however, there have been any slight indications of "the old complaint," a few doses have produced the most happy effect.

The subscriber can furnish a long array of names of the most prominent and influential citizens, who can testify to the inestimable efficacy of this invaluable compound, and who are willing that their names should be placed before the public, in order to inform those who are afflicted with RHEUMATISM in its various phases, that there is a sovereign remedy in "ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL." Prepared only by THEODORE ZOLLICKOFFER, Chemist,

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE,

PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use,
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.

SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints

Excellent Wine for Females.

Every family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific. It is highly recommended by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

SEGAR ON THE WAR.

Hon. Joseph Segar, a conditional Union man, recently elected to Congress from the Hampton district of Virginia, has written a long and able letter to Gen. Dix, in approval of the policy of his proclamation touching negroes,—in which he pleads very strongly for the careful preservation of the sacred institution of chattel slavery. He says:

Rely upon it, the wisest policy is in the management of the war to have nothing to do with the slaves, in any manner, shape, or form, except by special stipulation with the owners.

Everybody knows, says Uncle Toby, that a large portion of our soldiers are not abolitionists. But this advice they will laugh at. They may, if report says true, meet armed slaves in deadly combat, but they must not fire upon them, except by special stipulation with the owner.

In another place he says:

Not one-tenth of the slave population can be, even by the most pointed tampering, reduced from their allegiance to their masters. Those that flee to the camp ground and the fort, are either those who were abandoned by their masters, or are of the worst and most worthless class; and many of these, as I personally know, would gladly return to the happy and loved homes of their kind owners; for, in ninety-five out of every hundred cases, the master or mistress is kind, most kind, to the colored domestic, because, independent of the promptings of common humanity, the strongest impulse of the human constitution—interest—suggests and exacts it.

Facts are against these sweeping assertions. No human being nor animal, loves slavery, or can love it: it is simply impossible. No doubt negroes love their homes; it is an instinct of their race. No doubt many of them love their masters and mistresses—but they would love them quite as well if they were free,—we think better;—but at all events, they cannot love slavery.

As to the ninety-five per cent. of kindness, either Mr. Segar lies under a great mistake, or else Mr. Jefferson did, for he says:

"The whole commerce between master and slave is a perpetual exercise of the most boisterous passions, the most unremitting despotism on the one part, and degrading submission on the other."

This surely does not look very kind, nor is this rose tinted Segar picture any fair likeness of chattel slavery as it is.

Mr. Segar has this strong sentence on the war: and coming from a Virginian and a slave holder, it is worthy of attention.

Of course, I propose no leniency inconsistent with the most vigorous prosecution of the war. As the case stands, the war must be vigorously prosecuted, or the Government surrender at discretion. There are elements of opposition at the South which can never be propitiated—with which no compromise can be had, even on concessions the most extreme. These must be coerced at whatever hazard.

He qualifies this by the following item.

But I would, by the special forbearances indicated, by observing strictly the two grand points in your Proclamation, viz.: non disturbance of peaceable citizens, and total non-interference with slaves and slavery, raise up to these mischievous and unappeasable elements of setting antagonisms at home, which will be important auxiliaries in the struggle for the salvation of the Government, and form the basis of cordial restoration in the end. One thing I know and vouch for—the antagonisms do exist, and can be turned to account if those that rule shall so will.

In the country where Gen. Dix commands, something like this is possible. In Missouri, or South Carolina, or any place where actual fighting is done, or opposing armies are moving in battle array, or where our ships take a harbor, it is not possible to avoid contact and interference with slaves and slavery.

Were Uncle Toby in active service as a military officer in South Carolina, he would not be likely to issue a long proclamation;—but if he saw the negroes running off, he would not take much more pains to stop them, than Gen. Sherman does. He would, in short, let the institution alone very severely.

On the cause of the war, Mr. Segar says:

I have, though a slave-holder, no sort of sympathy with my fellow-citizens of the South in their unfortunate movement of secession. They have made, I am convinced, a fatal mistake. They have, without reason, hazarded their great institution. When it was safe they have made it unsafe. What was upon the rock they have placed upon the sand; what was impregnable they have opened to the assaults of a thousand antagonisms. Without any interference or agency whatsoever of the Federal Government, they have provided for it a hard account even among themselves. At the end of this ruinous conflict, emancipation, as a policy, will have been immensely stimulated.

Let this shut the mouths of Northern apologists for the rebels and for slavery.

☞ It is proposed to turn the great Eastern steamship into a bath house or a floating hospital. She is considered too unlucky and unserviceable for the sea.

☞ The Memphis merchants at a meeting recommended to the banks to cut their bank bills into fractional parts for change.

THE REBELLION.

We have scattered particulars still from rebel sources, of the attack on fort Pickens. The rebels acknowledge 16 killed and wounded, and a partial destruction of the Navy Yard and Warrington, and some damage done to their steamers. The report of the disabling of the Colorado, say the dispatches, appears to be unfounded. Considerable damage was done to Fort McRae, including the caving in of the powder magazine. A train hauling provisions to the rebels was destroyed.

The Charleston Courier deprecates raising the black flag. The rebel gunboat Tuscarora was accidentally burned a few miles above Helena, on the 23 ult.

Port Royal advices state that Tatnall's attack on the 26th is not worth the name of a battle. It is understood that Beaufort will be occupied on the 29th by 5000 Federal troops, to prevent the rebels from taking possession. Preparations continue for the expedition South. It is supposed to be against Fernandina. Five thousand troops are to go under escort of the Wabash, Dale, Pawnee, Mohican, Seminole, and six or seven gunboats.

The schooner Albion, of Nassau, N. P., formerly the Lucy Waring of Baltimore, arrived at New York on Sunday, in charge of a prize crew. The Albion was captured by the U. S. Steamer Penguin after a three hours' chase, on the 25th ult., while heading for Edisto Island, near Charleston, S. C., with the intention of running the blockade. She is laden with a cargo estimated to be worth $100,000, consisting of salt, oil, tin, fruit, and also ammunition, saddles and cavalry equipments.

The following are items from Southern papers:—

"The reported removal of the capital to Nashville is incorrect. Southern papers are advocating an abolition of the elective franchise. Latest advices from Pensacola represent that the fight has not been renewed. Accounts say that had the fight continued, Fort McRae would have been destroyed. No particulars of the affair are given. The planters throughout the Southern seaboard are represented to be destroying their crops lest they should fall into the hands of the Yankees. A conspiracy of Union men in New Orleans has been discovered, which has caused many arrests and great excitement."

The N. Y. Herald's dispatch says information has been received that one clause in the treaty with the Mexican Government provides for a loan of ten millions by our Government, to be furnished in five annual sums of two millions each, in return for commercial advantages and the transit of U. S. troops through Mexican territory, guaranteed by the treaty.

Gen. McClellan is understood to have made the most urgent representations to the President in favor of a regular and systematic exchange of prisoners.

Mr. Butterfield, mate of the brig Granada, who was a prisoner at Charleston, has arrived at New York, and brings the following tough story:—"Forts on Otter and Phenix Islands were evacuated and blown up Nov. 12th. There was great excitement at Charleston, and a meeting had been held to consider the propriety of burning or surrendering the city. The Mayor was in favor of a surrender, but the Governor said it must be burned."

A Washington letter says: "Every mail brings from twenty to thirty letters to the War Department from persons stating that they can raise regiments, battalions or brigades for the different arms of service, and seeking authority to do so. The answer given is that no further authorization will be granted."

This does not look as if our resources, in men, were exhausted, or likely to be, very soon.

☞ In the Wheeling Convention, Monday, a resolution was offered, to inquire into the expediency of making the new State a free State, by gradual emancipation. The resolution was referred to the proper committee. The Virginia Legislature also met at Wheeling Monday. The Governor's message advises strong measures against domestic traitors. A resolution for a stringent confiscation law was offered.

GOING THROUGH THE MOTIONS.—In the genealogy of the Wetmore family, a work recently printed, is the following anecdote of the Rev. Izrakiah Wetmore, of Stratford, Conn.:

"When the news of the surrender of Gen. Cornwallis to Gen. Washington reached Stratford, it was on Sunday, and during the hours of worship. Word was immediately taken to the pulpit where Parson Wetmore was engaged in delivering his discourse. Drawing himself up to his fullest height, and making known the intelligence, he said 'My friends, the house of God is no place for boisterous demonstration; we will, therefore, in giving three cheers, only go through the motions.' That the motions were given with an emphasis, the reader will readily imagine. —Historical Magazine.

☞ A white woodchuck has been shot in Aroostook County, Maine. The skin is to be preserved in the State Cabinet.

☞ A Home for aged women was dedicated in Salem on Wednesday last.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

The President's Message was delivered on Tuesday, but is too long to be published entire in our crowded columns. It opens with an acknowledgement of the great cause the country has of gratitude to God for unusual good health and abundant harvests. The President then refers to the attempts of disloyal citizens to invoke foreign aid, and assures us that they "have received less patronage than they probably expected;"—this result, following from the realization, on the part of those nations, that it was the Union which made, as well our foreign, as our domestic commerce.

He, however, recommends that ample measures be adopted for maintaining the public defence on every side; that provisions be made for defending our coast line, and that some fortifications, with harbor and navigation improvement be constructed on the lines of the great lakes and rivers. He also recommends that Congress provide for the construction of a railroad connecting the loyal regions of East Tennessee and Western North Carolina, with Kentucky and other faithful parts of the Union.

The balance in the Treasury, Oct. 1, was $4,092,776.

The operations of the treasury have been conducted with signal success. Much of the national loan has been taken by citizens of the industrial classes. This fact imposes peculiar obligations to economy in disbursement and energy in action.

For the protection of our commerce, in the eastern seas especially, it is suggested it might be advisable to authorize commanders of sailing vessels to recapture prizes which pirates may make of the U. S. vessels and their cargoes,—and the consular courts established in eastern countries to adjudicate such cases.

He is unable to discern any good reasons why we should longer refuse to recognize Hayti and Liberia: being unwilling however to inaugurate a novel policy in regard to them, without the approbation of Congress, he suggests an appropriation for a Charge d'Affaires near each of those new States.

The number of volunteers already enlisted exceeds the force authorized by Congress. Mention is made of the creditable degree of discipline already attained by them, and of the excellent sanitary condition of the troops. It is recommended that provision be made for chaplains to serve at hospitals as well as with regiments—Congress not having provided for them.

The President then refers in terms of praise to the activity and energy which have characterized the operations of the Navy, of which it may almost be said that it has been created and brought into service since the war began. Additional grades in the service are recommended, in order to produce a more nearly perfect organization of the Navy.

There are at present three vacancies on the bench of the Supreme Court. Two vacancies in the rebel States have not been filled, because persons appointed in those States would not take the personal hazard of accepting the office; and, on the other hand, the President was unwilling to throw all the appointments northward, thus disabling him from doing justice to the South on the return of peace; although to transfer one of them to the North would not be unjust, if we regard territory and population.

The President recommends that some change be made in the present judicial system, which the country has "outgrown." The plan of establishing by military power temporary Courts to enforce the payment of debts in the seceded States, is referred to Congress.

The present insurrection showing that the relinquishment of that portion of the District of Columbia across the Potomac, was unwise and dangerous, it is recommended that the original boundaries be restored through negotiations with Virginia.

The relations of the government with the Indian tribes have been greatly disturbed; although the government has no official information on the subject, letters have been written to the Com. of Indian Affairs by several prominent chiefs, residing in territory held by the rebels, giving assurance of their loyalty, and expressing a wish for federal troops to protect them. It is believed the Indians will resume their former relations with the government, as soon as our troops repossess the country.

It is suggested that an Agricultural and Statistical Bureau might profitably be organized.

Reference is then made to the recent successful execution of the laws against the slave trade,—which has been confided to the Department of the Interior; also to the territories of Colorado, Dacotah, and Nevada, which have been organized during the recess, and civil administration inaugurated therein under auspices peculiarly gratifying, as the leaven of treason was found in some of them when the federal officers arrived there.

☞ On the 5th of November five large ships arrived at Liverpool from Bombay, having on board 25,461 bales of cotton.—One of the vessels made the passage in 93 days.

THIRTY SEVENTH CONGRESS.—In the Senate on Monday, notice was given that a bill will be introduced abolishing the distinction between regulars and volunteers.

In the House, a resolution was offered by Mr. Eliot of Massachusetts, that the object of the war is merely the suppression of the rebellion and the establishment of the authority of the Government; but that during its continuation, all right of property must be considered as of less importance than the safety of the State. Therefore, it is declared, the President and the officers in command under him, have the right to emancipate slaves in any military district in a state of insurrection, and it is recommended that an order be passed to use this influence against the rebels whenever it is found likely to weaken them. The House refused to lay the question on the table, but postponed it to Tuesday of next week, for further discussion. Notice has been given of a series of resolutions requesting the President to declare freedom to all slaves who leave their masters, or aid in quelling the rebellion, making compensation to all loyal citizens. Utah requests admission into the Union, under the constitution adopted last March.

The Secretary of War was roquested to state what measures had been taken to ascertain who was responsible for the defeat at Ball's Bluff.

☞ A freight train on the Grand Trunk Railroad near Gorham, N. H., which got struck in the snow Monday evening, was run into by another train which was following it, and the brakeman, Charles Short of Portland, was killed. Edward Blaisdell, the engineer, was badly injured and the firemen was slightly bruised.

THE PATENT

FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economising Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottles; it is a handsomer article than the common hair brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.—It is some work to print Daily papers; but even more difficult, we think, to deliver them to subscribers,—or, rather, to get them delivered satisfactorily. We do not doubt but we have as good Carriers as anybody; but yet, with all our care, no little vexatious disappointment continually occurs to trouble ourselves as well as our patrons. It is no small job for our carriers to leave several hundreds of papers all over town, early in the morning, to the satisfaction of all concerned; but it is as easy to do it rightly as to half do it. The bulk of our readers desire their papers early; and those whose premises are not open till late, run much risk of having their papers stolen, blown away, or spoiled by storms, unless they have a drop-box cut for them in some door or shutter.

Our Carriers are expected to open every unfastened door at subscribers' residences, and place the paper inside; if door not unfastened, then to deposit paper in the safest place without,—and always to ring the bell, or knock. At stores, when open, to place the paper on the counter; when shut, in the best place outside. Any loss of papers, on account of failure to comply with these rules, we will make good; but when we are convinced that the paper has once been thus delivered, we cannot furnish second copies.

Carriers are not allowed to employ other boys to deliver any of their papers—and for information of any instances of such breach of trust, and violation of orders, we shall be much obliged to our subscribers.

This doubtless may all seem a small matter to our readers, who of course cannot appreciate how much trouble and loss we, as well as our subscribers, are constantly subjected to, by it. But with their assistance, we will endeavor to remedy the evil somewhat.

To the Editor of the Chronicle:—One of your late issues contains a statement that the officers of the Ninth Regiment would soon be appointed by the Governor. That the men are needed; that they can be raised in this State; and that, considering the many weeks the subject has been before the Executive, it is high time to act,—few will deny.

The matter, however, to which I would especially call your attention is that this Butler Regiment will be what is called a Federal Regiment. The equipments, baggage wagons, ambulances and arms are furnished by the War Department. Concord will supply none of them, and our central cities have no concern in the organization of this body, other than what pertains to enlistment.

Now the main objections to quartering previous regiments in Portsmouth have been that the State House was in Concord and that the troops were armed and equipped there.

The character of this new body of volunteers and the auspices under which it will be constituted, do away with this argument, and nothing precludes the citizens of our city from the advantage of having the headquarters of the Ninth here, but their inaction.

Let a petition circulate, and the signers agree to furnish barracks, free of expense or of half expense,—and the rope-walk could doubtless, at present, be secured very cheaply. The fact that the troops for the sea-board expeditions are now taken from the camp grounds by transports, would be with such a pledge quite sufficient to influence the field officers in our favor. *

POLICE COURT, Monday.—Mary Sullivan was charged with being drunk on Pleasant street. Pleaded guilty, and was fined $1; costs $2.92.

Tuesday.—George Herbert, charged with keeping a gambling house, was discharged.

John Steele, on two complaints for keeping a liquor shop, was bound over in $400 till the April term.

Edward Seawards and Walter W. Snow, for truancy, were sentenced to ten days in House of Correction, and costs, $3.86 each. Seawards and Snow were afterwards found guilty on a complaint of entering a barn occupied by Messrs. Jones & Bolles, and taking therefrom a quantity of merchandise. They were sentenced to the Reform School at Manchester during their minority, and to pay costs of prosecution and three times the amount stolen.

THEATRE.—We take pleasure in recording the complete success of the great tragic actress, Mrs. Annie Senter, whose performances have awakened a decided dramatic interest in our community. Mr. Hampton made a good move in securing so sure a star. In fact, his course as a manager has been one of most untiring energy; and his efforts to give satisfaction to his patrons have met the approval of our citizens. In this he has been ably seconded by a full and talented company, who, by long experience, are enabled to convey the author's meaning in a legitimate manner.

Last night Love's Sacrifice was produced in a style which would do credit to theatres of larger pretensions. Mrs. Senter, as Margaret Elmore, was indeed brilliant—frequently holding the audience spell-bound. It was indeed thrilling and beautiful, being well supported by the entire company, who were shown to advantage.

To-night she will appear as Julia, in the play of The Hunchback. Secure seats early. *

☞ Atlantic Ex-6's are to have a social dance this, Wednesday, evening at their hall, Market street. Members and friends are invited to attend.

CAVALRY WANTED.—Our advertising columns contain a notice of Recruiting for Cavalry in this city. Only thirty men wanted: immediately.

☞ We are pained to learn that Dea. Joseph Frisbee, of Kittery, committed suicide there on Monday night, by hanging.—Mr. F. was a leading member of the Free-will Baptist Church and Society, and a leading citizen of the town, being this year one of the selectmen. His death carries grief into a large social and family circle, where he was much respected. His age was 58. He had recently lost two of his sons, and most of his property, which events had, as we understand, depressed and finally deranged his mental faculties.

A SUGGESTION.—An elderly man, who remembers how well negro sailors behaved in our last war with Great Britain, on board our ships of war and privateers, would suggest, through our columns, to Com. Dupont and other high officers of the Navy, the plan of shipping negro sailors to the amount of five or ten per cent. of the crew,—by which means five or ten per cent. of the white sailors might be landed when their services are wanted ashore, as artillery men or otherwise.

☞ We are greatly indebted to Mr. W. H. Brewster for a copy of the 5 o'clock edition of the Boston Traveller, containing the greater portion of the President's message.

☞ The N. Y. Times dispatch says that the struggle is over, and the President's conservative policy is sustained by the Cabinet with entire unanimity.

☞ Gen. Palfrey, in command of the rebels at New Orleans, is said to be a brother of the Postmaster of Boston.

"How great a matter a little fire kindleth." Who would have thought, a few years since, that the little medicated sugar pill was to play so conspicuous a part in the great drama of life? But such it is, and all of the actors of the drama are looking for a continuance of that vitality that will enable them to act.

Homeopathy has now grown to such proportions that it overshadows all other systems of medical practice, and since the introduction of DOCTOR GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES, as a family medicine, which by its simplicity of arrangement, saving of money, and curative properties, has won the hearts of all. A complete assortment of all the medicines sold by J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market Square, and corner State and Pleasant streets, Portsmouth; M. S. BURR & Co., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. O. The New-York Tribune.

NEW VOLUME

ON the eveth of September 1861, THE NEW-YORK WEEKLY TRIBUNE commenced the twenty-first year of its existence; THE DAILY TRIBUNE being some months older and THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE somewhat younger. For more than twenty years, this journal has labored in what its conductors have felt to be the cause of Humanity, Justice and Freedom, endeavoring to ameliorate the condition of the oppressed and unfortunate, to honor and encourage manly exertion in whatever sphere, and, to promote by all means the moral, intellectual and material advancement of our country. It has aimed to be right rather than popular, and to espouse and commend to-day the truth that others may not be willing to accept till to-morrow. In pursuing this course, mistakes have doubtless been made and faults committed; but, having in all things looked our readers to think and judge for themselves rather than adopt blindly our own or others' conclusions, we believe we may fairly claim for this journal the credit of having qualified its readers to detect and expose even its own errors. To develop the minds of the young by the most general, thorough and practical Education, and to encourage and elevate Productive Industry, through free grants of Public Lands to actual settlers and cultivators, as also through the protection of immature or peculiarly exposed branches from the imperial foreign competition, are among the aims to which this journal has adhered through good and evil report, and which it steadfastly commends to American patriotism and philanthropy.

As to the Civil War now devastating our country, we hold it to have originated in a fiendish conspiracy wicked, inexcusable than was ever before known—a Rebellion in the interest of the few against the many—a Rebellion designed to raise the white of caste and tighten the chains of oppression. Having done all we could without a surrender of vital principle to avoid this War, and witnessed the forbearance, meekness and long-suffering with which the Federal Government sought to avert its horrors, we hold it our clear duty, with that of every other citizen, to stand by the nation and its fairly chosen rulers, and to second with all our energies their efforts to uphold the Union, the Constitution, and the supremacy of the Laws, through the Rebellion has been inaugurated by usurpation, deception, terrorism, and spoliation, fearfully strong. We believe the American Republic far stronger, and that the unanimous, earnest support of loyal hearts and hands will ensure its overthrow. But on all questions affecting the objects, the scope, and duration of this most extraordinary contest, we defer to those whom the American people have clothed with authority, holding unity of purpose and of action indispensable in so grave an emergency.

In a crisis like the present, our columns must be largely engrossed with the current history of the War for the Union, and with elucidations of the most striking incidents. We shall not, however, remit that attention to Literature, to Foreign Affairs, to Agricultural Progress, to Crops, Markets, &c. &c. which has already, we trust, won for THE TRIBUNE an honorable position among its cotemporaries. Our main object is and shall be to produce a comprehensive newspaper, from which a careful reader may glean a vivid and faithful history of the times, not merely in the domain of Action, but in that of Opinion also. As our facilities for acquiring information increase with years, we trust that an improvement in the contents of our journal is perceptible, and that, in the variety and richness of intelligence offered, we may still hope to "make each day a critic on the last." In this hope, we solicit a continuance of the generous measure of patronage hitherto accorded to our journal.

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

No. 46 Market Street, Portsmouth.

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (for the removal of a single plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to bake the large pieces on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz.:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separate, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the back and for plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

1861. MAGEE'S PATENT COOKING STOVE. 1861.

THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE AGE!

PATENT COOKING STOVE

For Wood or Coal,

Operating on the same principle as the celebrated

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

This beautiful COOK STOVE is now offered to the public with entire confidence in its being the BEST OPERATING, MOST DURABLE and ECONOMICAL Stove ever invented, requiring one-third less Fuel than any other Stove in the market, to do the same amount of cooking; and the fire may be kept in it the entire season, without going out. The public are invited to call and examine this Stove, which is all that is necessary to convince any person that it has no superior, and cannot be beat. And we predict for it that popularity and immense sale which has attended the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE since its introduction into this market.

"Every Stove is warranted to give ENTIRE SATISFACTION in every particular."

Jones & Bolles. No. 61 MARKET ST., Portsmouth.

The Best COOK STOVE in the Market,

after all said, is

STEWART'S

NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT, SUMMER AND WINTER

COOKING STOVES,

For Wood or Coal,

IMPROVED IN 1860.

The peculiarities of the

STEWART COOK STOVE,

Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will burn and smoulder and clear, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simple closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward movable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within, or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove, from the time the article is set in until it be removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR, (of copper, with a tin casing,) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the warm heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire box; and the fumes, the meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

But we cannot, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of THE STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new-fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE,

Now in use, which has been widely tested

FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and NOT found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1861, is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED,

yet, as a Family Stove. For further particulars, and to see the best Stove in the market, please call on

ZOLLICKOFFER'S
ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL
A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF
INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO.
Of all the diseases incident to the human family, there is none, perhaps, which occasions so much intense suffering and physical disability, and none that appears to elicit so little commiseration and sympathy as RHEUMATISM in its various modifications. Medical writers, and the faculty in general, have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of compounds of one kind or other which have been presented to the public as curatives.
Rheumatism, as well as Gout (which latter is but a more aggravated form of what is commonly understood as Rheumatism), would seem to result from a peculiar diathesis or inflammatory condition of the system, originating in a deposit of the blood. It usually affects the larger joints, as the ankle, knee, elbow, shoulders, &c, and manifests itself in Neuralgic pains, Sciatica, Lumbago, and other forms of this character.
Sometimes, through negligence, or the inadequacy of the remedies applied, it assumes a decided inflammatory feature, and then often becomes a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle and exposing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.
The almost exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as lomentations, stimulating embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, bleeding, cupping, and leeching, have in most cases proved ineffectual, merely transmuting the disease from one part of the system to another. The ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL, on the contrary, is altogether an internal remedy, and is intended to strike at the root of the disease. It is a new and original preparation, invented by the subscriber, and he can therefore recommend it as perfectly safe, as well as efficient, being wholly free from any deleterious substance whatever.
It is not pretended, however, that this Cordial will cure every reputed case of Rheumatism that may be presented, although the results have hitherto been such as would justify every one afflicted by it in making the trial; and where even the most remote benefit is discoverable, it may then be safely inferred that a cure will be effected, providing the directions be steadily and perseveringly adhered to, both as to the time of taking it, and the quantity used.
It is a singular fact, that advanced age appears to be equally as susceptible to the benefits derivable from its use as youth, or the middle aged portion of life. We have a number of instances of persons ranging from sixty to upwards of eighty, who, having been in many years the subjects of Rheumatism, in one or other of its varied forms, have by using a few bottles been completely restored—their whole system invigorated, and, as a matter of course, their general health greatly improved. We have rarely known a return of the disease after it has been subdued by the use of this Cordial, even though the patient may have been exposed to the vicissitudes of wet weather; when, however, there have been any slight indications of "the old complaint," a few doses have produced the most happy effect.
The subscriber can furnish a long array of names of the most prominent and influential citizens, who can testify to the inestimable efficacy of this invaluable compound, and who are willing that their names should be placed before the public, in order to inform those who are afflicted with RHEUMATISM in its various phases, that there is a sovereign remedy in "ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL." Prepared only by THEODORE DILKS, Chemist,
N. E. cor. Pine and Sixth sts., Philadelphia.
This article has been used in this city and vicinity during the past year, by many persons; and with results that fully justify the above recommendation of the manufacturer. A fresh supply just received by

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1861.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. McClellan has issued orders for the construction of barracks for the army.—Tent exposure is too great for the troops.

The Mayor of Charleston, by proclamation, most earnestly appeals to the citizens of the city to assist the military and civic authorities in putting Charleston in a proper state of defence. A large number of laborers is called for in this proclamation.

It is asserted that the effective force at the disposal of the Government now rises to the enormous aggregate of 660,000 men, (including regulars)—of whom, in round numbers, 550,000 are infantry, 54,000 cavalry, and 20,000 artillerymen, besides sharpshooters, engineers, &c.

Not one man has been injured by the rebel cannon on the Lower Potomac since the war commenced. Those of our men who have been killed or wounded were struck by musket balls. It is found, too, that they are firing slugs instead of bullets, and that their case-shot are filled with chopped lead.

According to the report of the Secretary of the navy, one hundred and fifty-three vessels have been captured in attempting to run the blockade.

The Bowling Green Courier of the 26th ult. says that a party of rebels went to Franklin to arrest some dozen Unionists, who retired into a house firing upon the rebels, and killing one. The rebels set fire to the house and burned it, with all but two of the Unionists.

The Atalanta Confederacy states that the Governors of Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana are recommending their Legislatures to suppress unjust and unpatriotic speculations in prime necessities of life.

The rebels attacked Maj. Bowen in command of 100 cavalry, at Salem Mo., Dec. 3d, and after a sharp fight, were routed with a loss of 10 killed and 30 wounded, besides many prisoners. Our loss was about 15 killed and wounded. Maj. Bowen holds the town, and has been reinforced.

Advices from St. Thomas via Panama report that the captain of the privateer Jeff. Davis was on board the Trent when Mason and Slidell were captured. The Dutch government has concluded to allow U. S. vessels of war 48 hours to coal. The West India Mail Co., in consequence of the Trent affair, has ordered its agents to furnish no more coal to U. S. vessels. The Sumter was at Martinique, Nov. 9. The Iroquois received the news on the 12th, and started in pursuit, being within three hours' sail of her.

☞ Perley telegraphs to the Boston Journal that observations made by the federal reconnoitering parties on the other side of the Potomac indicate that the rebels are preparing for active movements.

☞ The following are the names of the new screw fast sloops of war now being built for the United States Navy: Shenandoah, Sacramento, Canandaigua, Lackawana, Monongahela, and Ticonderoga.

The names of the new naval side-wheel steamers now being constructed are the Lioga, Genessee, Paul Jones, Conemaugh, Port Royal, Sonora and Cimerone.

The screw steamers are each to carry three of Dahlgren's largest 11-inch guns, one of which is to be a 100-pounder rifled gun.

The side-wheel steamers are to carry each an 80-pounder rifle and pivot gun.

☞ An Irishman in Danbury, Conn., while engaged in digging a well, was buried by the caving in of the earth, so that only one finger was left above ground. After fifteen minutes digging, a breathing hole was opened for him, and in half an hour he was taken out well and hearty.

A volunteer who prides himself upon the domestic arts he has learned during camp life, writes home to advise the girls not to be in a hurry to marry, for the boys will return in a short time, and the girls can then get good husbands, who can cook, wash and iron, and do general housework, or work in the garden, or run errands for their wives.

☞ The mechanics and laborers employed at the Charlestown Navy Yard have lately contributed the sum of $3,307 16 in aid of poor soldiers' wives.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— William Gage Kundall, aged 21 years, son of O. L. Kendall, Esq., of Bedford, and a member of Capt. Carr's Company of the Second Regiment, died on the 25th ult., after an illness of four days, at Hooker's Head, Md. Young Kendall, but lately returned from a residence of several years in a European city, eagerly espoused the cause of the Union, and early entered active service to suppress the unholy rebellion.

—— A house in Manchester caught fire on Saturday, occasioned, it is thought, by rats carrying matches from a closet, near which the fire was, into the partition.

—— In all the districts of Manchester the public schools opened on Monday — They are generally very full, particularly the higher grade. The High School has 120 scholars; South Grammar 190; North Grammar 205; Intermediate 75.

——S. C. Baldwin, editor of the Laconia Democrat, committed suicide, Tuesday afternoon, by jumping into the Winnipissocogee river, from the railroad bridge near that village. No cause assigned.

☞ Rev. J. C. Fletcher, of Newburyport, on Sunday evening last delivered in the North Church a free lecture on Brazil and the Brazilians; and some of our prominent citizens, as will appear from the following correspondence, have requested him to deliver other lectures in our city. Mr. Fletcher interests deeply all who are privileged to listen to him, let him lecture on whatever subject he may; and his well-known ability, combined with his accurate knowledge of the countries mentioned, acquired by long residence and personal observation, will doubtless secure for him large and attentive audiences, particularly in the absence of our usual lyceum course. It will be noticed by the advertisement that the first lecture will be given on Monday evening next at the Hanover Street Chapel.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Dec. 3, 1861.

Rev. J. C. Fletcher,—Dear Sir—:

In behalf of the citizens of Portsmouth, we invite you to deliver a course of lectures in this city. Knowing that you have resided in Europe and in South America, we would respectfully suggest that you deliver here the same course which has been received with such favor in Boston, New York, and Philadelphia. We cordially unite in this invitation, and in commending you to our citizens.

Very respectfully yours,
CHARLES BURROUGHS,
W. H. Y. HACKETT,
J. M. TREDICK.

NEWBURYPORT, MASS., Dec. 3, 1861.

Rev. Dr. Burroughs, Wm. H. Y. Hackett, Esq., and Jonathan M. Tredick, Esq., Portsmouth, N. H.

Gentlemen:—I have received your cordial invitation to lecture in Portsmouth, and reply that I shall be very happy to deliver my course on those lands where I have resided and travelled. I shall, Deo volente, deliver the first lecture on Monday evening, the 9th December, on Brazil and the Brazilians in a secular point of view—as I have already given the religious aspects of that interesting Empire, in your city. The other three lectures will be on the Valley of the Amazon and the floral treasures of the tropics; Northern Italy and the Waldenses; and Naples, Pompeii and Herculaneum.

I remain, gentlemen,
very truly, your obedient servant,
J. C. FLETCHER.

☞ We learn that at a recent meeting of the South (Unitarian) Parish in this city, it was decided to postpone all action respecting the securing of a pastor, until February next.

It is reported that the new (Brodhead) Methodist Society, organized here a little more than two years since, is to be disbanded on account of the pressure of the times; and that the Independent Christian Society, now worshipping at the Hanover Street Chapel, (Rev. Mr. Waterhouse, pastor,) may take the new house erected for the Brodhead Society on Court Street.

It is a singular fact, that Rev. Mr. Patterson, of the Universalist church, although quite a young man, and having been settled here but about seven years—is yet the "father" of the pulpit in Portsmouth, having occupied his place longer than any other of our pastors. We have usually had some very long pastorates, and veteran ministers; but although we are happy to say that Rev. Dr. Burroughs and Rev. Mr. Austin yet continue their citizenship among us, and will never fail to "do what they can" for the cause of religion and humanity, yet they are settled over no religious Societies, although Dr. Burroughs frequently occupies desks of various churches in this vicinity and elsewhere.

The Unitarian Church is without a pastor; the newly-appointed pastor of the Episcopal Church does not assume his charge for several months; and Rev. Mr. Gage, of the North Church, is absent for the winter on account of his sickness.

☞ Secretary Welles is said to be making arrangements to provide against any further outrages upon shipping in British waters by rebel privateers. The Nashville will probably be overhauled by war vessels of the government.

A beautiful sentiment is contained in this toast given at a social gathering in Baltimore: "In ascending the hill of prosperity, may we never meet a friend."

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

[We published, Wednesday morning, a synopsis of so much of the Message as had been received; and complete it in this morning's paper.]

The Post Office Department has a balance in the treasury of more than half a million dollars. The revenue has been 2 per cent. less than in 1860, and the expenditure—exceeding thirteen millions—8 per cent. less.

The land sales have been very small—not exceeding two hundred thousand during the past year. The receipts of the Patent office in nine months have fallen off $100,000. The demands upon the Pension office are largely increasing.

The President does not discuss the general subject of the insurrection, but refers to his Inaugural Address and the Message at the special session, as nothing has occurred to add to, or subtract from, the principles or general purposes stated in those documents. He has adhered to the act of Congress to confiscate property used for insurrectionary purposes,—and says that in considering the policy to be adopted for suppressing the insurrection, he has been anxious and careful that the inevitable conflict shall not degenerate into a violent and remorseless revolutionary struggle.

The President then gives a general review of what has occurred since the assault upon Fort Sumter, when the last ray of hope for preserving the Union peaceably, expired. The insurgents confidently claimed a strong support from the north of Mason and Dixon's line, and the friends of the Union were not free from apprehension on the point. This, however, was soon settled definitely, and on the right side. South of the line, noble little Delaware led off right from the first; Maryland was made to seem against the Union;—but she has now given seven regiments to the cause of the Union, and none to the enemy; and her people at a regular election have sustained the Union by a large majority and a larger aggregate vote than they ever before gave. Kentucky, too, for some time in doubt, is now decidedly, and he thinks unchangeably ranged on the side of the Union. Missouri is comparatively quiet, and he believes cannot again be overrun by the insurrectionists. These three States have now not less than 40,000 soldiers in the field for the Union, while not more than a third of their citizens, "and they of doubtful whereabouts and doubtful existence," are in arms against it. After a somewhat bloody struggle of months, winter closes on the Union people of Western Virginia, leaving them masters of their own country. And the people of the eastern shore of Virginia having renewed their allegiance to the old flag, this leaves no armed insurrection north of the Potomac or east of the Chesapeake.

The retirement of Gen. Scott is alluded to in fitting terms, and the President suggests that some further marks of recognition are due to him, and to ourselves as a grateful nation.

In the appointment of his successor, it is a fortunate circumstance that neither in council or country was there, as far as was known, any difference of opinion as to the proper person to be selected. The retiring Chief repeatedly expressed his judgment in favor of McClellan for the position, and in this the nation seemed to give a unanimous concurrence.

It continues to be developed, that the insurrection is largely, if not exclusively a war upon the first principle of popular government and the right of the people.

Monarchy itself is sometimes hinted at as a possible refuge from the power of the people, and the President feels that he would scarcely be justified were to omit raising a warning voice against this approach of returning despotism.

The message concludes as follows;—

"From the first taking of our national census to the last, are seventy years, and we find our population at the end of the period eight times as great as it was at the beginning. The increase of those other things which men deem desirable has been even greater. We thus have at one view what the popular principle applied to government through the machinery of the States and the Union, has produced in a given time, and also what, if firmly maintained, it promises for the future. There are among us those who, if the Union be preserved, will live to see it contain two hundred and fifty millions of people. The struggle of to-day is not altogether for to-day. It is for a vast future also. With a firm reliance in Providence, all the more firm and earnest let us proceed in the great task which events have devolved upon us.

☞ An engagement between some of our gun-boats and the rebels, about five miles above Newport News, which took place on Friday night, Nov. 22d, has already been mentioned in the newspapers, but the credit has been given to the wrong vessels. A private letter received in this city from Mr. Henry C. Webster, executive officer of the Lockwood, states that "that vessel and the Shawnee went up and fired upon some rebel regiments, and the Richmond papers admit a loss of 12 killed and 17 wounded. The papers have stated that it was the gunboat Cambridge which went up, but this is a mistake. Mr Frederick Henderson of Portsmouth, is master's mate on board the Shawnee."

CONGRESS.—The session of Congress Tuesday, was occupied chiefly in hearing the President's Message read. In the House, Henry C. Burnett, a member from first Kentucky district, having joined the rebels, was expelled. In speaking upon the resolution for the expulsion of his colleague, Mr. Wickliffe of Kentucky predicted, that with the blessing of God, by the 25th of December, no rebel foot would be found upon the soil of that State.

In the Senate, on Wednesday, the following resolution was unanimously adopted: "Whereas, John C. Breckinridge, a member of this body, has joined the enemies of his country, and is now in arms against the government he had sworn to support,—therefore, resolved, that the traitor Breckinridge be expelled from the Senate."

In the House notice was given of a bill confiscating all property belonging to the rebels, including slaves, who shall be made freemen.

Mr. Upton introduced a bill for the restoration of Alexandria county to the District of Columbia.

A resolution was adopted, requesting the President to arrange for an exchange of prisoners; also one requesting copies of any communications from England, France and Spain, in regard to the proposed armed intervention in the affairs of Mexico.

CORN SHELLER.—We have seen, at the Franklin House, a perfect very cheap Corn Sheller, price only $5, made of wood and iron, but light and portable. It shells every kernel, without tearing the corn or breaking the cob,—and is regulated by a spring, so as to shell small ears or large, without any changing of gear. It is very simple, and of course not likely to get out of order. See advertisement.

MUSIC IN PORTSMOUTH.—Really, is there any music left among us? Hardly a singing school, and never a concert by home-performers, now a days. Where are all the jolly evening singing-schools, Parish schools, great choir rehearsals, clubs, societies, and singing-parties, which always used to be so common in old Portsmouth? Has the present generation less talent, or is it for the lack of leaders who are willing to work hard enough "for the cause?"

☞ Of the nine church organs in Portsmouth, seven are played by young ladies, and only two, we believe, by gentlemen—Mr. Pearson at St. John's, and Mr. Parkinson at the Methodist.

☞ There are deplorable accounts from Bolivia. The commanding General at La Paz had ordered the execution of over 200 persons engaged in the recent revolutionary movements. Among those to be executed are ex-President Cordova, Gen. Hermosa, a number of priests, and four Colonels.

J. B. ADAMS, Auct.

☞ Since the war broke out, the freight cars of the different railroads have been used freely upon one another's roads. The result is that none of them know where their cars are. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad have lost over forty, and have sent men all over the country, wherever a railroad runs, to hunt them up and get them home. The freight coming into Washington every morning would make one continuous string from two and a half to three miles long.

☞ A fearful cloud is brooding over Europe, which, it is feared, will soon burst forth in all its fury. France fearing bankruptcy, is making a desperate effort at retrenchment. Italy threatens Austria. The Roman question is still unsettled. Hungary is on the threshold of a revolution.—Turkey is growing weaker and weaker.—Russia promises to be shortly involved in a terrible civil war; and other complications, it is probable, will soon appear, which will endanger the peace of the entire European Continent.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.—It is some work to print Daily papers; but even more difficult, we think, to deliver them to subscribers,—or, rather, to get them delivered satisfactorily. We do not doubt but we have as good Carriers as anybody; but yet, with all our care, no little vexatious disappointment continually occurs to trouble ourselves as well as our patrons. It is no small job for our carriers to leave several hundreds of papers all over town, early in the morning, to the satisfaction of all concerned; but it is as easy to do it rightly as to half do it. The bulk of our readers desire their papers early; and those whose premises are not open till late, run much risk of having their papers stolen, blown away, or spoiled by storms, unless they have a drop-box cut for them in some door or shutter.

Our Carriers are expected to open every unfastened door at subscribers' residences, and place the paper inside; if door not unfastened, then to deposit paper in the safest place without,—and always to ring the bell, or knock. At stores, when open, to place the paper on the counter; when shut, in the best place outside. Any loss of papers, on account of failure to comply with these rules, we will make good; but when we are convinced that the paper has once been thus delivered, we cannot furnish second copies.

Carriers are not allowed to employ other boys to deliver any of their papers—and for information of any instances of such breach of trust, and violation of orders, we shall be much obliged to our subscribers.

This doubtless may all seem a small matter to our readers, who of course cannot appreciate how much trouble and loss we, as well as our subscribers, are constantly subjected to by the carriers, by their assistance, we will endeavor to remedy the evil somewhat.

ANOTHER "NOTICE."—On Wednesday we filed with our subscribers a bill of grievances, respecting the carrying of our papers. We now desire to explain to many patrons at the West part of the city, why they have been served so irregularly, and sometimes not at all, of late. We have just discovered that a boy named Benjamin Williams, living on Water Street, who has recently pretended to carry our West list, has been deceiving us concerning it, employing other boys to carry part of his papers, and cheating us and our subscribers by his laziness and inattention to the duties for which we paid him. As he meanly left us on Wednesday morning, without giving us opportunity to procure another carrier in season, we deem it but fair to explain the matter to our West End patrons. We trust the new boy whom we put on this morning, will, after he has learnt his route, conduct himself so well that we as well as our readers shall be glad the other, faithless lad, has resigned in favor of a better.

JOB AND CARD PRINTING of all sorts is promptly done at the Chronicle Office.

Marriage, Visiting or Business Cards Printed or ENGRAVED in the best manner.

All sorts of Cards, Papers, and other stock, furnished for Printing.

"How great a matter a little fire kindleth." Who would have thought, a few years since, that the little medicated sugar pill was to play so conspicuous a part in the great drama of life? But such it is, and to it the actors of the drama are looking for a continuance of that vitality that will enable them to act.

Homeopathy has now grown to such proportions that it overshadows all other systems of medical practice, and since the introduction of DOCTOR GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES, as a family medicine, which by its simplicity of arrangement, saving of money, and curative properties, has won the hearts of all. A complete assortment of all the medicines sold by J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market Square, and corner State and Pleasant streets, Portsmouth; M. S. Burns & Co., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. O. Phillips, wholesale, Portland, Me.; or sent per mail, on receipt of price, 25 cts. per box, to any part of the country, by

FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economising Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottles; it is a handsomer article than the common hair brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

American Women.

America is justly proud of its beautiful women; but how many die annually, or prematurely lose their health and youth for want of a remedy suitable to their peculiar ailments. That remedy is found in SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS. We know hundreds of cases where they have been used with the greatest success.—In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Low ness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed,—moderating excesses and removing obstructions, whether from cold or any other cause. Suffer no more anxiety or low spirits, but try them. For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 Pills, by return mail. my28dawâm

Morning Chronicle.

THE COUNTRY'S FUTURE.—We have passed through the season of fastidiousness and trifling, and we now intend to make war in war fashion. With all these successes garnered in a single month; with the rebels short of food, locked from the sea, terrorized on all their coasts, and bankrupt to the core; we can afford to regard the reverses at Manassas and Ball's Bluff as entirely retrieved, and to rely with confidence upon the ultimate triumph of the Republic. Nay, we need not hesitate to feel full pride in her as she stands! With more than five hundred thousand men in arms, and an expedition in commission which exceeds the guns and tonnage of the Great Armada, she commands the balance of trade with Europe, feeds France and England with the abundance of her harvests, constructs a telegraph from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and does not ask a foreign State or subject to help her with a dollar!

Is here a proof that the bubble of democracy has burst? Is this a power to contemn, by an unlawful tampering with its blockade? Will the invidious powers of Europe please imagine us as we shall probably be next year—a compact Power, spreading between two oceans, with near a million of instructed soldiers leaning on their arms, and perhaps three thousand guns at sea—and think!—George Wilkes.

Man is a glorious poem; each life a canto, each day a line. The melody plays feebly at first upon the trembling chords of his little heart, but with time gains power and beauty as it sweeps onward, until at last the final notes die away, far above the world amidst the melodies of heaven—Goethe.

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

No. 46 Market Street, Portsmouth.

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the back and hot 'n plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves,.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE STOVE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

1861. MAGEE'S PATENT COOKING STOVE. 1861.

THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE AGE!

PATENT COOKING STOVE

For Wood or Coal,

Operating on the same principle as the celebrated

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

This beautiful COOK STOVE is now offered to the public with entire confidence in its being the BEST OPERATING, MOST DURABLE and ECONOMICAL Stove ever invented, requiring one-third less Fuel than any other Stove in the market, to do the same amount of cooking; and the fire may be kept in it the entire season, without going out. The public are invited to call and examine this Stove, which is all that is necessary to convince any person that it has no superior, and cannot be beat. And we predict for it that popularity and immense sale which has attended the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE since its introduction into this market.

"Every Stove is warranted to give ENTIRE SATISFACTION in every particular."

Jones & Bolles, No. 61 MARKET ST., Portsmouth.

The Best COOK STOVE in the Market,

after all said, is

STEWART'S

NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT, SUMMER AND WINTER

COOKING STOVES,

For Wood or Coal,

IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the

STEWART COOK STOVE,

Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward movable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined, within, or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove, from the time the article is set in until it be removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR, (of copper, with a tin casing,) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, pastry to cool, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. ROASTING is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DRYING OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire box; and the fumes, the meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

But we cannot, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of THE STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new-fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE,

Now in use, which has been widely tested

FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and NOT found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1861, is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED, yet, as a Family Stove. For further particulars, and to see the best Stove in the market, please call on

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and we say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. ZOLLICKOFFER'S
A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF
INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO.
Of all the diseases incident to the human family, there is none, perhaps, which occasions so much intense suffering and physical disability, and none that appears to elicit so little commiseration and sympathy as RHEUMATISM in its various modifications. Medical writers, and the faculty in general, have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of compounds of one kind or other which have been presented to the public as curatives.
Rheumatism, as well as Gout (which latter is but a more aggravated form of what is commonly understood as Rheumatism) would seem to result from a peculiar diathesis or inflammatory condition of the system, originating in a diseased state of the blood. It usually affects the larger joints, as the ankle, knee, elbow, shoulders, &c., and manifests itself in Neuralgic pains, Sciatica, Lumbago, and other forms of this character.
Sometimes, through negligence, or the inadequacy of the remedies applied, it assumes a decided inflammatory feature, and then often becomes a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle, and exposing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.
The almost exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as fomentations, stimulating embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, bleeding, cupping, and leeching, have in most cases proved ineffectual, merely transmuting the disease from one part of the system to another. The ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL, on the contrary, is alto ether an internal remedy, and is intended to strike at the root of the disease. It is a new and original preparation, invented by the subscriber, and he can therefore recommend it as perfectly safe, as well as efficient, being wholly free from any deleterious substance whatever
It is not pretended, however, that this Cordial will cure every reputed case of Rheumatism that may be reported, although the results have been such as would justify every one afflicted by it in making the trial; and where even the most remote benefit is discernible, it may fairly be inferred that a cure will be effected, providing the directions be steadily and persevering-ly adhered to, both in regard to taking it, and the quantity used.
It is a singular fact, that advanced age appears to be equally susceptible to the benefits derivable from its use as youth, or those in the meridian of life. We have a number of instances of persons ranging from sixty to upwards of eighty, who, having been many years the subjects of Rheumatism, in one or other of its varied forms, have by using a few bottles been completely restored—their whole system invigorated, and, as a matter of course, their general health greatly improved. We have rarely known a return of the disease after it has been subdued by the use of this Cordial, even though the patient may have been exposed to the vicissitudes of wet weather; when, however, there have been any slight indications of "the old complaint," a few doses have produced the most happy effect.
The subscriber can furnish a long array of names of the most prominent and influential citizens, who can testify to the inestimable efficacy of this invaluable compound, and who are willing that their names should be placed before the public, in order to inform those who are afflicted with RHEUMATISM in its various phases, that there is a sovereign remedy in ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL." Prepared only by THEODORE DILKS, Chemist,
N. E. cor. Pine and Sixth sts., Philadelphia.
This article has been used in this city and vicinity during the past year, by many persons, and with results that fully justify the above recommendation of the manufacturer. A fresh supply just received by

HILTON HEAD MATTERS.

WITH NOTES BY UNCLE TOBY.

The Boston Post says:—

But few of the self-emancipated (1) negroes at Port Royal, S. C., can be made to labor even for money.(2) They are enjoying the dolce far niente—the luxury of indolence to a rare extent. There's no true sense of laudable exertion in the race.(3)

This item reminds Uncle Toby of the famous Virginia orator John Randolph, who in the bitterness of his aristocracy once said he would go a long piece out of his way to kick a sheep. In the same spirit other aristocrats would go out of the way to kick a slave or a mudsill.

This item agrees in some respects with another in the New York Journal of Commerce, and perhaps was condensed from it. The item in the J. of C. is entitled "Slaves at Hilton Head," and reads as follows.

The newspapers have published the most exaggerated accounts of the coming in of slaves at Port Royal. From several gentlemen who have recently returned from that port, we learn facts which are to be relied on as true. The negroes have come to the Fort to sell provisions, poultry, &c., and their supplies have been bought. Others have come from curiosity, and loitered around awhile, going away again when they pleased. About 150 remain in the fort, having been employed (4) to work, receiving rations and $8 a month. The total number that have come in on any and every pretext does not exceed three hundred and fifty.(5) No indication has been given of any desire to accept liberty as a permanency.(6) Their attachment to their masters and the families to which they belong does not seem to be diminished, (7) and there are large numbers, probably thousands, of them in the neighborhood, who have not come to the fort at all. (8) No reliance is placed on any information they give. The army officers begin to think there is some reason for the Southern law excluding negro testimony. The remark is very common that a negro will answer a question precisely as he thinks you want him to, unless he has an end of his own to serve, when that will determine his reply. (9) The idea of putting muskets into the hands of such men as the slaves at Port Royal, is considered ridiculous as a military proposition, and can be regarded only in the light of a proposal to incite them to murder their masters and mistresses, which no one who has seen them believes they would do. (10)—It is said that a visit to South Carolina has already opened the eyes of many gentlemen, (11) of former abolition inclinations, to some new facts in slavery.

NOTES.

1. They were not self-emancipated: Dupont's bomb-shells frightened away the master, and the slave found himself suddenly freed, at least for the present.

2. Our own correspondents, quite as reliable as any, represent enough of them ready to work, for all present purposes.

3. The negro slave, made to work, all his days, now finding the constraining power suddenly withdrawn, stands idle, or amuses himself, to a rare extent! no doubt; —and so would any white slave, in the same predicament. But then it would by no means follow, that the white race had no sense of laudable exertion!

The facts in the case are, that the only organized system of labor there for an hundred years, has been chattel slavery, which, up to last month, was undisturbed; that on the sudden irruption of the Yankees there, the task masters all ran away; and the labor all ceased at once, as a matter of course—ergo, says some wiseacre, the negro has no enterprise, because in thirty days he has not gone to work, tho' no new system of labor has been organized and tho' he does not yet know whether he is to be a chattel or a freeman!

4. This contradicts No. 2,—but it confirms what our correspondents have stated, that as many can be hired to work as are wanted.

5. That is 350 at that particular fort.—150 at work, is certainly a fair proportion of the whole.

6. This item shows the animus of the whole piece. We dare say no indication has been given by them of any desire to be permanent slaves. When permanent freedom is offered them, as it was to the slaves in Jamaica, you will find no negative votes! In the mean time, they may know better than to be making too much noise and bluster.

7. Certainly not; why should it be?

8. Yes, it is said 10,000 are living in their new found liberty, eating, drinking and being merry, with no master nor driver to molest or make afraid.

9. Have these simpletons just learned, for the first time, that lying, stealing, and deception generally, are the chronic diseases of slavery? If so, they have never heard what Jefferson says in his Notes, and what the Rev. C. C. Jones, a Southern clergyman, said in his Christian View of Slavery, given to the world in 1833.

10. This is the merest bugbear. The U. S. Secretary of War, in his instructions to Gen. Sherman tells him to use the negroes for help in any other way, except a general arming of them.

11. The "gentlemen" who furnished this were never, probably, of any "abolition inclinations," for their favorite paper seems to be the Journal of Commerce, one of the most devoted friends of the slave power.

It does not appear, however, from the article, that their eyes are opened at all!—They really have not told us much that we did not know before: but they and the Journal of Commerce have made a very poor offering at the shrine of slavery, rendering themselves ridiculous for nothing.

THE REBELLION.

Price's men in Western Missouri are plundering the houses of bedding, clothing, and provisions, retreating on the main body whenever they are pursued. A squadron of cavalry has been sent out, and will probably succeed in cutting off some of them.

The Maryland Legislature organized on Wednesday and received the Governor's Message. The Governor takes a strongly patriotic position, urging that the State do her full share towards the suppression of the rebellion, including the summary punishment of all traitors within her own borders.

Whether the rebels have removed their capital from Richmond to Nashville is uncertain. Information from the Government states the fact both ways. It may be that owing to indignation manifested by the people of Richmond, the question of removal was reconsidered by the rebel Congress.

Gen. Rosecrans and staff arrived at Wheeling, Va., on Wednesday, and he will make that city his winter head-quarters.—Several vacant rebel residences have been offered him for that purpose.

The Provost Marshal of Louisville, Ky., has ordered all the retail liquor shops to be closed at 7 o'clock every evening.

The Savannah Republican of the 2d inst. says the Unionists have evacuated Tybee Island. The schooner Waterman Huron, for Charleston, was wrecked off Tybee Friday morning. She fell into the hands of the blockaders. The cotton and provisions on Hutchinson, Fenwick and the adjoining islands, were destroyed by fire on Thursday last by the proprietors.

A dispatch dated Richmond, 2d, P. M., says a snow storm has been prevailing for the past four hours.

The rebels are reported to have twelve forts around Centreville, defended by field pieces only—no heavy guns. Four rebel regiments have lately left Centreville for Leesburg, where they have now about 15,000 men.

The detachment of the New York 5th regiment returned to Baltimore Thursday morning from the eastern shore of Virginia. Secession is dead there.

Lieut. Com. Harrell has been put in command of the Harriet Lane.

Gen. Halleck has issued lengthy general orders in reference to the affairs of the Department of the West, among them one stating that persons employed or enlisted in the service of the rebels, who commit hostility, will not be treated as prisoners of war, but be punished as criminals, and be shot or less severely punished according to the rules of war.

Ass't Surgeon Herndee, of Va., has been dismissed from the army, by direction of the President, for deserting his post: also Maj. Lynde, for a similar reason, and for subsequently surrendering his command to an inferior force of insurgents in New Mexico.

The Richmond Dispatch says that the confederates have missed it in not spending several millions for a navy, and that by energetic efforts they can get up a fleet before spring. "Our naval officers, among the most accomplished and heroic in the old service, are panting for an opportunity of distinction and usefulness upon the ocean, and we hope they will not be disappointed."

No doubt the heroes pant, and no doubt the rebels have missed it in not having a navy. But we do not see how their great men are to blame for the miss. To make a navy, you must have carpenters, sailmakers and mechanics of all trades; you must have iron and brass; and last but not least, money or credit. In all these things, the rebels, weighed in the balance, are found wanting. They have stolen a few vessels and a great many guns; and they have an abundance of perjured officers for heroes:—but sailors, for them, are scarce. To get up a fleet of any great size, before spring, they must be energetic indeed, especially if they happen to be driven in from most points on the seacoast.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the New York Times writes that "the statement of the conviction and sentence of Col. Kerrigan is utterly without truth. He has not even been tried, and I am unable to learn that the charges and specifications have yet been fully determined upon."

☞ A letter from Western Virginia says: "I am sorry to inform you that Maj. Slemmer, of Fort Pickens fame, is not expected to live. He came here to inspect the troops, but was attacked by camp fever and dysentery—which nearly all of us have had—and is now lying in a precarious condition. His wife is here with him."

There are melancholy men to whom life is only a dismal swamp, upon whose margin they walk, making signals to death to come and ferry them over the lake.

XXXVII CONGRESS.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 4.—In the Senate a resolution was passed, instructing the Committee on the District of Columbia to consider the expediency of abolishing slavery in the District, making compensation to owners. A resolution was offered by Mr. Saulsbury of Del., appointing Millard Fillmore, Franklin Pierce, Roger B. Taney, Edward Everett, George M. Dallas, Thos. M. Ewing, Horace Binney, Reverdy Johnson, John J. Crittenden, George E. Pugh, and Richard W. Thompson, a committee to confer with a similar committee on behalf of the rebels, for the preservation of the Union and the Constitution—the committee to report to Congress; active hostilities to cease while the committees are in conference, and until it is known that they cannot agree, or the terms have been rejected by Congress. The resolution was laid on the table. A resolution was offered, instructing the Committee on the Judiciary to inquire into the expediency of abolishing the present Supreme Court, and establishing another, meeting our present requirements. Notice was given of a bill to establish a line of mail steamers between San Francisco and Shanghae.

The Committee on Foreign Affairs were directed to inquire into the expediency of procuring for free negroes who may choose to emigrate, the right of settlement and citizenship on any part of this continent or any Islands to the south of the United States, such colonies to be under our protection.—The introduction of a bill to abolish slavery in the District of Columbia was objected to.

MUZZER'S DARLING.

Where is the baby? Bless his heart—
Where is muzzer's darling boy?
Does it hold its little hand apart?
The dearest, bessed boy!
And so it does! And will its little chin
Grow just as fat as butter?
And will it poke its little finger in
Its tunnin little mouth and mutter
Nicey wicey words,
Just like itsle Yaller Birds?
And so it will! and so it may,
No matter what its pappy, mammy say!
And does it wink its little eye-ses,
And when it's mad it up and cries-ses?
And does it squall like chick-a-dees
At every thing it sees?
Well it does! Why not, I pray?
Ain't it muzzer's darlin every day?
Ain't it the image of its pa-sas—
The sonny of its ma-ses?
Oh! what's the matter? Oh, my! Oh, my!
What makes my sweetest chicken ky?
Oh, nasty, uggy pin, to prick it!—
Its darlin muzzer's darlin cricket!
There! there! she's thrown it in
The fire, the kuel, wicked pin!
There! hush my boney!
Rocked in a kadle of a deep!

☞ G. P. Putnam of New York, will publish in a few days, as an extra part of the "Rebellion Record," twenty Sermons upon the Crisis, by the most popular divines, North and South. This, with other important papers, illustrative of the Southern Rebellion, will form a supplementary volume of the Record, and will give a remarkable exhibition of the pulpit talent of the country in its different views, from the most unqualified advocacy of slavery and secession, to the most radical and thorough denunciation of both.

He also proposes to publish a series of personal sketches of the "Notable Men of the Time, and the Heroes and Martyrs of the War," illustrated with fine portraits on steel, from original photographs. Not only the Generals and military leaders, but the young men of genius and promise—such as Ellsworth and Winthrop—and the leading statesmen and orators of all parties will be fully and fairly represented. The work is to be a serial, and will form a handsome volume of permanent interest.

R. H. EDDY, ESQ., BOSTON, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS.—We are glad to hear that Mr. Eddy has returned from Europe, and to the practice of his profession. There are few instances of more distinguished success in this country, than has attended the efforts of Mr. Eddy in this very difficult and complex department of business; and we take great pleasure in recording the fact, that as a patent attorney, he stands preeminent. The essential qualities required are strict integrity and honor, strong powers of analysis, and quick perception, familiar acquaintance with Patent law and Patents. All these qualities we know Mr. Eddy to possess to a remarkable degree. For more than twenty years he has devoted his entire time and energies to perfect himself in this department, and there is no man equally competent to give advice to inventors, touching the validity of claims and the patentability of inventions. In prosecuting claims denied upon imperfectly prepared specifications, he has been particularly successful, a large part of his practice being appeals in cases where patents have been refused two and three times in consequence of inexperience and incompetency in preparing papers. We confidently recommend Mr. Eddy to all who are in want of any information on the subject, and can assure them that implicit reliance may be placed in any statements he may make.

The cheerful are busy; when trouble knocks at your door or rings the bell, he will generally retire if you send him word "engaged."

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching patent business. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that I do MORE SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse"

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

THE PATENT

FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, when once an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economizing Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the grossy hair-oil bottles; it is a handsomer article than the common hair brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

This number consists of eight master workmen, viz.: Ephraim Otis, master smith; Levi Remick, master joiner; Samuel W. French, master caulker; Benjamin F. Martin, master mast maker; Samuel Rowell, master painter; Oliver Hanscom, master cooper; Greenleaf J. Prescott, master machinist; and John E. Giddings, master mason;—and 622 carpenters, 42 gun-carriage makers, 31 sawyers, 166 borers, 444 laborers, 94 smiths, 149 joiners, 118 caulkers and reamers, 27 night watchmen, 29 sail-makers, 23 mast-makers, 70 riggers, 50 masters' men, 47 painters, 35 boat-builders, 9 coopers, 102 machinists, 20 gunners' men, 6 masons, 10 writers, 16 teamsters, and 16 watchmen.

On account of transforming men from one gang to another, some names occur more than once on the roll, so that the number of men actually at work is about 2000.—Joseph Williams, Esq., rates as a quarter-man gun-carriage maker, instead of master gun carriage-maker,—but has all the responsibility of a master, and equal care.

Since about the first of May, more work has been done on the Yard than during any four years preceding. Since then, the Santee, Marion and Dale, vessels of war, have been almost re-built, fitted for sea, and sent off to join the squadrons; the Sabine refitted and sent off; the Portsmouth and Constellation ordered here, refitted and ready for sea; the sloop Kearsarge built, launched and ready for her trial trip; the Ossipee built, launched, and approaching completion; the Sebago built and launched; the Mahaska built, and about ready to launch; three more vessels already commenced, and a great deal of miscellaneous work in the ship-building line dispatched. Besides this, Mr. Williams has made thirty or 40 pivot gun-carriages, and a large number of the smaller kind; and in the machinists,' smiths,' boat-builders' and joiners' departments, a quantity of work has been turned out which would astonish the beholder. Surely if this is rated as a second-class Yard, it only illustrates the truth of the saying that things are not always called by their right names.

☞ The Secretary of the Navy has awarded the contract for machinery for one of the newsteam sloops-of-war now building at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, to the Taunton, Mass., Locomotive Manufacturing Co.

The steamer State of Maine, from Fall River, arrived at Boston on Wednesday, and took from the Ohio 320 seamen for the sloop-of war Constellation, now at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, and nearly ready for sea.

☞ Mrs. Annie Senter is to have a benefit this evening, and the Temple should be crowded. During her brief engagement in this city, which will terminate to-morrow evening, Mrs. Senter has been successful in an eminent degree, and has shown how justly her is the high reputation which she has acquired as a tragic actress. That reputation she has fully maintained, and her audiences have been fortunate in the opportunity to witness such impersonations as they are seldom favored with in this city. The company, too, as a whole, is the best that has visited Portsmouth for years, and the plays are put upon the stage in a style which is extremely creditable to the manager.

☞ A new volume of the Scientific American commences in January. It is a valuable work of reference, and, as it contains the only official list of patent claims published in this country, every number should be preserved. The paper is published every Saturday, by the well-known patent agents, Messrs. Munn & Co., who have conducted the paper during the past sixteen years. It is furnished at $2 per annum, with twenty-five per cent. discount for clubs of ten. It forms a yearly volume of 832 pages quarto, with an immense number of original engravings of patented machines, valuable inventions, and objects of scientific interest. The publishers will furnish specimen copies, and a pamphlet of advice to inventors, free of charge. Address Munn & Co., 37 Park Row, New York City.

☞ Cars run on the Candia Branch as far as Youngville, Tuesday morning, 2 1-2 miles from Manchester, lessening the stage route five miles a day.

GET THE BEST!

WORCESTER'S
ILLUSTRATED
ROYAL QUARTO DICTIONARY,
The Standard.

This massive volume contains ONE THOUSAND EIGHT HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FOUR pages. It is illustrated by more than ONE THOUSAND SUPERB WOOD CUTS: FIVE THOUSAND words are accented; 53 NUNMIZED; the Tables of PROPER NAMES Pronounced are very full and accurate.

☞ It is the BEST DEFINING and PRONOUNCING DICTIONARY of the English Language, and contains many thousand more words and meanings than are to be found in any other similar work.

☞ It is the standard recognized by our eminent authors. It is the standard authority for the Official Records and Documents and Public Printing of the United States.

☞ Every family should possess a copy, for it is a library of itself. It is the only American Dictionary which is a safe guide. It is the only desirable Dictionary of the language.

From HON. GEO. P. MARSH, LL. D., Author of "Lectures on the English Language."

The work of Dr. Worcester is unquestionably MUCH SUPERIOR to any other general Dictionary of the language, for EVERY ONE of these particulars, and it is therefore entitled to rank FIRST among the existing helps to a complete knowledge of English philology.

From WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT and WASHINGTON IRVING.

The new authentic etymologies, the conciseness and COMPLETENESS OF THE DEFINITIONS, the nicety with which the different shades of meaning in synonyms are distinguished, and the CONSCIENTIOUS ACCURACY of the work in all its departments, give it, in my judgment, the highest claims to public favor.

I concur with the opinion of Mr. Bryant.—Washington Irving.

From PROF. OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES, Boston.

It is, indeed, a MONUMENTAL WORK, and one of which our city and country may be proud so long as we have a city, a country, and a language.

From CHARLES DICKENS, England.

IT IS A MOST REMARKABLE WORK, of which America will be justly proud, and for which all who study the English language will long have reason to respect your name, and to be grateful to you.

From the REV. W. WHEWELL, D. D., Master of Trinity College, Cambridge, England, Author of "History of the Inductive Sciences."

I have repeatedly consulted the Dictionary, since it has been in my possession, and have seen reason to think it MORE COMPLETE AND EXACT than any of its predecessors.

From REV. JOSEPH BOSWORTH, D. D., F. R. S., Professor of Anglo-Saxon in Oxford University, England.

The whole work is the most comprehensive and useful that I have yet seen. It is THE MOST COMPLETE AND PRACTICAL, THE VERY BEST, as well as the cheapest English Dictionary that I know.

I find it not only rich beyond example in its vocabulary, but carefully elaborated in all the details, and THOROUGHLY TRUSTWORTHY as a guide to the most correct and elegant usage of the language.

From GEO. B. EMERSON, LL. D., Member of Mass. Board of Education.

I wish it to be known that I consider Dr. Worcester's new Dictionary the best and the MOST UNEXCEPTIONABLE DICTIONARY of the English Language with which I am acquainted.

From HON. CHARLES SUMNER.

I know no one who has done so much as you for all departments, and given to our language a Dictionary SO COMPLETE AND MANY-SIDED. It ought to be in every library, academy and school.

The lapse of a few months will be sufficient to establish Worcester's Dictionary as the acknowledged standard of reference among the scholars of England and America.—London Literary Gaz., Feb. 11, 1861

PRESENTATION.

The members of Company A., Biddeford Artillery, stationed at Fort McClary presented on Wednesday last, a beautiful sword to Lieut. Joseph A. Edwards, as a token of their esteem and friendship. A large company were in attendance to witness the ceremonies, which were very interesting. The sword was presented by Serjt. G. E. Bean, who made the following remarks:—

Lieut. Edwards, Sir:—I have been appointed by my fellow soldiers here present, to present you this sword, as a token of their love and respect for you, and of their loyalty to their country. Friends, although it is embarrassing to me to make a speech on this occasion, yet, sharing with my fellow soldiers in their deep respect for our Lieutenant, I do it with pleasure. In presenting to you this sword I would also express a wish from the Company (and I hope it is the wish of all present) that it ever shall be raised in the defence of our country and our country's rights. And if ever the fortunes of war should give you a chance to strike a blow for your country, strike for the right and strike with all your might: and when old age has palsied your arm, and you can no longer wield it in the defence of your country, hand it down to your children; they in turn shall hand it down to their children's children, until away in the dim future, we can imagine this sword looked upon as a relic of olden times; when our posterity shall look upon it and say, when: are now those whose names are written on this scroll? Yes, please to receive it, and ever keep it and ever think kindly of those who so gladly give it, and may God bless and protect you and all who shall raise their arm in the defence of our beloved country, and may you live yet many years to remember this day and many other happy days spent in Fort McClary."

Lieut. Edwards responded in a neat and patriotic speech as follows:—

"Gentlemen, I am surprised at the reception of this beautiful and useful gift.—Coming so unexpectedly, I hardly know how to acknowledge it; but rest assured, gentlemen, that you receive my heartfelt thanks for so elegant a present. I appreciate the kindly feelings and good will that you show to me, in thus presenting to me this token of your regard and friendship; and I shall always remember you with deep gratitude and love. I shall cherish and preserve this gift, for it will serve to bind still closer and firmer the ties and bonds of friendship between us, and in after years will remind me of you and the cause which we are here to maintain;—and wherever Liberty needs my sevices, it shall be used, and in this great struggle of our country for Union and the Constitution, it shall, with the help of this strong arm, be used in its defence."

After the presentation the entire company joined in singing the Star Spangled Banner and Old Acquaintance. The company are much indebted to Sergeant Townsend, who was intrumental in arranging the affair.

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires, or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the back and hot plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation".

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

1861. MAGEE'S PATENT COOKING STOVE. 1861.

THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE AGE!

PATENT COOKING STOVE

For Wood or Coal,

Operating on the same principle as the celebrated

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

This beautiful COOK STOVE is now offered to the public with entire confidence in its being the BEST OPERATING, MOST DURABLE and ECONOMICAL Stove ever invented, requiring one-third less Fuel than any other Stove in the market, to do the same amount of cooking; and the fire may be kept in it the entire season, without going out. The public are invited to call and examine this Stove, which is all that is necessary to convince any person that it has no superior, and cannot be beat. And we predict for it that popularity and immense sale which has attended the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE since its introduction into this market.

"Every Stove is warranted to give ENTIRE SATISFACTION in every particular."

Jones & Bolles, No. 61 MARKET ST., Portsmouth.

The Best COOK STOVE in the Market,

after all said, is

STEWART'S

NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT, SUMMER AND WINTER

COOKING STOVES,

For Wood or Coal,

IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the

STEWART COOK STOVE,

Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward movable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within, or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove, from the time the article is set in until it be removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR, (of copper, with a tin casing,) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c

4. Also, by the slid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire box; and the fumes, the meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

But we cannot, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of THE STEWART STOVE. It is no experimental, or new-fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE,

Now in use, which has been widely tested

FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and now found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1861, is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED,

yet, as a Family Stove. For further particulars, and to see the best Stove in the market, please call on

A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF
INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO.
Of all the diseases incident to the human family, there is none, perhaps, which occasions so much intense suffering and physical disability, and none that appears to elicit so little commiseration and sympathy as RHEUMATISM in its various modifications. Medical writers, and the faculty in general, have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of compounds of one kind or other which have been presented to the public as curatives.
Rheumatism, as well as Gout (which latter is but a more aggravated form of what is commonly understood as Rheumatism), would seem to result from a peculiar diathesis or inflammatory condition of the system, originating in a diseased state of the blood. It usually affects the larger joints, as the ankle, knee, elbow, shoulders, &c., and manifests itself in Neuralgic pains, Sciatica, Lumbago, and other forms of this character.
Sometimes, through negligence, or the inadequacy of the remedies applied, it assumes a decided inflammatory nature, and then often becomes a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle, and exposing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.
The almost exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as fomentations, stimulating embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, bleeding, cupping, and leeching, have in most cases proved ineffectual, merely transmitting the disease from one part of the system to another. The ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL, on the contrary, is altogether an internal remedy, and is intended to strike at the root of the disease. It is a new and original preparation, invented by the subscriber, and he can therefore recommend it as perfectly safe, as well as efficient, being wholly free from any deleterious substance whatever.
It is not pretended, however, that this Cordial will cure every reputed case of Rheumatism that may be presented, although the results have hitherto been such as would justify every one afflicted by this malady in trying the remedy, and where the most remote benefit is discoverable, it may then be fairly inferred that a cure will be effected, providing the directions for its administration are strictly adhered to, both as to the time of taking it, and the quantity used.
It is a singular fact, that advanced age appears to be equally as susceptible to the benefits derivable from its use as youth, or those in the meridian of life. It usually affords ease to aged persons ranging from sixty to upwards of eighty, who, having been many years the subjects of Rheumatism, in one or other of its varied forms, have by using a few bottles been completely restored—their whole system invigorated, and as a matter of course, their general health greatly improved. We have rarely known a return of the disease after it has been subdued by the use of this Cordial, even though the patient may have been exposed to the vicissitudes of wet weather; when, however, there have been any slight indications of "the old complaint," a few doses have produced the most happy effect.
The subscriber can furnish a long array of names of the most prominent and influential citizens, who can testify to the inestimable efficacy of this invaluable compound, and who are willing that their names should be placed before the public, in order to inform those who are afflicted with RHEUMATISM in its various phases, that there is a sovereign remedy in "ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI RHEUMATIC CORDIAL." Prepared only by THEODORE DILKS, Chemist,
N. E. cor. Pine and Sixth sts., Philadelphia.
This article has been used in this city and vicinity during the past year, by many persons; and with results that fully justify the above recommendation of the manufacturer. A fresh supply just received by

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1861.

BRAZIL.

One of most important nations and most substantial governments in South America, is the Empire of Brazil. With a rich soil and good climate, it has a wide domain, of about 3,000,000 square miles; possesses stores of gold and diamonds; and raises and exports immense quantities of coffee and sugar. There are also large exports of hides, woods, dye-stuffs, &c. The population in 1856 was nearly 8,000,000. Of this population it is estimated that 2,000,000 are whites, 1,121,000 mixed free people (mulattoes, mestizoes, &c.), 800,000 civilized Indians, 600,000 mixed slave population, and 2,000,000 blacks or African slaves.—The estimates of the free mixed races and of the Indians are only approximations, and may be inaccurate. The different classes of the Brazilian population merit, perhaps, a fuller description. At the discovery of the country by the Dutch and Portuguese adventurers, it possessed probably not far from 2,000,000 inhabitants, belonging to a great number of tribes, and speaking different languages. The Indian of the Amazon could not understand the Indian of the Francisco, nor could either comprehend the language of the Indians of the interior. It is stated by Hervas that there were 150 different languages spoken in the limits of the present empire. Great numbers of these Indians were reduced to slavery by the Portuguese, but they found them, for the most part, unprofitable slaves, and accordingly they imported negroes from their African possessions. The inhabitants now consist of: 1, Europeans, a large proportion of whom are Portuguese, though France and Germany have, of late years, contributed a fair share; 2, white persons born in the country, and who call themselves Brazilians; 3, mulattoes, embracing all the shades of color, in persons descended from the white and negro races; 4, mamalucoes, the descendants of whites and Indians; 5, cabocolos, or domesticated Indians; 6, wild Indians; 7, free negroes born in Brazil; 8, manumitted Africans; 9, mestizoes, or zambos, a mixed race between Indians and negroes. The Brazilians are generally a temperate people, and attain a good degree of longevity; but climate hastens female development, and produces the early decay of the beauty of the sex. The Brazilian ladies are skilful and devoted players of the mandoline, and passionately fond of music generally, and of dancing the voluptuous Batueca and light contra-dances. The ladies of the higher classes are rarely seen in public. The tendency generally is toward exclusiveness, and women are not in the habit of making their appearance in the presence of strangers. The jealousy of the men is great, and the Brazilian hearthstone is guarded almost with oriental vigilance.—Slavery in Brazil, though often attended with circumstances of individual hardship, has not produced the distinctions of caste which attend it in most other countries.—The laws of the country render manumission easy; and once emancipated, the negro finds every calling and office as fully open to him as to the white. In the army or navy, in commerce, agriculture, or manufactures, in social or political position, color is no barrier to the highest success. It results from this, that the danger of insurrection does not exist; the humblest slave looks forward with hope, not only to future freedom, but to wealth and power. Within the past few years vigorous efforts have been made by the government, in connection with England and France, to put a stop to the slave trade, and with considerable success. The established religion of the empire is Roman Catholic, but others are tolerated.

Mr. Fletcher, in his lively book, "Brazil and the Brazilians," makes those interesting statements, from which we may take hints.

The Brazilian Constitution recognizes, neither directly nor indirectly, color as a basis of civil rights; hence, once free, the black man or the mulatto, if he possess energy and talent, can rise to a social position from which his race in North America is debarred. Until 1850, when the slave-trade was effectually put down, it was considered cheaper, on the country-plantations, to use up a slave in five or seven years and purchase another, than to take care of him.—This I had, in the interior, from intelligent native Brazilians, and my own observation has confirmed it. But, since the inhuman traffic with Africa has ceased, the price of slaves has been enhanced, and the selfish motives for taking greater care of them have been increased. Those in the city are treated better than those on the plantations: they seem more cheerful, more full of fun, and have greater opportunities for freeing themselves.

In Brazil every thing is in favor of freedom;* and such are the facilities for the slave to emancipate himself, and, when emancipated, if he possess the proper qualifications, to ascend to higher eminences than those of a mere free black, that full will be written against slavery in this Empire before another half century rolls around.—Some of the most intelligent men that I met with in Brazil—men educated at Paris and Coimbra—were of African descent, whose ancestors were slaves. Thus, if a man have freedom, money, and merit, no matter how black may be his skin, no place in society is refused him. It is surprising also to observe the ambition and the advancement of some of these men with negro blood in their veins.

By the Brazilian laws, a slave can go before a magistrate, have his price fixed, and can purchase himself; and I was informed that a man of mental endowments, even if he had been a slave, would be debarred from no official station, however high, unless it might be that of Imperial Senator.

From the ease of emancipation, and the near equality of races, it results that the danger of insurrection does not and cannot exist.

We may infer that the habits of servants were the same in Solomon's time as in Brazil at the present day, judging by the amount of trouble they have always given their mistresses. A lady of high rank in Brazil declared to me that she had entirely lost her health in the interesting occupation of scolding negresses, of whom she possessed some scores, and knew not what occupation to give them in order to keep them out of mischief. A lady of noble family one day asked a friend of mine if she knew any one who desired to give out washing, as she (the senhora) had nine lazy servants at home for whom there was no employment. She piteously told her story, saying, "We make it a principle not to sell our slaves, and they are the torment of my life, for I cannot find enough work to keep them out of idleness and mischief." Another, a marchioness, said that her blacks "would be the death of her."

Slavery in Brazil, setting aside any moral consideration of the question, is the same which we find the "world over,"—viz: It is an expensive institution, and is, in every way, poor economy. When I have looked upon the listless work of the bondman, and have watched the weariness of flesh to the owner, I have sometimes thought the latter was most to be pitied. Any cruelty that may be inflicted on the blacks by the whites is amply avenged by the vices introduced in families, and the troublesome anxiety given to masters.

* A Southern lady (the wife of the very popular United States Consul at Rio during the administration of President Pierce) used to say that "the very paradise of the negroes was Brazil;" for there they possess a warm climate, and, if they choose, may make their way up in the world, in a manner which can never be the case in the United States.

NEW YORK CITY, Dec. 4.

Dear Chronicle:—A city election, like the advent of a baby in a family, is quite an epoch. We passed through it yesterday, and are doing as well as could be expected.

As your dispatches have told you, our city election resulted in favor of the Republicans, and by the first returns Geo. Opdyke is our Mayor for the next year. The contest was so close, however,—being decided by a plurality of only 400 in a vote of 73,000,—that the friends of the Tammany Hall candidate propose to test the election, claiming that several hundred votes, belonging to their candidates, were thrown out. If the investigation is carried out, and all the illegal voting examined, it will be a pretty "expose," and the three parties will be like killkenny cats, with nothing left but their tails—and it will be a sad tale to relate when the investigation is concluded.

I think, however, the result will not differ materially from the original returns, and that the rule of the Republicans will thus be inaugurated. The reported successful candidate is senior partner in the Cloth importing house of George Opdyke & Co., and was lately one of an investigating committee on some shoddy Contracts, and was charged with having passed goods of an inferior quality to the sample. His friends claim, however, that the sample was at fault, for which he was not accountable.

He is also charged with being an abolitionist, and in favor of the increase of taxes.

These charges are asserted and contradicted with equal vehemence, but with no more satisfactory result than the converse of the little insects who have the endless dispute as to whether "Katy did or didn't."

Mr. Opdyke's political career is neither long nor brilliant. He was a member of the lower branch of the State Legislature in 1858, and in '59 unsuccessfully competed with Wood and Havemeyer for the Mayoralty.

The election passed off very quietly, compared with many preceding ones. Two men were stabbed in the "Bloody Sixth," and free fights took place in the 1st and 8th Wards.

As the day drew towards its close, and the three votes were found to run almost even, the excitement increased, and crowds flocked to the headquarters. Mozart Hall was not so jubilant as usual, as Wood did not run so well as was expected, while Tammany was elated at the success of Gunther. Rynders was making one of his characteristic speeches at 10 o'clock, and remarked that he saw "some respectable persons before him, and some d——d fools, but he hoped none of them were fools enough to vote for that d——d rascal, Fernando Wood." I haven't room to put in all the oaths; a few will suffice to give you a general idea. I left immediately, fearful of being classed among the former.

Those persons who, on hearing of a "great muss" at the Park, rushed down, eager to see an election day riot, found it was only the great hippopot-a-mus at Barnum's.

Politically yours,

NEWINGTON.

☞ There is a reported defalcation in the Sagadahock Bank, Bath, Me., and its bills are thrown out by the Portland banks.

THE REBELLION.

The indomitable Parson Brownlow has been heard from. At the head of 3000 men, he attacked the rebels at Morristown, Tenn., on the 1st inst., and routed them completely. Even the rebels acknowledge themselves defeated, and that with heavy loss. They call it the first Union victory of the campaign.

The following items are from the Memphis papers of the 2d inst., and must be taken with due allowance:—

"Maj. Gen. George Crittenden has arrived at Knoxville, to take command of the Confederate forces. The Memphis Avalanche reports that the rebel Raines had cut Montgomery's force to pieces, taking Montgomery a prisoner. Ben McCulloch had surrounded Gen. Sigel at Sedalia, and it was believed that the latter would be forced to surrender or be cut to pieces.—Gen. Price had crossed Gasconade River en route for St. Louis It is believed he would have an army of 60,000 men before reaching St. Louis. Many military companies in New Orleans are volunteering for thirty days service at Columbus, Ky. Patriotic planters on the seaboard are hourly applying the torch to their crops of cotton and rice. Along the coast there is one sheet of flame and smoke."

The rebel leaders are becoming alarmed for the safety of Memphis, and are calling for men to defend it. The planters are sending their cotton to northern Alabama for safety.

An order addressed to Gen. McClellan by Sec. Seward, forbids the arrest and imprisonment of negroes in Washington, on the ground of their being fugitive slaves. The fugitives from the Southwest constantly arriving at St. Louis, are cared for by the Sanitary Commission, and supplied with money, clothing and provisions. Many of them go to Illinois, where they endeavor to support themselves by labor.

The Secretary of the Treasury has issued instructions for taking possession and disposing of the crops and other property liable to confiscation in the seceding States, by agents to be appointed for that purpose.

The New York Chamber of Commerce has adopted a memorial requesting the President to send two or more armed vessels to the coast of Europe, for the protection of our commerce against privateers.

The Norfolk Day Book publishes Gov Letcher's message, who urges a forward movement of the rebels, and says the banks of the Potomac is not the place to fight, but the banks of the Susquehanna.

A dispatch from Savannah, 4th inst., to the Richmond papers says, "Sixteen federal ships are inside the bar, and an attack on Fort Pulaski is hourly expected."

The documents from the State Department, submitted to Congress, show that the United States early offered to accept the Paris declaration in reference to privateering, but England and France desired to make an exception in favor of Jeff. Davis' Confederacy, to which the government refused to yield. The documents show that England has no sympathy for the United States; France not cordial, but less offensive than England; Austria, Prussia, Russia and Italy, cordial and friendly; Spain, though not aggressive, has an evident leaning towards the rebels.

A federal regiment at Port Royal has made a reconnoisance, going within 20 miles of Charleston, capturing three batteries and spiking three guns. A large amount of cotton was found ready for shipping, but the rebels were destroying much of it.

60,000 stand of arms, purchased in Belgium, have arrived at New York.

McCulloch has gone into winter quarters near Bentonville, Ark.

☞ The Washington Correspondent of the Boston Herald says, under date of Dec. 4,—

"The most exciting topic here to-night is the resolution introduced in Congress today for the emancipation of slaves in the District of Columbia.

"Senator Wilson's expose of the condition of the inmates of the city jails of Washington has startled the people. The details of the imprisonment of sixty contrabands, most of whom have escaped from secesh masters, were given by him.—One slave belonging to the estate of the late John A. Washington, and one owned by Mrs. Archer, of Richmond, are confined in a cell with four murderers. The jail contains two hundred and thirty prisoners, fourteen of whom are awaiting trial on charge of murder, the largest number ever confined in the jail at one time.

"Congress has determined to revolutionize the courts and other matters in Washington."

That's right. The Compromise Congress of ten or a dozen years ago, abolished the slave trade in the District. The present Congress ought by all means to abolish slavery there, as a nuisance. Senator Saulsbury and Mr. May, would probably vote against the measure,—but no good reasons can be offered against it.

The same writer says, Senator Trumbull's bill confiscating all slaves owned by rebels, and protecting those belonging to loyalists in the Southern States, will be the settled policy of Congress.

A young lady of California, recently broke her neck while resisting an attempt of a young man to kiss her. This furnishes a fearful warning to young ladies.—Prov. Post.

XXXVII CONGRESS.

THURSDAY Dec. 5.—In the Senate the bill for confiscating the property and freeing the slaves of the rebels was introduced, and referred to the Judiciary Committee.—A resolution was offered, to appoint a committee of three, to investigate the disasters at Bull Run and Edwards Ferry, but it was postponed to Monday. Mr. Wilson of Mass. gave notice of a bill to abolish sutlers in the volunteer regiments. A resolution to inquire into the case of Col. Miles, was passed.

In the House, vacancies in the standing committees were filled. A bill was introduced, providing for a board of commissioners to codify the general statutes of the United States. Both Houses adjourned to Monday.

☞ By the official returns in Massachusetts Gov. Andrew has 65,261 votes; Davis 31,264; scattering 796. Andrew has a plurality of over 33,000 and more than a two-thirds vote. Lieut. Gov. Nesmith has 64,916; Bailey 29,718; scattering 236.—Nesmith has almost 35,000 plurality, and more than a two-thirds vote.

Don't think of knocking out another person's brains because he differs in opinion from you. It will be as rational to knock yourself on the head, because you differ from yourself ten years ago.

THE PATENT

FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economising Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottles; it is a handsomer article than the common hair brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

☞ The subject of Mr. Fletcher's first lecture, to be delivered on Monday evening next, is one of much importance. We are not only interested in the wonderful tropic scenery and curious manners and customs found in Brazil—all of which Mr. Fletcher can describe to us con amore; but we wish to hear of the vast openings that there are for American trade in the hitherto neglected country of Brazil. Mr. Fletcher mentioned incidentally to his audience on Sunday evening, while speaking of Brazil in a religious point of view, that Portsmouth alone could easily furnish two millions dollars' worth of her products annually to Brazil. Would that some among us might become the commercial victors in this new and inviting field.

Mr. Fletcher's long residence in Brazil enables him to speak confidently and correctly concerning her productions and her wants, and he is so easy and graceful a speaker, that it is a real pleasure to listen to him. He throws such a charm around that almost unknown country, that in less exciting times than these, when one's patriotism is not so easily aroused, even an American might almost wish to become a Brazilian.

HERMANN'S SUCCESS.—The eminently artistic performances in magic of the great "prestidigitateur," Hermann, at the Boston Theatre, have achieved a decided success, to which the record of public amusements in Boston presents no parallel. We mean (says the Transcript) that no magician, however gifted or popular,—and we have had many, such as Macallister, Anderson and Blitz, who could rightfully boast of both qualifications,—has ever succeeded in exciting such public interest for his entertainments as attends Mr. Hermann's. The audiences are each counted by thousands, and are composed, too, of the most intelligent and fashionable people of Boston.—The magician's repertoire is so plethoric that a repetition of a performance is never required.

Some excitement was occasioned in Rockport, Mass., on Sunday evening, by a lecture from Parker Pillsbury in one of the churches of that place. A fireball was thrown thro' the window and powder was burned in the church, and in the rush of people a lamp was broken. Parker is not a child to be frightened easily, and he continued and finished what he had to say. On Monday the disaffected portion of the parish were seen going away from the church with arms full of bibles and singing books, and old cushions, and dusty carpets. There was no riot but a gallon of rum among the crowd would have produced one.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ Gen Fremont firmly declines all attempts of his friends in New York to make him the recipient of a public ovation.

☞ The Kennebec is closed and navigation stopped.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A lady, residing in Farmington, has invested $750 in the State Loan. She has had to rely upon her own industry for support, and has taken this, the whole of her money, from a good investment, from the sole motive of aiding the State in crushing the rebellion. She firmly declared that the State should have her money if she knew she should never receive a cent's compensation.

—— The following members of the Fourth N. H. Regiment died at Port Royal on Monday:

Charles L. Seavey of Co. C. (Capt. Sleeper,) of congestion of the lungs, aged 18. He belonged in Chester. James Madison Allen of Co. G, (Capt. Flynn,) aged 23.—His mother resides in Boston. Corporal Charles P. Stevens of Co. F, (Capt. Orin Brown,) of heart disease, aged 25. He was a resident of Great Falls.

—— Dr. John H. Clark of Amherst, has been appointed Assistant Surgeon in the United States navy.

—— The Coos Republican states that the Sixth Regiment, in camp at Keene, is to leave the State Dec 11th. The Seventh, at Manchester, will leave next week. The mustering in is nearly complete, and the equipments almost all distributed. The Eighth is not full, but will be able to leave the State within the present month. It is camped beside the Seventh at Manchester.

—— Monday morning, Dec. 2 there was at least a foot of snow on the ground at Lancaster

—— Col. Marston assumed command of the 2d Reigment Nov. 18th. Lt. Farr of Littleton, and Lt. Sides of Portsmouth, have been sick with fevers, but are improving.

—— The Manchester City Council has reduced the salary of the Mayor from $1000 to $700. Propositions to reduce the salaries of the City Marshal and Assistant Marshal are under consideration.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

And for the speedy cure of the following complaints: Scrofulous and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tetter, and all Skin Diseases.

OHLAND, Ind., 6th June, 1859.

J. C. AYER & CO. Gentlemen: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous Infection, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it would out in Ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it formed inward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any things. In fact, the disorder grew worse. At length I was rejoiced to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your reputation that any thing you made must be good. I sent to Cincinnati and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses of a teaspoonful over a month, and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skin soon began to form under the scab, which after a while fell off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has gone from my system. You can well believe that I feel what I am saying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the apostles of the age, and remain ever gratefully. Yours,

ALFRED B. TALLEY.

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Dropsy.

Dr. Robert M. Preble writes from Salem, N. Y., 12th Sept., 1858, that he has cured an inveterate case of Erysipelas, which threatened to terminate fatally, by the persevering use of our Sarsaparilla, and also a dangerous Malignant Erysipelas by large doses of the Syrup; says he thinks the common Erysipelas by it constantly.

Bronchocele, Goitre or Swelled Neck.

Zebulon Sloan of Prospect, Tenn, writes: "Three bottles of your Sarsaparilla cured me of a bronchocele or swelling on the neck, which I had suffered from over two years."

Leucorrhœa or Whites, Ovarian Tumor, Uterine Ulcerations, Female Diseases.

Dr. J. B. S. Channing, of New York City, writes: "I most cheerfully comply with the request of your agent in saying I have found your Sarsaparilla a most excellent alterative in the numerous complaints for which we employ such a remedy, but especially in Female Diseases of the Scrofulous diathesis. I have cured many inveterate cases of Leucorrhœa by it, and some where the complaint was caused by ulceration of the uterus. The ulceration itself was soon cured. Nothing within my knowledge equals it for these female complaints."

Edward S. Marrow, of Newbury, Ala., writes, "A dangerous cancerous tumor on one of the females in my family, which had defied all the skill of regular medical practitioners, at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physician thought nothing but extirpation could afford relief, but he consented that if your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before cutting, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptoms of this disease were left."

Syphilis and Mercurial Diseases.

NEW ORLEANS, 25th August, 1858.

Dr. J. C. AYER: Sir, I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you cases of cures I have realized with your Sarsaparilla.

I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Venereal and Mercurial Disease. One of my patients had Syphilitic ulcers in his throat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla, steadily taken, cured him in five weeks. Another was attacked by severe lameness in his ankle joint, and the disease had eaten away a considerable part of it, so that I believe the disorder would soon reach his brain and kill him. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla, the ulcers healed, and he is well again, but of course without some disfiguration to his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disorder by mercury was suffering from this poison in her bones. They had become so sensitive to the weather that on a damp day she suffered excruciating pains in her joints and bones. She, too, was cured entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its formula, which your agent gave me, that this preparation, from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkable results with it have not surprised me.

Pastorally yours, G. V. LARIMER, M. D.

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint.

INDEPENDENCE, Fenton Co., Va., 6th July, 1859.

DR. J. C. AYER: Sir, I have been afflicted with a painful chronic Rheumatism for a long time, which baffled the skill of physicians, and I found no use in spite of all the remedies I could find, until I tried your Sarsaparilla. One bottle cured me in two weeks, and restored my general health so much that I am far better than before I was attacked. I think it a wonderful medicine. J. FREAM.

John Y. Gutchell, of St. Louis, writes: "I have been afflicted for years with an eruption on my face, which destroyed my health. I tried every thing, and every thing failing to relieve me; and I have been a broken-down man for some years from no other cause than derangement of the Liver. My beloved friend, the Rev. Mr. Espy, advised me to try your Sarsaparilla, because he said he knew you, and anything you made was worth trying. I tried it, and by the 40th bottle was cured me, and has purified my blood so as to make a new man of me. I feel young again. The best that can be said of you is not half good enough."

Scirrhus, Cancer Tumors, Enlargement, Ulceration, Caries and Exfoliation of the Bones.

A great variety of cases have been reported to us where cures of these formidable maladies have followed the use of this remedy, but our space here will not admit them. Some of them may be found in our American Almanac, which the agents below named are pleased to furnish gratis to all who call for them.

Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Melancholy, Neuralgia

Many remarkable cures of these affections have been made by the alterative power of this medicine. It stimulates the vital functions into vigorous action, and thus overcomes disorders which would be supposed beyond its reach. Such a remedy has long been required by the multitudes of the people, and we are confident that this will do for them all that medicine can do.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the Relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the Disease.

This is a remedy so universally known to surpass any other for the cure of throat and lung complaints, that it is deemed now in publishing the evidence of its virtues, the accumulated evidence for coughs and colds, and its truly wonderful cures of pulmonary disease, have made it known throughout the civilized nations of the earth. Even among the communities, or even families, among them who have not some personal experience of its effects—some trophy to their medal of its victory over the subtle and dangerous disorders of the throat and lungs. And know the dreadful fatality of these disorders, and yet they know, too, the efficacy of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them that it has now all the virtues that it did have when making the cures which have won so strongly upon the confidence of mankind.

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long; or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time. The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz.:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and air jackets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves,.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE STOVE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

1861. MAGEE'S PATENT COOKING STOVE. 1861.

THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE AGE!

PATENT COOKING STOVE

For Wood or Coal,

Operating on the same principle as the celebrated

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

Jones & Bolles, No. 61 MARKET ST., Portsmouth.

This beautiful COOK STOVE is now offered to the public with entire confidence in its being the BEST OPERATING, MOST DURABLE and ECONOMICAL Stove ever invented, requiring one-third less Fuel than any other Stove in the market, to do the same amount of cooking; and the fire may be kept in it the entire season, without going out. The public are invited to call and examine this Stove, which is all that is necessary to convince any person that it has no superior, and cannot be beat. And we predict for it that popularity and immense sale which has attended the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE since its introduction into this market.

"Every Stove is warranted to give ENTIRE SATISFACTION in every particular."

The Best COOK STOVE in the Market,

after all said,

is

STEWART'S

NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT, SUMMER AND WINTER

COOKING STOVES,

For Wood or Coal,

IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the

STEWART COOK STOVE,

Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward movable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within, or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove, from the time the article is set in until it be removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR, (of copper, with a tin coating,) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire box; and the former, the moveable, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

But we cannot, and need not, enumerate in detail the excellencies of THE STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new-fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE,

Now in use, which has been widely tested

FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and nor found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and sold for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1861, is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED, yet, as a Family Stove. For further particulars, and to see the best Stove in the market, please call on

LUMBAGO.
Of all the diseases incident to the human family, there is none, perhaps, which occasions so much intense suffering and physical disability, and none that appears to elicit so little commiseration and sympathy as RHEUMATISM in its various modifications. Medical writers, and the faculty in general, have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of compounds of one kind or other which have been proposed to the public as curatives.
Rheumatism, as well as Gout (which latter is but a more aggravated form of what is commonly understood as Rheumatism), would seem to result from a peculiar diathesis or inflammatory condition of the blood, originating in a diseased state of the blood. It usually affects the larger joints, as the ankle, knee, elbow, shoulders, &c., and manifests itself in Neuralgic pains, Sciatica, Lumbago, and other forms of this character.
Sometimes, through neglect, it assumes a decided inflammatory feature, and then often becomes a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle, and causing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.
The almost exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as fomentations, stimulating embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, bleeding, cupping, and leeching, have in most cases proved ineffectual, merely transmuting the disease from one part of the system to another. The ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL, on the contrary, is altogether an internal remedy, and is intended to strike at the root of the disease. It is a new and original preparation, invented by the subscriber, and he can therefore recommend it as perfectly safe, as well as efficient, being wholly free from any deleterious substance whatever.
It is not pretended, however, that this Cordial will cure every reputed case of Rheumatism that may be presented, although the results have hitherto been such as would justify every one afflicted by it in making the trial; and where even the most remote benefit is discoverable, it may then be fairly inferred that a cure will be effected, providing the directions be steadily and perseveringly adhered to, both as to the time of taking it, and the quantity used.
It is a singular fact, that advanced age appears to be equally as susceptible to the benefits derivable from its use as youth, or those in the prime of life. We have a number of instances of persons ranging from sixty to upwards of eighty, who, having had many years the subjects of Rheumatism, in one or other of its varied forms, have by using a few bottles been completely restored—their whole system invigorated, and, as a matter of course, their general health greatly improved. We have rarely known a return of the disease after it has been subdued by the use of this Cordial, even though the patient may have been exposed to the vicissitudes of wet weather; when, however, there have been any slight indications of "the old complaint," a few doses have produced the most happy effect.
The subscriber can furnish a long array of names of the most prominent and influential citizens, who can testify to the inestimable efficacy of this invaluable compound, and who are willing that their names should be placed before the public, in order to inform those who are afflicted with RHEUMATISM in its various phases, that there is a sovereign remedy in "ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI RHEUMATIC CORDIAL." Prepared only by THEODORE BIRKS, Chemist,
N. E. cor. Pine and Sixth sts., Philadelphia
This article has been used in this city and vicinity during the past year, by many persons; and with results that fully justify the above recommendation of the manufacturer. A fresh supply just received by

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1861.

THE REBELLION.

Some New Jersey soldiers stretched two telegraph wires across a road, one as high as the forehead of a man on horseback, the other lower, and then quietly awaited the result. Presently half a company of rebel cavalry dashed upon a charge. The wires unseated two or three and threw the rest into confusion. Our men rushed up and emptied six saddles and took one prisoner. Eight of the party who were in ambush completed the rout, and emptied two more saddles. Eight horses galloped within our lines.

Reinforcements have sailed for Port Royal and Fort Pickens.

The rebel Congress on the 3d inst. passed a resolution of thanks to Gen. Price for his active services in Missouri during the campaign.

The rebel Hay, with 300 men, visited Independence, Mo., on Monday, and seized all the horses belonging to the Pacific Stage Company, and made a general confiscation of the property of the Union citizens.

Gen. Prentiss made a speech to a large crowd of citizens at St. Joseph, Mo., on Wednesday, in which he said: "As God is my judge, every secessionist in this city shall take an oath of allegiance to the U. S. Government, and to support the stars and stripes, or I will set them to work on the trenches of Fort Smith. All persons who are hereafter found expressing secession sentiments shall take the oath."

Steamer Pink Barble, from Frankfort, Ky. with cotton mill machinery, proceeding to Nashville by permit of Sec. Chase, was seized by the rebels at Fort Donaldson.—Her machinery has been taken to Nashville.

Gen. Patterson has called for a court of inquiry.

The Federal troops still occupy Sedalia, Rolla and Tipton, Mo. So far from Ben McCulloch surrounding Gen. Sigel at Sedalia, the latter would be rejoiced to get within reach of him.

It is thought that the whole rebel force on the Upper Potomac are preparing to retire.

The Tribune's dispatch says Gen. Wool recently held a council with his officers, and they unanimously came to the conclusion that a demonstration ought to be made upon Richmond from Fortress Monroe. The subject is before the government.

A late Mobile Advertiser reports the capture of three rebel steamers by the Federal fleet.

A Port Royal letter says that the report about a dispatch from Jeff. Davis, announcing the destination of our fleet, found in Fort Walker, is unfounded.

☞ The rebels grumble about the want of mail facilities; we remember Mr. Penitentiary Mason said last Spring, in the Senate Chamber, in reply to some remarks of Mr. Anthony of Rhode Island, that the United States Government were still permitted, permitted! PERMITTED!! to carry the mails through the seceding States; since that gracious permission was withdrawn, the rebels have with equal grace permitted, permitted! PERMITTED!! the contractors to carry the mails and either whistle for their pay or take it in Confederate bonds, worth two cents per pound to be ground over into clean paper.

☞ The Secretary of War has just issued an order, directing that all officers and volunteers, who are or shall be taken prisoners or reported missing, be transferred to skeleton regiments to be formed by the Governors of their respective States, and to consist entirely of such men.

☞ The English papers state that recently, at Middlesex, two young ladies, who gave feigned names, and were reported to be wealthy, highly educated and well connected, had pleaded guilty to the charge of stealing books from a shop. The Judge, who considered that their position should have taught them better conduct, sentenced them to imprisonment with hard labor, for nine months.

☞ San Francisco dates are to the 5th inst., by telegraph. A very severe storm had prevailed for four days, extending eastward to Salt Lake. About $400,000 have been subscribed to the National Loan in the State of California. The President's Message was received by telegraph and published in full at 8 o'clock on Thursday morning. Steamer Cortez, from Oregon, brought $120,000 in gold.

OUR NAVAL STRENGTH.—By the report of Secretary Welles it appears that our Naval force now embraces a total of 264 vessels, 2,257 guns, and 218,016 tons; the aggregate number of seamen in service now is 22,000; last March there were but 7,600 men, 42 vessels, and 555 guns.

It is perilous to make a chasm in human affections; not that they gape so long and wide, but that they close so soon.

BOSTON, Dec. 6th, 1861.

Dear Chronicle:—There is not much in Boston to write about this week. The President's message and accompanying documents offered abundant matter for discussion, but beyond that nothing has occurred to excite us. Our municipal election occurs next week, and will probably pass without much interest being manifested by our citizens. The candidates for the office of Mayor are both very worthy aspirants, and were both new men it might be difficult to decide which should have the office. Both are among the most eminent in their respective vocations, the one a mechanic, the other a merchant. Mayor Wightman is the senior partner of the firm of J. M. Wightman & Son, Philosophical Instrument manufacturers; has always been a patron of the Mechanic Arts, and at times president of the Mechanics' Charitable Association.—His competitor, Mr. Tobey, is partner in one of our largest mercantile houses, and president of the Board of Trade. But, acting on the principal of letting well enough alone, it is probable that the voters of Boston will re-elect Mayor Wightman, he having given proof in the year past of his peculiar fitness for the office, and by his efficiency made friends of those who were at first bitterly opposed to him.

Boston rejoices with New York that the Wood dynasty in the latter city is at last at an end. It has been a burning shame to New York that she has so long been ruled by such a clique as Fernando Wood and his friends.

To-day your correspondent had the pleasure of examining the new Union gun, recommended to the government by Gen. Butler. It must be a terrible engine in action. The barrel is similar to that of a rifle, though considerably larger, carrying a half-ounce ball, and is firmly fixed on an iron plate which is placed on a rather small gun carriage. This plate resting on a rocker, can be elevated or depressed or turned in any direction at the will of the operator.

The repeating principle is similar to that of Colt's revolver, viz: a revolving cylinder at the end of the barrel on which the hammer plays. The cartridges are placed in a hopper over the cylinder, and by simply turning a crank they fall into place and are discharged at the rate of sixty or more a minute. A company is being recruited to operate with this weapon in Gen Butler's division. The gun is to be drawn by horses on the march and by hand power in action.

The Opera Company proved a great attraction last week. They filled the Academy of Music to overflowing at every performance, and only imperative engagements called them away so soon. M'd'me Borchard, the new debutante, met with rather a cold reception, but soon worked her way into public favor. Her voice is very round and beautiful, very sympathetic and powerful, though not of great compass. We shall hope to hear her again. Mr. Herrman, the renowned Prestidigitateur, made his first appearance at the Academy of Music, Monday evening. He is drawing immense audiences. There are some who pretend to say that his works are not all of this world, though the closest observers fail to discover the caudal appendage or the cloven foot.—He rolls two live rabbits into one under your very nose: takes merchandize enough out of a man's hat to stock a good sized store: makes one pack of cards into twenty, and twenty into one again: and performs hundreds of other tricks equally wonderful, all without apparatus of any kind.

The recent cold weather has in many localities brought on the skating fever again. We shall have lively times while the ice is good.

BOSTON.

☞ A bold and adroit robbery, was committed between four and five o'clock Friday afternoon, in the store of Messrs. Shrove, Stanwood & Co., Boston. A large and valuable collection of diamonds, jewelry, &c., the property of Hermann, the renowned Prestidigitateur which were presented to him by crowned heads and others in Europe, had been on exhibition in a case in the store several days. The lids in the case were fastened down by small brass plates, screwed on to both the lid and the body of the case. Some party had managed to remove a screw, raise the lid and extract from the bottom of the case a small bag containing a set of diamond sleeve buttons, six diamond vest buttons and four diamond studs, making twelve pieces, each of which comprised a diamond weighing about one carat. The articles stolen were valued at between $600 and $700, and were presented to Hermann by the Emperor of Austria.—What is a most singular circumstance, is that the robbery must have been committed when no less than fourteen or fifteen persons were around the case.

☞ Godey's Lady's Book for January, 1862, contains sixty engravings, three steel plates, over one hundred pages, sixty-five articles, and double extension fashion-plate, containing nine figures, elegantly engraved and colored. This number begins the volume. Price $3 per year; liberal discount for large numbers, and to clubs. Godey is most prompt and liberal with his exchanges, and prompt and exact every way.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Capt. D. B. Nelson of Manchester, commander of the First Company of New England Cavalry, has been appointed Major of the Regiment.

—— Wm. B. Peters has recovered $2635 from the city of Concord, for injuries sustained by being thrown from his wagon, which was upset by coming in contact with the embankment of a reservoir in the course of construction in that city.

—— The Journal of Agriculture says the family of W. H. Noyes, of Windham have been greatly afflicted. Four years since the mother and wife died with typhoid fever. One year ago the father died of a similar disease. This season the 2nd son, 26 years of age, also fell a victim, and was soon followed by the eldest, 30 years of age. Since that time another son of 23, and a girl of 22, have gone to their long home.—Three others are now dangerously sick in the same house. They were to all appearance a healthy family, of temperate habits, and had not been previously visited with sickness. The location of their dwelling was high and thought to be very healthy.

—— Samuel C. Baldwin, editor of the Laconia Democrat, who committed suicide on Monday last by drowning, was a native of Newport, and served an apprenticeship on a paper published by Mr. Cyrus Barton and edited by Edmund Burke. Subsequently he was connected with papers in Lowell and Plymouth, Mass., and represented the latter town in the Mass. Legislature. Since '51 he has been editor of the Laconia Democrat. For a few days before committing the suicide Mr. Baldwin complained of a bad headache. He made his will on the day of his death, bequeathing a handsome property to his wife. When he left his house, he said he was going to take a walk and see if it would not make his head feel better. He took a rope with him and first visited the woods, but went to a railroad bridge near by and after taking the contents of a vial of laudanum, jumped into the water and was drowned. His body was recovered a few hours afterwards. He was about forty-five years of age, and leaves a wife and six children. His sudden insanity and self destruction greatly surprise all who knew him, for his habits of life were always most temperate.

—— The Statesman says "the religious establishment in Nashua, known as St. Luke's Church, have commenced the erection of a house of worship. The land was given by the Nashua Manufacturing company."

—— The Ossipee Register says that Rev. T. L. Ambrose, missionary in Persia, is now on a visit to his friends in that town.

—— The Statesman asserts that a Northern lady who has just escaped from the South, "gives a glowing account of the outrages to which Union people are subjected at the South."

—— Nathaniel B. Jones, of Nashua, conductor on the Lowell and Nashua freight train, was knocked off the train at Bancroft's Bridge, in Tyngsboro', about five o'clock, Wednesday morning, and so badly injured that he lived only four or five hours. He was forty years old, and leaves a wife and six children. He had been in the employ of the road about eighteen years.

FIGURES NEVER LIE.—The Secretary of War asserts that the effective representation of our State, in the national army, is 9600 men.

The government at Concord have already sent, as a part of our quota of troops, four regiments of infantry, one light battery, two companies of sharpshooters, and two companies of cavalry.

They are now raising three more regiments of infantry, one company of sharpshooters, and two companies of cavalry.

These will number, at a maximum figure, and therefore overestimated,—

Infantry,	7,168
Artillery,	156
Cavalry,	380
Sharpshooters,	303

In all, 8,007 men. By General Order No. 8, the Adjutant General, Anthony Colby, intimates that with these, our quota is completed.

Thus, between the estimates of the State authorities and the War Department, there is a deficit of 1,593 men.

Was Gov. Berry in search of these at his last visit to Washington?

VIOLE'S UNION EXTRACTS.—Messrs. Henshaw, Faulkner & Cushing, Boston, have just introduced a novelty in the market, which cannot fail to be popular. Three fragrant and fashionable perfumes—Patchouly, New Mown Hay, and Jockey Club—are put up in neat and attractive bottles, which are arranged round a common centre, like the bottles of a castor. The whole is inclosed in a paper box. The articles are of different sizes, and the perfumes are the choicest. They combine use and ornament, and will be extensively used as presents during the holiday season. For sale at 143 Washington st., Boston.

A lively imagination is a great gift, provided education tutors it. If not, it is nothing but a soil equally luxuriant for all kinds of seeds.

☞ One of the ton of Toronto the other night issued cards of invitation for a select re-union at his mansion. Some malicious person got hold of one of the cards, counterfeited it, and sent copies to Tom, Dick and Harry, all of whom were totally unknown to the party giver, and the last kind of persons he would wish to welcome to his parlors. The finale is described as excruciating to thegentleman.

☞ Over three thousand bales of rags have just been received in London from Japan, and three hundred bales from China. The English paper-makers take up the stock.

THE PATENT
FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.
In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economising Preparations for the Hair.
THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. At some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.
To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—
It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottles; it is a handsomer article than the common hair-brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

BRAZIL AND THE BRAZILIANS.—A contemporary in a neighboring city thus speaks of the lecture on Brazil and the Brazilians "Rev. J. C. Fletcher's lecture on the above subject, was one of the best of the course, and in broad contrast with the commonplace trash we have had on several occasions. The lecturer has that rare faculty, so essential to all who aim at instructing an audience, of bringing before the minds of his hearers a living picture of the scenes he portrays. There is true poetry in his vivid descriptions of that land, in which he mingles the charms and beauties of nature, and the scenes of every day life."

Mr. Fletcher will deliver the above lecture at Hanover street Chapel, this evening. The subjects of the other lectures are equally inviting. Few are there who will not wish to listen to the accounts of the fertile Amazonian region and the floral treasures of the tropics;—few who will not delight to go with him to the homes of free Northern Italy;—to visit with him the Waldenses, those heroic primitive christians of the Cottian Alps, to catch every word as he describes that sunny Italy of the South, where Naples like a queen of beauty, sits upon the borders of the blue Mediterranean.

☞ Mrs. Annie Senter's benefit on Friday evening was a brilliant success, as the large audience abundantly testified. Being called out, at the conclusion of the first play, she expressed her thanks in a most graceful manner, and retired amidst a tumult of applause.

Her success as an actress during her engagement here, has been so decided and complete, that manager Hampton has been induced to effect a re-engagement with her, and she appears to-night in the Colleen Bawn. We trust his efforts, and those of his company, will meet a fitting response from our citizens. *

NEWSPAPER DIRECTOR.—Among the beautiful and ingenious machinery in use for the aid and economy of printers, is a new patent machine for directing newspapers—almost indispensable for those having very large lists. The price is $100, which will soon be saved in labor and speed in getting papers into the mails. The Chronicle and Gazette will need one soon, we expect. S. R. Niles, the well-known Boston Advertising Agent, is agent for the Director.

The picture of it looks, on the circular before us, like a sewing machine; and we at first thought the title was "Newspaper Detector"—and at once began to think of bogus subscribers—especially one man in this city to whom we have (inadvertently) been sending our Weekly for about three years, without pay, and who yesterday sent us word to "get our pay as we can." We don't know as we can get it at all, but if he don't pay us our full price very soon, we will advertise him in our paper to the amount of his bill—and perhaps that will suit us as well as him, at any rate. The best Newspaper Detector, however, is Mr. Cash in advance, with whom we are cultivating closer and closer acquaintance each year.

PRESERVED BIRDS, SHELLS, ETC.—It will be seen that an extensive collection of Preserved Birds, Shells, etc. will be offered at the store of Mr. J. B. Adams this week. They are beautiful mantle and parlor ornaments, such as are rarely to be found here, and are appropriate for the holiday or any other season.

SPECTACLES FOR LITTLE EYES.—This is a neat holiday volume of 200 pages, published by Walker, Wise & Co., Boston, and for sale at Mr. Foster's bookstore in Portsmouth. It bears the motto, "We look before and after." In the guise of a juvenile story, many interesting items of New England history are given, with descriptions of many noteworthy objects in Boston and elsewhere in New England.

☞ Artemas Ward lectured in Salem, Wednesday night, and spoke before the Lyceum in Concord on Thursday night.—He had a full house at the Tremont Temple, Friday night, on the occasion of his first appearance in Boston.

☞ If you have seen a man misbehave once, do not from thence conclude him a fool. If you find he has been in a mistake in one particular, do not at once conclude him void of understanding. By that way of judging, you can entertain a favorable opinion of no man upon earth, nor even of yourself.

An English auctioneer advertises a Northumbrian estate for sale, and describes it as the "throne of the graces, modelled in the grandeur of nature, upon that fairest of streams, the Coquet, and forming a panorama of sylvan scenery that centuries since sheltered the anchovite, and gave to local history so interesting a page."

The late Lord Chancellor Campbell, a few days before his death, met a barrister who had grown very stout of late, and remarked "Why, Mr.——, you are getting as fat as a porpoise." "Fit company, my lord, for the great seal," was the ready repartee.

☞ The two last mails from this country to Mexico, via Havana, were stopped en route. It is supposed that the Spanish authorities have detained them.

☞ The 2d Maine Regt. has made itself more comfortable than any other one of the seventy or eighty regiments now on "the sacred soil." Nearly every tent has been elevated over a log basement, with a fire-place, and the guard-house is a stronghold built of massive logs, in real Tippecanoe fashion. Those Maine boys know how to keep warm.

☞ The Richmond Enquirer contains an advertisement for three hundred negro men—slaves or freemen—to be employed in the construction of military roads for the use of the army of the Potomac. Twenty dollars per month and one ration per day are offered to each man.

☞ A letter from Port Royal says that one quartermaster, on his own responsibility, set 40 cotton gins at work. The negroes receive three cents a pound for all marketable cotton and have gone into the business with enthusiasm.

☞ Com. Levy, owner of the Monticello estate in Virginia, has prepared his will, in which he leaves the Jefferson homestead, and $100,000 to keep it in repair, as a legacy to the United States.

☞ Not only was the American Chapel in Paris open on the Fast day appointed by President Lincoln, but several French churches were open for public prayers for the preservation of the American Union.

☞ Three churches in Springfield, Mass., have adopted the plan of having but one sermon on Sunday, giving up the afternoon to the Sabbath school.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

And for the speedy cure of the following complaints:

Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases.

OXFORD, Ind., 6th June, 1859.

J. C. AYER & Co. Gents: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infection, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it broke out in blotches on my hands and arms; sometimes it formed inward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and baffled all human skill. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any thing. In fact, the disorder grew worse. At length I was induced to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your reputation that of any thing you made must be good. I went to Richmond and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses of a teaspoonful over a month, and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skin soon began to form under the scab, which after a while fell off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has entirely left my system. I believe well believe that I feel what I know saying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the apostles of the age, and remain ever gratefully,

Yours,

ALFRED B. TALLEY.

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Dropsy.

Dr. Robert M. Preble writes from Salem, N. Y., 12th Sept., 1859, that he has cured an inveterate case of Dropsy, which threatened to terminate fatally, by the persevering use of our Sarsaparilla, and also a dangerous Malignant Erysipelas by large doses of the same; says he cures the common Eruptions by it constantly.

Bronchocele, Goitre or Swelled Neck.

Zebulon Shaw of Pecinovo, Texas, writes: "Three bottles of your Sarsaparilla cured me from a Goitre—a hideous swelling on the neck, which I had suffered from over two years."

Leucorrhea or Whites, Ovarian Tumor, Uterine Ulceration, Female Diseases.

Dr. J. B. S. Channing, of New York City, writes: "I most cheerfully comply with the request of your agent in saying I have found your Sarsaparilla a most excellent alterative in the numerous complaints for which we employ such a remedy, but especially in Female Diseases of the Scrofulous diathesis. I have cured many inveterate cases of Leucorrhea by it, and some where the complaint was caused by ulceration of the uterus. The ulceration itself was soon cured. Nothing within my knowledge equals it for these female derangements."

Edward S. Marrow, of Newbury, Ala., writes, "A dangerous sarcoma tumor on my neck, which had baffled all the remedies we could employ, has at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physicians thought nothing but extirpation could afford relief, but he advised the trial of your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before cutting, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptom of the disease remained."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

NEW ORLEANS, 25th August, 1859.

Dr. J. C. AYER: Sir, I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effects I have realized with your Sarsaparilla.

I was cured with it, in my practice, of most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Venereal and Mercurial Diseases. One of my patients had Syphilitic ulcers in his throat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla, steadily taken, cured him in five weeks. Another had Syphilitic secondary symptoms in his nose, and the ulceration had eaten away a considerable part of it, so that I believe the disorder would soon reach his brain and destroy him. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla; the ulcers healed, and he is well again, not of course without some disfiguration to his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disorder by mercury was suffering from this poison in her bones. They had become so sensitive to the weather that she could foretell a change by excruciating pain in her joints and bones. She, too, was cured entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its formula, which your agent gave me, that this Preparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkable results with it have not surprised me.

Fraternally yours, G. V. LARIMER, M. D.

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint.

INDEPENDENCE, Preston Co., Va., 6th July, 1859.

Dr. J. C. AYER: Sir, I have been afflicted with a painful chronic Rheumatism, which for a long time, baffled the skill of physicians, and stuck to me in spite of all the remedies I could find, until I tried your Sarsaparilla. One bottle cured me in two weeks, and restored my general health so much that I am far better than before I was attacked. I think it a wonderful medicine. J. FREAM.

Jules Y. Gotchell, of St. Louis, writes: "I have been afflicted for years with an enlargement of the liver, which destroyed my health. I tried every thing, and every thing failed to relieve me; and I have been a broken-down man for some years from no other cause than the enlargement of the Liver. My beloved pastor, the Rev. Mr. Espy, advised me to try your Sarsaparilla, because he said he knew you, and knew that you would not deceive. By the fifth bottle of God it has cured me, and has so purified my blood as to make a new man of me. I feel young again. The best thing I can by self of you is not half good enough."

Scirrhus, Cancer Tumor, Enlargement, Ulceration, Caries and Exfoliation of the Bones.

A great variety of cases have been reported to us where cures of these formidable complaints have resulted from the use of this remedy, but our space here will not admit them. Some of them may be found in our American Almanac, which the agents below named are pleased to furnish gratis to all who call for them.

Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Melancholy, Neuralgia.

Many remarkable cures of these affections have been made by the alterative power of this sarsaparilla. It stimulates the vital functions into vigorous action, and thus over-comes disorders which would be supposed beyond its reach. Such a remedy has long been desired by the medical people, and we are confident that this will do for them all that medicine can do.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the Relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced Stages of the Disease.

This is a remedy so universally known to surpass any other for the cure of throat and lung complaints, that it is needless now to publish the evidence of its virtues. Its unrivalled excellence for coughs and colds, and its truly wonderful cures of pulmonary disease, have made it known throughout the civilized nations of the earth. Few are the communities, or even families, among them who have not some personal experience of its effects—some living trophy to their minds of the victory over the subtile and dangerous disorders of the throat and lungs. As all know the dreadful fatality of these disorders, and as they know, too, the efficacy of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them that it has now all the virtues that it did have when making the cures which have rung so strongly upon the confidence of mankind.

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a nipple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking over.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and the jackets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves,.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE STOVE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

1861. MAGEE'S PATENT COOKING STOVE. 1861.

THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE AGE!

PATENT COOKING STOVE

For Wood or Coal,

Operating on the same principle as the celebrated

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

This beautiful COOK STOVE is now offered to the public with entire confidence in its being the BEST OPERATING, MOST DURABLE and ECONOMICAL Stove ever invented, requiring one-third less Fuel than any other Stove in the market, to do the same amount of cooking; and the fire may be kept in it the entire season, without going out. The public are invited to call and examine this Stove, which is all that is necessary to convince any person that it has no superior, and cannot be beat. And we predict for it that popularity and immense sale which has attended the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE since its introduction into this market.

"Every Stove is warranted to give ENTIRE SATISFACTION in every particular."

Jones & Bolles, No. 61 MARKET ST., Portsmouth.

The Best COOK STOVE in the Market,

after all said, is

STEWART'S

NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT, SUMMER AND WINTER

COOKING STOVES,

For Wood or Coal,

IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the

STEWART COOK STOVE,

Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward movable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within, or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove, from the time the article is set in until it be removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR, (of copper, with a tin casing,) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire box; and the fumes, the meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to warming the best upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

But we cannot, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of THE STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new-fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE,

Now in use, which has been widely tested

FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and NOT found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has been busy with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1861, is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED,

yet, as a Family Stove. For further particulars, and to see the best Stove in the market, please call on

ZOLLICKOFFER'S
ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL
A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF
INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO.

Of all the diseases incident to the human family, there is none, perhaps, which occasions so much intense suffering and physical disability, and none that appears to elicit so little commiseration and sympathy as RHEUMATISM in its various modifications. Medical writers, and the faculty in general, have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of compounds of one kind or other which have been presented to the public as curatives.

Rheumatism, as well as Gout (which latter is but a more aggravated form of what is commonly understood as Rheumatism), would seem to result from a peculiar diathesis or inflammatory condition of the system, originating in a diseased state of the blood. It usually affects the larger joints, as the ankle, knee, elbow, shoulders, &c, and manifests itself in Neuralgic pains, Sciatica, Lumbago, and other forms of this character.

Sometimes, through negligence, or the inadequacy of the remedies applied, it assumes a decided inflammatory feature, and then often becomes a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle, and exposing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.

The almost exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as fomentations, stimulating embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, bleeding, cupping, and leeching, have in most cases proved ineffectual, merely transmuting the disease from one part of the system to another. The ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL, on the contrary, is alto other an internal remedy, and is intended to attack the seat of the disease. It is a new and original preparation, invented by the subscriber, and he can therefore recommend it as perfectly safe, as well as efficient, being wholly free from any deleterious substance whatever.

It is not pretended, however, that this Cordial will cure every reputed case of Rheumatism that may be presented, although the results have hitherto been such as would justify every one afflicted by it in making the trial, and where even the most remote benefit is discoverable, it may then be fairly inferred that a cure will be effected, providing the directions be steadily and perseveringly adhered to, both as to the time of taking it, and the quantity used.

It is a singular fact, that advanced age appears to be equally as susceptible to the benefits derivable from its use as youth, or those in the meridian of life. We have a number of instances of persons ranging from sixty to upwards of eighty, who having been many years the subjects of Rheumatism, in one or other of its varied forms, have by using a few bottles been completely relieved—their whole system invigorated, and, as a matter of course, their general health greatly improved. We have rarely known a return of the disease after the Cordial has oper

THE REBELLION.

The Indian Bureau has received information that Gen. Hunter, by its direction, was holding a council at Leavenworth with influential representatives of the Southern Indian tribes, including those from the Creeks, Cherokees and Choctaws, in relation to the disturbances occasioned by the present rebellion.

A San Francisco dispatch of the 7th inst. reports that a party of secessionists on their way to Texas, overland, were captured on the southern border of California by Federal troops.

The pirate Sumter has turned up again at Fort Royal, Martinique, (the northern most of the Windward Islands,) where she arrived 18th ult., and took in coal. She had met and burned the brigs Daniel Trowbridge of New Haven, and Joseph Parks of Boston.

Gen. Pope has been assigned to the command of the Federal forces between the Missouri and Osage Rivers. Gen. Price is still south of the Osage River, and is losing many men by desertion and expiration of the time of service.

A Richmond dispatch says Col. Henry Heath, of Va., has been appointed a Major General by the rebels, and supersedes Gen. Price in command of the department of Missouri.

Southern papers say there is great excitement in Nashville in regard to the drafting of troops.

Gen. McClellan has urged upon Gen. Ripley the necessity of having additional light artillery of bronze, iron field pieces being too heavy for rapid transportation over the roads of Virginia, which are very muddy at this season of the year.

The Federal troops have left Cairo and Paducah in large numbers—it is supposed for New Madrid, to cut off Jeff. Thompson.

The Memphis Avalanche confirms the report of Parson Brownlow's victory.

The Savannah Republican says "the privateer Sumter was wrecked off the Trinidad coast."

Gen. Halleck has ordered the Mayor of St. Louis to require all municipal officers to take the oath of allegiance—and has ordered the arrest of all State officials failing to subscribe to such an oath.

The Boston Journal's Washington dispatch says the House Committee on Militia Affairs will report in favor of the immediate passage of a bill for the exchange of prisoners.

Deserters from Boonville state that the rebels have 150,000 troops at Centreville, and that they daily expect an attack from us at three points. There are only 10,000 men at Manassas.

The pickets of Blenker's division have been shot at for several days past,—it is supposed by a farmer named Cook, who has thrice been arrested and released by the chief of the staff, and provided with a pass.

The aspect of affairs in Missouri does not mend. That unhappy State is desolated by bands of lawless ruffians, who plunder indiscriminately, from friends and foes. What a pity Gen. Harney had not been left there—though Halleck is a "brick." Things are too complicated, however, for any one man.—Boston Post.

There is in Missouri, this complication among others, viz. that a large party there, are very desirous to save the Union, and at the same time, to save slavery: another party wish to save slavery by destroying the Union: and a third, wish to save the Union, and are willing that slavery shall get killed in the fight.

☞ In the House of Representatives, a resolution was passed, requesting the President to inaugurate measures for an exchange of prisoners. The Committee on Foreign Affairs was instructed to inquire into the expediency of furnishing relief to the starving population of Ireland.

☞ Two days' later news from Europe is furnished by steamship Africa at New York. The general feeling in England is against furnishing the Nashville with munitions of war, or with anything beyond what is barely necessary to render her seaworthy. The London Observer, a ministerial organ, intimates that if the Nashville violates the laws of strict neutrality, the British courts might be moved to action in the matter, on the representation of the American Minister.

COD FISH.—On Thursday last, the fishermen at the lower end of Newburyport, met with unusual success. Their fish, when dressed, weighed 4500 pounds. It was the largest catch for the fishermen of that vicinity for fourteen years.

☞ In New York, on Sunday, Thomas A. McGill, a drunken Irishman, threw his mother out of the window, killing her instantly.

☞ 6000 more seamen are wanted for the new naval vessels, and 1000 for the Mississippi flotilla.

THE HORSE CHESTNUT.

Messrs. Editors:—It seems to be a pity that an ignorant prejudice should be excited against the horse-chestnut as poisonous, when it certainly is not so.

I have in my boyhood, repeatedly eaten pints of those nuts, both raw and roasted, and found them in some respects like bitter acorns, astringent and not pleasant to the taste: but they never injured me in the least.

Not to let the matter rest on my experience only, I send you a little extract from the old Domestic Encyclopedia of Dr. Willich, edited by Dr. Mease, and published 48 years ago. Dr. Willich informs us,—that the bark is a good medicine in intermittent fevers, and is often substituted in Russia for Peruvian bark; the shell of the nut is a strong dye stuff; and the nut abounds in starch. He says, besides,—

This tree grows so rapidly that, in the course of a few years, it becomes large enough, in groves and alleys, to afford a good shade during the heat of summer, when it is in full bloom. Its fruit furnishes a grateful food to horses, and has been successfully employed for fattening cattle, the tallow of which it renders uncommonly firm, especially when mixed with ground barley. The milk obtained from cows fed with it, is also said to be richer than that produced by any other aliment. The nuts have likewise been used with advantage in feeding poultry; but they are unwholesome for hogs. Deer are peculiarly fond of this fruit; which has also been usefully substituted for soap; because on steeping and boiling it in water, it makes a good lather, preparatory to the use of that more expensive article. There are, besides, various other purposes to which horse-chestnuts may be rendered subservient in the arts and manufactures.

Let me make an extract from a modern book, the American Cyclopedia. This book calls the Horse Chestnut "a handsome tree," and says:—

Its bark is astringent, and abounds in tannin; its fruit contains much starch, and has been used in fattening cattle, and given to horses afflicted with colds and coughs.—From this circumstance, or else from its large size, it has received its common name. It is unfit for the food of man.

Its unfitness is, as before suggested, its bitterness and astringency;—but it is certainly not poisonous.

While therefore I would like to see fruit trees bearing fruit in all our streets, I hope to see no more attacks on a beautiful and harmless shade tree and its fruit. A. B. C.

ARTEMAS WARD.—The widely and greatly admired "Artemas Ward," alias Charles F. Browne, lectured in Boston on Friday evening last. The reputation of the lecturer, or rather of the writer (editor of Vanity Fair), added to a natural curiosity to see one who had penned so many funny things, attracted an audience nearly filling the Tremont Temple. The Post says:

"Mr. Browne is a young man of some 28 years, with a pleasant, genial face, a keen, humorous eye, and a countenance suggestive of close powers of observation, and a fresh, live intellect. Of a nervous-sanguine temperament, he has a type of body which may be classed among the "thin." His voice is clear, sweet and pleasant, and his manner attractive and agreeable. To this imperfect description we may add a neatness of dress, and, altogether, that he is calculated to make a most favorable impression before a public audience."

The Transcript says Artemas appeared upon the platform, accompanied by our worthy friend, Mrs. Partington. The old lady was in her best mood, and introduced A. W. in a characteristic manner. Mrs. P. said—I have been selected to discharge a delicate and pleasing duty, for the reason that I cannot delicately perform such a duty. As one of the friends of the family, I am called upon to introduce to you one of the best fellows of his time, Artemas Ward, showman, whose canvas tent has been spread in every clime, whose furious wax figures have been the wonder of men, women and children. Gentlemen and ladies, the great showman is here. We admire him for his genuine and true humor, for his hatred of wrong, for his generous impulses in heart and brain, and tongue to let them out. (Applause.) Gentlemen, I thank you, but I do not want your applause. Here (turning to the lecturer) make the award.

The lecture was a decided success, and its deliverer was frequently interrupted by the most hearty and general applause.—Nothing but the language itself, added to the manner of the speaker, could give an adequate idea of the very original, very wise, very fresh and brilliant production.

☞ Lieut. Col. Reynolds has been appointed Resident Agent at Port Royal, under the general regulations relative to securing and disposing of the property found or brought within the territory now or hereafter occupied by the United States force in the disloyal States. He has been ordered to report to the Secretary of the Treasury.

☞ Gov. Washburn received a telegram from Washington, dated Thursday, stating that no more regiments would be needed from Maine.

The Indians in Minnesota threaten to give us trouble. An outbreak is said to be imminent, and a requisition for troops has been, or is about to be made.

Recollections of Old Acquaintance.

BY UNCLE TOBY.

MY OLD SCHOOL MASTERS.—[Continued.]—CHARLES TAFT.—Some time while the Reverend Mr. Birch kept the school, Uncle Toby was transplanted for the winter season, into the Gravelly Ridge Seminary, then under the general tillage of Charles Taft. Never could a set of school boys and girls fall into better hands.—Charles Taft was a son of the old teacher Eleazar Taft of Portsmouth, was himself a well trained scholar and student of medicine, nearly ready for practice, and had ideas both of teaching and treating children, very much in advance of his day.—Government with him was easy and natural. Tall and erect, with active limbs and intelligent face, cheerful temper and rapid movement, he expected to be obeyed, and he was obeyed. He punished some: but as he knew exactly when and how to do it, he did not have to do it often; and this left him more time for teaching, and a better temper for performance.

The school-house was by no means equal to the schoolmaster, nor the school. It was so small that the boys used to say, that with two steps the master could go across the floor. It was void of paint or plastering, and was made of wood, top, bottom and sides. The schoolmaster's head was close to the top of the room, and when his hat was on, it touched in some places; when he came in or went out at the door, he always bowed, not only for good manners, but for convenience, as he must either uncover, or bow or lose his hat.

The fire-place was spacious, and in cold weather the fire was necessarily large: but while the little boys in the front ranks were holding up their spelling books to keep the blaze from their faces, the boys and girls who brought up the rear were blowing their fingers, or putting their hands in pockets or mittens. We must all have been very uncomfortable, but for a good natured schoolmaster, who was as ingenious as he was kind, and who would extemporize his arrangements to suit the day and the weather.

The House was about twenty feet square: as the new scholar entered the room, the large boys and girls sat on long benches round the sides, with their backs to the wall, and with their long writing desks before them. The central space was filled with shorter benches occupied by smaller children; and all the eyes were directed to the door as it opened. At the left hand stood, and as the new scholar was led in, bowed, the tall and graceful young teacher. The new scholar had seen but one schoolmaster before, viz.: Parson Birch, dignified, stiff and severe.—But this new teacher, in this new place, in a very few moments made a timid child feel certain that he had a friend and well-wisher, as well as a schoolmaster, in the person of Charles Taft. The teacher was a little over six feet in height, and as he was very slender, and the story was low, he seemed to reach the ceiling. He rarely sat down in his school, but kept up and doing; preserving good order without saying much about it, and with the smallest possible amount of punishment for those days. But he loved to teach, and so busy did he keep his little flock of about thirty scholars, that they had no leisure to get into mischief. So kind and even was he that they could not get into any fits of ill-humor.

The new scholar was first seated on a front bench, facing an open fire-place, six feet off, where glowed a heap of live coals that sent a genial heat across the room, and sent rather too much of it to those who were near. The good nature of the teacher soon found him a cooler place; and in the manner of doing this simple kindness, made him feel quite at ease, not only then but through the season.

The chimney, which was not a very small one, stood at the western end of the house, with a small dark closet in the north-west corner, and the entry in the south west.—These three necessary appendages, occupied the whole west end.

The entry contained the boys' hats and coats, the closet contained those of the teacher; and the girls were allowed to hang their bonnets and cloaks in the school room over their seats, a privilege they never abused to any worse purpose than a little whispering beneath them now and then.

Glass was not cheap then; and the windows were only three in number, of twelve squares each. They were, moreover, rather low in the wall, and when all the large scholars stood up, as sometimes they did, the room was quite dark, or would have been, but for the fire-light.

Lime was also dear, while boards were cheap and plenty: so the house was ceiled with boards throughout, and these shrinking, and having never been painted, made the apartment neither warm nor elegant.

Wood was plentiful, but we hardly ever had any dry; and as there was not a square foot of spare room in the school-house, and no out-buildings of any kind, our wood-pile was in constant coalition with a snow bank. The great boys used to dig out and cut up the wood, and everybody tended the fire.—We had a large stone for a back log, two bricks for andirons, a piece of iron hoop for tongs, and a green stake for a poker.—When the fire of green wood seemed loth to burn, Dudley Adams was called upon to blow the fire, which he accomplished by turning his back towards it, and fanning it between his knees with an old flapped hat he wore, which happened to be the largest in the school.

The whole of these fireworks seem ludicrous at this day; but it never occurred to us that they were not all right. We were very busy—very happy; and many of us learned well. Our school room was up to the times. Our school was a little beyond them.

The old Gravelly Ridge school house had no play-ground. The yard, so called, was a 7 by 9 affair, but just sufficient to hold a load of wood. No matter for that; we could run down the road half a mile, and still be in sight when the school master's rap on the window caused the boys to rush for the door, as rush they must, unless they wished to be shot in the back by the snow balls which followed. Besides, we could play on Burnt Hill, and at noon time could skate on the marsh in Mr. Warner's pasture.

Mr. Taft's school-keeping there extended only through one winter. A student of medicine, he went elsewhere, to study, and practice, and die,—for if we recollect aright, he lived but a few years.

The writer of these lines has no recollections of Charles Taft otherwise than pleasant. His own progress in study under him was satisfactory; that of some scholars quite remarkable. One man grown, who came into the school at Christmas, and did not then know half the Alphabet, could read the New Testament and write a decent hand when the school closed in March.

The teacher had fine talents, correct taste, and happy temper; sunshine fell from him on the scholars, and was reflected round the school, passing away the winter in a pleasant vision, which lingers like a dissolving view, even at the close of more than half a century.

The present critical state of European affairs will render these publications unusually interesting during the forthcoming year. They will occupy a middle ground between the hastily written news items, crude speculations, and flying rumors of the daily Journal, and the ponderous Tome of the historian, written after the first living interest and excitement of the great political events of the time shall have passed away. It is to these Periodicals that readers must look for the only really intelligible and reliable history of current events, and as such, in addition to their well-established literary, scientific, and theological character, we urge them upon the consideration of the reading public.

The design of ADVANCE SHEETS from the British publishers gives additional value to these Reprints, inasmuch as they can now be placed in the hands of subscribers about as soon as the original editions.

USING

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

References can now be given to some of the principal Physicians and numerous individuals in this vicinity, who have used the above remedy with the fullest success in various cases of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Sore Throat, Influenza Irritation of the Uvula, &c., &c. The success of this remedy has been fully tested in various parts, where the moisture of the climate induces great prevalence of Colds, &c., and a certainty of the efficiency of a remedy is required to avoid Consumption and ultimate death. This remedy, although only recently introduced in this vicinity, has met with a great demand, and every confidence is placed in its merits by those who have given it a fair and impartial trial.

American Women.

America is justly proud of its beautiful women; but how many die annually, or prematurely lose their health and youth for want of a remedy suitable to their peculiar ailments. That remedy is found in SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS. We know hundreds of cases where they have been used with the greatest success.—In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Low nerve of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed,—moderating excesses and removing obstructions, whether from cold or any other cause. Suffer no more anxiety or low spirits, but try them. For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 Pills, by return mail. my28daw3m

Sold by W. R. PRESTON and all druggists.

Volunteers for the War

Should take a bottle of "THE HAMMOND LINIMENT." It is soothing to apply it when tired, to keep your feet from blistering. Cures Cuts, Bruises and Lameness. The Fifth Regiment of Massachusetts has ordered it. Sold by PRESTON and THACHER.

MECHANICS & TRADERS BANK.

At a corporate meeting of the MECHANICS & TRADERS BANK on the 25th ult., it was voted that the capital of the Bank be reduced to $98,300, and that the balance be divided among the stockholders on the first Monday of January next.

CITY MISSION.

The annual meeting of this useful charity was held in the Stone Church on Sunday evening, and was attended by an assembly which filled that spacious edifice.—Rev. Mr. Patterson presided; and most of the city pastors took part in the exercises, —Rev. Mr. Calthrop of Marblehead offering the opening prayer.

Rev. Mr. Medbery read the twelfth Annual Report, being the fifth of his ministry. It abounds, as usual, in practical and suggestive information, and will be read with interest. [We intend to print it in a day or two.]

Brief addresses were made by Ex-Gov. Goodwin, Mayor Simes, and by Messrs. W. H. Y. Hackett and Marcellus Bufford; also by Rev. Messrs. Waterhouse, Eddy, Calthrop and Patterson; the last being an invitation to subscribe liberally.

The exercises were enlivened by appropriate sacred music; and by the charm which belongs to unity of action and purpose in aiding a good object.

A WORTHY OBJECT OF PUBLIC CHARITY.—A Circular, asking aid to complete the payments for the Freewill Baptist Church in this city, is issued by Rev. Mr. Reed, pastor of that Church, with the approbation of the Rockingham Quarterly Meeting. The circular sets forth these facts, viz: that the Freewill Baptist Church in Portsmouth is in need of, and deserving, aid from the friends of God and humanity in these perilous times,—and that they owe, principal and interest, due the middle of December, $1404,50.

This sum they are laboring to raise, in their own denomination, at home and abroad:—and they would also thankfully receive donations from able citizens who do not belong to their church, but who would like to aid a useful object, a friendly people, and a worthy pastor.

FREE ILLUSTATED LECTURE ON THE CATACOMBS OF ROME.—Prof. J. De Launay, from France, will lecture to-night in the Middle st. church, at 7 1-2 o'clock. His subject is, "The Catacombs of Rome; or the early faith of the Christian martyrs."—Rev. J. C. Fletcher, at the close of his lecture on Brazil, last evening, said Prof. De Launay excited great interest in Newburyport, and urgently requested those who were present, to attend at the Baptist Church this evening.

☞ In a paragraph relating to Fort Constitution on Saturday morning, we inadvertently made a slight mistake.—The post and company still remain under the command of Capt. Davidson, who has been in service for the past 45 years, and whose long-continued fidelity to his country and undaunted perseverance in the discharge of his duties have won for him the respect and esteem of all with whom he has been associated.

☞ Prof. Gardner, we are pleased to learn, has constituted William P. Walker, merchant tailor, No. 8, Market Square, sole agent for the sale of his unrivalled soap in this city.

☞ Paymaster H. H. Pangborn is ordered to sloop Constellation, nearly ready for sea at Portsmouth.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The following members of the New Hampshire Regiments, at Port Royal, have died since they left the North:—

Third Regiment.—Jacob Miles, Nov. 9, of congestive fever; Jacob Barteles, Nov. 11, typhus fever; Z. A. Sager, Corporal, Nov. 22, congestive fever; A. T. Sanborn, Nov. 27, congestive fever; J. A. Peavy, Corporal, Nov. 29, phthisis pulmonary.

Fourth Regiment.—James W. Patterson, Oct. 25, congestive fever; James H. Kelley, Corporal, Oct. 31, congestive fever; William Sheaver, Nov. 5, congestive fever; Charles Stevens, Nov. 11, ossification of cardiac valve.

The New Orleans Picayune gives a list of all the prisoners sent to that city from Virginia. We find the following given as belonging to New Hampshire:—

First Regiment.—Private A. B. Robertson, Co. I.

Second Regiment.—Sergt. Jacob Hall, Co. G; Corp. T. E. Barker, Co. B; D. Jaquith, Charles N. Sebastain, F. J. Wheeler, G. H. Whiteman, Co. A; John L. Fitts, G. H. Clay, C. H. Perry, Co. B; J. A. Parker, J. Davis, F. Tucker, Co. C; Charles L. Jones, A. T. Kidder, A. D. Leathers, Co. D; G. E. Dow, Co. F; H. Allen, G. A. Grout, S. M. Joy, Co. H; J. H. Barrig, A. L. Hall, Co. I; Charles Ridge, George Sawyer, Co. K.

—— The New Hampshire Lodge of Odd Fellows have invested $800 in the 7.3 Treasury Notes of the United States.

—— Henry L Boltwood, who has been for some years Principal of Pinkerton Academy, has closed his connection with that institution, and gone to Lawrence, Mass., to take charge of the high school in that city, at a salary of $1600 per year.

☞ The Tribune's Washington dispatch says the commander of the British forces in Canada has recalled all absent officers, and is engaged in bringing his forces to a high state of efficiency.

☞ Two children, one 18 months old, and the other ten years, were burnt to death last week, at Newark, N. J. The younger child upset a glass lamp in which kerosene oil was burning, and broke it. The flames ran over the oil and over the small child; the older one, a girl, lost her life in trying to save the infant. They lived only a few hours.

Mr. James Davenport, a resident of Carr's Island, which is opposite the ship yard of the Joseph Coffin, was drowned on Saturday afternoon last, while engaged in boating a load of wood, from the Salisbury side. A young man by the name of Lancey, who was with him at the time the boat sunk, reached the shore. The deceased was about 50 years of age, and leaves a wife and six children, one of whom, is in the Mozart Regiment. His body has not yet been recovered.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ The Republican caucus on Saturday evening, was attended by only eleven members of Congress, and adjourned after appointing a committee of five, who were instructed to issue a call for another caucus on Monday evening.

☞ The Postmaster General has made arrangements which will soon be put in operation, for returning dead letters to their writers in all cases in which the letters disclose the address of the authors. Several clerks have been detailed for the duty of examining and remailing them.

There are many that set a crown of glory upon the head of Christ by a good profession, that plat a crown of thorns on the head of Christ by evil conversation. By the words of our lips we may assume religion; but it is by the works of our lives that we adorn religion.

THE PATENT

FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economising Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottles; it is a handsomer article than the common hair brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

WORCESTER'S
ILLUSTRATED
ROYAL QUARTO DICTIONARY,
The Standard.

This massive volume contains ONE THOUSAND EIGHT HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FOUR pages. It is illustrated by more than ONE THOUSAND SUPERB WOOD CUTS; FIVE THOUSAND words are accurately SYNONYMIZED; the Tables of PROPER NAMES Pronounced are very full and accurate.

☞ It is the BEST DEFINING and PRONOUNCING DICTIONARY of the English Language, and contains many thousand more words and meanings than are to be found in any other similar work.

☞ It is the standard recognized by our eminent authors. It is the standard authority for the Official Records and Documents and Public Printing of the United States.

☞ Every family should possess a copy, for it is a Library of itself. It is the only American Dictionary which is a safe guide. It is the only desirable Dictionary of the language.

From HON. GEO. P. MARSH, LL. D., Author of "Lectures on the English Language."

The work of Dr. Worcester is unquestionably MUCH SUPERIOR to any other general Dictionary of the language, in EVERY ONE of these particulars, and it is therefore entitled to rank FIRST among the existing helps to a complete knowledge of English philology.

From WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT and WASHINGTON IRVING.

The new authentic etymologies, the conciseness and COMPLETENESS OF THE DEFINITIONS, the nicety with which the different shades of meaning in synonyms are distinguished, and the CONSCIENTIOUS ACCURACY of the work in all its departments, give it, in my judgment, the highest claims to public favor.

I concur with the opinion of Mr. Bryant.—Washington Irving.

From PROF. OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES, Boston.

It is, indeed, a MONUMENTAL WORK, and one of which our city and country may be proud as long as we have a city, a country, and a language.

From CHARLES DICKENS, England.

IT IS A MOST REMARKABLE WORK, of which America will be justly proud, and for which all who study the English language will feel a reason to respect your name, and to be grateful to you

From the REV. W. WHEWELL, D. D., Master of Trinity College, Cambridge, England, Author of "History of the Inductive Science."

I have repeatedly consulted the Dictionary, since it has been in my possession, and have seen reason to think it MORE COMPLETE AND EXACT than any of its predecessors.

From REV. JOSEPH BOSWORTH, D. D., F. R. S., Professor of Anglo-Saxon in Oxford University, England.

The whole work is the most comprehensive and useful that I have yet seen. It is THE MOST COMPLETE AND PRACTICAL, THE VERY BEST, as well as the cheapest English Dictionary that I know.

I find it not only rich beyond example in its vocabulary, but carefully elaborated in all the details, and THOROUGHLY TRUSTWORTHY as a guide to the most correct and elegant usage of the language.

From GEO. B. EMERSON, LL. D., Member of Mass. Board of Education.

I wish it to be known that I consider Dr. Worcester's new Dictionary the best and the MOST UNEXCEPTIONABLE DICTIONARY of the English Language with which I am acquainted.

From HON. CHARLES SUMNER.

I know no one who has done so much as you for all departments, and given to our language a Dictionary SO COMPLETE AND MANY-SIDED. It ought to be in every library, academy and school.

The issue of a few months will be sufficient to establish Worcester's Dictionary as the acknowledged standard of reference among the scholars of England and America.—London Literary Gaz., Feb. 11, 1861.

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.
MADE BY
THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,
Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz.:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while the latter is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the fires of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the back and hot plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves,

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

1861. MAGEE'S PATENT COOKING STOVE. 1861.

THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE AGE!

PATENT COOKING STOVE
For Wood or Coal,

Operating on the same principle as the celebrated

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

Jones & Bolles

This beautiful COOK STOVE is now offered to the public with entire confidence in its being the BEST OPERATING, MOST DURABLE and ECONOMICAL Stove ever invented, requiring one-third less Fuel than any other Stove in the market, to do the same amount of cooking; and the fire may be kept in it the entire season, without going out. The public are invited to call and examine this Stove, which is all that is necessary to convince any person that it has no superior, and cannot be beat. And we predict for it that popularity and immense sale which has attended the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE since its introduction into this market.

"Every Stove is warranted to give ENTIRE SATISFACTION in every particular."

No. 61 MARKET ST., Portsmouth.

The Best COOK STOVE in the Market, after all said, is

STEWART'S
NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,
SUMMER AND WINTER
COOKING STOVES,
For Wood or Coal,
IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the
STEWART COOK STOVE,
Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward movable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within, or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove, from the time the article is set in until it be removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR, (of copper, with a tin casing,) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Cooking is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire box; and the fumes, the meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and thus current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

But we cannot, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of THE STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new-fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE,

Now in use, which has been widely tested

FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and NOT found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1861, is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED, yet, as a Family Stove. For further particulars, and to see the best Stove in the market, please call on

ZOLLICKOFFER'S
ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL
A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF
INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO.

Of all the diseases incident to the human family, there is none, perhaps, which occasions so much intense suffering and physical disability, and none that appears to elicit so little commiseration and sympathy as RHEUMATISM in its various modifications. Medical writers, and the faculty in general, have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of compounds of one kind or other which have been presented to the public as curatives.

Rheumatism, as well as Gout (which latter is but a more aggravated form of what is commonly understood as Rheumatism), would seem to result from a peculiar diathesis or inflammatory condition of the system, originating in a diseased state of the blood. It usually affects the larger joints, as the ankle, knee, elbow, shoulders, &c, and manifests itself in Neuralgic pains, Sciatica, Lumbago, and other forms of the character.

Sometimes, through negligence, or the inadequacy of the remedies applied, it assumes a decided inflammatory nature, and then often becomes a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle, and exposing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.

The almost exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as fomentations, stimulating embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, bleeding, cupping, and leeching, have in most cases proved ineffectual, merely transmuting the disease from one part of the system to another. The ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL, on the contrary, is altogether an internal remedy, and is intended to strike at the root of the disease. It is a new and original preparation, invented by the subscriber, and he can therefore recommend it as perfectly safe, as well as efficient, being wholly free from any deleterious substance whatever.

It is not pretended, however, that this Cordial will cure every regular case of Rheumatism that may be presented, although the results have hitherto been such as would justify every one afflicted by it in making the trial; and where even the most remote benefit is discoverable, it may be fairly inferred that a cure will be effected, providing the directions be steadily and perseveringly adhered to, both as to the time of taking it and the quantity used.

It is a singular fact, that advanced age appears to be equally as susceptible to the benefits derivable from its use as youth, or those in the meridian of life. We have a number of instances of persons ranging from sixty to upwards of eighty, who, having been many years the subjects of Rheumatism, in one or other of its varied forms, have by using a few bottles been completely restored—their whole system invigorated, and, as a matter of course, their general health greatly improved. We have rarely known a return of the disease after it has been subdued by the use of this Cordial, even though the patient may have been exposed to the vicissitudes of wet weather; when, however, there have been any slight indications of "the old complaint," a few doses have produced the most happy effect.

The subscriber can furnish a long array of names of the most prominent and influential citizens, who can testify to the incontestable efficacy of this invaluable compound, and who are willing that their names should be placed before the public, in order to inform those who are afflicted with RHEUMATISM in its various phases, that there is a sovereign remedy in "ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL." Prepared only by THEODORE DILKS, Chemist,

N. E. cor. Pine and Sixth sts., Philadelphia.

This article has been used in this city and vicinity during the past year, by many persons; and with results that fully justify the above recommendation of the manufacturer. A fresh supply just received by WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1861.

THE REBELLION.

The large number of soldiers discharged on certificates of disability has attracted the notice of the General-in Chief, and caused him to suspect that not "effective and able-bodied men" alone have been enlisted. A general order has therefore been issued, stating that if any officer shall enlist any person, contrary to the true intent and meaning of the law, for every such offence he shall forfeit and pay the amount of the bounty and clothing which the person so recruited may have received from the public, to be deducted from his pay.

Senator Johnston of Tenn. has had an interview with Gen. McClellan and urged the immediate sending of relief to the loyalists of his State. It is said the President favors the earliest advance of the Kentucky column.

A delegation of eight Cherokees, Creeks and Seminoles has arrived at Washington to examine and report to their people the true condition of political affairs. They express their surprise at finding things so essentially different from the representations made to them by the rebel leaders.

On Saturday afternoon, a skirmish between a party of rebels and some companies of the Mass. 13th Regiment, on the Upper Potomac, resulted in the repulse of the rebels, with a loss of 12 or 15 killed and many wounded.

The rebel Congress has unanimously ratified the Convention entered between Hon. R. M. T. Hunter and the Commissioners from Missouri.

A resolution has been introduced into the Georgia Senate that the banks suspend specie payment and issue Confederate notes.

It is rumored that a prominent member of Gen. Banks' staff has disappeared with important papers.

A telegram from Savannah, dated the 7th, says Gen Butler's expedition arrived that day at Port Royal.

The N. Y. Herald has a story from "a negro from Centreville" who reports that a few days since, the rebels had a review of 30,000 troops there, during which a panic seized them in consequence of a rumor that the Federal troops were marching on the place. They fled from the field, leaving their guns, wagons, and everything else.

On Monday night rebel troops from Winchester were moving towards Harper's Ferry.

NAVAL. — Commanders Edward R. Thompson of Penn., late of steamer Seminole, and Overton Carr of D. C., late of steamer Quaker City, and Lieut. James A. Doyle of Ind., have been retired, on furlough pay, on recommendation of the Board of Examination.

Com. Frederick A. Neville of Ohio, but a native of Virginia, on furlough but late in command of receiving ship Ohio at Charlestown, has been dismissed from the service, as the result of the court-martial lately held at Charlestown.

☞ Hon. J. M. Wightman was reelected Mayor of Boston, on Monday, by 970 plurality. In Roxbury, William Gaston was reelected Mayor, receiving every vote but four. In Charlestown, Phineas J. Stone was elected, by a plurality of 746 over Horace G. Hutchins, present incumbent. In Lynn, Peter M. Neal, by a plurality of 370 over Hiram N. Breed, present incumbent. In Lowell, H. Hosford, citizens', by 55 plurality over John W. Graves, Republican. In Newburyport, George W. Jackman, Jr., reelected almost unanimously, he receiving 957, and there being but 22 votes against him. The vote for Clerk of the Police Court was on the same ticket with the Mayor's but somewhat larger, 966. Edwin W. Rand, Esq., had the entire vote. In Worcester, P. Emory Aldrich, Republican citizens', by 113 plurality, over Isaac Davis, Democratic citizens, the present incumbent.

☞ Col. E. K. Smart, who was Douglas's right hand man in Maine in 1860, and then a candidate for governor, has written letter not only in favor of emancipation but of arming the slaves. When the democrats get started on that track they go the whole figure. Hannibal Hamlin, Pitt Fessenden, Gov. Washburn, and all the leading Republicans "down east" can make way for Smart on his black horse.

☞ Gen. Tom Thumb has come out in a new character, and has had a deer hunt on the banks of the Kalamazoo river in Michigan, where the little man brought down a noble buck weighing 142 pounds. The plucky little Thumbkin was delighted.

DEFAULTER FOWLER.—L. V. Fowler, once Postmaster of New York, is carrying on a tobacco manufactory in Tepec, Mexico, and is said to be making money.

The pursuit of pleasure is an unprofitable business. The more you try to catch it, the more it escapes from you.

XXXVII CONGRESS.

In the U. S. Senate, Monday, the papers relative to the recognition of Hayti and Liberia were taken from the table and referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.—The resolution directing the Committee on the Judiciary to consider the expediency of establishing a new Supreme Court was taken up and was disposed of by referring that part of the Message relating to the subject to the committee. A resolution instructing the same committee to consider the expediency of amending the Constitution, was laid over. The resolution of enquiry into the disaster at Ball's Bluff and Bull Run was passed, 33 to 3.

In the House, a resolution was introduced calling for a modification of Gen. Halleck's order forbidding fugitive slaves from entering his camps, but was postponed. The Committee on Ways and Means was instructed to consider the subject of modifying the tariff.

In the House, on Tuesday, a bill was reported from the committee on Public Lands, providing a homestead to actual settlers, and bounties for soldiers, marines and seamen. It confers a bounty of $30 on the three months' volunteers. Its consideration was postponed till the 10th. The House concurred in the Senate resolution for a joint committee to inquire into the conduct of the present war.

SKILLFUL WORKMANSHIP.—Wm. Henry Baldwin, jr., a prisoner of war confined at Richmond, who was wounded at the battle of Manassas, has made a pipe of mahogany, richly carved with imitations of leaves and flowers; while the mouth-piece and mountings are wrought of beef bones, polished like ivory. The only instruments used in this extraordinary specimen of carving were old steel pens, which the prisoner managed to pick up.

☞ A Boston letter in the Rochester Union gives a pretty bit of gossip, concerning the first meeting between Miss Hinkley, the prima donna, and Signor Susini, her husband. It seems they met at Boston in the fulfilment of a professional engagement there. Within an hour after the first interview—I do not know whether it was a rehearsal or on the night of exhibition—they were walking behind the scenes encircled in each other's arms. It was evidently a case of love at first sight. They are just as romantically enamored now. I was riding, on Thursday in the country, and met them returning cityward in a hack, in an attitude and with glances such as only lovers usually assume and bestow. Susini is a noble fellow, twenty years older than she, I should think."

The few remarkable spring-like days, which we have enjoyed of late, have not only stripped mother earth of her winter robes, which she had donned, but have given her torpid blood such a start that the buds are already swelling, and several flowers are thinking seriously of opening. We noticed a water willow in full bloom, on the bough of which a deluded robin was trying to clear his pipes for a song. —Newburyport Herald.

Mr. Russell writes to the London Times his impression that the rebels will make a cotton Moscow, burning their staple rather than allow it to fall into the hands of the Union men. There would be no sacrifice in such a deed, however, for all the present crop has been paid for in advance by northern or European merchants; the planters would lose nothing.—Post.

☞ Daniel Reirdon of South Quincy, Mass., was run over and instantly killed on Thursday morning, by the express train Middleboro'. He was so intent in trying to call a dog off the track that he forgot his own danger, although the whistle was sounded several times. He was 65 years old, and leaves a family.

☞ Rev. S. B. Cruft, who has been a City Missionary in Boston the past sixteen years, in the service of the Ministry at Large, has resigned.

☞ The report that a defalcation had occurred in the Sagadahoc Bank, at Bath, Me., is contradicted by the directors of the bank.

☞ Garrett Davis has been nominated for U. S. Senator from Kentucky, in place of the traitor Breckinridge, beating Guthrie by one vote.

A Darkey, who blacks boots at the National Hotel in Washington has the following motto conspicuously displayed over his stand:

"No North, No South,
No East, No West,
NO TRUST."

The Belfast Journal says a lady in that city took remarkable pains to fix up her dress to receive a visitor at the door, and found it was a blind woman seeking charity.

☞ Col. Mulligan arrived at Washington on Monday. He was warmly received.

☞ A dandelion in full bloom was plucked in York on Tuesday Dec. 3d.

Why is a lighted candle like an extinct fire?—It burns no longer.

Why is an egg like a horse?—Because it is not usable till broken.

Rebels, like firewood, should be measured by the cord.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Manchester Mirror learns from a private letter that Thomas J. Whipple, Colonel of the Fourth Regiment of N. H. V., now at Port Royal, has sent his resignation to the War Department.

—— Dr. Henry C Parker, a well known and much respected physician of Manchester, died on Sunday last, after a short illness of erysipelas, aged 48 years.

—— The N. H. 4th visited the Third Regiment at Port Royal, Thanksgiving evening, en masse.

—— Corp. Joseph Albert Seavey, of Co. G, (Capt. Wiggin,) N. H. 3d, died on the 29th, of typhoid fever, aged 17 years. His parents reside in Ossipee.

Messrs. Editors:—Please to allow me through your journal to call the attention of the public to the great mortality of children from membraneous croup, and to some extent an unnecessary mortality.

In all of the large cities in Europe, and in this country, an operation (tracheotomy) is performed, which saves the lives of many darling children. But in the small towns and country, the prejudice is so strong against the operation, that hundreds of children moulder in their graves that might be with their parents if this simple operation had been performed.

This operation is one of the thousands of the improvements made and making in legitimate medicine and surgery.

This operation is not recommended or performed with the expectation of curing every case of membraneous croup, but to give the little sufferer one more chance of recovery; and what parent will deliberately deny a dear child any thing that promises any relief?

From membraneous croup without the operation almost all die, (ninety per cent.)—The proportion of recoveries from membraneous croup where the operation has been performed, even in the most desperate cases, is between thirty and forty per cent., and many of these cases were performed after the child had become nearly insensible from suffocation, from the disease. If we can save from thirty to forty per cent. by this operation, is it not better than to refuse the operation, and save only about ten per cent? How long will prejudice be allowed to rule in this matter?

When we reflect that membraneous croup is mostly a local disease, usually situated entirely in the upper part of the wind pipe, (trachea) and that the chink-like passage through which we breathe is closed up with a very little swelling in that locality, we see plainly that we might get well if we had another place through which to breathe for a few days, while the diseased part recovers.

This operation makes that very opening, through which we could breathe. The operation consists in making an opening in the wind pipe below the inflammation, and putting in a short, curved, delicately made, double silver tube.

It gives the patient instant relief, for a time at least, and gives the patient no pain to perform the operation, because it is done under the influence of ether. It is a sure cure if the inflammation does not go below the place of operation. The operation is not performed until other means prove unavailing; then, why not, instead of standing by and seeing your children going surely down to their graves, permit and request this operation? There is not the least doubt but that this is the true treatment, in the latter stages of membraneous croup. F.

☞ Within a month there will be four new church edifices completed and dedicated to religious uses, in Boston—two Unitarian; one Episcopalian; and one Methodist. One of these, Dr. Gannett's, is probably the most costly Protestant church in New England, and may also be considered of its order the most beautiful. It will cost at least $140,000, seven-eighths of which sum was realized from the sale of their former church property.

☞ Advices from New Orleans state that English cotton brokers are largely buying cotton in Mississippi and Louisiana, at about eight cents a pound, and paying in sterling exchange at 25 or 26 per cent premium. If the cotton does not get burned during the war, they will make enormous profits whenever they are able to effect shipments.

☞ As the picker tender at Damon's factory Concord, Mass., was running a bale of cotton through the picker, a short time since he discovered a suspicious looking bunch of cotton which he was about to throw into the picker, but upon closer examination concluded not to do so. It was found to contain a box of friction matches and a bunch of fire-crackers.

☞ Orders were received at Augusta, Me., from the War Department to disband the Cavalry Regiment, if it had not been mustered into the U. S. service. The order came a little too late, for the cavalry boys had already taken the required oath.

☞ In Portland they are compelled to go about in "clear mud,"—so the Courier asserts.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE.

Large Premiums!

TO OUR FRIENDS.

Hitherto, we have never offered any one a premium for helping to extend the circulation of THE TRIBUNE. We have printed the cheapest newspaper, considering the outlay by which it is produced, that was ever issued in any country, selling it for little more than the cost of the white paper; have employed no agents to canvass for subscribers, and have allowed no compensation (beyond a copy of our paper) to any of the thousands of generous friends who have actually taken care that the number of copies of our several issues, circulated in their respective neighborhoods, should be at least maintained, and if possible increased. We have been sparing even of verbal thanks to these friends, but have none the less realized the fullness of our obligations for their earnest, unselfish, painstaking, persistent efforts.

We propose for the present season only—in view of the hardness of the times, and the fact that we are enabled to buy white paper somewhat cheaper than we have hitherto done, or can hope to do after the close of the War—to make some small acknowledgement—not so much a recompense as a slight testimonial—to those friends who shall see fit to exert themselves to obtain subscriptions (whether originals or renewals) to our Weekly and Semi-Weekly editions. We do not know that we could offer anything of similar value which would be acceptable and useful, unless a Gold Pen of the best quality and finish. We propose, therefore, to forward to each person who, during the two months ending with January, shall send us subscriptions and payments for THE TRIBUNE, as follows:

Weekly Tribune.

For $12, Eleven Copies Weekly Tribune, addressed to each subscriber, and Pens or Pens and cases to value of....$1 00
For $10, Eleven Copies Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of..... 1 00

For $100, One Hundred Copies Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of.. 25 00

$1 20 each will be required in all cases where the Paper is to be addressed to each subscriber.

Semi-Weekly Tribune.

For $11 25, Five Copies Semi-Weekly Tribune, and Pens or Pens and cases to value of..... $2 00
For $20, Eleven Copies Semi-Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of 4 00
For $40, Twenty Cop. Semi Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of..... 10 00
For $60, Fifty Copies Semi Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of..... 17 00
For $100, Fifty Copies Semi Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of.... 30 00

$2 25 each will be required in all cases where the Paper is to be addressed to each subscriber.

The pens will be of the manufacture of A. Morton, whose make we are using, and we know them to be the best made. They will be furnished at the manufacturer's lowest prices. To choose as to the style and quality of Pens or Pens and Cases wanted for premiums, our friends are referred to the manufacturer's prices in another column.—See "The Pen is mightier than the Sword" and be particular and specify the number and quality of the Pens or Pens and Cases preferred.

Specimen Copies of the Tribune sent when requested.

When Drafts can be obtained, it is much safer than to remit Bank Bills. The name of the Post-Office and State should in all cases be plainly written. Payment always in advance.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, not enjoyed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that ONE IS MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the chances for prudent and skillful men so good.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast amount of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining new patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TA GGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Special Notices.

"How great a matter a little fire kindleth." Who would have thought, a few years since, that the little medicated sugar pill was to play so conspicuous a part in the great drama of life? But such it is, and to it the actors of the drama are looking for a continuance of that vitality that will enable them to act.

Homeopathy has now grown to such proportions that it overshadows all other systems of medical practice, and since the introduction of DOCTOR GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES, as a family medicine, which by its simplicity of arrangement, saving of money, and curative properties, has won the hearts of all. American Women.

America is justly proud of its beautiful women; but how many die annually, or prematurely lose their health and youth for want of a remedy suitable to their peculiar ailments. That remedy is found in SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS. We know hundreds of cases where they have been used with the greatest success.—In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed,—moderating excesses and removing obstructions, whether from cold or any other cause. Suffer no more anxiety or low spirits, but try them. For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 Pills, by return mail. my28daw3m

Local.

THE CANDIA BRANCH of the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad—that is, the new portion, which connects Candia with Manchester, is so far finished; a train was to run over it on Tuesday afternoon. Two passenger trains per day will immediately be run each way; and in a week or so, the freight trains as usual. This we call doing pretty well—to come ten or fifteen days inside their promises to the Legislature and the public. We understand there will be a public formal opening, with due ceremony and rejoicing. We hope there will, and that the people of the seacoast and the inhabitants of the interior, will then commece or renew that acquaintance which ought not to have been interrupted for lack of the best means of communication.

The fine new depot and other buildings in this city are rapidly approaching completion, and will be an ornament to that part of the town where they are located.—Altogether, we think that quiet (not to say sleepy) old Portsmouth may congratulate herself on the completion of the C. & P. Railroad; which occurrence, it would seem, has hardly been equalled in importance within her borders, by any event since the opening of said road. Were it not for the war, and the fact that the matter is at a little distance, and in the hands of others than our own citizens—this great event, which now excites so little attention, would be the town talk.

The Concord correspondent of the Boston Journal, referring to the opening of the new route, says "the opposition to the enterprise which was manifested last June, is now dying out, and all classes are beginning to believe that Mr. Gilmore's views were correct, and that the new line will possess almost unlimited advantage over the old."

For the Chronicle.

It is reported that the Manchester Branch of the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad will be opened for travel in a few days, and that the Manchester people in appreciation of the benefits arising from a new avenue of the kind being opened to their city, will have some demonstration on the occasion. Do our citizens know that we are soon to be united with the flourishing city of Manchester by a direct line of railroad, bringing us within two hours' ride of that thriving locality? Our merchants must derive a benefit from this source. The last vessel arrived at this port from New York, had freight for Manchester on board, and it is said that two cargoes of coal have been already ordered here on Manchester account, while it is under consideration to establish a line of propellers from this city to New York, by which, cotton and other merchandise can be brought here for Manchester, and the Manchester goods be transported via Portsmouth to New York and Philadelphia.

Our citizens should not look on with a vacant stare at this new impulse in business, but must be up and doing. Is there any trade to be had from that populous section of the State? if so, they must be ready first or some smart fellow from the rural districts will come in and do a big business before our cautious and conservative business men wake up to the fact that the railroad to the interior will now do for Portsmouth what the sanguine friends of the road anticipated in the outset of its construction. The event of the opening of the Candia Branch Railroad, which has been put through by far seeing men in Manchester and elsewhere, without calling upon Portsmouth for aid, to any extent, should be chronicled by a reception of our country friends, worthy of old Portmouth and the occasion. Will not some of our enterprising business men, or the city government, or some ladies, if their lords are not alive to the subject, move in the matter and show the country that the seaboard is not behind the hills in its appreciation of this new era and its results to our State.

BEAUTIFUL DISPLAY OF BIRDS, SHELLS, &c.—Those who listened to the lively lecture of Mr. Fletcher, on Brazil, will not soon forget the attraction of that portion of the world. His picture of words has now a life representation at the store of J. B. Adams, where among other birds are a large number of the natives of Brazil, beautifully preserved in all the richness of their original plumage. There is also a rare display of Feather and Moss work, as well as of choice Shells—all of which make rich Mantle ornaments. The whole is enlivened by the notes of several cages of canaries. The private sale will be continued to-day.

☞ Hampton's Dramatic Company, at the Temple, offer an attractive bill for this evening. Mr. W. A. Chandler, of Lowell, Mass., the pleasing and popular vocalist, will appear; and the two Jack Sheppards, (Mrs. Annie Senter and Agnes Hampton) —the dancing and the singing, with the comedy of a Day in Paris, will be of sufficient variety and interest to satisfy any who may attend their entertainment.

☞ The side-wheel steamer Mahaska was put into the Dry Dock at the Navy Yard, on Tuesday.

BORROWING PAPERS.—Tenney, of the Brunswick (Maine) Telegraph—one of the best local papers we have on our exchange list, by the way—says:

"A word of borrowing papers. We know of subscribers who lend their papers regularly to two or three or perhaps four families—to those fully able to pay. This is rank injustice to us. We have no desire that professed borrowers should read us. Such people are of very little account.—And besides, the hardest abuse we receive, for sins of omission and commission, is from non-subscribers."

That's a fact—that last, to our certain knowledge. The most bitter critics the Chronicle (and no doubt all other papers) ever had, are fellows who always read the paper, but never pay a cent for it—in short, sponge their news out of some friend more liberal and just.

Now perhaps a man has just as good a right to lend his newspaper as any other property for which he has paid—but we ask, if a whole neighborhood has a right to so pester a subscriber by borrowing his or her paper, that they shall be obliged to cease to take it, to get rid of the nuisance? Yet such cases are not infrequent in our experience—and one occurred at the South End only last week, not far from the residence of Mr. Bartholomew Downing. Ask him, or Mr. Rodney Hadley, Anthony street, if we are not correct. These are all the cases we'll name now.

☞ We understand that another attempt to set the North end of the city on fire, was made on Monday night. A closet in the engine house of Piscataqua Engine, No. 4, was set on fire, and the contents chiefly burnt, but the fire went out of itself. The lock on the outer door was defective, and the incendiary no doubt entered that way.

☞ Col. Dulany, of the U. S. Marine Corps, has been detached from this Navy Yard, and ordered to Charlestown, Mass.

Lieut. Lowrie, late of Washington, has been ordered to the Marine Barracks at the Navy Yard here.

☞ Seventy-six caulkers and reamers were discharged at the Navy Yardon Tuesday.

THE PATENT

FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economizing Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottles; it is a handsomer article than the common hair-brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

WORCESTER'S
ILLUSTRATED
ROYAL QUARTO DICTIONARY,

The Standard.

This massive volume contains ONE THOUSAND EIGHT HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FOUR pages. It is illustrated by more than ONE THOUSAND SUPERB WOOD CUTS; FIVE THOUSAND words are accurately SYNONYMIZED; the Tables of PROPER NAMES Pronounced are very full and accurate.

☞ It is the BEST DEFINING and PRONOUNCING DICTIONARY of the English Language, and contains many thousand more words and meanings than are to be found in any other similar work.

☞ It is the standard recognized by our eminent authors. It is the standard authority for the Official Records and Documents and Public Printing of the United States.

☞ Every family should possess a copy, for it is a Library of itself. It is the only American Dictionary which is a safe guide. It is the only desirable Dictionary of the language.

From Hon. Geo. P. Marsh, LL. D., Author of "Lectures on the English Language."

The work of Dr. Worcester is unquestionably MUCH SUPERIOR to any other general Dictionary of the language, in EVERY ONE of these particulars, and it is therefore entitled to rank FIRST among the existing helps to a complete knowledge of English philology.

From William Cullen Bryant and Washington Irving.

The new authentic etymologies, the conciseness and COMPLETENESS OF THE DEFINITIONS, the nicety with which the different shades of meaning in synonyms are distinguished, and the CONSCIENTIOUS ACCURACY of the work in all its departments, give it, in my judgment, the highest claims to public favor.

I concur with the opinion of Mr. Bryant.—Washington Irving.

From Prof. Oliver Wendell Holmes, Boston.

It is, indeed, a MONUMENTAL WORK, and one of which our city and country may be proud as long as we have a city, a country, and a language.

From Charles Dickens, England.

It is A MOST REMARKABLE WORK, of which America will be justly proud, and for which all who study the English language will long have reason to respect your name, and to be grateful to you.

From the Rev. W. Whewell, D. D., Master of Trinity College, Cambridge, England, Author of "History of the Inductive Sciences."

I have repeatedly consulted the Dictionary, since it has been in my possession, and have seen reason to think it MORE COMPLETE AND EXACT than any of its predecessors.

From Rev. Joseph Bosworth, D. D. F. R. S., Professor of Anglo-Saxon in Oxford University, England.

The whole work is the most comprehensive and useful that I have yet seen. It is THE MOST COMPLETE AND PRACTICAL, THE VERY BEST, as well as the cheapest English Dictionary that I know.

From C. C. Felton, LL. D., President of Harvard College.

I find it not only rich beyond example in its vocabulary, but carefully elaborated in all the details, and THOROUGHLY TRUSTWORTHY as a guide to the most correct and elegant usage of the language.

From Geo. B. Emerson, LL. D., Member of Mass. Board of Education.

I wish it to be known that I consider Dr. Worcester's new Dictionary the best and the MOST UNEXCEPTIONABLE DICTIONARY of the English Language with which I am acquainted.

From Hon. Charles Sumner.

I know no one who has done so much as you for all departments, and given to our language a Dictionary SO COMPLETE AND MANY-SIDED. It ought to be in every library, academy and school.

The lapse of a few months will be sufficient to establish Worcester's Dictionary as the acknowledged standard of reference among the scholars of England and America.—London Literary Gaz., Feb. 11, 1861.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1857.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, drawn on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides the extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and conscientious practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse"

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in the form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unanimity years past, has proved his talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged, that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting ovens are lined with tin, and . . jackets are provided for the back and bot m plates. A hot closet and tank can be adde d if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

Reference is made to Messrs. J. Trundy, J. M Mathes, N. K. Walker, C. C. Jackson, C H Mendum, James F. Shores, Geo. Whitehouse, Joseph E. Cate, Nathaniel Dennett, John Harrett, Phineas Nichols, Jas. Pollard, Raymond, Robert F. Gerrish, Kittery; Nath'l E. Berry, Gosport, and many others who are using the Stove.

This stove was thoroughly tested before being brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial.

ZOLLICKOFFER'S
ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL
A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF
INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO.

Of all the diseases incident to the human family, there is none, perhaps, which occasions so much intense suffering and physical disability, and none that appears to elicit so little commiseration and sympathy as RHEUMATISM in its various modifications. Medical writers, and the faculty in general, have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of compounds of one kind or other which have been presented to the public as curatives.

Rheumatism, as well as Gout (which latter is but a more aggravated form of what is commonly understood as Rheumatism), would seem to result from a peculiar diathesis or inflammatory condition of the system, originating in a diseased state of the blood. It usually affects the larger joints, as the ankle, knee, elbow, shoulder, &c., and manifests itself in Neuralgic pains, Sciatica, Lumbago, and other forms of this character.

Sometimes, through negligence, or the inadequacy of the remedies applied, it assumes a decided inflammatory feature, and then often becomes a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle, and exposing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.

The almost exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as fomentations, stimulating embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, bleeding, cupping, and leeching, have in most cases proved ineffectual, merely transmuting the disease from one part of the system to another. The ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL, on the contrary, is altogether an internal remedy, and is intended to strike at the root of the disease. It is a new and original preparation, invented by the subscriber, and he can therefore recommend it as perfectly safe, as well as efficient, being wholly free from any deleterious substance whatever.

It is not pretended, however, that this Cordial will cure every reputed case of Rheumatism that may be presented, although the results have hitherto been such as would justify every one affected by it in making the trial; and where even the most remote benefit is discoverable, it may then be fairly inferred that a cure will be effected, providing the directions be steadily and perseveringly adhered to, both as to the time of taking it, and the quantity used.

It is a singular fact, that advanced age appears to be equally as susceptible to the benefits derivable from its use as youth, or those in the meridian of life. We have a number of instances of persons ranging from sixty to upwards of eighty, who, having been many years the subjects of Rheumatism, in one or other of its varied forms, have by using a few bottles been completely restored—their whole system invigorated, and, as a matter of course, their general health greatly improved. We have rarely known a return of the disease after it has been subdued by the use of this Cordial, even though the patient may have been exposed to the vicissitudes of wet weather; when, however, there have been any slight indications of "the old complaint," a few doses have produced the most happy effect.

The subscriber can furnish a long array of names of the most prominent and influential citizens, who can testify to the inestimable efficacy of this invaluable compound, and who are willing that their names should be placed before the public, in order to inform those who are afflicted with RHEUMATISM in its various phases, that there is a sovereign remedy in "ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI RHEUMATIC CORDIAL." Prepared only by THEODORE DILKS, Chemist,
N. E. cor. Pine and Sixth sts., Philadelphia.

This article has been used in this city and vicinity during the past year, by many persons; and with results that fully justify the above recommendation of the manufacturer. A fresh supply just received by

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1861.

"INDEPENDENCE."

The publisher of the Chronicle would always have preferred that it should be actually independent of all party or sectional bias. But others who have been associated with him as editors, have, very naturally, given the impress of their own partisan characters and opinions to their writings—and so, no doubt, there have been good grounds for the charge often made, that this paper has been an ally of the "Republicans," so called, as opposed to the "Democrats." But personally and professionally, the publisher himself has no partisan bias, and don' care much for party names; but looks for "their fruits," and in every contest, always hopes "May the best man win." This statement may explain many real or imagined discrepancies between the professions and the real practice of the Chronicle—which, without being at all "divided against itself," yet, does, at times, no doubt, express differing opinions. But we commenced, not to make a declaration of political faith, (or want of faith,) but to introduce a remark or two, our friend of the Ballot made concerning us a week or two since.

"We never could agree with our friend of the Chronicle in his idea of 'independence.' We hold that under our form of government it is not the mere privilege but the duty of every intelligent man to give the weight of his vote and influence in behalf of that party (for there always must be parties, and it is only by organized efforts we can effect anything) whose principles are most in accordance with his own views of public policy; and to our mind there is no position more slavish than that of the man on the fence, who, having no principles, cries alternately "Good Lord" and "Good Devil" in the hope of securing the favor of the successful party, whichever it may be—except it be he who dares not express his opinions boldly for fear of losing patronage."

Good, very good, say we. But, whatever may be "the duty of every man," respecting the support of some party, as above stated: can't you conceive of a newspaper keeping and being outside and above all party influence,—like as a magistrate, and indeed, all public officials, should be? To say that a man "on the fence' has "no principles," is simply to state that his opinions do not agree with this party or that, or the other—nor does he believe that the salvation of the country depends on the success of either or any of them. And he who never has any political "patronage" need not be afraid of "losing" it, at any rate.

But the editor of the Ballot has given the best answer to his own article, in relating something of his political "experience"—nor do his arguments lead us to any higher regard or love for parties or their leaders.

IND. F.

GREAT FINANCERING.—Whence do the rebels obtain the "sinews of war"? Some answer to this, might have been expected from the Chief, at the late meeting of Congress. But from the rigmarole upon the financial system of the confederates, which the message attempts to elucidate, the mystery is more impenetrable.

"Government," says Jeff Davis, "can borrow to the extent of treasury notes; this extent is according to the circulation the notes can be made to occupy." That is, the extent is according to the extent.

Again he says, "The proportion thus occupied depends on the amount of debts for which treasury notes are received, when debts are payable in this medium. The notes may be circulated at par. They may be exchanged for confederate stock bearing eight per ct. interest." How is the interest on that stock to be paid?

The security for this is by act of Congress pledging the faith of the States, and the export duty of sixty-two cents per bale on cotton. Now as there can be no faith in insurrection, as each State may fly off whenever it pleases, and no cotton is exported, the explanation is very like that of the Indian philosopher, that the world rested upon a big turtle. What did the turtle rest upon? Q.

☞ One of the most unostentatious men in Washington (says a correspondent) is the President of the Senate. Mr. Hamlin has comparatively quiet quarters at the Washington House—a very respectable but not fashionable house. He dresses as plainly as a New England farmer; his coat is of coarse cloth, made by no eminent hand;—but all concede him marked ability, and a resolution and determination of a high order. The next plainest man of rank is Gen. McClellan. Few men can find him, and few men know him when he is found.—At the best he only wears the undress uniform of a Colonel, and his shoulder-straps, if any he wears, are covered with a coat much the worse for wear. He has no fixed location, and moves from spot to spot as duty calls. Of course those who have business with him, know where to find him.—Not so the eager throng who wish to see the young shoulders on which the armor of Scott has fallen.

The fashions are a reflex of the habits, dress and address of refined people.

THE REBELLION.

Mr. Etheridge, Clerk of the House, has letters from Tennessee, stating that the rebel leaders had begun to impress Union men, and that hundreds of Unionists were flying into Kentucky.

Private letters have been received in Washington fully confirming the statement that Parson Brownlow is in the field at the head of a force of some 3000 men. The card from him, published in a Richmond paper, denying the report that he had taken up arms, was issued a month ago.

The object of Col. Mulligan's visit to Washington is to obtain authority to raise a new regiment, his former command having been all taken prisoners of war. He has at hand nearly enough for the purpose.—In reply to an inquiry as to the effect of Gen. Halleck's order excluding contrabands from the lines of the army, Col. Mulligan said emphatically, that it would produce the best possible effect upon the Union men in Missouri.

It is asserted that in Weakley, Henderson, Carroll, Hardin and McNavvy counties, Tenn., the Union feeling is very strong, and the Unionists in the ascendant, and that they are most anxiously waiting for the arrival of the National troops, on whose approach a general uprising of the people would take place. The immediate aid of Government is necessary, and will redeem Tennessee from the rebel yoke.

A transport from Port Royal, 6th, has arrived at New York. Gen. Stevens, with 1000 men, had occupied Beaufort. The troops were picking and securing the cotton on Hilton Head and the adjacent islands. On the 4th, the gunboat Pawnee, several transports and a number of troops left Hilton Head for Tybee. Gen. Viele's expedition would probably sail about the 12th. The stone fleet had been off Tybee Island for two days, that being apparently a place of rendezvous.

Large numbers of Marylanders in the rebel army, it is said, are anxious to return to their homes and allegiance. It is also said that there is a large and determined organization of Union men in North Carolina, who are putting themselves in communication with the Unionists in East Tennessee, and await only the dawn of hope for a general uprising. They expect the reinforcement of Brownlow by the national forces, and will accept the movement as a signal for action.

It is currently stated that the Military Committee of the House favor the treatment of privateers captured by our vessels as prisoners of war.

The Tribune's dispatch says the government has positively decided on the policy of filling up regiments in the field to 1046 men.

XXXVII CONGRESS.

In the House on Tuesday a proposition declaring that Congress alone has power to suspend the habeas corpus act, was laid on the table by a vote of 108 to 26. The death of Mr. Bingham, late Senator from Michigan, was formally announced in both Houses.

CABINET AND MANTLE ORNAMENTS.—The sale of shells, birds, &c., at Mr. Adams' store, offers a fine opportunity for ladies to select these chaste and beautiful ornaments for their cabinets and mantles. There is to be an auction more especially for ladies, at 10 o'clock this forenoon. This is the last day of the sale.

☞ On Wednesday, as Mr. Howard Paul, of Kittery, was engaged in sawing lumber with a circular saw, on the Navy Yard, the piece of wood slipped, bringing his hand in contact with the saw, severing three of his fingers. He was taken to the hospital.

☞ Hon. David A. Bunton, Republican, was re-elected Mayor of Manchester, on Tuesday, by a majority of 252. All the other officers are Republican, except those of Ward 5.

☞ It will be seen by the advertisement of Mr. Burt, watchmaker and jeweller, that he "still lives" in Portsmouth, and is ready for trade or orders in his line, as usual.

☞ The Rockland Free Press insists that the late report of a rebel demonstration in Freedom, on the return of Robert Elliot from Fort Warren, was very nearly correct.

☞ Barney Williams writes a note to the N. Y. Herald, enclosing a check for $200 towards a fund for the relief of starving Ireland.

☞ President Lincoln, it is said, passes much time at the ordnance bureau, and has invented a new gun which is thought to possess considerable merit.

President Lincoln seems to be in about as much danger from the rebels against his policy in Congress, as from the rebels in the confederate Army.—Portland Argus.

☞ Senator Sumner will introduce a bill before the Senate this week modifying the fugitive slave law.

☞ Rev. Dr. Gannett's elegant new church in Boston, was dedicated on Wednesday.

A CHEERING VIEW.—Competent military judges state, says the Boston Transcript, that the rebels will have to evacuate Manassas as soon as the preparations which are now making in the way of descents upon the Southern seacoast shall have been completed, and the Southwestern campaign begin in earnest. It is averred that the expedition down the Mississippi will be perfectly irresistible, and the prophecy is made by some sanguine persons, familiar with the extent of the Government arrangements to open the Mississippi to its mouth, that not a month will elapse before the "stars and stripes" will float over New Orleans. Of course if this view is correct, before many weeks the rebellion will have lost its hold upon most of the principal cities of the South, where it is now strongly entrenched.

☞ The N. Y. Times' dispatch says our government has replied to the invitation of France, England and Spain, to take part in the expedition against Mexico, declining to have anything to do with it.

The British steamer Clyde met the Spanish fleet and army within thirty-six hours' sail of Vera Cruz, with fine weather. The general feeling in Mexico appears to be hatred to Spain. All feuds are giving way to the sentiment of a united resistance to the common enemy. No resistance, however, will be made at Vera Cruz or Tampico.—The guns of San Juad de Ulloa are being carried inland.

☞ All the Northern Democratic papers that we see, speak favorably of President Lincoln's Message, as conservative and national. The papers that find most fault with it, are the ultra abolition sheets, which charge it with being negative in its character; while the great mass of Northern papers give it their approval.

One paper in New Jersey, smells an abolition rat in the message,—and no doubt all the rebel papers will discover something of the same sort.

☞ In a few days the great Southern movement from Kentucky and Missouri, for which the Government has so long been in preparation, will be commenced, and in a fortnight, it is thought, the Federal Army will be in possession of Nashville and Memphis. The Federal force is by some stated as high as two hundred thousand men.

☞ The Hinkley-Susini-Brignoli opera troupe gave a concert at Albany on Friday night. During the performance Thomas Smith, a well-known attorney at law, was seized with an attack of apoplexy, from which he died in a short time.

☞ Theodore M. Moulton has been arraigned at Freedom, Me., for a felonious assault on Benj. Wing, of Thorndike, on the occasion of Rob. Eliot's return to that town. Theodore waived examination, and gave bonds for $200 for his appearance at court.

QUIZZING A CLERK.—A few days ago one of our young ladies who is well acquainted with Webster's Unabridged, thought she would try one of our clerks, and quiz him whether he were possibly posted in that extensive work. One of the words, which is a synonym of Hoop Skirts, is "farthingale." So as the young lady was out shopping one afternoon, she stepped into one of our fancy Goods Stores. Behind a counter was a delightfully polite clerk, who greeted his customer with great cheer, and would "be happy to wait on her." "I am in search of a 'Farthingale,' Mr, H.," remarked the young lady with the sweetest nonchalance possible. The clerk stammered. Right under his eyes were more than three score of hoop skirts, seen of both parties of course. "'Farthingales,' 'Farthingales,'" said the clerk, as his face turned several shades of scarlet, (evidently not knowing whether a Farthingale might not be anything from a full rigged schooner to a knitting needle) "'Farthingale,' Miss S.,—we sold the last one yesterday. I am very sorry, Miss S.,—will you buy anything else this morning?" "No sir, a Farthingale is all I need I believe. Good morning." No sooner had the young lady left the store than the clerk turned round to his employer and wanted to know "what a farthingale was." Nobody knew.—Lewiston Journal.

☞ The Washington Correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer says, that at a review, on Saturday, of a brigade on Hall's Hill, the band struck up "Old John Brown," and the whole brigade joined in the chorus, making the echo ring out for miles around over the sacred soil of Virginia.

☞ U. S. sloop-of-war Portsmouth left her moorings at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, and dropped down into the lower bor, or Wednesday afternoon.

☞ The Atlantic Associates, Ex-6s, of this city, will give one of their grand Balls at Irving Hall on Chrismas eve. We regret we cannot give their advertisement this morning.

☞ We understand that the N. H. Governor's Horse Guards will probably give one of their brilliant Balls, at their annual meeting in Concord, in January next.

Think of the Peace Senator Sumner criticizing the military strategy of Major Gen. Halleck in Missouri! Think of his military qualifications so to do! Think of his past, previous, Military Renown! Think of his laurels in Battle,—all so well qualify him to criticize and rebuke a soldier!—N. Y. Express.

NAVAL.—The Navy Department invites proposals for furnishing, fitting and securing vessels of war, iron plates of 3 inches thickness and 15 1-5 feet in length, to have planed edges and countersunk holes, to be bent to the shape of the vessel from stem to stern, and fastened to the timbers with conical beaded bolts of 1 1-2 inches in diameter. It is understood that the Department designs thus to clothe vessels of war with the least possible delay.

By the report of the bureau of the Navy Department, which has in charge the matter of iron-plated ships of war, it appears that three iron-plated ships or batteries are now in process of construction.—The cost of these vessels will be $1,290,750.

It is reported that two swift and efficient war steamers have been despatched by the Secretary of the Navy, to intercept the rebel steamer Nashville on her return trip.

THE SHIP-OF-LINE VERMONT was removed from her moorings off the Charlestou Navy Yard, where she has been stationed for the past twelve years, and hauled alongside of the wharf near the shears, Tuesday afternoon. She will be immediately rigged and fitted for service. The spars, sails and rigging are all ready, they having been prepared when the ship was launched some fifteen years ago.

☞ The Montreal Advertiser states that the Canadian Military authorities have engaged the Grand Trunk workshops at Point St. Charles, for the purpose of rifling heavy ordnance. It also states that the British Government has given the necessary notice to the different companies carrying the mails under Imperial subsidies, to prepare to receive the armament they are bound to carry in the time of war.

ELEGANT PICTURES.—MR. A. ADAMS travelling agent for Mr. J. H. Bufford, the well known lithographist of Boston, is at present in Portsmouth and vicinity, furnishing copies of a magnificent, life-size, lithographic picture of Lieut. Gen. WINFIELD SCOTT. It is superbly executed, by Fabronius of New York, one of the very first artists in the country, and it is difficult to look upon it and not buy it. Gen. Scott, in a letter to Mr. Bufford, written just before he sailed for Europe, said:—"we think it an admirable work of art, and, as a daughter thinks, an excellent likeness." The picture is sold for a dollar only, and a fac-simile of Gen. Scott's letter is given to each purchaser.

Mr. Adams has also another fine large picture—"Our Generals,"—and a large number of Photographs of Generals and others, which are among the best we have ever seen.

Mr. Adams will be found a very pleasant gentleman, and a call from him will be generally esteemed agreeable, even if you don't wish to buy fine pictures at half their value.

THE HOME JOURNAL.—A new series of this popular family newspaper will be commenced on the fourth day of January next, —printed, as heretofore, on the finest of paper and with the best of type. The "Lookings on at the War," by N. P. Willis, which are deservedly popular, will be continued in the volume for 1862. A number of other attractive and racy features will be introduced;—among these a new work by Edw. S. Gould, Esq., entitled "John Doe and Richard Roe, or Episodes of City Life;" an original novel, entitled, "Who is the Heir?" by Barry Gray; and a new and beautiful romance of to-day, by Oliver Bunce. All the former peculiar features of the paper will be continued, while several new ones will add a spicy variety to its already diversified pages. Terms—one copy, $2; three copies, $5; seven copies, $10; fifteen copies, $20; and at that rate for a larger club—always in advance. Address Morris & Willis, Editors and Proprietors, 107 Fulton street, New York.

THE ECONOMY OF HEALTH.—This busy nation of Americans have 12,000,000 working people, whose services may be estimated at $2 a day, and their annual loss by sickness at an average of ten days each in the year. This gives a total loss of $240,000,000, a sum three times as large as the whole cost of the General Government, including the Army, Navy, Post Offices, Legislators, Foreign Ministers and all. The amount weighs over six hundred tons in pure gold.

A large proportion of this costly suffering might be averted by attention to diet, cleanliness, and above all, by the proper use of the right remedy in season. When a 25 cent box of Ayer's Pills will avert an attack of illness which it would take several days to recover from, or a dollar bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, will expel a lurking disorder that would bring the sufferer to his back for weeks or months, does it take any figures to show the good economy of the investment? When Fever and Ague are rankling in your veins, and shaking your life out of you, is it worth the dollar it costs for his Ague Cure to have the villainous disorder expelled, which it does surely and quickly? When you have taken a cold, is it prudent to wait until it has settled on the lungs, when days or weeks or months must be spent in trying to cure it, even if it can be cured at all? or is it cheaper to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, costing a few shillings, and remove the trouble before it is serious? It takes no wisdom to decide.

☞ The Common Council of Brooklyn have appropriated $500 for the purchase of English Sparrows, to be distributed about the city.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE

Large Premiums!

TO OUR FRIENDS.

Hitherto, we have never offered any one a premium for helping to extend the circulation of THE TRIBUNE. We have printed the cheapest newspaper, considering the outlay by which it is produced, that was ever issued in any country, selling it for little more than the cost of the white paper; have employed no agents to canvass for subscribers, and have never issued in any country (beyond a copy of our paper) to any of the thousands of generous friends who have annually taken care that the number of copies of our several issues, circulated in their respective neighborhoods, should be at least maintained, and if possible increased. We have been sparing even of verbal thanks to these friends, but have none the less realized the fullness of our obligation for their earnest, gratuitous, and generally persistent efforts.

We propose for the present season only—in view of the hardness of the times, and the fact that we are enabled to buy white paper somewhat cheaper than we have hitherto done, or can hope to do after the close of the War—to make some small acknowledgment—not so much a recompense as a slight testimonial—to those friends who shall see fit to exert themselves to obtain subscriptions, and thereby enable us to distribute our Weekly and Semi-Weekly editions. We do not know that we could offer anything of similar value more generally acceptable and useful than a Gold Pen of the best quality and finish. We propose, therefore, to forward to each person who, during the two months ending, shall send us subscriptions and payments for THE TRIBUNE, as follows:

MARRIAGES.

In Great Salt Lake City, Utah, Nov. 16, by Hon. Frank Fuller, Acting Governor, Mr. EDWARD OLIVER to Miss SUSAN LOWD, both of Utah.

In Brentwood, Mr. GEORGE MORSE of Brentwood, to Miss NANCY WOODS of Epping.

In Hampton Falls, Mr. STEPHEN LITTLEFIELD of Seabrook, to Miss ANN MARIA BUTLER, of Hampton Falls.—Nov. 28, Mr. CHAS. H. LAMPREY, of Laconia, to Miss MARY PALMER, of Hampton.

DEATHS.

In this city, on Wednesday morning, Dec. 11th, of typhoid fever, Mr. ROBERT N. BODGE, aged 25 years, eldest son of Mr. William Bodge.

Mr. Bodge was a very active, enterprising and industrious young man, with prospects bright before him,—and his early death is a loss to our business community; while the sudden and unexpected bereavement to his own immediate family, and the two connected with it, is a sad calamity indeed,—seemingly irreparable,—and the event is no less a startling admonition to all his young friends and companions to "be also ready."

He had designed somewhat extensive repairs and improvements in his jewelry store, preparatory for the holiday season, and was very busy in the work himself; and probably caught the cold which has terminated his life, from the new plastering of a wall there. And now, after a sickness of only about a fortnight, that "tremendous necessity," Death, calls him to leave all the cares of this world—sunder all the ties of friendship and love—and the places which have known him, shall know him no more forever. We who met him often, can hardly realize this immediately—that no more will his pleasant face greet us in the scenes of business or of pleasure; but so it is—and as one after another of our number, even of the young, are called to pass through the dark valley, may we who continue yet a little, so walk as becomes those whose days are as the grass—which flourisheth and is cut down. Kind friend, peace to thy memory. F.

In this city, Dec. 9, Mr. CHARLES E. PINKHAM, aged 35 years and 6 months.

Funeral this (Thursday) P. M., at 2½ o'clock, from his late residence, No. 33 Deer street.

In Exeter, Miss DOLLY RUNDLETT, aged 80.

In Brentwood, Mrs. ABIGAIL CLIFFORD, aged 40, wife of Levi B. Clifford.

In Newburyport, Mr. JOHN KNIGHT, aged 51.

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

References can now be given to some of the principal Physicians and numerous individuals in this vicinity, who have used the above remedy with the fullest success in various cases of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Sore Throat, Influenza Irritation of the Uvula, &c., &c. The success of this remedy has been fully tested in various parts, where the moisture of the climate induces great prevalence of Colds, &c., and a certainty of the efficiency of a remedy is required to avoid Consumption and ultimate death. This remedy, although only recently introduced in this vicinity, has met with a great demand, and every confidence is placed in its merits by those who have given it a fair and impartial trial.

American Women.

America is justly proud of its beautiful women; but how many die annually, or prematurely lose their health and youth for want of a remedy suitable to their peculiar ailments. That remedy is found in SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS. We know hundreds of cases where they have been used with the greatest success.—In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed,—moderating excesses and removing obstructions, whether from cold or any other cause. Suffer no more anxiety or low spirits, but try them. For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 60 Pills, by return mail. my26daw3m

Sold by W. R. PRESTON and all druggists.

Volunteers for the War

Should take a bottle of "THE HAMMOND LINIMENT." It is soothing to apply it when tired, to keep your feet from blistering. Cures Cuts, Bruises and Lameness. The Fifth Regiment of Massachusetts has ordered it. Sold by PRESTON and THACHER.

THE PATENT

FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order; is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economising Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-bottles; it is a handsomer article than the common hair-brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

WORCESTER'S
ILLUSTRATED
ROYAL QUARTO DICTIONARY,

The Standard.

This massive volume contains ONE THOUSAND EIGHT HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FOUR pages. It is illustrated by more than ONE THOUSAND SUPERB WOOD CUTS. FIVE THOUSAND words are accurately SYNONYMIZED; the Tables of PROPER NAMES Pronounced are very full and accurate.

☞ It is the BEST DEFINING and PRONOUNCING DICTIONARY of the English Language, and contains many thousand more words and meanings than are to be found in any other similar work.

☞ It is the standard recognized by our eminent authors. It is the standard authority for the Official Records and Documents and Public Printing of the United States.

☞ Every family should possess a copy, for it is a library of itself. It is the only American Dictionary which is a safe guide. It is the only desirable Dictionary of the language.

From HON. GEO. P. MARSH, LL. D., Author of "Lectures on the English Language."

The work of Dr. Worcester is unquestionably MUCH SUPERIOR to any other general Dictionary of the language, in EVERY ONE of these particulars, and it is therefore entitled to rank FIRST among the existing helps to a complete knowledge of English philology.

From WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT and WASHINGTON IRVING.

The new authentic etymologies, the conciseness and COMPLETENESS OF THE DEFINITIONS, the nicety with which the different shades of meaning in synonyms are distinguished, and the CONSCIENTIOUS ACCURACY of the work in all its departments, give it, in my judgment, the highest claims to public favor.

I concur with the opinion of Mr. Bryant.—Washington Irving.

From PROF. OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES, Boston.

It is, indeed, a MONUMENTAL WORK, and one of which our city and country may be proud as long as we have a city, a country, and a language.

From CHARLES DICKENS, England.

IT IS A MOST REMARKABLE WORK, of which America will be justly proud, and for which all who study the English language will long have reason to respect your name, and to be grateful to you

From the REV. W. WHEWELL, D. D., Master of Trinity College, Cambridge, England, Author of "History of the Inductive Sciences."

I have repeatedly consulted the Dictionary, since it has been in my possession, and have seen reason to think it MORE COMPLETE AND EXACT than any of its predecessors.

From REV. JOSEPH BOSWORTH, D. D., F. R. S., Professor of Anglo-Saxon in Oxford University, England.

The whole work is the most comprehensive and useful that I have yet seen. It is THE MOST COMPLETE AND PRACTICAL, THE VERY BEST, as well as the cheapest English Dictionary that I know.

I find it not only rich beyond example in its vocabulary, but carefully elaborated in all the details, and THOROUGHLY TRUSTWORTHY as a guide to the most correct and elegant usage of the language.

From GEO. B. EMERSON, LL. D., Member of Mass. Board of Education.

I wish it to be known that I consider Dr. Worcester's new Dictionary the best and the MOST UNEXCEPTIONABLE DICTIONARY of the English Language with which I am acquainted.

From HON. CHARLES SUMNER.

I know no one who has done so much as you for all departments and given to our language a Dictionary SO COMPLETE AND MANY-SIDED. It ought to be in every library, academy and school.

The lapse of a few months will be sufficient to establish Worcester's Dictionary as the acknowledged standard of reference among the scholars of England and America.—London Literary Gaz., Feb. 11, 1861.

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.
MADE BY
THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,
Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and the jackets are provided for the back and hot plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation".

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves,.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

This stove was thoroughly tested before being brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee of the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. ZOLLICKOFFER'S
ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL
A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF
INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO.

Of all the diseases incident to the human family, there is none, perhaps, which occasions so much intense suffering and physical debility, and none that appears to elicit so little commiseration and sympathy as RHEUMATISM in its various modifications. Medical writers, and the faculty in general, have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of compositions of one kind or other which have been presented to the public as curatives.

Rheumatism, as well as Gout (which latter is but a more aggravated form of what is commonly understood as Rheumatism), would seem to result from a peculiar diathesis or inflammatory condition of the system, originating in a diseased state of the blood. It usually affects the larger joints, as the ankle, knee, elbow, shoulders, &c., and manifests itself in Neuralgic pains, Sciatica, Lumbago, and other forms of this character.

Sometimes, through negligence, or the inadequacy of the remedies applied, it assumes a decided inflammatory feature, and then often becomes a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle, and exposing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.

The almost exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as fomentations, stimulating embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, bleeding, cupping, and leeching, have in most cases proved ineffectual, merely transmuting the disease from one part of the system to another. The ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL, on the contrary, is a remedy of one kind or other which have been presented to the public as curatives.

The subscriber can furnish a long array of names of the most prominent and influential citizens, who can testify to the inestimable efficacy of this invaluable compound, and who are willing that their names should be placed before the public, in order to inform those who are afflicted with RHEUMATISM in its various phases, that there is a sovereign remedy in "ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI RHEUMATIC CORDIAL." FRIDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1861.

THE REBELLION.

A private letter from on board the U. S. steamer Richmond, at Fort Pickens, Nov. 23, states that that vessel commenced bombarding Fort McRae at 10 o'clock, Nov. 22. One shell fired by the rebels, on exploding, raised the ship out of water and made her reel like a drunken man. Another shell burst six feet below the water line, causing a bad leak, but the steam pumps kept the vessel free. The firing was continued all day, and was resumed by the enemy next morning, when we moved out of his range. The Niagara still kept at them, but being outside the bar she cannot be much injured. Fort Pickens had up to that date lost but one man killed and seven wounded. Fort McRae is much damaged, but we cannot destroy it with our smooth bore guns, as they are no match for the enemy's rifle cannon. The bombardment was to be renewed next day.

Since the Richmond left the Passes of the Mississippi, several rebel vessels had managed to escape. A Spanish vessel had come down with a number of fugitive Spaniards, who had fled to escape imprisonment.—They report that the rebels had three iron clad steam battering rams ready to repel an attack, each carrying from eighteen to twenty of the heaviest guns; and additional steam rams and fire rafts were being constructed.

Letters from Europe say that Mr. Russell states that the Administration is becoming disposed to accept some foreign mediation, with a view to compromise on the basis of a separation. It is difficult to conceive how Mr. Russell should have been deceived into the adoption of such an idea.

A Key West letter states that their Pensacola dates are to the 26th of November. It appears that rebel steamers have been plying between the Navy Yard and town constantly, carrying guns, munitions, &c.—On the morning of the 22d Col. Brown fired upon two of them, disabling one; the other escaped. A general engagement then took place between Fort Pickens and Fort Barrancas and our vessels, lasting nearly two whole days. Fort McRae was silenced, also the water batteries in reach of the Richmond's guns. No person was injured aboard the Niagara. Both vessels were slightly damaged in the upper works. Fort Pickens had not even a sand bag displaced. On the 24th, while removing a fuse from a shell it exploded, killing five men and wounding many others. Col. Brown says he has Fort Barrancas completely at his mercy, and is awaiting reinforcements to hold the Forts when he shall take them. About 2500 guns were fired in the two days. Warrington was set on fire by our guns, and that place and nearly all of the Navy Yard destroyed. The steamer Times was disabled at the first shot. The rebel fire slackened on the second day. On the 24th, Col. Brown prohibited firing unless the rebels first opened, it being the Sabbath.

Advices from New Mexico state that the strong force sent against the Texans in Mesilla Valley have driven the rebels far back into Texas.

Letters from Fort Royal say that, on the 5th, Com. Rodgers, with a U. S. force, visited a fort on Warsaw Island, and found it entirely deserted. It was an enclosed octagonal work, with platforms for eight guns on the water faces. The rebels had removed the guns, cut up the platform, and and blown up a magazine, — apparently very recently.

Messrs. Editors:—The question is often asked,—how can I send a pair of blankets to our soldiers? We and our neighbors would be glad to make a donation to our soldiers if we knew to whom to deliver them in our city, that they might be appropriated to our soldiers' benefit without a tax on them for freight &c., and that we also might be sure that the articles would be forwarded immediately. We hope some of our patriotic citizens will immediately open the way, in order that those who would give can do so. C.

The Tribune, published at Liberty, Missouri, states that the wives of Hon. John S. Phelps, and Hon. Sample Orr, have become warm advocates of the Southern cause, since the late visit of the National forces to Springfield. They say they can't stand a party that countenances Lane and negro stealing, and have written for their husbands to return home, and they will protect them. Lane is said to have stolen most of their negroes, and otherwise desolated their farms.

Very likely some part of this may be true: but when we remember that some of the most outrageous lies about the Kansas troubles were got up in Liberty, Missouri,—and that some of the troubles themselves were devised there,—we take all stories from that quarter with a few grains of salt.

The New Orleans Crescent states that three eminent divines of the Methodist church have been commissioned to raise a mounted regiment of preachers for the Confederate army.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Sixth Regiment now in camp at Keene, is ordered to leave for the war on Tuesday next. The Seventh is now only 30 men short of its full number, and the Eighth is said to be full. These two will soon leave. The Cavalry Companies are fast filling up, some two hundred horses are already purchased, and all the arrangements are nearly perfected.

—— A gentleman riding into Manchester on Wednesday morning, noticed a two-horse team plowing in an open field in the outskirts of the city.

—— Perry A. Eaton of North Weare, has caught, the past Autumn, twenty-eight coons.

—— Hon. Daniel S. Dickinson is to lecture in Manchester, on Thursday or Saturday evening of next week, at the invitation of the young men having in charge the "Union" course of lectures. And in Concord next Tuesday.

—— Another burning fluid "accident' has occurred in Exeter. Mrs. Towle, a widowed lady, on Monday evening, in lighting a lamp, the top of which was not securely screwed on, set fire to the fluid. The flames communicated to her dress, and she was preserved from death only by the fortunate presence of Mr. Thomas E. Boutelle, whose housekeeper she is. He dashed several buckets of water upon her, and succeeded in extinguishing the fire, but not until Mrs. T.'s arms and breast were badly burned.

—— Mr. Charles Wilkins of Henniker, who was a member of the Goodwin Rifles, Second Regiment, and was wounded in the shoulder at the battle of Bull Run, has received the appointment of Second Lieutenant in the Regular Army.

—— The Second Regiment occupies the position of honor on the left wing of the army of the Potomac; and a lively correspondent of the Independent Democrat asks questions in this style:—

—— Mrs. Eben Smith, of North Hampton, N. H., aged 86 years, has just finished two pairs of most substantial army stockings, and marked one pair with the letters U. S. in neat embroidery. The stockings are to go in a box of army comforts from the town of North Hampton.

☞ The Republican members of Congress held an adjourned caucus at the Capitol Wednesday night. Senator Clark of this State was chairman, and Mr. Campbell of Pennsylvania secretary. There was an interchange of views continuing over two hours. About sixty gentlemen were present. Finally, the pending resolution of Mr. Bingham of Ohio was adopted. It provides for the confiscation of all property of rebels in arms, and of those who aid and abet them, and the unconditional emancipation of their slaves.

☞ Charles Anderson and family arrived at New York on the Columbia. He is a brother of Gen. Robert Anderson.—He escaped from the hands of the rebels at San Antonio, and walked to Monterey, Mexico. He sailed on the British steamer Clyde to Havana. He reports that though the British subjects were violently indignant at the seizure of Mason and Slidell on the Trent, he and his family were treated with the kindness of personal friendship.

Mr. Anderson's family were sent, originally, by the rebels, to the Mexican frontier, while he was held a prisoner of war.

☞ The President occupied a seat beside Vice President Hamlin in the Senate chamber on Wednesday, during the delivery of the eulogies consequent on the death of Senator Baker. Visits of the President to either house of Congress are of rare occurrence, and this is said to be the first instance of the kind, within the last quarter of a century.

☞ In London, a few weeks since, a youth of fifteen, who lived with his parents, took his half sister, eleven years of age, into the coal cellar, and strangled her with a piece of cord. The boy had a step-mother, who treated him badly, and jealousy of the affection bestowed upon his sister is said to have been the cause of his horrible crime. Before the murder the boy had borne a good character.

For the Chronicle.

OLD CANONS AND NEW CANNONS.—Messrs. Editors:—We see that the President is much engaged in inventing a new cannon, which may possess some merit, as the newspapers say. We beg leave to call the attention of the President and Cabinet to a canon of rather ancient date, and too much neglected now, though it was used with great effect by a liberal company, in years gone by. The report of it is terrible to rebels, and its sound is this: "Break every yoke, and let the oppressed go free." We think it is more effective than any new cannon that could be brought into the field. PAX.

☞ The Calais Advertiser says the dogs and wolves are making sad havoc down that way with the sheep, and after dark they go close to houses, terrifying the inmates with their unearthly howl.

CONGRESS.

In the Senate, Wednesday, after the presentation of petitions and resolutions, Mr. Nesmith and other Senators pronounced eulogies upon the late Senator Baker of Oregon. In the House, the principal subject of debate was a resolution offered on Monday by Mr. Lansing of New York, requesting the President to modify the order of Gen Halleck, excluding fugitive slaves from the lines of the army in Missouri. The resolution was finally laid on the table by a vote of 76 to 84. A resolution was adopted declaring it just to recognize "the eminent and patriotic services of the late Gen. Lyon, and tendering the thanks of Congress to the officers and brave soldiers under him, who sustained the honor of his flag and achieved a victory at Springfield, Mo.," and in order to commemorate the event, authorizing each regiment to bear on its colors the word Springfield in letters of gold.

Mr. Noell of Mo., offered a resolution instructing the Naval Committee to inquire into the expediency of establishing a navy yard and depot at Cape Girardeau.

"Gen. Hooker says the 2d N. H. V. i the 2d best regiment in the entire army.—Who first erected comfortable, and I may say elegant, log cabins? The 2d Regiment. Who built the first chimney and fire-place in Donkaloosa? Gilman Marston's boys.—Who ordered the Sergeant Major of the 2d N. H. V. to construct a caloric generator of a similar pattern at Headquarters? Gen. Joseph Hooker. Who bossed the work? W. W. Wallace, Co. B. Whom do the rebels hate the most? 2d N. H. V. and 1st Reg. Mass. Who drummed out a live secesh from this camp at Hill Top.—Col. Marston's pet lambs. Oh, we are some, I reckon."

A GRAND TURN-OUT AT LEE AVENUE HALL.—The Alleghanians and Swiss Bell Ringers gave one of their most excellent entertainments at Lee Avenue Sabbath School, which, by the way, is the all-fashionable Hall for amusement this winter, at which it is estimated there was a larger audience than ever assembled in this district before. The hall, which seats 2,300 persons, was crowded in every place where a person could stand, and at least three thousand persons listened to the entertainment. Inspired by the large attendance, the bell-ringers excelled themselves in their performances and gave a concert which amused and interested every person present, from the oldest inhabitant down to the four-year-older. It proved a monster "benefit" to the Sabbath School.—Brooklyn Daily Times.

For the Chronicle.

When the wicked rule, the land mourns. Has this not been verified in America—developing itself in the late administration of Buchanan & Co.? How is this brought about? and how can it be remedied? It is brought on by the folly of its citizens, and bad management in our courts of law, and allowed by its judges. The folly of the people consists in electing to office unprincipled lawyers to make and explain laws.—When sworn to be true and faithful to their clients, and admitted to the bar, they seem to think they are excluded from the laws of God and justice, judging from their practice; and they use the utmost of their talents to conceal truth and justify falsehood, and help on the wicked to perjury and crime. They can be easily bribed, and become willing tools to bribe others.

This class of men, if I may be permitted to call them men, should be kept out of office, and their places filled with business men of all classes, able to represent each branch of business from experience, and capable of defending its just claims. As for the sycophants,—let the people in mass rise up against this class of office-seekers, and they will wither like the grass at noonday.

A noble, high-minded lawyer is an invaluable blessing in any community. He will always command respect, and draw all honest clients to him for advice. Let such men be selected for judges, and those only, and our courts will then be rightly termed courts of justice. Had Buchanan possessed this principle, would he not have rebuked those rebels, Davis, Floyd, Toombs and others, and saved this land from being drenched in blood and mourning?

Should we not take warning, and see to it that all men selected to fill office, from the least to the greatest, should be men of honest principles? JUSTICE.

☞ When the news of Col. Corcoran's sentence to close confinement in jail reached Charleston, S.C., the effect on the Irish population was terrible. The Irish generally became so excited that two regiments, exclusively of Irishmen, had to be removed to Sullivan's Island, for the purpose of preventing an outbreak.

☞ The President has declined to communicate to Congress any communication addressed to him by the governments of England, France and Spain, in regard to the armed intervention proposed by them in the affairs of Mexico. He deems it inexpedient at this exigency to do so.

GAS.—We are glad to see that many cities and towns are to have a reduction in the price of gas. In Haverhill, Lewiston, and many other places, a reduction of from 25 to 33 per cent. has been made. It will not then be so cheap as Kerosene,—but it is so much better that it is really a luxury in comparison with any of the illuminating fluids.

☞ The Gloucester fishermen have hauled up for the season. They have had a hard time of it—low rates and small catch.
